OIL HEATER CAUSES FIRE AT NEWTON

A defective oil heater in the home of William A. Luce at 52 Newtonville avenue, Newton, caused a slight fire on Wednesday morning at 10:30. The fire was discovered by Patrolman Carley who saw smoke issuing from the house. He sounded Box 116 and the firemen confined the blaze to the cellar of the house.

Box 84 at 9:35 yesterday morning was for a fire in a Cadillac sedan parked opposite 340 Commonwealth avenue, Newton Centre. The blaze was caused by a short circuit. The car is owned by R. W. McNeil of 340 Commonwealth avenue, Newton Centre.

NEWTON FIREMEN GO TO WELLESLEY

Hose 6 of the Newton Fire Department, located at Lower Falls, went to Wellesley on Tuesday afternoon to assist the fire department of that town in extinguishing a blaze which largely destroyed a barn on the grounds of Wellesley College. Twenty-five tons of hay stored in the barn caused a huge blaze which for a time endangered nearby college buildings.

Scouts. No admission. Boy Scout First Aid classes.

Burr School Auditorium—Parents' Association of Auburndale. Either October 26 or 30, 1931, from 8:00 to 10:00 p. m. for annual meeting. Probably no admission, but if so, proceeds go to pay for speakers' fees.

An application from the Armenian Relief Corps asking for the use of a room at the Emerson School in Newton Upper Falls twice a week for the purpose of teaching the Armenian language, was refused.

The annual application of the Stearns School Centre was laid on the table and a sub-committee was appointed to ascertain if the use of the Stearns School building as requested, would interfere with the regular activities of the school.

The number of pupils in the Newton schools as reported by Supt. Wheeler is as follows:—

Newton Library Head Addresses Rotarians

Circularization of Books in Newton Is Large

At the weekly luncheon meeting of the Newton Rotary Club last Monday, the librarian of the Newton Free Library, Julius Lucht, spoke of the work of the library in this community. Comparing library service with other public utilities, the speaker said that apparently library books went into almost as many homes as did water, gas and electricity. In Newton, more than 25,000 men, women, and children now have library cards. In checking up the members of the local Rotary Club, it was found that more than half were card-holders and a large majority of the others were represented in the library files by some member of their families. Newton stands among the first four or five in the whole country of medium-sized cities in the high percentage of circulation of books. Although it is thirteenth in population in the state, it is fourth in the number of books circulated, being surpassed only by Boston, Springfield and Worcester. Nearly 700,000 books were issued for home use in 1930, and if the present rate of increase continues it may well go close to 800,000 this year, which would be 12 per capita. Everywhere unemployment is greatly adding to the use made of libraries and in industrial cities the increase is even greater than in residential suburbs.

The speaker showed how Newton had from an early day given some sort of library service to its various villages, thus sowing the seed for the well-developed branch system of today. Especially proud should we be of the four splendid new branch buildings for which a quarter of a million dollars was raised by local efforts in five years. No other city has done anything like this in this particular way.

Mention was made of the management of the library by a board of five trustees appointed by the Mayor, of how the staff of fifty people were kept busy in handling the 160,000 books entrusted to them and making them useful to the readers. Of particular interest was the narrative of the various means employed in selecting the new books. In a metropolitan district the newest books are promptly available for inspection even before the formal publication day, and in this way the library can be up-to-date in its selection. Newton people are keen readers and almost daily ask to have books reserved for them that are not yet off the press. The Book Review Club of Greater Boston, an organization of librarians, which meets weekly, is a great aid in evaluating the new fiction.

Where there is too limited a demand for certain books, the library does not purchase but frequently manages to borrow from a larger library like that of Boston. In turn, the local library lends many hundreds of books to its smaller neighbors.

In referring to censorship, Mr. Lucht said that in choosing for grown-ups, it was the policy of the library to use considerable liberality, making allowance for a wide latitude in taste. In the case of children's reading, especial care is taken by a wise children's librarian to train boys and girls in the best habits of reading and give them only the really worthwhile. The story hours in the schools, paid for out of a trust fund and from the gifts of various clubs, have for their purpose the stimulation of interest in the best of juvenile literature, and incidentally they are the means of bringing school and library closer together.

Referring to the financial side, although the city has been generous in its library support, not nearly so much could have been accomplished had it not been for the various trust funds. The founders were generous in creating these funds but only a few have been added since. As the work of the institution grows, its demands are greater than the city usually can provide for and supplementary gifts are necessary for the highest accomplishment.

Former Mayor Childs, who introduced the speaker, referred to the

Legion Band Elects Its New Officers

At Annual Meeting—Murphy Is New Manager

Newton Post American Legion Band held their annual election last evening in the Levi F. Warren Junior High School. This is the first meeting they have had since their arrival from the Convention in Detroit.

When the band arrived in the Auto City they paraded to City Hall, where they serenaded Mayor Murphy and presented a message from Mayor Weeks, after which they took their place in line to welcome President Hoover.

In the Forty and Eight parade on Monday night the Band made a very good showing, receiving a good score on appearance and playing, only to lose out to the bands that had more Forty and Eighters in line.

In the big parade on Tuesday they led a large delegation from the "Garden City," being applauded all along the route with the playing of "Hail Massachusetts" and singing the chorus as they marched. They also played "On Wisconsin" for the Western folk.

The remaining two days were spent in sight seeing trips to the Ford plant and other interesting places in Detroit and Windsor, Canada; also at Niagara Falls en route.

The officers elected for the coming year are: Daniel Murphy, Manager; Willard Meekin, Band Master; Thomas M. Cummings, Drum Major; Charles Innis, Secretary; Dr. Thomas F. Dowd, Treasurer; Russell Viles, Custodian; Dr. Russell, Librarian; Leon H. Mayer, Publicity; Clifford Larson, Frank Avantaggio, George Edwards, Executive Committee.

A rising vote of thanks and high praise was given to Harold Ames, the retiring manager, who has done much for the interest of the band since it started.

PIGEONS CAUSE LEGAL SUIT

The gentle cooing of turtle doves, or any other kind of doves, is supposed to be soothing. But, when one has to listen continually to doves cooing, and when one is awakened during the wee hours of the early morning by persistent cooing of pigeons, one's nerves don't become soothed. They become frazzled. So say Joseph and Paulina Benaghi of 65 Auburndale avenue, West Newton, who brought a bill in equity against Frank Dignin of 61 Auburndale avenue, West Newton. Furthermore, the Benaghis assert that Dignin's doves have been feeding on their grapes as this fruit has been maturing on the vines in the Benaghi's yard. They ask that the pigeons be declared a common nuisance and that Dignin be made pay for the alleged damage done to the Benaghi grape crop. The case will be heard today in the Middlesex Superior Court.

MISSION AT OUR LADY'S CHURCH

A mission is being conducted at the Church of Our Lady by members of the Redemptorist Order. The missionaries are Rev. William Treanor, Rev. George Ott and Rev. Ambrose McAdams. Last week 2400 women members of the parish made the mission and this week 1800 men and youths are attending the services.

To Dedicate New Organ At Newton

Immanuel Baptist Church To Have Special Service

Next Sunday, October 4, at 4:30 p. m. the Immanuel Baptist Church will dedicate its new organ at a special service to which all friends are invited. The installation of the new instrument necessitated important changes in the church, amounting almost to a rebuilding of the apse. A beautiful screen, covering the face of the organ, has been united with a fine new baptistry, while the robing rooms and the pastor's study in the rear are entirely rearranged.

Such changes lead one to review with fresh interest the history of the church structure. Designed in 1884 by one of America's most eminent architects, Henry Hobson Richardson, the creator of Trinity Church in Boston, the Newton church has always held a worthy place not only among the buildings of that period but also among the wealth of Gothic and Colonial revivals in the church architecture of today.

The building was inspired by the so-called "central" type of church of Central and Southern France of the 12th century. It is essentially Romanesque. The plan presents a Latin cross with nave, transepts, and apse grouped about a central tower, with an "absidiole" or secondary apse in the angle between the right transept and the apse proper. Both in plan and in elevation the church is notable for its compactness, dignity, excellence of proportion and spacious simplicity.

Lack of funds have prevented the completion of details according to the vision of the architect. Thus on the exterior, the great cylindrical mouldings of the entrance arch are still undecorated; ponderous blocks of stone take the place of yet uncut capitals, mouldings, friezes and finials, where imagination must supply the beauty of imagery dreamed by the architect.

In the interior, the church has the honor of being the first Baptist church in which the baptistry was planned as a distinct architectural feature, not as a mere tank to be boarded over when not in use. If the former baptistry with its hangings of velours curtains held such a distinction, how much more worthy of attention is the new structure in its architectural fitness and beauty. Mr. George E. Newton has planned the new organ screen and baptistry in the very spirit of Mr. Richardson's finest manner and in complete harmony with the architecture of the church. The round arch of the baptistry vault echoes the massive entrance doorway; the larger divisions of the organ screen repeat the triple openings of the transepts. Details follow the decoration of Mr. Richardson. The acanthus leaf borders, twisted colonnettes, crosses, rosettes, interlacing circles are all characteristic of the Byzantine-Romanesque type of ornament and are repeated elsewhere in the church. The new organ-screen and baptistry together with the choir enhance in exquisite appropriateness the simple dignity of the architecture as a whole.

To this richness of ecclesiastical furnishing is now added the beauty—greater than ever before—of organ music. The organ is a product of Hook and Hastings, organ builders for over a century, and represents the latest expression of mechanical ingenuity, both in the body of the organ chambers and in the console, which provides the organist with every means for the control of the instrument. The consequent tonal effects, filling the church from apse to entrance, are varied, mellow, and very satisfying.

Mr. Leland A. Arnold, organist of Trinity Church, Newton Centre, will be the organist at the dedication service.

Cecil C. Chadwick Resigns As Public Buildings Commissioner

Mayor Weeks Appoints Arthur Campbell As Acting Head Of Department

Cecil C. Chadwick, for the past 13 years Public Buildings Commissioner of Newton, tendered his resignation to Mayor Weeks on September 24th, according to correspondence made public by the Mayor's office last Friday. Chadwick's letter to the Mayor, the latter's reply, and a letter appointing Inspector Arthur Campbell of the Public Buildings Department as Acting Commissioner, are printed below:

September 24, 1931.

Honorable Sinclair Weeks,
Mayor of the City of Newton,
City Hall, West Newton, Mass.

My dear Mr. Mayor:
I hereby tender to you my resignation as Public Buildings Commissioner of the City of Newton.

For the past two years the City has carried on a tremendous amount of construction and at the present time all of these projects are completed with the exception of the New Police Headquarters Building. This is in a fair way to be completed in the near future.

In addition to this, I have spent a tremendous amount of time with the architects preparing plans and specifications for our New City Hall and War Memorial Building. This now is under way and my work is completed on that.

The work for the past two years on these projects in addition to my other duties in the office, has been a tremendous tax upon me and I feel that my health and peace of mind should now be given due consideration, and I respectfully request that you accept this resignation at a time seen fit by you. I would like to be relieved of my duties by October first. I believe in this time I can adjust a few matters that are not completed in the office with whomsoever you wish to take charge.

I wish at this time to reveal to you as the Chief Executive of the City my feelings towards the employees in my department. I have always had the heartiest co-operation from them, and leave feeling that they are all my friends.

I am willing at any time if anything should come up that needs adjusting, to have you or the one in charge of this office, get in touch with me and I will be very glad to do what I can on any matter.

To you, I deeply appreciate the co-operation and friendship which you have shown towards me while I have worked under you as Chief Executive of the City, and I wish for your every success.

Very truly yours,
(Signed) CECIL C. CHADWICK,
Public Buildings Commissioner.

September 25, 1931.
Mr. Cecil C. Chadwick,
Public Buildings Commissioner,
City of Newton, Massachusetts.
Dear Mr. Chadwick:

I am in receipt of yours of the 24th tendering your resignation as Public Buildings Commissioner of the City of Newton, which resignation is accepted in accordance with your request, to take effect as of October 1, 1931.

I recognize the amount of work that has gone through your department during recent months and can well understand from your letter and talks with you the propriety of your resignation.

Please accept my thanks for your expression of good will and with my best wishes for your future success, believe me,

Very truly yours,
(Signed) SINCLAIR WEEKS,
Mayor.

September 25, 1931.
Mr. Arthur Campbell,
Public Buildings Department,
City of Newton, Massachusetts.
Dear Mr. Campbell:

I have this morning accepted Mr. Chadwick's resignation as Public Buildings Commissioner of the City of Newton, to take effect as of October 1, 1931.

Until I make an appointment to fill the vacancy caused by his resignation you will take over his duties as Acting Public Buildings Commissioner.

Very truly yours,
Mayor.

CAN'T USE OLD CELLS IN NEW POLICE STATION

When plans were being made for the new police headquarters at West Newton, in order to cut down the cost of the structure it was agreed upon by Mayor Weeks and former Buildings Commissioner Chadwick that the cells now in the old police building would be installed in the new building. But, there will be no second-hand cells in the new house. Those who drink well but not wisely, and the other prisoners who will be detained in Newton's new lock-up, must have new cells with modern, sanitary equipment according to the ruling of the State Department of Public Health.

At a meeting of the Board of Aldermen a few months ago Alderman Fownt Hill was the host last Saturday to members of the Board at his summer home in Nahant. The trip from Boston was made in the large motor boat owned by Mr. Harte and upon arriving at the latter's home a lunch was served. Games were enjoyed. Alderman Woodcock proved the best horse-shoe thrower among the contestants, while the question of superiority in target shooting remained in doubt. Those attending included Aldermen Ball, Collins, Gallagher, Grederman, Timason, Smith, Temperley, Woodcock and City Clerk Grant.

WILL OCCUPY NEW COURT HOUSE NEXT MONTH

The new building which will be occupied by the Newton District Court will be ready for occupancy about the middle of November according to information received by Francis W. Sprague, clerk of the court. The building itself is almost completed but some weeks will elapse before the metal furniture and fittings for the various offices in the building will be ready. These furnishings are being made by the Art Metal Company of Boston. The settees now in the old court room will be used in the new police headquarters building.

ALDERMAN HARTE ENTERTAINS

Alderman Richard Harte of Chestnut Hill was the host last Saturday to members of the Board at his summer home in Nahant. The trip from Boston was made in the large motor boat owned by Mr. Harte and upon arriving at the latter's home a lunch was served. Games were enjoyed. Alderman Woodcock proved the best horse-shoe thrower among the contestants, while the question of superiority in target shooting remained in doubt. Those attending included Aldermen Ball, Collins, Gallagher, Grederman, Timason, Smith, Temperley, Woodcock and City Clerk Grant.

THE WEEK IN NEWTON SPORTS

Edited by WARREN K. BRIMBLECOM

NEWTON GETS FLYING START IN FOOTBALL AGAINST ARLINGTON

The 1931 Newton High football team got off to an auspicious start last Saturday in its opening game of the 1931 season with Arlington High at the new Arlington field roaming and wading through the rain and wet to a 27 to 0 victory. With but seven plays in their repertoire the wearers of the orange and black played inspired football to present Coach Ralph Sanborn with the first opening game victory of a Newton eleven since the 1928 season. The half dozen and one plays used by the local outfit "clicked" the greater part of the time. The veteran backfield and the semi-veteran line outplayed and outwitted the defending home team that opened its season the week previous with a 7 to 6 edge over Cambridge Latin.

From the Newton angle the game was replete with features of which a 60-yard touchdown run by Warren Huston was the outstanding. "Red" Blackler, "Moon" Duane and Willie Mullen, who round out the local first string backfield, played important roles in the victory. In the line, Bill Giles, Frank Vassalotti and George Gulian led their mates. With the game but minutes old Huston got off a brilliant punt over the Arlington goal and failing to gain Arlington attempted to kick. Hicks' attempt was blocked by Giles who recovered on the three-yard line and on the next play Blackler was over for the first score of the 1931 season.

In the second period Newton increased its score. With its back to the goal Arlington attempted another kick and this time most of the Newton line was in on Collins before he could get the ball away, smothering him for a safety. Arlington kicked from their 20-yard line to Huston on the Newton 40 and the brilliant Newton athlete raced down the sidelines for the second touchdown. The fourth period of the game was a march from midfield with Duane blazing through tackle from the 10-yard line to score. Later the varsity carried to the Arlington three-yard line and the subs relieved them. Bobby Buell, understudy for Duane, burrowed through for the final touchdown.

Newton lost two other touchdowns by narrow margins. On one occasion Fred Perkins recovered a punt that had been fumbled by Hicks but the ball was over the end-zone. In the third period Duane intercepted an Arlington forward and raced for a touchdown only to find that the whistle had blown for an offside by Newton. The game, play by play:

First Period

Newton won the toss and elected to receive. Collins kicked to Huston who ran the ball back five yards to his 40-yard line. Three plays failed to gain. Huston kicked 60 yards into the safety zone and Arlington put the ball in play on their 20-yard mark. Hicks' punt was blocked by Bill Giles who recovered for Newton on the three yard line. Newton was offside on the next play and penalized five yards. Blackler and Huston each made two yards and then Blackler crashed through center for the touchdown. Huston's dropkick for the point failed by inches. Blackler kicked off to Hicks who was dropped on his 40-yard line. The Arlington backs ripped off several gains to Newton's 33-yard line. Blackler intercepted a forward pass and ran the ball back 25 yards to the Arlington 40 where Pochini nailed him from behind. Newton marched to the Arlington three-yard line with Hicks' pass to Blackler for touch. Newton's pass feature. Arlington held and took the ball on downs to end the period. Newton 6, Arlington 0.

Second Period

Once again Hicks dropped back to kick and this time the whole Newton line was on him to smother him before he could even get the kick away. He was nailed behind the goal line for a safety adding two points to the Newton score. Arlington kicked off from their 20-yard line and Huston gathered the ball in on his own 40-yard marker. Eluding the ends and aided by excellent interference he tore down the sidelines for sixty yards and a touchdown. His dropkick this time was perfect and another point was added to the Newton score. Blackler kicked off for Newton and Hicks returned it to his 35-yard stripe. Giles nailed Wright for a five yard loss and Arlington was held. Mullen gathered the Arlington punt in on his 35-yard line. Pochini intercepted a Newton pass intended for Perkins to give Arlington the ball again but two plays later Duane evened the count by plucking an Arlington pass out of the air. Two short gains and Huston kicked to the Arlington one-yard line where Hicks tried to nail it down but fumbled. Perkins recovered but instead of another touchdown it proved a touchback. The remainder of the period the ball hovered near midfield with Giles blocking another Arlington kick for the important feature. Newton 19, Arlington 0.

Third Period

Blackler kicked off to Phinney who was nailed after a short run back on his 20-yard stripe. Duane recovered Wright's fumble to give Newton another opportunity but Arlington stiffened and took the ball on downs. On fourth down Hicks kicked to Mullen. After another exchange of punts Newton took the ball on its 35-yard mark. Liard at left guard for Arlington played brilliant defensive football to hold off Newton attacks throughout the period. Near the end of the session Duane intercepted a forward and ran 40 yards to the goal line, but the ball was brought back as Newton had been offside on the play. Newton 15, Arlington 0.

MID CLEATS AND PADS

In Saturday's schoolboy football games the situation was unique. Four of Newton's eight future opponents won and four lost—all losing teams but one failed to score. In seven of the nine games (including the Newton-Arlington fracas) the winners score was between 18 and 27 points. Along with Newton's 27 to 0 victory there were the following: Salem 18, Cambridge 0. Everett blanked Prov. Commercial 27 to 0. Melrose shut out Quincy 26 to 0. Somerville opened against Keith Academy with an 18 to 0 win for the first call. The other end will be well taken care of by Herbert Levenson whose play in the Arlington game was sufficient to give him the call over Tom Malloy or Francis Tuscher. George Gulian and Bill Giles demonstrated their right to first-string tackle ratings by their play against Arlington while Frank Vassalotti and Tommy DiMelo will be at the guard berths. Bob Patterson will start at center. The centre squad which suffered the loss of Horace Wood, intermediate varsity centre last year, who was in an automobile accident two weeks ago, has been bolstered by the return of Tommy Lyons. Lyons and Patterson were rated about even last year near the close of the season but Patterson has obtained a head start this year as Lyons could not report because of a bad hand which became infected during the baseball season. The hand still bothers him somewhat but he is getting along nicely by taping two of his fingers together. Alexander Kevorkian is suffering from slight injuries to his hip which he suffered in practice blocking punts. Quarterback Willie Mullen has been bothered a little by a sore jaw which was accidentally kicked in scrimmage the other day. He will be in there tomorrow, however. The remainder of the starting backfield against the Cantabs will be the same against Arlington with Huston at fullback and Blackler and Duane at the halves. Wednesday Coach Sanborn sent his three teams on the varsity squad against the Wellesley High outfit and the affair had a decidedly orange and black tinge. Five touchdowns were scored by the local youths with the first and second teams each netting two and the thirds one. Wellesley could do little on the offense against the three Newton lines. Monday the Newton coaching staff will reduce their squad by several youths as it is planned to retain between 36 and 40 on the first squad. Those cut will be sent down to the intermediate varsity and later if necessary may regain the varsity squad. The squad during the past few weeks has numbered about 45 youths and Coach Sanborn contemplates cutting seven or eight.

Fourth Period

An unknown alert Newton youth recovered an Arlington fumble near midfield. Blackler smashed through tackle for seven yards and Duane hit left guard for four. Continual battering at the Newton line brought a first down on the Arlington 10-yard line. Duane slid off left tackle over the goal line for the touchdown. Huston's try at the point failed. Blackler kicked off to the Arlington 25-yard stripe and Coach Sanborn began to send in substitute linemen. Huston intercepted an Arlington pass and Newton again had the ball in opponent's territory. Duane smashed his way through for five yards. Huston tossed a pass to Blackler who was brought down on the Arlington 15-yard marker. Here Newton's second string backs were sent in with Hatchell replacing Blackler, Robinson going in at quarter for Mullen, Buell taking Duane's place and Goodbar relieving Huston. The first three named carried to the two yard line in three plays. Buell burrowed through for the final score. The point after failed. Arlington began to open up with forward passes and the game ended with the ball about midfield. Newton 27, Arlington 0.

EXPECT HARD GAME WITH CAMBRIDGE LATIN TOMORROW

The 1931 Suburban league race opens tomorrow afternoon at the Dickinson Stadium, Newtonville, where the Newton High School eleven will meet the Cambridge Latin outfit at two thirty. It is the only Suburban league encounter of the day due to the fact that Everett High withdrew from the league at the end of last year's season. On October 12th Rindge will open its league season against the Cantabs in a league affair which will also decide the championship of Cambridge. Other league games are not listed until later in the month.

Despite the fact that Newton defeated Arlington 27 to 0 last Saturday in the opening tussle for the orange and black after Arlington had the week previous edged Cambridge Latin, 7 to 6, Coach Sanborn of the local eleven looks for an exceptionally hard game. Coach Leander MacDonald's squad has taken it on the chin twice running now, having lost to Salem last week by an 18 to 0 score. Those defeats may result in a dogged determination to upset the Newton appreciat. Cambridge should have beaten Arlington two weeks ago and did well to hold the exceptionally strong Salem outfit to 18 points. On the other hand Newton had little opposition from Arlington. The orange and black outfit played aggressive football from the opening whistle and getting the jump on the Ostergren coached outfit maintained its advantage through continued aggressive play.

Coach Sanborn will rely largely upon the starting team at Arlington to take the field against the Cantabs with the possible exception of left end, Fred Perkins, veteran and letterman, has been troubled with a boil on his neck and may give way to Donald Marr. Marr is a transfer from Waltham high where he served in substitute linesman's role last year. Early this season he was with the tackle group but a week ago was switched to the end squad where he has been going great guns. Even with Perkins in good physical condition Marr would be staging a great battle for the first call. The other end will be well taken care of by Herbert Levenson whose play in the Arlington game was sufficient to give him the call over Tom Malloy or Francis Tuscher.

George Gulian and Bill Giles demonstrated their right to first-string tackle ratings by their play against Arlington while Frank Vassalotti and Tommy DiMelo will be at the guard berths. Bob Patterson will start at center. The centre squad which suffered the loss of Horace Wood, intermediate varsity centre last year, who was in an automobile accident two weeks ago, has been bolstered by the return of Tommy Lyons. Alexander Kevorkian is suffering from slight injuries to his hip which he suffered in practice blocking punts. Quarterback Willie Mullen has been bothered a little by a sore jaw which was accidentally kicked in scrimmage the other day. He will be in there tomorrow, however. The remainder of the starting backfield against the Cantabs will be the same against Arlington with Huston at fullback and Blackler and Duane at the halves.

Wednesday Coach Sanborn sent his three teams on the varsity squad against the Wellesley High outfit and the affair had a decidedly orange and black tinge. Five touchdowns were scored by the local youths with the first and second teams each netting two and the thirds one. Wellesley could do little on the offense against the three Newton lines.

The squad during the past few weeks has numbered about 45 youths and Coach Sanborn contemplates cutting seven or eight.

SPORT NOTES

Headed for Eleven Letters

Herbert Gallagher, Northeastern sophomore from Newton, looks as an eleven-letter man, in which case he will make the Husky sports followers forget Herbert Tiffany, who amassed ten letters before graduating last June. Gallagher was an outstanding freshman athlete, being the best varsity pitcher and one of the leading scorers on the hockey sextet. In two weeks he has shown so much ability in soccer, a new sport for him, that he is rated as a first-string replacement already.

Powers Has Grippe

Langdon Powers, sophomore sensation at Dartmouth, has been sent to the infirmary there with the grippe. He will be out indefinitely.

Cole on Varsity

Harrington at Guard

Dan Harrington, former Newton high athlete now a junior at B. U., played the entire game with Williams last Saturday at left guard. B. U. was shut out by the Purple, 13 to 0, but is pointing for the game with New Hampshire tomorrow and hopes to get on the winning road.

SPORT NOTES

Baseball Race Ends

The big league baseball races have ended except for the world series. Bill Cronin, West Newton youth, with the Braves, ended the season with a batting average of .204. He played in 51 games, was at bat 107 times, scored 7 runs, and made 22 hits, including six doubles and one triple. In the field he had 120 putouts and 21 assists which with 9 errors gave him a fielding mark of .940. Bill Hunnefeld, former Saxony Mills star, ended the season as a member of the Giants after playing a while with the Braves. He caught on with the Braves after Chicago of the American league had given him his unconditional release. With the latter he played 21 games, being at bat 70 times, scoring 13 runs and making 17 hits, including five two baggers for a mark of .186. He stole two bases and made three sacrifice hits. In the field he had 124 putouts and 155 assists which with 17 errors gave him a mark of .943.

Martin Wins Another

Don Martin of West Newton won another title over the week end when he defeated Norman Drake of Boston in the finals of the men's singles at Franklin Park on Sunday, 6-4, 6-1, 6-4. As a result of the victory Martin wins permanent possession of the Mayor Curley trophy. Miss Grace Thompson of Newton and Miriam Quint of Dorchester were defeated in the finals of the women's doubles.

Fall Baseball at Dartmouth

Fall baseball practice started at Dartmouth on Monday with over thirty candidates reporting to Coach Tetreau. Frank Spain, former Newton high and Exeter academy star athlete, was the only local youth in the group. He has given up football this year in order to concentrate on hockey and baseball. Bob Bennett and Langdon Powers, other Newton athletes at Hanover, would be with the baseball group but for the fact that they are both on the football squad.

HUNNEWELL CLUB SMOKER

The annual smoker and open house at the Hunnewell Club, Newton, was held Tuesday evening with a large number of members and guests present. An enjoyable time was held with a great amount of interest being manifested in the bowling tournaments of the evening. Over a hundred strings were rolled in competition for prizes for the best high single string of the evening and for the "blind" handicap string.

Nathan P. Cutler won the high single string with a 133. Prizes in the "blind" handicap went to Nelson Gay, Nathan P. Cutler and W. H. Sellers. Those competing in this event selected a number to add to their actual pinfall to bring the total between 100 and 120. A number between these two had been chosen and those coming closest to the number were the prize winners. It was interesting to note that in the 100 strings rolled the number chosen, 116, was hit but four times. Nelson Gay accomplished the feat twice and Cutler and Sellers once each.

Following the bowling refreshments were served and cards and billiards enjoyed. The house bowling tournaments at the Hunnewell Club will start next week.

SCHOOL NEWS

The request made by certain parents in the district near the new Weeks Junior High School, between Newton Centre and Newton Highlands, that a kindergarten be established in that school building, has been refused by the School Committee. The sub-committee appointed some months ago to consider this matter reported that the junior high school does not contain facilities for the operation of a kindergarten. The School Committee also turned down the suggestion of the petitioners for a portable building somewhere on the Weeks School grounds to be used as a kindergarten. The committee decided that none of the acres surrounding the school will be available for a portable school building.

The School Committee acted adversely on the request from Newton Upper Falls residents that the branch library at the Emerson School be enlarged by removing a partition between the present library and an adjoining room. This plan is deemed impracticable. The School Committee was notified at its last meeting that the members of the Board of Aldermen (Ball, Collins and Harte) comprising the select committee on School Buildings, do not favor the taking by the city of land adjoining the Bowen School at Thompsonville for use as a school yard. The School Committee voted to authorize a conference between the joint committee of its members and the aforementioned Aldermen in an effort to have this land taken. There are 174 children attending the Bowen School and as there is but a narrow piece of land owned by the city alongside the building, the children have to play on a lot of land privately owned. Chairman Lockett of the School Committee asserted that such a condition would not be tolerated in any other part of the city. School Committee member Amesbury called attention to the fact that the lot now used as a playground may be shortly developed by its owner and then the children will have no place on which to play.

A committee comprised of teachers at the new Weeks Junior High School has requested the School Committee to ask for certain traffic rules on streets adjoining the school building. It is recommended by the teachers that Allerton road be made one-way from the direction of Centre street, and Locksley road be made one-way from the direction of Hereward road; that parking on these streets be restricted to the side nearest the school building; that crossings on these be defined by white-lines and that policemen be stationed at these crossings when the pupils are entering and leaving the school. A sub-committee of the School Committee will consider the recommendations of the school teachers.

Harrington Injured

Dan Harrington of Boston University is out of the game temporarily with back injuries. It is doubtful if he will start the game with New Hampshire tomorrow. If he does not it will be the first varsity game he has not been in the opening line-up as last year while a sophomore he started every game at guard for the varsity.

Women's Club Activities

Edited by EMMA D. COOLIDGE

A new Club Year brings greetings from Mrs. Carl L. Schrader, president of the State Federation of Women's Clubs, in words that may well be quoted. She says that having lived so much beside the sea this summer makes her phraseology nautical, and as such she gives it appropriate appeal:

Clubdom is "getting ready for the winter's cruise; hoping for fair weather; with stops many, each interesting and different. The Federation Ship, 'Success,' is a large one, with officers and crew of sufficient strength to handle every situation that may arise."

As "interesting ports" she cites the following Club Calendar, which Clubwomen may well mark at once in their engagement books:

Friday, October 30, Autumn Meeting by invitation of Marlborough Woman's Club, at "Lyonhurst," Marlborough.

Wednesday, November 4, Grace Morrison Poole Bazaar, at Copley Plaza Hotel, Boston, 10 a. m. to midnight.

Thursday, February 18, Midwinter Meeting at Hotel Bradford, Boston.

May 18, 19, 20 and 21, Annual Meeting at New Ocean House, Swampscott.

After listing new ventures of departments and of newly-organized committees, she continues:

"Though assured of a calm sea, the Federation must not be dismayed at slight ripples of discouragement. If all members of the crew guard their respective posts the captain on the bridge will be able to steer the craft to a safe and sure harbor."

The toast with which she closes her "greetings" may be taken to heart by every Clubwoman of Newton, as her ideal for the coming year—to which your editor herewith subscribes, with her best wishes, and sincere hopes for a successful, happy year of accomplishment:

"Here's to the days that are yet to be, to the life we're going to lead, to the aim achieved successfully, to the prisoned hope that's freed. Here's to the strength we're going to find, here's to the work we'll soon begin, strength of body and strength of mind and the hill we're going to win. Here's to the days that are yet to be, here's to the work that lies ahead, to the joy in striving constantly—till the last mile's paced, and the last word's said."

ACTIVITIES AMONG NEWTON CLUBS

Monday Club

The first meeting of the Monday Club of Newton Highlands will be on October 5, a week early to avoid the holiday, and will be a picnic, at Houghton's Pond, Blue Hill.

Christian Era Study Club

On the afternoon of Monday, October 5, the Christian Era Study Club will begin its activities for the year 1931-1932. The subjects for the first meeting will be "India" and "England and India." Dr. Emily Bissell will be present to tell about India. Dr. Bissell taught for a number of years in a girls' school, and last year, 1930-1931, made a special study of folk lore, in that country. Mrs. Harry D. Perkins will give a paper on "England and India."

The meeting will be held at the home of the president, Miss Ella B. Smith, at 15 Vista Avenue, Auburndale.

Newton Upper Falls Woman's Club

The first meeting of the Newton Upper Falls Woman's Club will be held Monday, October 5, at 7:30 o'clock, in the Emerson School Kindergarten.

The Club will welcome as guests Mrs. Carl L. Schrader, president of the Massachusetts State Federation of Women's Clubs, Twelfth District director.

Music will be rendered by the Forte Trio. Refreshments will be served. It is hoped that the Club will start its year with a one hundred per cent attendance.

Newton Centre Woman's Club

Mrs. James Watson, chairman of the Year Book of the Newton Centre Woman's Club, has just sent out copies of the New Year Book to all Club members. The Club membership numbers over 700 this year. The program for the coming season is full of unusual and varied interest, including musicals, art exhibitions, an international dinner, current events, dramatics and noted speakers.

The Club will continue the practice inaugurated last year of issuing a monthly folder-bulletin. It proved to be such a success that it has become an accepted feature of Club life. Mrs. Harold R. Jacques is editor of this Bulletin.

The new president, Mrs. John F. Capron, will preside at the opening meeting Friday, Oct. 23, but the Club already has one activity well under way as Mrs. S. Hardy Mitchell, chairman of the Art committee, has arranged a Class in Sketching, Landscape and Still Life, which is beginning today, October 2. This class is under the direct supervision of the Woodbury School of Applied Observation, with Miss Priscilla Ordway instructor in charge.

Auburndale Review Club

On Tuesday morning, the 6th, at 10 o'clock, the Auburndale Review Club will have the first meeting of the season at the home of Mrs. Frank P. Davidson, 59 Woodland road. The year promises to be one of interest, as the Club has taken for its year's study "Contemporary Literature of 1931-32." "Uncle Sam's Attic," by Mary Davis; "Coronado's Children," by F. Frank Deane; and "Eskimo," by Peter Freuchen, are the books to be reviewed at this meeting.

Woman's Club of Newton Highlands

The Board Meeting at the Club Workshop October 5, at 9:30 a. m., commences the yearly activities of the Newton Highlands' Woman's Club. The first regular meeting will be held on Tuesday, October 6, at 2 p. m., at the Congregational Parish House. At this time Mrs. Edward MacDowell will tell the Club about the MacDowell Colony, the development of her composer-husband's dream. Mrs. MacDowell will also play several of her husband's compositions.

Mrs. Albert I. Mackintosh, the Club's State Federation secretary, will give a report of the State Federation Meeting at Swampscott last May.

Following the meeting there will be an informal reception and tea, and all members will be given the opportunity to meet Mrs. MacDowell and the officers of the Club.

Newton Community Club

The meeting of the Newton Community Club, which is to be held at the Underwood School hall on Thursday, October 8, at 2:30 o'clock, promises to be an interesting one. All members and guests are asked to come early as the doors will be closed promptly at 2:30, and will remain closed while persons are speaking. There will be a brief pause between the reading of the secretarial reports so any late comers may enter.

The Club proposes to institute a Question Box for the purposes of gathering ideas for programs and other activities. Through this means members who have talents which are unknown to the various committee chairmen may make themselves known without embarrassment in suggesting their own names. It is also an opportunity to suggest eligible members.

One of the outstanding features of the afternoon will be a concert given by Arthur Fiedler, Conductor of the Pops, and pianist and viola player of the Boston Symphony Orchestra. He will be assisted by R. Gunderson, violinist, and J. Langendoen, cellist.

In connection with the concert there will be an interesting exhibit given by Miss Harriet Murray, of Center street, who will display tooled-leather work which she has made. Miss Murray will conduct a course of ten lessons beginning early in October, the course being offered for $5 as fee.

Club members will be interested to know about the Grace Morrison Poole Bazaar, to be held on November 4 at the Copley Plaza, for which many Clubs have appointed committees. Tickets for the Bazaar will be for sale at the Thursday meeting of the Newton Community Club. Members are asked to contribute articles suitable for bridge tables which may be sold at the Bazaar. Until a chairman is appointed, any suitable articles are to be sent to the Community Club president, Mrs. Daniel M. Goodridge, 123 Park street, Newton. Questions concerning articles will be answered by Mrs. Goodridge, whose telephone number is Newton North 1129-W.

Tickets for the Bazaar may be purchased from Mrs. Marguerite W. Tyler, who is in charge of sales. Since the demand for the tickets is great and the number scarce, purchasers are advised to secure their tickets early.

Federation Topics, the official publication of the Massachusetts State Federation of Women's Clubs, may also be obtained from Mrs. Tyler. This magazine contains many interesting articles as well as news from other Clubs in the New England Federation. Federation Topics is published monthly during the Club year, October through June, at a subscription price of fifty cents. The number of subscriptions is expected to exceed ten per cent.

Arrangements for the musical program of the Thursday meeting are in charge of Mrs. Peter Turbin, chairman of the Music committee, while Mrs. Albert Walker has arranged for the Tooled-Leather Exhibit.

West Newton Women's Educational Club

The West Newton Women's Educational Club was well represented at Amherst last Friday when a reception was tendered Mrs. Grace Morrison Poole, at the Dickinson-Baggs Tavern, and a program was sponsored by the Mothercraft Division of the Massachusetts State Federation of Women's Clubs. The members who attended were: Mrs. D. Earle Brackett, Mrs. Roy A. Stinson, Mrs. Sidney B. Sargent, Mrs. Starr A. Burdick, Mrs. Joseph A. Otis, Mrs. Harry S. Wells, Mrs. Alfred E. Thayer, and Mrs. D. Webster Anders.

The Club will hold the first meeting of the fall on Friday, October 9, at 2:30 o'clock in the Second Church Parish House.

Mrs. Katherine Osborne will be the speaker of the afternoon. Her subject will be "Romance of Fabrics," and she will show many rare and beautiful materials which were collected during a long journey in the Far East.

Tea will be served.

Newton Federation

The first representative Federation meeting of the year, a delightfully informal meeting of the Committee chairmen, was held at the home of the president, Mrs. Samuel N. Braham, on Tuesday, September 29.

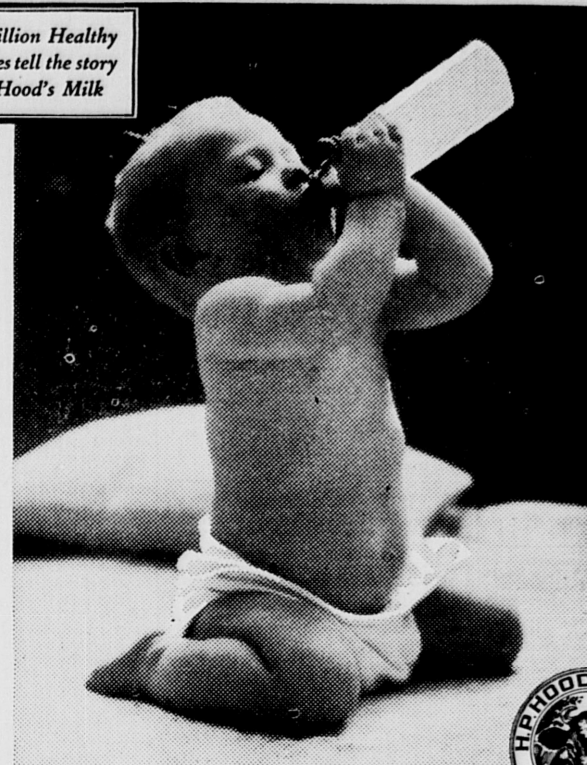

Plans for the approaching season were presented and discussed, each member enthusiastically vying with the other in offering suggestions and ideas. As a result, a busy and useful Club year is anticipated.

Several committees are already hard at work; their plans for usefulness necessitating immediate operation.

Mrs. Charles A. Riley, chairman of the special committee, Health Christman Seal, gave an interesting bit of information, to the effect that the

POLICE NEWS

Ralph Carlson of Watertown was in the Newton Court last Saturday morning charged with passing a worthless check. He was ordered to make restitution of $10 to the person who cashed the check and also to pay $5 for court expenses. Carlson was recently in the Watertown court charged with similar offences and given a suspended jail sentence.

In the Newton court last Saturday David McCann of Chestnut street, Waltham, was charged with driving while under the influence of liquor. His trial was continued until October 1. He was arrested the preceding night after the car he was driving had collided with a car parked on Webster street, West Newton. In court the same day Gustave Rathgeber of Linden street, Allston, was sentenced to serve 3 months in jail for failure to support his three minor children. He appealed and was ordered to pay $12 each week for the children's support while his appeal is pending.

In the Newton court last Friday Malcolm T. Hill of Ridge road, Waban, was fined $10 for speeding; Herbert Jones of 1818 Beacon street was fined $10 for speeding; Lionel Provencher of Libbey street, West Roxbury, was fined a like amount for a like offence and Kimball Powning of Brookline was fined $5. Antonio Tedesco of Quincy was fined $5 for not stopping before entering a through way.

The room in Bacon Block, 277 Washington street, Newton, occupied by the Ward Engineering Company, makers of automobile headlight attachments, was raided shortly after 11 o'clock last Thursday night by a squad of police under Richard Goode and including Serg. Mahoney, Patrolmen McDonough and Whalen. The police seized two gallons of alleged alcohol in cans and about one quart of like liquor in bottles; 10 pint bottles containing liquor labelled Stewart Whiskey; two pints of liquor labelled Four Aces Whiskey; two pints of alleged gin; 15 empty gallon cans; empty jugs and bottles, whiskey labels, stoppers, funnels and other articles.

As a result of this raid a summons has been issued ordering John T. Lavelley of 26 Clinton street, Newton, to appear in the Newton court tomorrow to answer the charge of keeping and exposing liquor for sale. The police claim that the seized liquor was the property of Lavelley who is interested in a clubroom located adjoining the room of the Ward Engineering Company. This clubroom was raided on September 5th following an alleged sale of liquor by Lavelley to a police spotter but no liquor was found at that time.

Ralph Clark of 14 Wiltshire road, Newton, was in the Newton court on Monday charged with going away after doing damage to property with his automobile without revealing his identity. Clark's car backed into a bicycle owned by Joseph Piantadosi of Cook street, Nonantum. The boy is a telegraph messenger and had parked his bicycle in front of a store on Center street, Newton Corner. Witnesses noticed the number plate on the car and the police traced the ownership. Although Clark has been residing on Wiltshire road for several months, he was still operating the car under a Texas registration number and he was ordered by Inspector O'Leary of the Registry of Motor Vehicles to obtain a Massachusetts registration for the car. Judge Bagge continued the case to October 1 with the understanding that Clark would pay young Piantadosi for the damage to the bicycle.

Fred Rizzer of 507 Centre street, Newton, reported to the police that a 22 calibre revolver had been stolen from his room. According to Rizzer's story, he had found this revolver, had planned to report finding it to the police, had delayed doing so, and in the meantime the weapon had been stolen from him.

Kenneth Eagles of 682 Boylston St., Newton Highlands, was sentenced to 10 days in jail by Judge Bacon in the Newton court on Monday. Eagles had recently been convicted of using an automobile without authority and had been fined and ordered to pay for damages to the car. He had paid for the damages, but had only paid part of the fine.

Lemuel McWilliams, formerly of this city, but who gave his last home address as Washington street, Brighton, was in the Newton Court on Tuesday charged with an offence committed on June 19, 1927. He was then arrested for driving a car while under the influence of liquor, and it was his second such offence. He failed to appear in the Newton court when his trial came up about a week after that date and a default warrant was issued for him. On Monday McWilliams finished a six months' sentence in the Suffolk County jail at Deer Island and he was then taken into custody by the Newton police. He was sentenced to serve 3 months in the Middlesex County jail, and a fine of $50 was imposed upon him for driving after his license had been suspended. He could not pay the fine.

The Newton police made two liquor raids at Newton Upper Falls on Tuesday night. Headed by Sergs. Crowley and Sheridan a squad visited the homes of Fred Furnace, 314 Elliot street, and Adam Kulecka, 25 Mechanic street. At the former place 10 gallons of wine, 5 1-2 gallons of beer, 1 1-2 pints of alcohol, 100 empty bottles and other articles used in connection with dispensing of liquor were seized. At Kulecka's house the liquor seized included 29 quart bottles of beer, 1 gallon of alcohol and one-half gallon of wine.

Furnace was arrested charged with making an illegal sale of liquor. In the Newton court on Wednesday he pleaded guilty and was fined $50 for making this sale and given a suspended jail sentence of 3 months for keeping liquor for sale.

Kulecka was arrested charged with keeping and exposing liquor for sale. His wife, Mrs. Antonina Kulecka, was arrested charged with making an illegal sale. They were in the Newton court on Wednesday and their cases continued until October 7.

IT IS UP TO THE PEOPLE

Do the people of the United States want the next Congress to make greater appropriations than have been made any year since the armistice, appropriations that will involve the issuance of interest bearing bonds and the inevitable increase of Federal taxes?

If they do not—and they certainly do not—then it is up to them to say so now, before the session convenes. The constituents of every Senator and Representative ought to make it clear to these representatives of theirs that the utmost limit of the appropriations at the coming session should be "the needs of the Government, economically administered." It is vastly more effective to have this understanding now, before the session begins, than it is to complain after the session is over.

Of course the Government of the United States can raise the money, no matter how much may be appropriated. As one distinguished advocate of a five billion dollar bond issue recently declared: "The credit of the United States is good." Very true. But a government debt has to be paid the same as any other debt. And the people have to pay it! Let the people never forget that!

It is easy to argue that money lent to the government for debt purposes or for great public works returns immediately to circulation and therefore stimulates the business of the country. But the stimulation is only temporary and superficial. Good times will never return until activity in private business is resumed. And every issue of government securities reduces the supply of money available for investment in industry and therefore delays the restoration of industrial activity. The money that would be available for investment cannot be diverted indefinitely into the Federal treasury without harm to the nation at large. No nation can borrow and tax itself into prosperity.

The people understand this. Let them impress that understanding upon their representatives in Congress.

It's a great pity that former President Roosevelt did not have the same idea as Mr. Coolidge in regard to party solidarity and respect for his successor in that high office. The history of these United States and possibly that of the world might have been changed if that had been the case.

Lovers of nature will have a wonderful opportunity the coming week or ten days to see the autumn foliage in the height of its beauty, especially in the mountain districts of New Hampshire and Vermont.

No wonder there are over 700 applicants to be admitted to the bar, when we read in the daily papers that lawyers charge $350,000 for the settlement of a millionaire's estate.

BYGONE DAYS IN NEWTON

From Graphic of Oct. 2, 1891

"Newton is all 'torn up' on the sewerage question, and it takes a very skillful driver to make anytime at all in going from one part of Wards 1, 2 or 7 to another. But, the worse it is, the better we like it, as there is the greater prospect of its being finished in season." The streets at Newton Corner and Newtonville are all torn up because of the laying of the sanitary sewers which are to connect with the new Metropolitan Sewage System. The horse cars to Watertown are interfered with by the work on Galen street.

A big fete will be held on October 14 at the General Hull Mansion on Walnut street, Newtonville, by the ladies of the Newton Club. The proceeds from this event will be used to furnish the ladies apartment in the new Newton Club house. For the gentlemen's table the donations include a car load of quartered oak, coal and other useful articles.

Grand reception on Saturday, September 26, to Mrs. Harrison, (wife of President Harrison) and her daughter, Mrs. McKee, by ladies of Newton Club at Gen. Hull Mansion; 600 ladies present. Mrs. Harrison, Mr. and Mrs. McKee have been guests for several days at Woodland Park Hotel, Auburndale. Mr. and Mrs. McKee were guests that Saturday evening at promenade of Newton Boat Club at clubhouse in Riverside.

Bitter controversy at Nonantum over site of house to be located in that section.

Under "Business Notices" Tricycle; a Victor tricycle for sale at a bargain; in first class condition.

$135 Safety for sale; nearly new, will be disposed of at a bargain.

For sale; lady's safety bicycle; new, rode about 25 miles. Will sell cheap.

ABOUT TOWN

By Edw. H. Powers

The result of the resolution passed a couple of months ago by the Newton Board of Aldermen, protesting against the condition of the Boston Elevated cars running from Newton Corner to Boston was a letter from General Manager Dana of the Elevated claiming that these cars are in excellent condition and that the tracks of the Elevated would be repaired during the summer, so that residents of this city who have been annoyed by the noise of the Elevated cars would obtain relief. Have the tracks been repaired during the summer, as Mr. Dana promised? Not so one would notice it. A scraper was run over the tracks adding to the regular din which people residing on Tremont and adjacent streets have had to hear. But, no repairs were made on the tracks; neither to the rails or roadbed.

As to the nice cars which Mr. Dana says are "O. K." These vehicles were brought to Newton after having been in service for years at East Boston. They are much lighter and inferior in construction to the cars which were formerly used on the Newton route and which were transferred to East Boston. The word of Tremont street residents does not have to be taken as to the condition of these deluxe vehicles. Anyone who rides in one of these cars from Newton to Boston can feel and hear for one's self. One riding in these vehicles gets vibrated to a frazzle. And as for the noise. A person's hearing is temporarily impaired after a trip in a Newton to Boston Elevated car. The windows in these cars are so dirty as to produce near-inaudible. But, the stockholders of the Elevated continue to draw 6% dividends and the trustees of the company don't seem to think their fellow Newtonians have much of a grievance. Possibly, since the protest of the Newton Board of Aldermen has been ignored, some action on the part of Senator Hollis Speaker Salton stall and Representatives Baker, Luitweiler and Thompson might bring results from the Elevated management.

The present predicament of Great Britain and the sorry condition of affairs existing in about all so-called civilized countries proves that the wise men of this generation have plenty of opportunity to display their erudition. If statesmen, captains of finance and industry and the scientific efficiency experts in this and other countries do not soon solve our economic ills, the millions of unemployed will be quite apt to take some sort of action.

Business men at Newton Corner are realizing now what the business men at West Newton realized for many weeks: that the big pipes for the Metropolitan water drive business away by occupying much of the parking space on streets.

Governor Ely recommends that compulsory automobile liability insurance be based on a demerit rating. Leading lawyers assert such a law would be unconstitutional. Certainly, such a system would produce snarls by the thousands. The autoist driving alone would be unfortunate for the street involved in an accident. Even though the lone autoist were not responsible for an accident, if the person operating the car had others riding with him, or her, the autoist responsible for an accident would have witnesses who could lie or give "mistaken" testimony to pin the blame on the innocent party. Such a miscarriage of justice has happened frequently in the past and this evil would be multiplied tremendously if a demerit rating system is applied to automobile insurance.

Adena and Llewellyn roads at West Newton have been improved and accepted by the city. These streets, instead of having a surface of gravel, permeated with bituminous material, have a surface of 1½ inches of broken stone, permeated with asphalt. This type of street, while costing but little more than the gravel surfaced street, is greatly superior and will remain in good condition much longer. This new type of surface will be used on a number of other streets to be improved this year. The work on these streets is being done by employees of the Street Department.

The resurfacing of Lowell avenue, Bridge, Pearl and other streets which has been underway, is being done by Warren Brothers Corporation. The type of surface used is known as "pen-o-broke" and consists of 1 inch of broken stone treated with asphalt.

Some years ago it became necessary to restrict the keeping of hens in thickly settled sections of this city. Roosters were especially taboo. The hens were objected to because they trespassed in neighboring yards and gardens, damaging lawns, flowers and vegetables; and henhouses which were not kept clean developed a noticeable odor and attracted rats and other vermin. Chanticleers in thickly settled communities are obnoxious because they were apt to broadcast shortly after midnight, and sure to crow lustily during early morning hours.

Now, in addition to hens and roosters, pigeons are causing complaints. Persons residing in houses near where pigeons are kept protest against the incessant cooing of the doves, which they claim prevent those living nearby from enjoying proper sleep. One of our constituents does not look our way lately when passing, because we did not succeed in preventing a neighbor from keeping pigeons. A West Newton resident is suing a neighbor because the latter's pigeons are alleged to have damaged the offended party's grape vines and disturbed his slumbers.

Our sleep is broken at daybreak not by roosters or pigeons, but by a flock of blue jays that screech their lungs out every morning. And we can't sue the owner of these jays, because they are free and independent birds.

Bad News for Karl Marx.
Why Not Keep Our Gold?
Gold and High Finance.
In India and in Iowa.

Those to whom the word "Russia" is anathema will learn with glee that Britain's gold action, believed to be an excellent thing for us as well as for Britain, is expected to cost Russia about $25,000,000 a year through diminished exports. It will amuse our "best minds" when they realize that Britain's move away from gold, called by the ignorant "a blow to capitalism," will hurt Communism and help capitalism. You can imagine Karl Marx and Lenin rolling over in their graves.

Bad boys in Wall Street are inclined to exult and say that Britain's derelicting from the gold standard is a sort of "triumph" for the United States.

We have the gold standard and we have the GOLD. One plain-spoken "big operator" in Wall Street, changing suddenly from "bear" to "bull," said "The news from England will relieve the world as landing a bull relieves the owner of the bull."

Might it be wise for the United States, taking the advice of a financial writer, employed by Mr. Cyrus H. K. Curtis, to "loosen up," which means inflating the currency reasonably, putting out at least enough additional money to offset the five to eight hundred millions in currency supposed to be hidden away in mattresses, stockings and safe deposit vaults by the foolishly frightened.

And would it be a good thing for the government to say "We have the gold and we intend to keep it, since it seems to exercise so much influence on the world's imagination. We don't know just how much it really amounts to, but even if it were only a financial rabbit foot, we don't intend to let it go. No gold shall leave the United States from now on. If other nations don't like our currency they need not take it."

Experienced financiers, who do not guess, have no definite opinion as to the ultimate results of Britain's action.

It might increase the value of silver by convincing nations that it is dangerous to destroy one of two metals that have been used side by side as money for five thousand years.

Any British obligations specifically payable in gold or in dollars will be paid according to contract. There is no hint at repudiation of any obligation.

Mr. J. Pierpont Morgan, who talks briefly on all occasions and rarely for publication, made an exception yesterday, telling a reporter in London that he looks upon the British gold action as "a hopeful sign, and not a discouraging event."

He knows about British conditions and believes that the British Government has taken the second of two necessary steps, the first being to balance the budget, the second this step in regard to gold. He predicts "the restoration of trade in England."

It is charming to see Japan, politely drawing in her breath, with Oriental politeness, saying to the League of Nations, "You attend to your business and I shall attend to mine."

Brigadier-General Reilly, of the United States Reserve Corps, informs you that in time of war, the Japanese Prime Minister, Foreign Secretary, War and Navy Secretaries, become dummies.

The Chiefs of Staff in the Army and Navy deal directly with the Emperor and go straight to him.

In this little trouble, if they, metaphorically, banging their heads on the floor at the Mikado's feet, say "We wish to win this war by the virtue of the Emperor," they can go ahead and win it, while the League looks on. Their "government" has nothing to say.

India's natives, under British law, must submit to modern methods of fighting the plague. They do not like this and fight against it, insisting on their right to swim in the "Holy Ganges" river, although corpses of those dead of the plague may be floating upon it.

Iowa's law compels testing cattle to make sure that they are not tubercular, a good idea, since children get consumption from the milk of tubercular cows. But it seems a bad idea to some Iowa farmers and it has been necessary to call out the militia to protect those sent to test the cattle.

Discovery of insulin, marvelous remedy for diabetes, becomes more important and marvelous in view of recent scientific suggestions.

A learned Briton says that insulin would enable the unemployed to hibernate as the ground-hog, bear and other animals do in Winter, curling up, taking in barely enough oxygen to keep the heart going and eating nothing. Interesting solution of the unemployment and dole problem, perhaps.

But the thought of five or six million workers and their families curled up in the dark, all Winter, is unpleasant.

ONE THING AND ANOTHER

By L. D. G. Bentley

A new City Hall, a new Court House and a new Police Headquarters makes it easier to find the "New" in Newton.

Those Pesky Flies

Of course it isn't quite time to take off the screens, but it's getting along to that period. After the screens have been neatly stacked to remain undisturbed until the Spring of 1932 we are just as likely as not to have some flies. But there won't be so many as to make much trouble and I daresay there won't be much fussing on the part of housekeepers.

A very good friend of mine put the notion to write this into my more or less active mind when he said, "They don't go after houseflies the way they used to." Upon my request for further explanation, he went on to describe the goings-on which daily attended the regular exodus of flies from every well ordered home in the well-known "good old" days.

"Remember how mother started up stairs by darkening one room and driving the flies therefrom and then closed that room, darkened another and continued her attack until the flies, or nearly all of them, had been driven down stairs to the kitchen."

Sure enough, that was the "good old" way. I recall the implements used, or at least one of them. It was a sort of switch, a stick with long paper strings attached. By waving this in the general direction of a group of flies the herding was begun. The force of the switching was not sufficient to injure permanently any fly of ordinary strength, but apparently it upset their plans and they fled in confusion. The good women who chased flies did not do so without a well organized system. Indeed they knew what they were about.

With an assembly of flies in the kitchen the next thing was to open the screen door and shoo every one of them into the great open spaces. I don't know what the flies did when they found themselves outdoors but I venture to assume they made for a neighbor's house and repeated the same practices that made them obnoxious in the first place.

Didn't we have a dish of some kind of poison sitting around and weren't their strips of sticky fly paper invitingly arranged for thoughtless and unsuspecting flies? Well, like my friend, I'm wondering why those things don't happen any more. Are we getting too lenient or it is that that flies have become educated and more considerate? If you have any time for the problem of course I'd like to hear an explanation. But maybe you're too busy with other more important matters.

"This Way To—"

This is a poor time to suggest new ways of spending the public's money except for actual necessities. However, there is a need for one thing that would involve a comparatively small expenditure and which I feel would accomplish much good. I refer to the signs for the guidance of automobile drivers in the less populated sections. In Massachusetts, and throughout the New England states, we are stingy in such matters. That I have learned from people who drive long distances and constitute that desirable body of citizens known as tourists.

As a matter of fact the reader of this column who brought the matter to my attention drives thousands of miles each year on business. He has graciously invited me to accompany him a number of times and it was during one of these journeys that the subject came up for discussion.

In Connecticut we were traveling between Bridgeport and New Haven when my friend decided to go to Westfield, Massachusetts, to confer with a business associate. In New Haven we saw a sign which indicated the number of the through route which led to Westfield. At various turns in the road and at junctions and forks we saw more Westfield signs. Suddenly, as we rode along, there was no sign to tell us where we were headed. As a matter of fact my friend knew the road well, but a stranger would surely have been lost.

"Connecticut is bad enough," said my friend, "but Massachusetts is worse. We have no uniformity. You cannot be sure as far as signs are concerned whether you're on the right road or not. As far as learning the name of the town or village there is nothing to enlighten you. Supposing you are looking for some well known place noted for its beautiful scenery or some other natural charm. Or may be an historical community or battle ground. Sometimes there are these signs but more often there are not."

"In New York State there are signs everywhere to guide the automobilist. He strikes one town and learns its name and also how far it is to the next town and where the road leads ultimately. A splendid system and not an expensive one. Compared to the way of marking roads in Massachusetts and New England for that matter so slow and behind the times?" I have to answer and can only say that the automobilist should combine in insisting on the passage of legislation that will improve conditions. The total cost, distributed among local, State and county taxes would not be appalling I am sure.

Second Hand Reading Matter

Have you ever noticed—and I am sure you have—conductors on street cars and brakemen on railway trains gathering up newspapers discarded by passengers? And as far as that goes passengers occasionally grab up a paper and make off with it. I remember a particularly close-fisted man right here in Newton who was asked what daily paper he read. His reply was,

REMEMBER

INTEREST BEGINS

NEWTON SAVINGS BANK

"The Place for My Savings"

"Whatever I pick up on the train." And he was telling the truth.

Far be it from me to protest or complain against the snatching up of newspapers. I don't do it myself but no doubt it is because I read newspapers systematically as part of my regular work. If these papers were not delivered to me regularly morning and evening I should doubtless be among those who read over somebody's else shoulder. That, by the way, is an offense not so easily condoned. You may be the most patient and understanding creature in the world but let some ugly mug be thrust over your shoulder at the newspaper you are holding and won't you yell? Well, maybe you won't but I do.

I was riding from Boston to one of our smaller Massachusetts cities by train the other morning. It happened I was booked to speak before a luncheon club. In the South Station I bought a copy of the New York Times which requires considerable time if one reads all that interests him. Along near the end of the journey I folded up the paper and offered it to the conductor of the train.

"Will you accept the New York Times for today?" I asked, which was unusually formal and polite for me. "Thank you," came the reply, "the engineer always likes to get the Times. He was asking me this morning if I could find him one."

To the Ladies

Running over some official news bulletins from Washington the other day I learned something which I feel will prove of more than passing interest. It comes from the Women's Bureau of the U. S. Department of Labor and declares that important inventions touching on the whole social and industrial life of the Nation can be expected from the American women in the future.

It appears that although patent records over periods of years show a comparatively small number of women apply there has been a remarkable increase in applications since 1899 when the first patent was issued to a woman. That was 10 years after the patent law went into operation. The following 25 years saw less than a score granted to women but as they gradually assumed greater initiative, both within and outside the home, more of them applied for patents at the United States Patent Office.

The number of applications, it is shown, has gradually increased and now more than 500 are annually granted patents. The figures reveal inventions of women have dealt with domestic devices more than to any single group. Household appliances amount to 27 per cent. and wearing apparel 21 per cent. Yet women have made important contributions in other fields and now their inventions cover a wide range, including agriculture, mining, quarrying, animal husbandry, transportation, hotel and restaurant equipment, laundry work, dressmaker's supplies and office supplies and equipment.

It is also noted that women have made important inventions relating to scientific instruments, laboratory equipment, scales, watches and optical goods. I am sure that the concluding observation of my official informant is worth while. It reads, "Their inventions though slight in comparison with those patented by men, show sufficient variety to illustrate a breadth in inventive genius."

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

"Unreality" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, October 4.

The Golden Text is: "The Lord knoweth the thoughts of man, that they are vanity" (Psalm 94:11).

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "And, behold, there was a woman which had a spirit of infirmity eighteen years, and was bowed together, and could in no wise lift up herself. And when Jesus saw her, he called her to him, and said unto her, Woman, thou art loosed from thine infirmity. And he laid his hands on her: and immediately she was made straight, and glorified God" (Luke 13:11, 12, 13).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "If sickness is true or the idea of Truth, you cannot destroy sickness, and it would be absurd to try. Then classify sickness and error as our Master did, when he spoke of the sick, 'whom Satan hath bound,' and find a sovereign antidote for error in the life-giving power of Truth acting on human belief, a power which opens the prison doors to such as are bound, and sets the captive free physically and morally" (p. 495).

ETIQUETTE

An American film producer asked an English friend to watch the "shooting" of one of his "society" films to see that it was all right.

After a time the Englishman asked:

"Why does that man keep on his hat when he's talking to a lady in the drawing room?"

"Sure," said the producer, "he can't take it off—another lady's coming in presently and he's got to raise his hat

Not a Chance

Lawyer—Now, doctor, suppose the parsons and the devil should have a lawsuit, which do you think would win?

Parson—The devil, unquestionably.

Lawyer—Ah! And will you tell us

why?

Parson—Because he would have all the lawyers on his side.—Pete Mele,

Paris.

The Questioners

"My children ask more questions in an hour than I could answer in a man.

"Yes," replied Senator Sorghum, "but they're not in a position to defeat you guessing the precise answers they want to hear."—Washington Star.

A Fair Question

Little Horace was watching his aunt open a book to read.

"Do you feel at home here, Aunt Hazel?" he asked suddenly.

"To be sure I do," replied the visitor, smiling back.

"Then," inquired the boy, "why don't you help mother wash dishes?"

"She was getting too popular," replied Miss Cayenne. "I wanted to see her make her share of enemies."

BOOKS ABOUT RUSSIA

In these days of economic confusion and uncertainty, who has not cast a questioning eye at Russia, with its Five Year Plan of reconstruction? What is this program? What are its advantages? Wherein does it fail? Certainly no well-informed person can be ignorant of this movement, the significance of which we must admit, whether we praise it or condemn it.

The interest in the Five Year Plan has been reflected in the many excellent books about Russia which have been published during the last two years. The Newton Free Library has purchased the notable titles from among these, and is ready to lend them to you. Of the many available books the following on Soviet Russia are recommended:

Chamberlin, W. H. Soviet Russia; a living record and a history.

An accurate and arresting account of the historical background of the Revolution; and the problems which confront the Soviet government today. Free from prejudice, this is one of the most valuable of the new books on Russia. Mr. Chamberlin is a Russian correspondent for the Christian Science Monitor.

Counts, G. S. Soviet challenge to America.

A discussion not only of the economics of the Five Year Plan, but also of the social, cultural and educational program of modern Russia.

Dillon, E. J. Russia today and yesterday: an impartial view of Russia. An Englishman who has spent the greater part of his life in Russia makes an interesting comparison of the old and new regimes. A fair discussion of all phases of sovietism.

Eddy, Sherwood. Challenge of Russia. Clearly written for those who wish a simple account of the Soviet experiment. The author's attempt to weigh the good and bad of the plan helps to clarify one's ideas.

Feller, Arthur. Russian experiment. A German economist surveys the industrialization of Russia under the Five Year Plan.

Hindus, Maurice. Humanity uprooted.

A native Russian revisits his country and writes impartially from first hand observation, of all aspects of the New Russia.

Hindus, Maurice. Red bread.

A consideration of the agricultural "collectivization" movement and its effect upon the Russian peasant.

Hoover, Calvin. Economic life of Soviet Russia. The results of a careful investigation by an American professor of economics. A detailed, lucid appraisal of the Soviet economic system.

Hin, M. New Russia's primer, the story of the Five Year Plan.

Originally written as a textbook for Russia's schools, this is a simple graphic description of the Five Year Plan, by a Russian engineer. A striking book.

U. S. S. R. State Planning Commission. The Soviet Union looks ahead.

The five year economic, social and financial program of Russia as outlined by the Soviet State Planning Commission.

If you are unable to obtain certain books at the time when you request them, the Library has a service whereby you may reserve them free of charge, receiving a notification when they are available.

Great Issue Provoked

Passions of Statesmen

The startling declaration of Bob Toombs, of Georgia, that he proposed to call the roll of his slaves from the base of Bunker Hill monument—this in derision of the Massachusetts representatives who were fighting the slavery question was incidentally raised in the discussion of a measure to purchase Cuba, writes J. H. Galbraith, Ohio historian. It was on February 25, 1859, and Gen. I. B. Sherwood, who told the story, said it was the occasion of his first visit to Washington. He was in the senate that night and heard the sensational debate. Over the thrilling memories of four years later in the Civil war the memory of what he saw that night stood out clear and fresh to his last days.

Toombs supported the purchase bill and made a vicious attack on Senator Seward, who opposed it. Senator Benjamin said that unless the purchase was made, Spain would free her colored slaves and there would be no tropical fruits, as these could be raised only by slave labor. Seward moved to tack on the homestead bill to an amendment. That roused Toombs to anger. That "land for the landless" argument was a scheme of the demagogues. "I despise a demagogue," he said, "but I despise still more those who are driven by demagogues."—Detroit News.

Medieval Dishes That

Called for Condiments

An important reason for the apparent vast thirst of the English of medieval times, William Edward Mead explains, in his volume, "The English Medieval Feast," is found in the dishes common to their tables, wherein condiments and spices played a major part. Loaded with pepper, cubebs, mace, saffron, cloves, ginger, cinnamon, nutmeg, galingale, cummin, licorice, aniseed, and other tart ingredients, they were prone to inspire the consumer to frequent draughts from the ale keg or beer mug.

Here again the element of necessity entered. For, the author points out, fashion had in reality little to do with the extensive use of these elements. Our ancestors, he reminds us, had not yet begun to breed beasts and poultry for the table, except that the value of the capon was remembered from former days. Mutton was apt to be stringy, beef tough; and men made use of food from sources that today would be avoided with a shudder.

In the hope, then, of securing an aid to digestion, as well as to disguise the exact nature of many dishes, the spice box came frequently to hand as the cook worked. For natural crudeness cried aloud for mitigation, even at the feasts where kings ate crowned and bishops dined in cope and miter.

Agreed at Last

"Sam, where have you been?"
"No place—just married."
"That good?"
"Not so good, I've stepped to nine kids."
"That bad?"
"Not so bad. She's got plenty of money."
"That good?"
"Not so good—held on it tight."
"That bad?"
"Not so bad—owns a big house."
"That good?"
"Not so good—it burnt down last night."
"That bad?"
"Taint so bad. She burned with it."
"That good?"

Backgammon in 3000 B. C.

The University of Pennsylvania museum has what is regarded as one of the oldest dice in the world. The dice, which is said to date from about 2750 B. C., was found by Dr. E. A. Speiser in excavations at Tepe Gawra, Mesopotamia.

The dice is cubical in shape and is made of baked clay. The numbers are arranged so that five opposes four and two opposes three on the cube. The university museum has also a backgammon board among its collections which dates from about 3000 B. C. It is believed probable the dice found at Tepe Gawra may have been one of a pair used to play backgammon.

Mustard

Mustard has many household uses. Rub some dry mustard on your hands after peeling onions, and then wash in the usual way. You will find that all odor will be removed. Do the same with the knife, although made mustard is better than dry for this purpose. Place a little muslin bag containing some dry mustard next to fresh beets in the pantry. It will keep the beets fresh for days. Mustard freshly made will often remove ink stains. Spread thickly, leave for an hour, then sponge off.

Informal Greeting

Recently I attended a movie with my wife, who stood at one side in the lobby while I bought the tickets. Being in a hurry and having quite a lot of change to put in my pocket I rushed up to "my wife" and exclaimed, "Here, hon, shake a leg and help me out."

Hearing a giggle I looked and saw that "my wife" was a strange woman. Needless to say I was in a great hurry then before.—Chicago Tribune.

Fashionable Life When

Georges Ruled England

The "English Lady's Catechism" presents a smart caricature of how a lady of fashion spent her day:

"How do you employ your time now?"

"I lie in Bed till Noon, dress all the Afternoon, Dine in the Evening, play at Cards till midnight."

"How do you spend the Sabbath?"

"In chit chat!"

"What do you talk of?"

"New Fashions and New Plays!"

"How often do you go to Church?"

"Twice a year or oftener, according as my Husband gives me new Cloaths!"

"Why do you go to Church when you have new Cloaths?"

"To see other People's finery, and to shew my own, and to laugh at those scurvy, out-of-fashion creatures that come for Devotion!"

"Pray, Madam, what Books do you read?"

"I read lewd Plays and winning Romances!"

"Who is it you love?"

"Myself!"

"What, nobody else?"

"My Page, my Monkey and my Lap Dog!"

"Why?"

"Why, because I am an English lady, and they are Foreign Creatures, my Page from Genoa, my Monkey from the East Indies and my Lap Dog from Vigo!"—A. E. Richardson in Georgian England.

Seek Church's Blessing

on All Undertakings

The Slav people throughout the world hold more to religious customs than any of the peoples of western Europe. Many of these beautiful old customs were created and preserved by the Bulgarians during the five centuries under Turkish rule. The people, as a rule, also call upon the clergy to perform a ceremony for what would appear, in western Europe, most trivial things. In addition to the ceremony performed in the case of marriages, births and deaths, the cutting of the first sod and the laying of a foundation for a new house or public building, the opening of a new street, building, public garden, or a factory, etc., without a religious ceremony is considered as an ill omen. Immediately the roof is placed on a new house or building, a cross, blessed by the priest, with a wreath of flowers attached is hoisted and remains until the work is finally completed. In the villages certain ideas are carried to extreme limits, and the parish priest is called upon to perform all sorts of ceremonies, such as blessing the land, prayers for rain, storms and the harvest, etc.—Detroit News.

Trappist Monks

The Trappist monks are a reformed order of the Cistercian order, instituted in 1662 by Armand Jean le Bouthellier de Rance. Assuming control of the abbey of La Trappe in 1663, he found it in the most deplorable condition. The main purpose was to restore the discipline of the monastery. From La Trappe this austere rule spread into other parts of Europe, where it met with such instant favor that some of the most flourishing monastic houses in the world are now those of the Trappist reformers. In the United States there are three Cistercian abbeys, La Trappe at Gethsemane, Ky.; New Melleray, near Dubuque, Iowa, and Our Lady of the Valley, Cumberland, R. I.

The Pomp of Power

Nicholas II (of Russia) liked living in a small South German palace rather than anywhere else. . . . In Hesse the czar knew that he was safe against attempts on his life, which were always possible in Russia, and then on the banks of the pretty stream of Darm, he could live the free, quiet life of a private gentleman. Is there better proof of the worthlessness of all royal pomp and circumstance than the fact that what the autocrat of all the hundred million Russians loved most was to go in a slow train from Darmstadt to Frankfurt, incognito as far as possible, and there buy ties and gloves in the street?—From Von Bulow's Memoirs, Page 195.

Policies Out of Date

The insurance policy issued by Lloyd's on marine risks has undergone but little change in the past century and a half, since it was first printed, says an article in Fortune Magazine. The opening sentence formerly read "In the name of God, Amen," but it has been changed to "Be it known that." This is perhaps the greatest change in the policies of Lloyd's, which are full of contradictions and grandiose language; so much so that an English judge once declared that if it were drawn up today it would be considered "the work of a lunatic endowed with a private sense of humor."

Machines in Vineyards

Machine-age methods are now used in the large vineyards of northern Africa. Whereas in former days the spraying of the vines was done by hand, great numbers of natives being employed, each carrying on his back a copper cylinder loaded with poisonous dust, mechanical means are now coming to the front. Horses and mules, or motor trucks where the ground is favorable, carry a large metal apparatus which scatters poison by means of compressed air. This mechanization has, it is said, increased the wine yield per acre.

ABOUT TOWN

By Edw. H. Powers

A large percentage of automobile owners in Massachusetts approve of the argument that a "flat rate" should be charged on compulsory liability insurance, so far as zones are concerned. Many motorists who reside in places enjoying low rates, drive much more in congested cities, such as Boston, than do motorists who reside in districts where the high rates are imposed.

Many automobile owners register their cars from summer homes to get the low rates. There are many automobiles being operated in this State, owned by persons who reside in Massachusetts, and registered in other States.

AUTO ACCIDENTS

Wednesday noon at 12.15 a car driven by Frank MacLennan of 143 Morse street, Watertown, was in collision with Louis Bianchi, 6, of 20 Maguire Court, Newtonville. The child received slight abrasions on the knees and nose. MacLennan reported to the police that the boy ran from behind another automobile into the side of his car.

Cars operated by Esther Erickson of 89 Carver road, Newton Highlands, and Mary Towne of 37 Locksley road, Newton Centre, collided at the corner of Lake avenue and Hyde st., Newton Highlands, on Monday at 12.30 p. m. Joseph A. Towne, Jr., 7, was slightly injured.

Joseph Field, 19, of Cincinnati, who is attending college in Cambridge, received severe lacerations of the head and face and body injuries when his car crashed into a pole on Wednesday night. The accident occurred on South avenue, Weston, near the bridge over the Charles River at Norumbega. The youth was taken to the Newton Hospital in the police ambulance.

Abel Brown, 69, of 99 Central street, Auburndale, was hit Saturday evening by a truck driven by Joseph Catanzaro of 1043 Washington street, West Newton. The aged man was riding a bicycle on Auburn street, near Grove street, when the truck coming from behind ran into him. Brown received a severe cut on his head and was taken to the Newton Hospital in the police ambulance. Catanzaro stated that he did not see Brown until he was almost on top of him. He reported that the truck was travelling about 25 miles an hour.

Nancy Coan, 15, of 19 Saxon road, Newton Highlands, received injuries to her left foot Monday afternoon when she was hit by an automobile driven by Charles Sahlin of Somerville. According to the report made by Sahlin to the police, he was driving the car out of the garage at 782 Beacon street, Newton Centre, and slowed down while he sounded the horn. The girl, riding her bicycle along the sidewalk, collided with the car. She was taken to the office of Dr. C. A. Thompson for treatment.

NEWTON GIRLS HONORED

New London, New Hampshire, Oct. 3.—Miss Catherine Thompson of Newton Highlands and Miss Florence Greene of Newton Centre, have just been elected to the Chapel Choir at Colby Junior College. This is one of the highest honors at Colby. Miss Thompson and Miss Greene are also in the Glee Club as are Miss Alice Thompson of the Highlands and Miss Edith Wheeler of Waban. Miss Adelaide Blodgett is in the Colby Chorus which is to sing the "Messiah" at Christmas with Boston University. We hope that with so many girls from Newton in the chorus that parents and friends will attend. The Glee Club will also have concerts with Dartmouth and Andover.

At a recent election, Miss Catherine Thompson was re-elected president of the Senior Class of Colby Junior College. Miss Thompson is from Newton Highlands and graduated from Newton High in 1929. Miss Marion Stratton, also from Newton Highlands, was elected vice-president of her class. Miss Alice Todd of New London and Miss Margaret Olmstead of East Hartford, Conn., were elected secretary and treasurer, respectively.

Last Saturday evening, Mrs. Edward MacDowell gave a lecture-recital at Colby. Her talk in which she related many incidents in the life of her husband, the late composer, proved most interesting. She played some of his best known works, "To a Water Lily," "To a Wild Rose," "To an Indian Lodge," "In the Forest," "In Deep Woods," "The Joy of Autumn" and "Will-o'-The-Wisp." We greatly appreciated the privilege of hearing about the "Peterborough Colony" from the one who has been instrumental in the organization.

"Bide-a-Wee"

Bide is an English word from the Anglo-Saxon "bidan." It has several meanings—one of which is to remain, abide, stay. The word "wee" is Scotch, meaning a little time or distance. The whole word "bide-a-wee" means "stay a little time" and is used to express hospitality, or galanama.

For those who do not play bridge there is the fascinating attraction of the huge bazaar to be held in the main ballroom. Each Club federated with the State is to have charge of a booth.

An added feature will be the provision for lunches to be held for various groups and parties in several parts of the hotel. The Grace Morrison Poole Luncheon will be a pleasing affair, with Mrs. Schrader presiding, and with noteworthy speakers. As tickets for this affair are necessarily limited, a check for $2.50 to Mrs. J. Arthur Cane, 1589 Beacon street, Brookline, will reserve a ticket.

A brilliant event of the day is the Pop Concert in the ballroom in the evening at 8 o'clock, again under the management of a Newton woman, Mrs. J. F. Capron, 523 Ward street, Newton. Tables will be arranged for seating four or more. Light refreshments will be served by Junior Club girls. Will Dodge and his twenty-piece orchestra, who is noted for his choice selection of delightful music, will furnish this entertainment, while James Houghton, Baritone; Miss Sabina and dancing groups from Lucile Perry Hall's pupils, will also entertain. Tickets to Pops are $1.00 each.

Among the interesting speakers of the evening, in further offering of program, will be Ex-Governor Channing H. Cox, Mr. Roger Keith, of Brockton, and Miss Emily Plumly, who will speak on "Three Ships A'Sailing," these being "Leadership, Friendship and Stewardship."

Management of the Bazaar is in the hands of Mrs. Carl L. Schrader, president; and of Mrs. E. Wilson Lincoln as general chairman. Mrs. Frank H. Stewart is chairman of the Card Party; Mrs. J. Arthur Cane, of the Lunch committee; Mrs. John F. Capron of the Pop Concert; Mrs. Walter H. Woods of the Bazaar Tables; Mrs. Charles L. Fuller of Publicity; Mrs. Ellis H. Spear, Jr., is secretary, and Mrs. Ross is treasurer.

Mrs. Woods in her requests for contributions for the booths has covered, it would seem, the entire category of human wants, which should spell success in inveigling the opening of pocket-books: food, preserves, needlework, bridge prizes, white elephants, grabs, and a score of similar articles.

Mrs. Schrader suggests that Clubwomen parade their colors by having some artistic member of the individual Club design a badge, or by having even a simple one self-designed, which should make for gaiety in introducing the Clubwoman from the Cape, the Berkshires, or the Wachusett district to those nearer Boston.

As this, strangely enough, is the twenty-fifth anniversary of Mrs. Poole's career as a Clubwoman, the hope is to make her Silver Jubilee memorable, piling up the proceeds to put her in the presidency of the General Federation. Every Clubwoman can do her part by patronizing in some manner this Bazaar, for the glory of Massachusetts in the Club world.

A FEW STATE TOPICS IN BRIEF. Mrs. Percy V. Pennypacker will be the club speaker at the AUTUMN MEETING in Marlborough on October 30, her subject being "Geneva, 1931." Mrs. Poole will speak on "South America, 1931." Mrs. Arthur Devens Potter will speak on "The General Federation." On the topic "Our City Federations," these being located in Boston, Springfield, Quincy, and Newton, Mrs. Samuel N. Braham, of Newton, will speak as president of the last-named Federation.

Activities in the former Division of Mothercraft and Child Welfare have so increased that it has become necessary to organize a separate division of Child Welfare. Of this Mrs. William S. Piper of Holden has been made chairman.

COMMUNITY SERVICE is advancing rapidly, with noteworthy strides. So diversified were its interests that it became "top-heavy" and to relieve this two new committees have been added—Motion Pictures and the Care of the Handicapped. The field in motion pictures is decidedly productive, since there is now hardly a community which does not have its motion picture house, and therefore needs the assistance of such a committee to insure constructive rather than destructive entertainment for the grown-ups as well as for children.

In service of the handicapped, the Clubwomen have always done much in assisting the blind and the hospitals for crippled children, by way of forming reading circles for the former and in selling articles made by them; and in assisting in many ways the crippled. Now this new committee will make a "survey," so that they may have information as to the wisest way they can assist the handicapped, whether blind, deaf, crippled, or otherwise afflicted, so giving to them the greatest joy and comfort.

In Community Service also, Mrs. Leon P. Dutch, State chairman, makes appeal that should meet with response, and be productive of constructive assistance immediately, before winter with its hardships descends in force. She states that "we are confronting a national crisis in unemployment, which will become severe in the fall and winter months, and relief of which must be both a community and a national service." It is suggested most urgently that as many people as possible assist by having a "clean-up, paint-up, and fix-up campaign," so fighting unemployment, and "enlisting in a war against poverty, distress, and starvation." The "fix-up" portion of the campaign has limitless possibilities of assistance for unemployed, be it in the exterior or interior of homes, with all manner of refurbishing and beautifying; or be it in the donning of warm, or lovely, raiment by the individual.

The first CLUB INSTITUTES program which has proven so popular in past seasons in assisting Clubwomen with ideas and advice, was held yesterday, October first, in the auditorium of the Boston Y. W. C. A., corner of Stuart and Clarendon streets, Boston, at 10.30 o'clock, being "An Experience Meeting." Mrs. Thomas J. Walker is continuing as chairman of this Division.

On Saturday morning, October 3, at 11.30 o'clock, the first RADIO program of the season, will be given over WBZ, at the Hotel Bradford. Mrs. Charles L. Fuller, of Brockton, is the new director of this Department, and she presents tomorrow Mrs. Fred L. Pigeon, chairman of Education of the General Federation, whose subject will be "Vocational Problems"; Mrs. E. W. Lincoln, General chairman of the Grace Morrison Poole Bazaar, who will tell of these plans; and Mrs. William S. Piper, chairman of the new Division of Child Welfare, who will speak on "Starting the School Child Right." The musical part of the program will be furnished by Miss Gladys Berry, cellist, accompanied by Miss Frances Adelman.

On Saturday morning, October 10, at the same hour, the Radio program will be the most opportune one on "Preparing the Garden for Winter," and all Club members who delight in their gardens will find much of value and interest in this talk by the State chairman of Conservation, Mrs. Robert Parmenter. Equally opportune and of informative appeal is the other speaker's topic, "Dressing Up the Home for Fall Evenings," by Mrs. Carolyn L. Dewing. Music will be furnished on this program also, by Mrs. Adell Phillips Holden, Lyric Soprano, of Ashland.

THE CHILDREN'S MUSEUM

"The Glow of Many Candles" is to be Saturday's motion picture shown at The Children's Museum of Boston at 3:00 o'clock. The film carries the onlooker back to the days before artificial illumination and shows how by various stages (from the first scraped flint through flares and torches and candles to incandescent searchlight) man came to turn night into day.

With the first of October the fiscal year at the Museum ends. In summing up the year at the Museum, Miss Mildred E. Manter, the Director, reveals the fact that depression or not the Museum will apparently play host to thousands of children every year, for in this significant year 143,000 children have visited the Museum. Nearly four thousand came in playground groups this summer. Hundreds have attended the regular weekly talks.

Mrs. Robert W. Sayles of Chestnut Hill, the Treasurer of the Museum, also calls attention to the financial status of the Museum at the close of the fiscal year. Although it meant borrowing $2,500 that will have to be repaid later the Museum took this method to close its books "even." The $22,000 yearly budget is raised almost entirely from gifts of voluntary contributors, the income from a very small endowment is added to these.

PARAMOUNT THEATRE, NEWTON

Eddie Dowling will be featured the first four days of the week, starting Sunday, October 4th, in "Honey-moon Lane." According to review critics, Mr. Dowling doubles the measure of success he attained in the "Rainbow Man" two years ago when he so suddenly leaped to fame. Dowling is a firm believer in the theory that carefully devised simplicity in any theatrical presentation is the most effective method of keeping audiences in a rosy glow of happiness, and he strictly adheres to this principle in the presentation of this rather difficult production abounding with material of a spicy, blood and thunder character. "Honey-moon Lane," which played a huge run to thousands of people in New York, has retained the charming ingredients of the original hit.

On the same program the celebrated comedians Laurel and Hardy will be seen in "Pardon Us." The last half of the week Claudette Colbert will be seen in "Secrets of a Secretary," a high class society drama. Constance Bennett will be seen on the same program in "The Common Law."

LASELL SEMINARY

Under the auspices of the Student Council, the "old girls" will entertain the new girls at a dance at Bragdon Hall on Saturday evening.

Rev. Herbert Hitchen, Pastor of the Unitarian Church of West Newton, will be the Vesper Speaker on Sunday, October 4, 1931.

SCHOOL NOTES

F. A. DAY JUNIOR HIGH

The F. A. Day Junior High School held its first assembly of the year on Wednesday, September 23. After the orchestra, conducted by Mr. Frank A. Tanner, had played a selection, Michael Plantadosi of the ninth grade read a psalm and led the school in prayer. He was followed by Calvin Cronan who led the flag salute, and by Aldridge Hunt who conducted the school song. After a few words by Joanne Clare concerning the Daytonian, the school paper, Harold Pratt read an article entitled "Voting Straight" in preparation for the election of Student Council members. The guest of honor, introduced by Loring Thompson, was ex-mayor Childs who gave a splendid talk about the opportunities of boys and girls in education. The program was brought to a close by another orchestra selection.

Miss Peoples of the Physical Education department at the F. A. Day Junior High School has organized a tournament of tennis singles for the girls, about thirty of whom have signed up and plan to start the matches this week.

The F. A. Day Junior High School has a total enrollment of 617. In Grade 9 there are 181; in grade 8, 223; and in grade 7, 213.

22 DAYS' TRIP TO EUROPE, $189

Proof of the greatly reduced cost of visiting Europe is offered in the tour which has been arranged by George E. Masters, Inc. of Boston and New York. This tour will leave New York on Wednesday, October 7 on the magnificent motorship "Lafayette" of the French Line. On October 15 the tourists will land at Plymouth, England, and October 16 and 17 will be spent touring London, with an optional excursion to the Shakespeare Country for those who so desire.

On the night of the 17th the English Channel will be crossed and the tourists will journey to Paris. Three days will be spent in this famous city and in addition to visits to the outstanding attractions of the great French capital, the tourists will have the wonderful opportunity of spending a day at the marvellous International Colonial Exposition which France is holding at Vincennes. There France has transplanted from its own colonies and those of other nations living cross sections of the whole world. Optional excursions can be taken to Lisleux and the battlefields.

On October 21 the tourists will leave Paris for Havre and on October 22nd the return sea voyage will begin. New York will be reached on October 29.

The tourists will travel third-class on the S. S. Lafayette, and will be agreeably surprised by the excellence of these accommodations on this ship and the quality of the meals served. Rail Travel in England will be third class, in France second-class and on the Channel steamers second-class. Hotel accommodations will be at good establishments of the moderate price class. The price for the tour includes transportation to New York from Boston and return by the Fall River Line. In addition to the $189 the tourists will pay $6 for a passport, $5 for U. S. A. revenue tax and $1.20 for the British and French visas. Reservations may be made through the Newton Steamship Agency, Postoffice Building, 11 Centre Avenue, Newton.

COOLING WITH ICE

The National Service Companies, controlling eight divisions with subsidiaries in the New England States, operating in one hundred and eighty cities and towns from Portland, Me., to New York, has selected Francis H. Williams of Newton, Treasurer and Director of the Purity-Crystal Ice Company, to act as Manager and Director of Sales and Promotion of their new units for cooling homes, hospitals, hotels, theatres, railroad cars, restaurants, etc., by the exclusive use of ice.

Homes, institutions, and business offices can now afford to use these little units, cooling for comfort with ice in summer at small expense, compared with the electric-chemical refrigerating machines. Mr. Williams' offices are now located at 150 Congress street, Boston, with C. D. Parker & Company, where these units are installed in Room 404 for demonstration and exhibition. They promise wonderful possibilities in a new field for the use of ice, which bids fair to assume large proportions throughout the country in space cooling for comfort and health in hot weather.

EGYPTIAN THEATRE, BRIGHTON

Constance Bennett will be the star at the Egyptian, for four days, starting Sunday, October 4th. In "Bought" you will see her at her best. On the same program Adolph Menjou and Irene Dunn will enact the story of "The Great Lover." During the last three days of the week, the double feature program will include Claudette Colbert and Herbert Marshall in "Secrets of a Secretary," and Lily Damita and Lester Vail in "The Woman Between."

The Egyptian maintains a large parking area in Academy Hill road to the right of the theatre. Watch for our anniversary week, starting October 18th.

LONGY SCHOOL OF MUSIC OPENS

The Longy School of Music of 44 Church street, Cambridge, opened its sixteenth season recently. Until last year the Longy School was located in Boston, where it was founded in 1915 by Georges Longy, famous musician and oboist of the Boston Symphony Orchestra. Mr. Longy's idea in founding the school was to give the American public the same kind of fundamental training as that given in the Paris Conservatory.

With enlarged quarters and an increased faculty, the school offers unusual opportunities for the music student. The weekly open-house evenings, which are free to the pub-

REAL ESTATE

An interesting transaction is reported by R. M. Patterson, Realtor, whereby James R. and Gertrude C.
Hodder, Trustees, of Framingham, become the owners of two properties in Newton. One parcel is at 38 Cabot street, and consists of 6764 sq. ft.
land, garage, and one family frame dwelling with a total assessed value of $9000 of which amount $1600 on the land. Also included is Academy road described as 6163 sq. ft. land, a garage, and a one family frame dwell-

POLICE NEWS

A car owned by Margaret Quinn of Bemis street, Watertown, which was being used by Joseph Marchand of Chestnut street, Waban, was stolen from the rear of Newton High School on Tuesday. It was found that night on Albemarle road, West Newton.
Phoebe Hoyle of Cliff road, Wellesley, was stopped on August 25th for speeding. The police have since been unable to serve a summons on the young lady because she became a bride and moved to California. So, a warrant was issued for the young woman's arrest on Wednesday; but it will hardly be served unless she returns to Wellesley.

In the Newton court on Wednesday
Fred Matteo, 17, of John street, Newton Centre, was fined $5 for driving the wrong direction on Jackson street, which is a one-way street. For speeding Mario Ciccarelli of Milford was fined $15; fines of $10 each for speeding were imposed on Chester Lomax,
Curve street, West Newton; Waldo
Kelly, Needham; Robert Wilson,
Crescent street, Waltham; Raymond Slavin, Natick.

The residence of Dr. Edward Mellus on Clemente road, Newton, was broken into yesterday morning, apparently shortly before 11 o'clock and about $40 stolen. Dr. and Mrs. Mellus departed from their home at 9 and returned at 11. They noticed a pane of glass in the side door broken and discovered that someone had been ransacking the house. In addition to the money, the burglar stole a wrist watch, the property of Mrs. Mellus.
Evidently the thief was in the house when Dr. and Mrs. Mellus returned and made a hasty escape, as the watch was found in a gutter on the roof of the veranda, where it had been dropped by the fleeing burglar.
He had taken a screen out of a second-story window to make his getaway from the house.

Anthony Lupo of 211 Watertown street, Nonantum, was arrested Monday night by Patrolman John E.
Green, charged with having liquor for sale. Green charges that he saw Lupo pass a small parcel, apparently a bottle of liquor to a man, who vamoosed. Green then searched Lupo's car and found a pint of alleged alcoholic liquor. Lupo appeared in the Newton court on Tuesday and his case was continued until October 5.

The home of Raymond Stuart, 39 Old Colony road, Chestnut Hill, was entered Wednesday, the thief forcing a window to get into the house. The burglar stole a handbag containing $60 in money and two platinum bracelets.

Peter Bazarian of Watertown, who conducts a shoe-repair shop on Summer street, Newton Centre, was placed on probation for 2 years and ordered to pay $25 for expenses by Judge
Gibbs in the Middlesex Superior court at Cambridge yesterday after pleading guilty to complaints of assault and battery on two Mason School children.
William E. Putnam, 3rd, of South avenue, Weston, was fined $10 in the Newton court on Monday for speeding. Through error, Putnam's father, William E. Putnam, 2nd, had been summoned into court, but the son explained the mistake.

Will Observe 100th Birthday Tuesday

Miss Fannie Fogg Is Native Born Resident of Newton

In an old-fashioned house at 79 Woodward street, Newton Highlands, just around the corner from Lincoln street, lives an old lady who on next Tuesday, October 13, will observe the 100th anniversary of her birth. Miss Fannie Fogg was born on October 13, 1831, on Winchester street, Oak Hill, the daughter of David Fogg and Elizabeth Dana Fogg. Her father was a native of New Hampshire, and her mother of Brighton. She attended a district school which was located on Eliot street, Newton Highlands, just north of where the bridge now carries the Circuit Branch of the Boston & Albany railroad over this street. Graduating from this school, Miss Fogg continued her studies at a select school in West Newton conducted by Miss Harriet Davis. She returned to the district school to teach there for a year and then entered the Bridge-water Normal School. Graduating from this institution, she became a teacher in the Newton public schools.

In 1865, after having taught school for 12 years, Miss Fogg contracted a severe cold. Upon the advice of friends she resigned her position in the school at Newton Centre, where she had taught for 5 years, and prepared to journey to her brother's home at Zanesville, Ohio, to regain her health. On the last day of her trip she was travelling on the Cleveland, Sandusky & Newark Railroad. The train was made up of freight cars and one passenger car. It stopped at Sandusky, Ohio, where the tracks of this railroad were crossed by the tracks of the Pittsburgh, Fort Wayne & Chicago Railroad. Trains on this railroad were supposed to come to a stop before making the crossover. But the engineer on an approaching train did not obey the order and his locomotive crashed into the car in which Miss Fogg was a passenger. She was critically injured and after being treated at Sandusky, was taken to her brother's home where she was confined to bed for 9 months. At the end of that time she returned to her home at Newton Highlands, lying in berths on Pullman cars. Her condition was still so serious that she was confined to bed for another year, and for several years following she was partially disabled.

Miss Fogg says: "Since that time I have had one sickness after another and one fall after another." She never was able afterwards to resume active work. For some years she was a contributor to the "Watchman-Recorder," which later became the "Watchman-Examiner."

Through all her misfortunes Miss Fogg has retained a sublime faith in God and has been a firm believer in the efficacy of prayer, and during 65 years has borne her trials with fortitude and maintained a cheerful disposition. In May, 1929, she fell and received a severe fracture. For nine weeks she was a patient at the Newton Hospital. Despite her advanced age, the fracture knit and she has since been able to walk with assistance. Her eyesight and hearing are impaired, but she retains her mental faculties to a remarkable degree. She not only remembers distinctly happenings of her younger days, but takes a keen interest in current

Nine Hurt In Auto Crash At Newtonville

At Corner of Harvard St. and Newtonville Ave. on Sunday

When two automobiles collided at the intersection of Newtonville avenue and Harvard street, Newtonville, on Sunday afternoon three persons were seriously injured and six persons slightly injured. A touring car operated by Thomas Ford, 16, of 31 Aldie street, Allston, travelling along Newtonville avenue collided with a sedan operated by Mrs. Alice Ganley of 165 Adams street, Newtonville. Mrs. Ganley's daughter, Barbara, 3, was hurled from the car and received a fractured skull. The child's grandmother, Mrs. Mary Boisclair, 62, of Dalby street, Norantum, received severe cuts on the face. Mrs. Ganley escaped with slight injuries. Stephen Clouthier, 25, of 219 Western avenue, Allston, had his pelvis fractured and John Casey, 31, of Smith avenue, Allston, received a probable fracture of the skull. Both were passengers in the car driven by Ford. Three other young men riding with Ford were slightly injured. The victims of the crash were taken to the Newton Hospital.

AUTOMOBILES COLLIDE ON AVENUE

About 11 o'clock Monday night three automobiles were involved in a collision on Commonwealth avenue near Harvard street, Newton Centre. A car driven by Edward Hughes of Englewood avenue, Brighton struck the rear of a sedan operated by Thomas Sheehan of Aspinwall avenue, Brookline. A motor car driven by Charles Hill of 76 Elmore street, Newton Centre crashed into the rear of the touring car driven by Hughes. The latter showed his license and registration to the other drivers, but was not on the scene when the police arrived. Sheehan and Julia Mullins of Brookline, who was riding with him, claimed to have received slight injuries. Pauline and Myrtle Fredenburg of Beacon street, Brookline, who were riding with Hill, also claimed to have received injuries.

An automobile registered in the name of Howard Miles, 96 Charles street, Waltham, collided on Monday night on River street at 11:30 with a car driven by Mrs. Etta Hovarty of 316 River street, West Newton. The person driving the Miles car did not stop and the Newton police are investigating the case.

ANOTHER CASE OF INFANTILE PARALYSIS

Herman Liebmam, 4, son of Mrs. Charles Liebmam of 2403 Oak road, Newton Centre, had been taken to the Beth Israel Hospital in Boston to be treated for infantile paralysis, according to a report received by the Newton Health Department on Tuesday.

DOG BITES WOMAN

Jean O'Connor of Crosby road, Newton Centre complained to the police last Friday that she had been bitten by a dog owned by Joseph O'Connell of 363 Waverley avenue, Newton. The dog was ordered restrained and Dr. Boutelle notified to examine it.

events and is quite accurate in her memory of dates. She joined the First Baptist Church at Newton Centre when she was 16 years of age, during the pastorate of Rev. Samuel F. Smith, D.D., author of "America." During the long years of her invalidism the members of this church have been faithfully helpful to her.

When Miss Fogg was 12 years of age she moved with her family to the house which since has been her home. At that time there was no house between the Fogg house and Boylston street; then the old Worcester turnpike. There was but one house between it and the site where the railroad station is located at Newton Highlands. Longevity was not characteristic of Miss Fogg's family. Her mother died in 1855, her father in 1859, and of her two brothers and four sisters the last passed on in 1875.

Aldermen Hold Many Hearings On Gas Pumps, New Streets, And Other Matters

Jurors Drawn For Superior Court Session and Several Appropriations Made for Street Work

Hearings on petitions before the Newton Board of Aldermen on Monday night included several from gasoline companies for permits to install additional tanks and pumps at their stations in this city. The Jenney Company is petitioning for one additional 1000-gallon tank and an additional pump at its stations located at 2322 Washington street, Lower Falls; Boylston and Woodward street, Newton Highlands; Beacon and Walnut streets, Newton Highlands. No one appeared to oppose these petitions.

The Texas Company is petitioning for an additional 1000-gallon tank and a pump at stations located at 58 Crafts street, Newtonville; 739 Beacon street, Newton Centre; 1174 Beacon street, Newton Highlands; 1295 Boylston street, Newton Upper Falls; 9 Needham street, Newton Highlands; 1151 Walnut street, Newton Highlands; 1974 Washington street, Woodland; 899 Washington street, Newtonville.

Loring B. Hall of Shorncliffe road, Newton, representing the Texas Company, informed the Aldermen that the additional tanks and pumps are necessary because this company is desirous of selling a third grade of gasoline in order to meet competition. Gilbert Carter of 162 Lowell avenue, Newtonville, opposed the petition. He stated he cannot understand why there is not more opposition to the granting of so many permits for gasoline stations in this city. He said that persons residing near filling stations are annoyed by the noise of cars entering and leaving, the noise of the air pumps and the odor of the gasoline. He asserted that the glare of the lights from the stations allows privacy to persons in sleeping rooms nearby. He suggested that the gasoline companies treat their products so that more agreeable odors will be wafted from filling stations.

Michael Norton of Regent street, West Newton, objected to more tanks being allowed at the station at 899 Washington street because of the noise of the pumps and the odor of the gasoline. He also objected to the station at 9 Washington terrace object on the same grounds as stated by Mr. Carter.

Other petitions dealing with gasoline stations on which hearings were announced were the following: Frank Fisher for a permit to conduct a station at 296 California street, Newtonville, with three tanks and three pumps and a storage capacity of 3000 gallons; Metropolitan Gas Company for a permit to conduct a station at 63 Norwood avenue, Newton Centre. A 1000-gallon tank and pump are already located at this location. An owner of adjoining property voiced an objection to this petition. No opposition developed to the petition of Frank K. Clark for a permit to conduct a 15-car public garage at 26 Kempton place, West Newton.

No persons appeared to protest against the following petitions of the Edison and Telephone Companies for pole locations: Commonwealth avenue, Ward 6, at a point approximately 150 feet east of Centre street, one pole, Kewadin road, Ward 5, at a point approximately 30 feet east of Devon road, one pole.

Edison Electric Illuminating Co. of Boston and New England Telephone and Telegraph Co. of Massachusetts, joint pole locations: Southwick road, Ward 5, at a point approximately 260 feet east of Collins road, one pole, Winslow road, Ward 5, approximately 105 feet northeast of Selden street, one pole, Edison Company, pole location, pole originally set in a private way which is now a public street; Brewster road, Ward 5, approximately 20 feet northeast of Mayflower terrace, one pole.

Edison and Telephone Companies, joint pole locations, poles originally set in private ways, but now on public streets: Tamworth road, Ward 5, between Fenwick road and Chestnut street, nine poles, Mayflower terrace, Ward 5, westerly from Brewster road, three poles, Cambria road, Ward 3, between Falmouth road and the Newton-Waltham line, three poles.

There was no opposition to the petitions of the Saco-Loewell Shops for a permit to erect a 1-car garage at 47 Butts street, Upper Falls, and Edward Hines for a permit to conduct a repair shop at the rear of 63 Lexington street, West Newton.

George H. Tracy of 264 Lowell avenue favored the grading and accepting of Otis place. W. F. Moulton of 23 Otis place objected to this betterment if the work would extend to the end of Otis place instead of stopping at his driveway. Mr. Tracy explained that he and Mr. Moulton had beautified a small plot of land at the end of Otis place with shrubs and flowers and Mr. Moulton does not desire this plot removed. He suggested that the street might be improved so that this plot will not be removed. City Engineer Morse said that such a plan is practicable.

John E. Peakes and eight other residents of Plymouth road, Newton Highlands, were present to favor the improving and acceptance of this street. Mr. Peakes stated that 17 property owners on the street want this betterment. Edmund Ogden of Perkins street, West Newton, favored the widening of Brookline street, Oak Hill, near the Brookline line. He said he represented a property owner on Brookline street and called attention to the fact that the Town of Brookline has widened and improved the continuation of this street in its territory.

Six jurors were drawn to serve at criminal sessions of the Middlesex Superior Court in Cambridge next month. The names selected at random from the jury list were those of Leslie M. Flint, 55 Highland avenue; Leo Drennan, 50 Rowe street; Thomas G. Brown, 248 Tremont street; Oswald Whitney, 23 Newell road; William H. McDonald, 169 Washington street; Raymond Goodall, 26 Jefferson street.

Hearings were officially called on grading and accepting the following streets under the Betterment Act: Arden road, Ward 2, from Lowell avenue to Oak Cliff road; Otis place, Ward 2, from Otis street northerly to end; Ryfield road, Ward 5, from accepted portion to Gordon road; Burnside road, Ward 5, from Wood End road northerly; Kingston road, Ward 5, from Mountfort to Cochituate Aqueduct; Mountfort road, Ward 5, from north of Lincoln street to Wood End road; Wood End road, Ward 5, from Mountfort to Cochituate Aqueduct; Mountfort road, Ward 5, from Plymouth road to Plymouth road; Plymouth road, Ward 5, from Kingston road to George street; Sagamore road, Ward 5, from Plymouth road to Vaughan avenue; Clements road, Ward 6, from Cotton street to Waverley avenue; Greenlaw avenue, Ward 6, from end of accepted portion to Park lane.

Alderman Hawkins for the Licenses Committee recommended granting the petitions of Eleanor Saltostall for a permit to keep 250 gallons of gasoline at 256 Chestnut Hill road; Charles Seavey, 1896 Washington street, an auctioneer's license; Eugene Gasbarri, common victualer license at 34 Jackson street, Thompsonville; Mary Dignin changing a 1-car garage to a 2-car garage at 69 Auburndale avenue, West Newton. The Licenses Committee reported adversely on the petitions of Melcon Samuella for a 3rd class liquor license at 11 Commonwealth avenue, Chestnut Hill; John Frazier, one 2nd class taxi permit at 304 California street; Stiles Haines, permit to erect a 3-car garage at 42 Ripley street, Newton Centre. The committee also recommended leave to withdraw the petition of Antonio Kulizza for a lodging house license at 25 Mechanic street, Upper Falls. The recommendations of the committee were approved by the Board. The garage permit to Haines was refused because he already has a 2-car garage at his property. The liquor license was refused Samuella because this petition did not receive the approval of Police Chief Hughes.

An order was passed designating Tuesday, December 8, as the date of the City Election. A communication was received from Mayor Weeks reappointing Dr. Fred M. Lowe as City Physician for a term of one year.

Appropriations passed by the Board included $17,842 for improving Day street, Bertrand, Leslie and Holman roads; $20,357 for improving Burnside, Mountfort and Wood End roads at Newton Highlands, Greenlaw avenue at Newton Centre and Clements avenue at Newton; $565 for new water mains; $377.81 for work on the new Water Department building; $100 for the elimination of the Street Department; $800 for office expenses of the Mayor's Relief Committee from October 1 to December 31; $1065 for a drain in Derby street; $5852 for a sewer in Beverly street; Newton Highlands; $6407 for a drain in Terrace avenue, Newton Highlands; $5000 for the elimination of dead ends on water mains. This latter work is part of a project contemplated by the Water Department to eliminate the objectionable features which characterize the water supplied to houses in this city which are located on streets with dead end mains.

On the supplementary typewritten docket furnished the Aldermen at the meeting on Monday night was an item under communications which read: "Trustees of the Horace Converse Industrial Fund recommending 4 different investments from said fund, on applications for loans." The Aldermen were asked to pass an order approving these recommendations after the Finance Committee had received information about them. Alderman Powers asked for some information regarding these applications. He was informed that a "gentlemen's agreement" had been made that no publicity would be given regarding the applications for loans on real estate from the Converse Fund, but that he might peruse the applications if he so desired. The Ward 1 Alderman replied that he knew of no gentlemen's agreement and that he certainly would not vote to approve applications concerning which he had no knowledge. He said that 14 members of the Board were being asked to approve applications regarding which they knew nothing and that while he did not wish to embarrass applicants by giving unnecessary publicity to their applications for loans, it would have been a simple matter to have had a meeting of the Aldermen as a Committee of the Whole, or to have given the members of the Board some information regarding the properties on which the land are to be made and those applying for them. He stated that the provisions of the ordinance governing the Converse Industrial Fund specified that such action should be taken and that the ordinance should be complied with. He asked that the matter be referred back for further consideration. Alderman Ball said that in his belief the Aldermen should have nothing to do with the Converse Fund. Alderman Powers replied that this matter had been determined otherwise by the Aldermen when the ordinance was passed.

Alderman Ball said that the Finance Committee believed that the loaning of money from the Converse Fund on

Newton Men Going "Back To Boyhood"

One Hundred To Take Boy Scout Course

The largest Boy Scout Training course ever held in New England, which is planned to bring 100 prominent public men of Newton "Back To Boyhood," will be inaugurated next week, beginning October 14, under the direction of O. A. Kitterman, Scout Executive of the Boston Council, and L. A. Bruce, Jr., of Norumbega Council of Newton.

Mayor Sinclair Weeks was first to enroll for the course which will take eight weeks. Sessions will be held in the new John Wingate Weeks Junior High School in Newton Centre and the training, like that given to regular boy scout classes, will also include two week-end hikes and one over-night expedition at the Scout reservation at Nobscot.

The Council's Leadership and Training Committee, composed of Scout Commissioners G. D. Marcy and F. W. Gilcreas, and the directors of the event have completed plans for the course so that it will include features of unusual interest to men already connected with Boy Scout work as well as those in no way acquainted with it. There will be a co-operating committee, assisting the course directors, comprising Maynard Hutchinson, President of Norumbega Council, Henry A. Wentworth, a vice-president, John M. Bierer, Treasurer, and A. Leslie Harwood, Jr., of the Executive Board.

Class members, including bankers and business men, teachers and tradesmen, public officials and other prominent citizens will be formed at once into a troop of ten patrols, similar to the organization of a regular troop of Boy Scouts. They will study tenet, second and first class requirements. The end of the course comes December 9th.

RECEPTION TO DEAN ROGERS

On Wednesday evening at the University Club, the administration officers and faculty of Boston University, tendered a reception and dinner to Dean and Mrs. Frederick Rand Rogers, this being the first affair in his honor since Dean Rogers joined the staff of the university on September first. Dean Rogers, who resides on Haverhill Circle, Newton, was formerly supervisor of physical education for the State of New York, before he began his duties as dean of student health and physical education at Boston University.

ALDERMEN WILL SEEK RE-ELECTION

Of the 14 members of the Board of Aldermen whose terms expire this year, the majority will be candidates for re-election. In Ward 1 Alderman Albert D. Howlett who is serving his first term as alderman-at-large will be a candidate. In Ward 2 George W. Grebenstein will seek another term as alderman-at-large. Ward Alderman Fred W. Woodcock of this district has not yet announced whether or not he will run again.

In Ward 4 John H. Gordon will again be a candidate for alderman-at-large and Silvanus Smith for Ward Alderman. In Ward 5 John Temperley will be a candidate for re-election as Alderman-at-large and James R. Chandler will probably run again for Ward Alderman. In Ward 6 Norman F. Pratt will be a candidate for the office of Alderman-at-large. Ward Alderman Sidney B. Holden has made no announcement as yet. In Ward 7 Joseph J. Murray, Alderman-at-large, and Frederick A. Hawkins, Ward Alderman, will both run for another term.

Weeks Candidate For Re-Election As Mayor

Mayor Weeks announced his candidacy for re-election on Wednesday of this week. As yet no opposition has developed and it is possible that he will be unopposed for a second term. He also stated that "During the past two years, in collaboration with the other branches of our city government, I have been privileged to inaugurate and in some cases to carry through to completion a number of projects calculated to inure to the benefit of our city as a whole. Some of these projects are not yet completed. Some of the improvements in the operation of our city government which I have been anxious to help bring about are, as yet, in the 'process' stage. As a result I find myself anxious to finish a job which I frankly consider only partly accomplished." The annual city election this year will be on December 8th.

Charged With Hit And Run Driving

Bus Operator Tells Police Auto Driver Responsible

William P. Baker of 29 Eddy street, Waltham, a bus driver for the Middlesex & Boston Co., was in Newton Court last Friday charged with going away from the scene of an accident after hitting a person without making himself known. On the night of September 21st Roland Ayer, 64, of Orange street, Waltham, while waiting for a bus on Craft street, Newtonville, near Albarne road, was struck by some motor vehicle and seriously injured. He has since been in the Waltham Hospital. Gertrude Drennan of 11 Omar terrace, Newtonville, who was riding on the bus driven by Baker, told the police that she saw the form of a person hurtling through the air and landing alongside the road as the bus passed. She called to Baker and he stopped the bus and Ayer was found injured on the street. Baker told the police that he saw an automobile which was ahead of his bus hit the man and then sped away. His case was continued until December 7, when it is expected that Ayer will be able to be present.

THE WEEK IN NEWTON SPORTS

NEWTON OPENS LEAGUE WITH LOP-SIDED WIN

Newton High opened the 1931 Suburban league season with a 28-0 lopsided victory over the Cambridge Latin eleven at the Dickinson stadium last Saturday. Most of the first half the visitors withstood repeated local attacks, but following the first score midway of the second period, wilted. In the third period the orange and black staged a march of more than half the length of the field for its second tally, which tucked the game away for a certainty. Near the close of the period the locals were in a position to score again and on the third play of the final session the third tally was chalked up. Two spectacular runbacks of Cantab punts and a quick pass to the end of Newton brought the final tally.

Shortly after the game began Mullen put Newton into Cambridge territory by a 30-yard runback of a punt, but incomplete forward passes gave Cambridge the ball on downs after the first play. Another kick the period ended with Duane intercepting a pass near midfield. Early in the second period Newton threatened again with a pass to Blackler, netting 28 yards for a first down on the Cambridge 25-yard stripe but again incomplete passes stopped the attack. Another exchange of kicks put Newton on the Cantab 40 and this time a Huston to Blackler pass for 26 yards made it a first down in the shadow of the goal. The four Newton backs made it first down again on the one-yard line and Duane crashed over. Huston's try at the goal missed but offside play gave him another chance and he made good.

The second tally was developed when Mullen ran back a short Cantab punt to the visitor's 32-yard line. Two plays later Huston was unmoored on a 24-yard jaunt through tackle for the touchdown. His mates opened up a nice hole and his interference cleaned out perfectly for him. He also kicked the goal.

A march beginning from the Newton 40 was staged in the closing minutes of the third period with four first downs bringing the ball to the eight yard line. A 17-yard gain on a double criss-cross to Mullen was the chief feature of this advance. Three plays after the opening of the final period Blackler crashed over, Huston again kicking the point.

The final score was Mullen's contribution, each of the Newton backs taking their turn. Mullen ran back a Cambridge punt 58 yards to the 12-yard line and was stopped from behind because of being forced to slow up to dodge the Cantab safety man. Cambridge immediately kicked again and this time Mullen was not to be denied. Taking the ball on his 25-yard line he trickled through to the goal line. In his wake five visiting players were flat on their backs as Mullen's mates cut them down out of the play. Huston's fourth attempt at goal was perfect.

Although Cambridge Latin out weighed Newton a small squad of twenty-two players were cut down by Coach Sanborn's outfit. The Newton line had a hard and fast charge that more than offset the difference in weight. Repeatedly the Newton line opened up holes to enable their backs to make important gains, while on the defense the Cambridge players were cut down. Newton's "Dinny" Nally will open with the Shamrocks. S. Leo Hughes will be in charge of the game at Upper Falls. John "Buck" Donahue will officiate at West Newton and Carl Penny will handle the Boyd A. A. Shamrock clash.

The schedule for the next four weeks follows:

October 11—Boyd A. A. vs. Shamrocks at Boyd. Webster A. C. vs. Nonantum A. A. at West Newton. Upper Falls vs. Newton Cubs at Upper Falls.

October 18—Nonantum A. A. vs. Boyd A. A. at Cabot. Newton Cubs vs. Webster A. C. at Boyd. Shamrocks vs. Upper Falls at West Newton.

October 25—Boyd A. A. vs. Newton Cubs at Boyd. Webster A. C. vs. Shamrocks at West Newton. Upper Falls vs. Nonantum A. A. at Upper Falls.

November 1—Nonantum A. A. vs. Newton Cubs at Cabot. Shamrocks vs. Boyd A. A. at West Newton. Upper Falls vs. Webster A. C. at Upper Falls.

MID CLEATS AND PADS

Newton stands at the top in relation to its 1931 opponents—the result of its 28 to 0 sweeping of Cambridge Latin—a total of 173 yards in penalties marked the scoreless Everett-Salem battle—95 yards against the Witch City outfit—they were mostly for backs starting before the half—and not for hard feeling team.

The Granite City eleven from Quincy lost its second straight—the New Bedford High team pounding out a 32 to 6 win—this was the only game among Newton's opponents where the loser scored—the Leary-coached eleven gamely fought Charlie Dickerman's Somerville outfit to win 6-0—the Watch City outfit had to capitalize on an aerial attack and Somerville fumbles to gain the edge—the previously undefeated and unscathed upon Woburn outfit lost to Lawrence High's expense 13 to 0—the Wealthy Towners from Brookline made it an even break in two games by taking St. Marks, 12 to 0—and Arlington struck a winning stride in tumbling Lexington 15 to 0—it was the first time that Arlington was in its own class this season—the holiday week-end offers some good attractions—the foremost is naturally the Newton-Everett battle at Dickinson Stadium tomorrow—other games tomorrow are two good for Woburn and Woburn at Wakefield—the Watch City outfit should take its third straight by a small margin—the Rhode Island team is said to have a hefty outfit but Waltham's smart Wakefield is too good for Woburn by about two touchdowns—on the holiday the leading attractions are Brookline at Brockton and Somerville at Medford—in either one guess is as good as another with perhaps one touchdown the victor's margin—the two Cambridge outfits will battle for the city championship—incidentally Rindge should take this Suburban league game by at least two touchdowns—Quincy tackles Weymouth and should win comfortably.

First Period

Powers, Cambridge Latin left end, kicked off to open the Suburban league season. Duane gathered it on his 20-yard stripe and ran it back 13 yards. Huston picked up a yard at left tackle and then kicked to the Cambridge 37 yard line where Marr, Newton left end, downed the ball. After one line play Hopkins, Cambridge quarterback, kicked to Mullen on the Newton 35 and the Newton quarter-back ran it back 6 yards. Blackler and Mullen picked up three yards in two plays through the Cambridge left-tackle and Huston kicked to the 25-yard line. Hopkins ran it back 8 yards. Blackler nailed Carlichia on a yard loss and three Newton linemen tossed Captain LaRonde for another. Hopkins' punt was run back 30-yards by Mullen and Newton was in Cambridge territory on the 30-yard line. Huston carried outside. Duane made five yards behind his left tackle. Huston tried two passes, one to Blackler and one to Duane but neither was

NEWTON FACES ITS FIRST REAL GRID TEST OF SEASON

When Newton High and Everett High line-up tomorrow afternoon before the Dickinson Stadium at Newtonville a real schoolboy football battle will be in the making. Each will be playing its third game of the season and neither has yet been scored upon. Newton has piled up a total of 55 points in its two games to keep its slate clean while Everett has scored 27 points, all coming in its opener against Providence Commercial two weeks ago with last Saturday's tilt with Salem resulting in a scoreless tie.

In its first two games the new edition of the orange and black has shown potential scoring power with its largely veteran first-string line-up. Its reserves have had but little opportunity to show their worth. Defensively the local contingent is untied. Neither of the opponents already met had the power to put the Newton team on the defensive deep in its own territory. Everett failed to score against Salem largely because of frequent penalties for having a back in motion before the ball was passed. The Gildea coached outfit also repulsed the Salem attack in its own territory. Thus the big question of tomorrow's contest hinges upon Newton's ability to rise to the occasion under fire.

For almost a decade local elevens have been predominantly strong offensively and substantially weak defensively. Comparatively few games have been won by large scores since the days of Jake Stafford and other such luminaries. While the two games already tucked away are encouraging from an offensive angle it cannot be taken as an indication of what may take place in coming games with stronger opponents. A torrid battle is in store for schoolboy grid fans tomorrow and if Coach Sanborn's outfit can come through future opponents may well look for trouble.

It is reported that Coach Gildea of Everett has two elevens of nearly equal ability and if true may have greater reserve strength than the orange and black. The difference between the reserve material offered by both outfits may well mean the difference in the scores at the end of the game. The team that can produce the initial score will have a decided advantage as a low-score game is looked for.

Although comparative scores can seldom be used as an indication of the strength of two teams about to meet some interesting facts may be revealed. Two weeks ago Salem defeated Cambridge Latin, 18 to 0, and last week Newton triumphed 28 to 0. Newton thus may be said to be 10 points better than Salem. Salem and Everett played a scoreless game so that Newton would also be 10 points better than Everett. But, undoubtedly, Salem may well have softened Everett last week to aid the local cause tomorrow.

Incidentally Newton and Everett are meeting on a Saturday instead of Columbus Day for the first time in years and it also is the first time in years that it is not a Suburban league contest as Everett withdrew from the league at the end of the 1930 season.

NEWTON HARRIERS OPEN WITH VICTORY

The Newton High Cross-country team opened its season yesterday with a victory over the Stoneham High harriers, 16 to 39. The Newton youths are being coached by Donald Enoch, head coach of track athletics. In opening the season successfully the orange and black was led by Tom Connolly, newly discovered sophomore star who shows promise of developing into a stellar track man at Newton to carry on the high standing set by such distance runners as Tom Clausen, Jimmie McCrudden, Charlie Hall, George Lamb and others.

Yesterday's event was held over a 2 1/2 mile course at Newton with Connolly winning in 13m. 30s. Local youths captured the first four places and sixth place to clinch the victory. The order of the finishers:

1, Tom Connolly (N); 2, Tom Fitzawild (N); 3, Roger Maynard (N); 4, Angell Ridgway (N); 5, Lovering street, John Brine (N); 7, Hayes (S); 8, Thompson (S); 9, Stinson (S); 10, Douglas Wilson (N); 11, Wm. James (N); 12, Francis Meehan (N); 13, Franklin Rich (N); 14, McKenna (S); 15, Perkins (S).

Newton will compete in the annual interscholastic cross-country race staged by Harvard University on Nov. 14th. Meanwhile Coach Enoch is preparing his team to defend the title won last year at this meet with other dual races. Tentative arrangements have been made with Quincy to race at Newton Saturday, Oct. 17, while a week later Arlington will come to Newton. The Newton course begins at the High School. The runners take Lowell avenue to Hull street and following Hull street cross Walnut street to Mill street. Leaving Mill street at Cabot Woods the course follows Blake street to Cabot. Returning to the school by way of Cabot, Gay and Clyde streets the course ends with a lap around the new school track.

SPORT NOTES

Local Youths Active

Local youths were active on various college gridirons last week although none were outstandingly spectacular. Among those who formerly wore the orange and black of the high school were Bennett, Dartmouth halfback, Pescosolido, Harvard halfback, Harrington, B. U. guard, Gatchell, Bowdoin quarterback, Haggood, Brown tackle, while L. C. Brown and Wentworth, local youths who never played for Newton High cavorted in the Brown and Dartmouth lines.

Harrington a Casualty

Dan Harrington of the B. U. varsity was the only casualty on the Pioneer squad in its game with New Hampshire last Saturday which the Wildcats won, 6 to 0. Harrington received a shoulder injury that kept him from hard work this week but he will be ready to face George Washington University tomorrow. He has been taking part in signal drill this week.

Powers Back in Shape

Langdon Powers, sensational sophomore at Dartmouth, has returned to the Dartmouth squad after an attack of grippe. He got back before last Saturday's game with Buffalo but did not get into the game. He may get his chance in tomorrow's conflict with Holy Cross. In scrimmage Monday he intercepted a pass to race 40 yards for the tying touchdown to close the session. Early in the scrimmage the Grays scored first by intercepting a pass tossed by Bob Bennett, former Newton high star. In Tuesday's 26-0 session with the freshmen a Powers' pass scored the final varsity tally.

ABOUT TOWN

By Edw. H. Powers

Some parents who want the city not only to educate their children, but also to carry them to and from school, are among those who complain because taxes are so high.

It is funny to listen to the pleas of big business men for people to bring back prosperity by spending more, and then see wealthy corporations start the trend towards lower wages for those who are working.

At the corner of Harvard street and Newtonville avenue, Newtonville, where a serious automobile accident occurred last Sunday afternoon, is a hedge. Which calls attention to the fact that sooner or later hedges at street corners must be restricted.

LOGGES

THE PRESIDENT'S FIRST MESSAGE ON PHARMACY WEEK

The White House, Washington, October 3, 1930.

On the development of drugs and their uses depends to a considerable degree the health and the welfare of the people of the world. Daily our laboratories are engaged in the pursuit of new knowledge which will make constantly more effective the unending combat against illness and disease. The pharmacists of our country are indispensable allies of the physicians. It is fitting, therefore, that each year we should formally acknowledge our indebtedness to them. I am glad to extend to the pharmacists of the nation the good wishes of all our people.

HERBERT HOOVER.

Spain on Green Fall Team

Frank Spain, former Newton and Exeter star athlete, played shortstop on the Dartmouth varsity baseball team that opened its fall season yesterday with an 8 to 2 victory over the N. H. Giants.

TO CELEBRATE 150TH ANNIVERSARY

On October 21st the Second Church in West Newton will celebrate its founding one hundred and fifty years ago this date. The church does not contemplate any elaborate memorial program. At this time, as in former years, at the annual reception, the members of the church will meet to greet one another at the beginning of the year's work. However, a special committee is arranging a special feature for the reception which will mark the meeting as one of especial significance.

The formal service of celebration will be held on the evening of October 25 at 7:30 o'clock. Doctor John Edgar Park, president of Wheaton College, will be the speaker of the evening. Many distinguished guests are expected to attend the service as well as the churches which have been interested in the organization. A cordial invitation is extended by the society to the public to attend these two occasions.

UNEMPLOYMENT RELIEF ACTIVITY

The Unemployment Relief Committee has started to function again practically along the same lines as used last year. Harold F. Young is in charge of the office at West Newton and he is being assisted by Mrs. Ruth Kite of the Newton Welfare Bureau and a clerk at the office. Postcards are being mailed to residents of this city asking their co-operation in providing work for the unemployed.

BROKEN PIPE CAUSES DAMAGE

Early Saturday morning Patrolmen Marden and Cummings discovered water leaking from the Economy grocery store at 249 Washington street, Newton. Investigating, they found that a pipe had broken in the dental office of Dr. Edward Fall on the second floor of the Nonantum Building, above the grocery store. Dr. Fall and William McKenna, manager of the store were notified. Some damage was done to the contents of the store.

THE CHILDREN'S MUSEUM

A Columbus program has been planned as appropriate for the weekend talks to be given at The Children's Museum of Boston Saturday, Sunday and the holiday itself "Columbus" will be the topic of a talk at 3:00 Saturday and the life of the discoverer will be portrayed in beautiful colored slides shown by the lecturer.

Caribbean countries to which Columbus sailed will be shown in motion picture Sunday at 3:30 and again on the holiday at the same hour. The Museum is open all day on the holiday as is the custom.

Clubs are opening and fliers announcing them list the following: Bird Club, Aquarium Club, Stamp Club, Indian Lore Club, "Book Trails" Club and Clipping Club. The Bird Club has unlimited membership and the other clubs have only a few age limitations or special requirements. Boys and girls interested may receive the flier of announcement by requesting it from Miss Mildred Seymour, Museum Club Leader.

ROTARY CLUB

Superintendent of Schools Ulysses G. Wheeler was the guest speaker at the regular meeting of the Newton Rotary Club at the Woodland Golf Club on Monday. He was introduced by Edwin O. Childs as outstanding in his profession and that in 18 years as head of the Newton school department he has yet to make his first political nomination for a teacher in the local schools.

Mr. Wheeler stated that "the teacher is the soul of any school system" and that regardless of modern buildings and excellent equipment no system can be a "superior" system without "superior" teachers. During his administration of the local schools Mr. Wheeler has endeavored to set up an ideal system and has chosen teachers who are rated as "superior" teachers. No teacher is appointed because he or she is or is not a Newton resident. The Newton school superintendent further stated that his department was always glad to appoint Newton citizens to the school faculty whenever possible, and provided they measured up to the required standard. (No Newton teacher has ever been refused a local appointment.)

He also commented on the growth of the Newton school system with ten new buildings having been erected in the past ten years. During this time the average yearly increase has been slightly over 400 pupils and this year is about five hundred.

The Newton schools are known all over the world and visitors from all parts of the world have come here.

Mr. Wheeler intimated that the high rating given to the Newton schools as proven by its graduates' collegiate standing was largely dependent upon the teaching force in the local schools.

BUSINESS MEN MEET

The October meeting of the Newton Business Associates composed of merchants at Newton Corner was held at the Hunnewell Club on last Monday evening. Among the matters discussed were the closing of the stores on Armistice Day, Wednesday, November 11th. A vote, almost unanimous, was taken in favor of such closing.

The principal speaker of the evening was Mr. Leonard Martin, formerly a member of ex-Gov. Fuller's secretarial staff. Mr. Martin has traveled extensively and gave an interesting talk on Russia and other Asiatic and Oriental countries. He had pictures of all except Japan where making films is prohibited except under governmental supervision. He told of the lack of water in Russia and of how a family of seventeen get along with but five gallons of water daily. Much cholera and typhoid result and the clothes of the latter victims, too valuable to destroy, are worn by others.

Mr. Martin told of traveling 4300 miles inland on a box car which he had fitted up with a store in one end. He saw four rivers like our Mississippi and the Amazon and a large forest 3000 miles long and 1500 miles wide.

He told of trading two pound packages of sugar for braces of pheasant and of how he could buy most anything for sugar and cigarettes. He told also of the extensive natural resources that abound in Russia, as well as of conditions in Japan and China.

Music during the evening was furnished through the courtesy of the Newton Conservatory of Music and Dramatic Arts.

NORUMBEGA CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR UNION

Rev. Stanley B. Vandersall, Superintendent of the Department of Christian Vocations, International Society of Christian Endeavor, has been procured as principal speaker for a meeting of Norumbega Christian Endeavor Union next Tuesday evening, October 13, with the young people of the Faneuil Congregational Church as hosts.

Headed by President Frank Clarke, treasurer, the Faneuil Congregational Endeavorers have planned an interesting meeting to be opened at 6:30 o'clock with the serving of a supper.

Preceding the evening business and literary program with Dr. Vandersall's address on "Citizenship and Youth" a triplet schedule of conferences will be opened by President Clarke. Rev. John Shade Franklin, Walter Pingree, and Miss Betty Brittingham of B. U. are to lead the conferences.

A music program will lend added interest to the Tuesday meeting, first Norumbega Union supper session for which the Faneuil young people have been hosts.

Mayor Weeks' desire to continue in office until some important matters shall have been completed, is most natural and we believe the voters will grant his request. In this connection it may be of interest to remember that when the present two year term of Mayor was being considered during the mayoralty of Mayor Weeks' father, the Hon. John W. Weeks, in 1902, Mr. Weeks made a strenuous effort to include in the legislation a clause prohibiting more than two years by the same incumbent. That clause was not approved but Mr. Weeks and former Mayors Weed, Warren and Hutchinson limited themselves to two years each. Mayor Hatfield liked the office so well that he ran for re-election and served four years, thus opening the door for Mayor Childs to serve sixteen years.

Greater caution should be exercised by boys and girls riding bicycles on our busy streets. We have recently witnessed near accidents of this class that warrants this suggestion.

While the order restraining dogs from running at large has expired, we believe that many persons would be more than pleased to put a permanent restraining order on the huge police dogs, of which there are far too many in this residential city.

ABOUT TOWN

By Edw. H. Powers

If you notice pipes projecting from the edge of the sidewalk at intervals along Washington street, between West Newton and Newton, said pipes being about 7 feet high and topped with a hood, you may be curious to know why these pipes have been erected. They are air-vents for the huge water main which has been laid under Washington street. They are connected by 6 inch pipes to valves above the big main. Should the flow of water in the main cease, and the big pipe become empty, or a near vacuum created in it, despite its great size and thickness, it would quickly collapse. Hence the placing of the air vents opposite high spots along the water main. One was installed on Monday in front of City Hall at West Newton, and about 5 will be placed between West Newton and Newtonville.

Talking about the big water-main. Some trench had to be dug in which to lay the 60 inch pipes. The digging of this trench and the filling of it provide an object lesson as to why so many men are out of employment. Huge power shovels excavated the trench. And instead of scores of laborers working with hand shovels to fill it, one big tractor pushing a plow attachment shoves the earth back in to the trench, cubic yards at a time.

Wilfred Chagnon, proprietor of Hubbard's Pharmacy, returned Tuesday from Detroit where he had been attending a business convention. He reports having heard many compliments paid Newton Post, American Legion, for the fine impression they made while at the recent convention of the Legion in Detroit.

The following letter was received by us on Wednesday:
Newtonville, Mass.
October 4, 1931.

"My dear Mr. Powers,
Like many other residents of Newtonville, I cannot understand why the city does not use traffic lights on the corner of Newtonville avenue and Harvard street. Numerous accidents and near-accidents have taken place there, causing the residents of those two streets no end of worry and uneasiness. Of course, the city has a room for a traffic beacon, or 'silent policeman' to be erected, without first having to enlarge the two street corners, but we see absolutely no reason for them not installing the red, green and yellow light system on that corner, which is one of the worst around here.

We have to wait until there are some other fatalities here before any action is taken? Only Sunday night there was a very severe accident on this very corner, resulting in the death of a mother, and serious, probably fatal injuries to her four year old child. Several of the six boys in the other car in the crash were also severely injured.
I do not know just who is responsible for seeing that traffic lights are installed at dangerous intersections, but it seems to me that whoever should have been responsible has been quite negligent in neglecting this particular intersection. Can't something be done about it?
Most sincerely,
A CONSTANT READER."

The writer of the letter was mistaken as to facts. The mother referred to was not fatally injured. She escaped with slight injuries. Her child was seriously injured and so were two of the youths in the other car involved in the accident. The intersection of Harvard street and Newtonville avenue is dangerous. So are many other street intersections in this city, including some along Lowell avenue. There is a reason why the red, green and yellow traffic light system cannot be installed at this street intersection. Such traffic signals cannot be installed without the permission of the State Department of Public Works. And the State officials do not permit traffic signals unless there is a certain volume of traffic regularly passing by the intersection where lights are sought. This volume is determined by actual count and the amount of traffic which passes the intersection of Newtonville avenue and Harvard street is much less than that required before red, green and yellow lights could be installed there. Probably, if a police trap were occasionally set at this intersection, and some of the autoists who drive by it at unreasonable speeds were punished, the danger of accidents there would be lessened.

On Monday of this week, the day following the accident, by order of the Chief of Police, signs were placed on Newtonville avenue which order autoists to STOP before crossing or entering Harvard street. These signs should assist materially in making the intersection less dangerous.

President Hoover's tribute to the pharmacists of this country is merited. Pharmacists are both professional and business men who work long hours for little compensation when it is taken into consideration that the health and lives of their fellow men depend on their skill and care. In late years the pharmacists of this country have faced severe competition from so-called drug stores which are really drug stores, stores which are units of big business combines controlled by men who are neither pharmacists nor philanthropists. This city has pharmacies which have won reputations far beyond the confines of Newton. The Hudson Drug Store established over 70 years and for most of that time conducted by Arthur Hudson, a pharmacist of national repute, and still active as a chemist and bacteriologist at the age of 88, and the Hubbard Pharmacy established nearly 50 years ago by the late Fred Hubbard are two examples of the excellent pharmacies which serve the people of Newton.

Petitions received and referred to committees were as follows: Julius Corman for covering Hammond Brook from Walnut street to Pleasant street; Newton Centre; Bessie Stuart and others protesting against this petition of Corman's; Charles Morgan, permit for greenhouse at 549 Grove street; Phillip L. Brown protesting against traffic conditions on Boylston street; Alexander McKinnon, two 2nd class taxi licenses at 15 Pelham street; Ralph Keyes, 3rd class liquor license at 349 Auburn street; Charles Pearce, 2nd class taxi permit at 792 Walnut street; Atlantic Refining Company, permit to store and sell gasoline at 325 Boylston street, 3000 gallons capacity.

The Whistling Moron
About Short Selling
Laval and Finance
India or Lancashire

Dr. C. G. Shaw, professor of philosophy at New York University, says: "If men whistle, they usually are morons." The learned philosopher, whom aimless whistling has doubtless annoyed, would of course make exceptions in cases such as:
My Uncle Toby whistling "Lillibulero."

The young person acting on Burns' suggestion, "Oh, whistle, and I'll come to ye, my lad."

Homo alatus, Doctor Shaw's ancestor, who whistled before language was invented.

Dryden put Dr. Shaw's idea in verse long ago.

"He trudged along unknowing what he sought.
And whistled as he went, for want of thought."

Darwin's book on the "expression of the emotions" gives interesting information on whistling, holding the breath, putting the hand on the mouth, etc.

Whistling softly may indicate concentrated thought or bewilderment, free of any moron taint. A man may whistle to keep his courage up and be no moron.

Dr. Shaw means that whistling annoys him, as cracking of coachmen's whips annoyed Schopenhauer.

A boy with a new dog, a new jack-knife and a fishing pole, whistling on his way to the brook, is the happiest of mortals and no moron.

Louis Seibold, ablest political writer in the country, says truly that this is the time, if ever, for the Federal Government to control and regulate the practices of the New York Stock Exchange, particularly in connection with "short selling," which is, in fact, a conspiracy against values.

The gentle art of short selling, establishing low and discouraging prices by "floor traders" gambling among themselves, is harmful to the general public and the Stock Exchange.

If that powerful, useful and necessary institution wishes to preserve reasonable liberty of action, and not invite Government control similar to that of national banks, it should regulate short selling drastically, and stick to it.

A seat on the Exchange sold recently for $160,000, nearly $500,000 below the price of the "happy days." That is sad for the Exchange, but regulation by the Federal Government, which is very impatient just now about attacks on values and prosperity generally, would be a good deal sadder.

Prime Minister Laval of France will come here to talk about this and that and money, including gold. He will be received politely by this Government and its President. But the good old days have changed at Washington. The latch-string on the Treasury has been pulled inside. The United States will be glad to discuss everything with Monsieur Laval, and especially glad to get his advice, for he knows more about finance and business than we do. Any country that can reduce the value of a twenty-cent franc to four francs, and accumulate four billions in gold, understands business.

Monsieur Laval will find Uncle Sam something like the British gentleman who said that he ate well and slept well, but when anybody talked to him about work, he came all over of a tremble.

When anybody from Europe talks to us about money, we "come all over of a tremble."

Many Hindus will learn with pride that Gandhi shows power in Britain, even if he does wear a loin cloth instead of a cutaway coat, with never a silk "topper" on his head.

Obedient Gandhi's orders, 300,000, 600 Hindus bought British goods, wearing their own loin cloths by hand, with machines of a thousand years ago.

It won't help India in the long run, but it is now injuring Britain's textile industries and impoverishing workers in Lancashire.

Gandhi, asked to relent and lift the boycott temporarily, giving the English workers a chance to earn wages, replied: "No. India is worse off than Lancashire."

There is determination in that little, half-starved man. But making men spend three or four days weaving by hand cloth that can be bought in Lancashire for ten cents is not the road to prosperity for India.

New York State appoints a "big three" to spend twenty millions on unemployment relief. To avoid any doubt, no money will be paid except for labor. No work, no cash.

But politicians can make wages very much like the dole and as painless.

In New York's suburbs five gentlemen were "working for wages" cutting grass along a public highway. Of the five who had bought four automobiles one, at 10 in the morning, sat in his car, two leaned against that car in deep discussion, and two swung their scythes languidly against the weeds and grass, actually earning, perhaps, 4 cents an hour in gentle exercises, good for the abdominal muscles.

ONE THING AND ANOTHER

By L. D. G. Bentley

The dogs, no longer restrained by official mandate, are enjoying their freedom by dodging about under automobiles and trucks and otherwise risking their precious necks. In that they are less open to ensure than humans for they cannot read the weekly accident record.

Leaving Things Behind

I know that the men will not like this, but the women, bless their hearts, will find in it a source of gleeful satisfaction. It is about the forgetfulness of the male sex. Not a terrible crime, not a heart-rending domestic episode but just one of those things that may cause trouble but not result in any vast amount of harm.

One day last week, while the guest of an old friend on an automobile ride, we were speeding along a country road. "Gipsying," as it were, we had no plans for the noonday meal, although both were hungry. We were determined that wherever we ate it should be at an inviting place, for it was, after all, a sort of holiday and in that mood one yearns for the best in the house.

At a point on this charming old highway we saw a sign—unique, quaint but not offensive. It told of the meals that might be had by turning into that delightful lane and, of course, proceeding to the end of it. My friend said, "How does this look to you?" and when I replied, "Looks good," he turned in. It was as if you had driven into a farmer's pasture and headed for the nearest outbuilding. Indeed, that's exactly what we did and a better idea could not have entered our heads.

The proprietor, a gentleman, had converted a huge barn into one of the most enchanting tea rooms it has been my joy to enter. As for a description of the place I have not the space in this column, and, furthermore, I fear I might fail to mention completely or at least to fittingly describe the charm, atmosphere and delightful food. I can say that I hope I may visit it again, though it be a ride of several hours from Newton.

I must make an embarrassing personal reference to "point" my story. We did not wear a hat in the country if the weather is propitious. So to problem of hanging it up did not concern me. After luncheon the hostess requested that we register, which we did. Then we started out, and my friend said to me, "Where's your hat?"

"He didn't wear one," said the kindly proprietor. We turned in surprise, but she only smiled and continued, "I watch the gentlemen patrons very closely. They often leave their hats and before I become so alert I found I had a large collection of hats on my hands. You'd be amazed at the number of men who forget their hats. Many times have I sent off hats by parcel post. Their owners telegraphed for them. In spite of my watchfulness men will forget, but I don't have as many as used. Of course, it isn't possible to keep track of every man's hat, but I strive to avert such complications." I wanted to ask something like, "Don't women ever leave anything behind them?" I refrained, however, for I learned long ago that one should always remember to be a gentleman he it ever so painful.

Some Boys Are Different

Here I am again weighing-up the youngsters of today and those of yesterday. Do I hear, "What's the matter now?" Nothing wholly wrong with either one and—well, everybody admits nothing is wholly right. My conclusion is that it isn't environment, educational advantages, rich and generous parents and other handicaps and blessings—it's the individual.

In order to escape the charge of grouchiness I hesitate to criticize. However, I must go far as to declare that a lot of youngsters are thoughtless and indifferent to the feelings of older people. Possibly they feel that adults are fully old enough to take care of themselves. If this is their attitude they probably go further and assume that the older the man or woman the more competent he or she must be to hop out of the way of an on-rushing bicycle.

In this connection I was particularly peeved when I saw three small boys riding bicycles on the sidewalk, one behind the other, without regard to the safety of pedestrians. An old lady was headed in the same direction and as these three musketeers dashed past her she was visibly frightened and almost fell in her haste to get out of their way. I don't suppose the boys got any thrill out of her fright—I don't believe they noticed her or if they did it was without any apparent concern.

Well, there you have it as far as youngsters of 1931 are to be considered. Ten years, 20 years and 30 years ago there were boys just like that.

In direct contrast I have this to relate. Coming out of the State House the other noon I saw a stubby, black-eyed messenger boy in the smart blue uniform of his company. One of the guards had greeted him by name and asked jocularly if he was in a hurry. The boy made some cheery answer and started to trot down the granite steps. Suddenly his eye caught the efforts of an old man who was hesitating at the top and leaning against the wall for support. He was a very old man and very weak.

Before any of us grown-ups had the wit to take in the situation this messenger boy ran over to the old man, took him by the arm and said, "Let me help you, mister." The little incident revived my faith in boys and made me get the messenger's name. His employers now know what a thoughtful youngster they have working for them.

Files Still with Us

The way a reader snapped me up about the column's reference to pesky flies last week almost took my breath away. He did it over the telephone and although I might have hung up I stood right where I was and took it on the ear. Of course, it didn't make it any less hard to endure when he intimated it was for my own good. These kind of call-downs are worse than anything a Billingsgate fishmonger might utter. The language may be quite different but the intent is as mean.

Said he, "You didn't mention fly swatting, or if you did you failed to repeat that famous slogan, 'Swat that fly.' Where have you been all these years that you never heard people shout that phrase? Haven't you read the advice of all kind of doctors and health organizations commanding you to put every fly out of existence? I think if you will investigate this question you will find that the people have won a great victory. They have driven flies from the earth, more or less."

I will not continue to repeat his utterances. Nevertheless I feel that I can dispute them. For testimony to prove that all the flies have not disappeared—or had not at the height of the fly season of 1931—I call upon my old-fashioned friends who when they have tried to catch a nap after dinner have found it impossible. What prevented their peaceful slumber if not flies? What about the alert housekeeper who, through her own efforts or those of the kitchen help, has never relaxed in her efforts to keep the family larder, the cream and milk especially, free from flies? And have storekeepers quit the battle satisfied they are victorious. I doubt it. No, sir, the flies are regular season's guests, uninvited, of course, but with us when food is stored, and defying us at the most unexpected times and in the most unheard of places.

Professional Time-Killers

Most people have plenty to do and find it difficult to understand why others go hunting for something to occupy their time. Nevertheless and notwithstanding you would be surprised to see the number of persons, largely men, who haunt all free public shows during the daylight hours. On Boston they gather at the State House, the Court House and the City Hall when some particularly sensational hearing, trial or city government meeting is scheduled. It must be that they keep in touch with events by reading the daily newspapers.

You will hear them discussing the merits of both sides, referring to the principal in familiar terms as if they were intimate friends, offering advice and suggestions—all this while waiting for the doors to open that they may occupy front seats. It is almost startling to contemplate the speed with which they shift their interest. It may be a debate of unusual proportions at the State House that has drawn them. The next day you are quite apt to see many of the same crowd lined up in the corridors of the Pemberton Square Temple of Justice where a notorious individual is to go before a jury of his peers. And so I might go on with a list of the attractions that lure those who find time weighing so heavily on their hands.

In spite of the thrilling baseball contests of the past week, when standing outdoors listening to the broadcast of the games provided entertainment for many of the happily idle—in spite of this a great many "drifters" found their way to the hearing at the State House on compulsory automobile insurance. Days when the mercury dropped the attendance was larger, of course, for there is nothing more comfortable as a place of temporary rest than a well lighted and heated State or municipal building.

Now it is well known that the subject of automobile insurance is close to the heart of a lot of legislators, insurance men, publicists and others whose names you will find often in the published articles that have to do with automobile insurance. Naturally, when there is public considera-

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

"Are Sin, Disease, and Death Real?" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, October 11.

The Golden Text is: "God be merciful unto us, and bless us; and cause his face to shine upon us; that thy way may be known upon earth, thy saving health among all nations" (Psalm 67:1, 2).

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "Art thou not from everlasting, O Lord my God, mine Holy One? we shall not die. . . Thou art of purer eyes than to behold evil, and canst not look on iniquity" (Habakkuk 1:12, 13).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "There is neither a present nor an eternal co-partnership between error and Truth, between flesh and Spirit. God is as incapable of producing sin, sickness, and death as He is of experiencing these errors. How then is it possible for Him to create man subject to this triad of errors,—man who is made in the divine likeness?" (p. 358).

tion of the matter they are on hand. The fact that the Governor of the Commonwealth saw fit to call a special session of the Legislature warranted them in assembling at the State House. Thus there were many to be heard.

BIG DEMAND FOR "FROSTED FOODS"
Cochrane's Market of 993 Watertown street, West Newton, local distributors of the new Birdseye Frosted Foods, say that in all their experience as merchants they have never seen anything arouse as much local interest as the introduction of these foods which are quick-frosted at way below zero and purveyed in packages which are kept in a cold cabinet at from zero to eight above.

The biggest surprise to people who taste their first quick-frozen meat, peas, raspberries and the rest is that all of the flavor of fresh food is there, unimpaired. Peas are as green as when shelled fresh from the garden and are sweet and tender. A quick-frosted steak is the butter-melting-in-your-mouth kind. One reason for this is that all foods are put through a sort of cold entrance exam before they can be given the quick-freezing degree. Meat is carefully selected. Spinach and other vegetables are picked over carefully. And the spinach is thoroughly cleaned before frosting. This seems to make a big hit.

People call the quick freezing revolutionary. It seems to be all of that. Just what it is going to do to the eating habits of people and to the economic structure is hard to prophesy. It is predicted that the quick-freezing will do to the food industry what the automobile did to transportation.

Almost Foolproof

Another Old Industry

Lost to Great Britain

One of the oldest and most picturesque industries in Britain is the preparation of woad as a dye. Nowadays, the manufacture of this dye has fallen into decay through the competition of indigo in its markets.

But its history goes back to the time when it was used as war paint by the British warriors who fought under Boadicea against the Romans. And, in modern times, it was employed for a period in dyeing the uniforms of policemen, sailors and officers in the Guards.

The plant from which the dye is made is of a bluish-green color, rather like that of spinach, and possesses a yellow flower. It is crushed to pulp by huge wheels revolving on the stone floor of a woad mill.

The wheels are rotated around central posts by horses. When the horses have gone round with the wheels a certain number of times, the pulp is scooped out by workmen, and rolled on a board into lumps about the size of Dutch cheeses. After drying for three months in special drying sheds, these lumps shrink to the size of baseballs.

These are then crushed down, and mixed with water, after which they undergo a process of fermentation, to get rid of certain vegetable elements which spoil the purity of the dye.

Water, in Middle Ages,

Drunk Only as Penance

In his volume, "The English Medieval Feast," William Edward Mead sets forth a myriad of curious facts about the eating habits of those valiant trenchermen, the Anglo-Saxons of the Middle Ages. Gastronomic habits of the period, he shows, were based more often on necessity arising from conditions under which they lived than from national idiosyncrasies, but many of them survive in some form in present-day recipes.

It is staggering to compute the amount of beverages (water excepted) that was regarded then as an average day's ration in a single household. At one feast lasting a week in the home of the Archbishop Neville, brother of the "kingsmaker," for instance, the guests were provided with the equivalent of 13,000 dozen of wine and 75,000 gallons of ale, he states. The small household of the earl of Northumberland accounted annually for 1,100 dozen of wine and 42,000 gallons of ale.

Water in those times was drunk only as a penance, and was known commonly as "wet-out stuff." Since sanitation was entirely outside the ken of the wisest men of the age, and the quality of any water used for drinking likely to be extremely inferior, it was a wise enough precaution to ignore it.

Birds and the Bible

There are at least 290 references to birds in the Bible, says the American Forestry association. Although 113 of these references are to birds in general, 31 species of birds are named. The dove and eagle, the one associated with gentleness and peace and the other symbolic of strength and courage and noted for the heights to which it can soar, are mentioned more often than any of the others. Alexander Sprunt, Jr., writer for the American Forestry association, says that the dove is mentioned 35 times and the eagle 32.

Other species mentioned by Sprunt, listed according to the number of times their names appear, are: Raven, cock, hen, owl, pigeon, sparrow, stork, pelican, quail, swallow, vulture, ostrich, bittern, peacock, cormorant, crane, partridge, offstage, osprey, kite, cuckoo, hawk, heron, night hawk, lapwing, glen, swan and gler eagle.

Trippers to Sorrento

Older than Rome, Sorrento, in Italy, goes back to the day of Greek mythology. It was a Phoenician colony older than Tyre. Its name came from the famous sirens, and its power to lure men, and women, too, is as great today. Here Tasso was born, and here lived Goethe, Gorki, Marlon Crawford and many others. Ibsen stayed at a little inn on the Corso Umberto and finished his "Peer Gyat," and wrote "Ghosts" here. Wagner, Byron, Scott, Cooper, Dumas, Verel, Renan, Longfellow, Bulwer-Lytton, Heyse, Wilde, and Nietzsche all have made this trip, so lovely is the little town of the sirens by the sea.

Ancient "Trap Shooting"

The origin of trap shooting may be traced to the ancient pastime of popinjay shooting, a game practiced by the ancient Greeks and the expert bowmen of medieval times, wrote W. W. Greener, in "The Gun and Its Development." The popinjay was a stuffed parrot or fowl placed at the top of a pole, and used as a target; in some instances a living bird was used, a certain amount of liberty being given to it by the length of the cord used to secure it to the pole. Homer, in the "Iliad," mentions popinjay shooting, a dove being the target.

Rough on Rats

"With so much that is beautiful and good in the world," protests an Irishman to the Dublin Opinion, "it is deplorable that so many writers grovel in the sewer and delight in spewing their suggestive, squalid and sensual poison! What all our modern writers? 'Some of them,' sapiently suggests the editor, 'ought to lift their minds out of the gutter. After all, we must keep our gutters clean.'"

Colonial Residence Built in 1775

At one time, not so long ago, Waban was just a lovely stretch of country bordering a winding river. Few people realized that the little village would come to be known as one of the most ideal residential suburbs in the State. Only a few homes dotted the landscape. Among them was the Tower Homestead, a stately and beautiful colonial estate. It stands today as picturesque as it did then, excellently preserved, modernized only to the extent of making it more desirable. It has a slate roof, maid's quarters, hot water heat (oil burner), an open porch, and a two-car garage. There is a living room with fireplace, library or reading room with fireplace, dining room, kitchen, laundry and butler's pantry on the first floor. Above these are three master's chambers, a child's room, two fireplaces, and two baths, together with a separate stairway leading from the kitchen to two maids' rooms and bath. The colonial architecture, fireplaces, paneling and fixtures remain unchanged. Its rolling grounds, 64,000 feet, make it an ideal place for children to play, and give its owner that sound feeling of security and seclusion seldom found in new homes of today. Its charm and beauty can only be realized by those who see it. $26,000.

"Walls Have Ears"

Chaucer did not foresee the expression "Walls have ears," as some have claimed. As a matter of fact the expression was used by Cicero in one of his orations against Cataline. Cicero said, "Parietes habent aures"—"the walls have ears." Organized spying and listening behind walls is so old that this expression probably goes back to the dawn of time.

Macaulay's Reading Plan

Lord Macaulay said: "When a boy, I began to read very earnestly, but at the foot of every page I read I stopped and obliged myself to give an account of what I had read on that page. At first I had to read it three or four times before I got my mind firmly fixed. But I compelled myself to comply with the plan, until now, after I have read a book through once, I can almost recite it from the beginning to the end."—Exchange.

NORUMBEGA DISTRICT COUNCIL OF RELIGIOUS EDUCATION

Special emphasis is being placed this year by the major denominations on the idea of "Every Church Training Every Leader." In line with this slogan, the Norumbega District is putting into its Newtonville school, which starts Monday evening, October 19, a new course called "Leadership Training in the Local Church."

Every church is invited and urged to send someone to this course who can go back into the local church and start there, at the church school hour, a teacher-training class for young people. Such a class may take up some such topic as "Child Study," or it may take "The Old Testament," a historical study of the Old Testament, its teaching values and the growth of the conception of God.

The churches that have such local teacher-training classes for young people will be listed here from time to time. Miss Florence Baer has a class at the Newton Immanuel Baptist church. Miss Lullona Barker has one at the Newton Methodist Church for the three months of October, November and December.

Rev. Ervin L. Shaver, a resident of the District and Leadership Training Secretary for the Congregational Education Society, is to be the Dean this year at the Norumbega District School of Religious Education, at Newtonville. It is he who is to teach the class entitled "Leadership Training in the Local Church."

PARENTS WANT MORE POLICE

Parents of children attending the Cabot School in Newtonville are circulating petitions requesting increased police protection for their children before and at the close of school sessions. The police department claims that the last available officer was needed at the high school and was so assigned.

The parents contend that the automobiles on Cabot street prove a menace to the safety of the youngsters and that the resurfacing of Cabot street this past summer has resulted in many more automobiles using the street than formerly. They also claim that many drivers pay little or no attention to the "school zone" signs located near the school and that on several occasions there have been close calls from bad accidents.

Wednesday. The opening exercises, flag salute and school song, were led by Audrey Sullivan, Julia Flagg and Aldridge Hunt. A short speech by Fred Fox, "One Fox in the Hour in a Music Studio." Behind a screen on the stage the musicians, one at a time, played short selections, then stepped forward and told some interesting facts about their instruments. The purpose of the program was to train the ear to recognize the different tones and find in music. The musicians and their instruments were:

Domenic Bartolomucci, violin; Blair Scanlon, alto horn; Carmen Colletta, accordion; Jerry Marrocco, piccolo; John Reche and James Stewart, cornet duet; Donald Pailleur, flute; Donald Whitney, clarinet; Francis McMahon, bass horn; Marjorie MacMillan, tambourine; Edwin Stevens, drums; William Wrigley, Jew's harp; Phyllis Fisher, ukelele; Patricia Spaulding, cello; Charles Dunne and Calvin Cronan, saxophone duet; Wendell Palmis and Albert Bianchi, harmonica duet.

Each division in every grade has chosen representatives to serve on the Student Patrol, which has for its duty the preservation of order in the corridors and in the lunchroom. At present there are 27 girls and 30 boys on the Patrol. The captain of each group serves also on the Student Council.

JOHN W. WEEKS JR. HIGH

The student body has voted to make blue and buff the school colors.

The ninth and seventh grades have had assembly meetings where Mr. Carr has spoken of the responsibility that rests with each member in regard to the care of this beautiful new school building.

Soccer practice has begun for boys under the direction of Mr. MacConnell and for girls under Miss Maxim.

In addition to a school team the boys are organizing home room team.

Mr. Parker is organizing a school band. About 75 have indicated a desire to join the band. Some of these will need more lessons before they are permanent members, but Mr. Parker is planning on a band of 60 being able to play very soon together.

The Student Council of the John Wingate Weeks' Junior High School of Newton Centre has been chosen by the student body during the past week. It is made up of one member from each room of the seventh, eighth and ninth grades plus four from the ninth grades at large. To be a member of this law making body a person has to have high ranks in studies and conduct. The members serve throughout the year if they live up to the rules.

To enforce the laws which the Student Council makes there is a group of students called the Student Patrol. This body has already been chosen. A person joins the patrol voluntarily. Five are taken from each ninth grade division, three from the eighths, and one from the sevenths.

LASELL SEMINARY

A number of students will attend the Kreisler Concert in Boston on Sunday afternoon, October 11.

The Vesper address on Sunday will be given by Rev. Arthur M. Ellis of Newtonville.

POLICE NEWS

In the Newton Court last Friday Norma Gardner, 47 North Gate Park, West Newton; Paul Curran of Winchester and Matthew Nolan of Walnut street, Brookline, were fined $10 each for speeding. Nolan was also fined $10 for driving without a license in his possession. Carlo Valentino of Cambridge and Clarence Hughes of Worcester each was fined $10 for not STOPPING before entering a through street.

In the Newton court last Friday Judge Weston found Richard Brown of Windsor road, Wellesley, not guilty on the charge of driving an automobile in a dangerous manner. The car driven by Brown was run into on the night of September 2 by a car in which were Patrolmen Maloney and Scott of the Newton police. A report had been received at police headquarters that a man was prowling about a house at Washington Park, Newtonville, and the two policemen were hastening to the scene. They testified that Brown was driving ahead of them and failed to signal that he was to make a left turn from Washington St. onto Walker street.

John T. Lavelley of Clinton street, Newton, was sentenced to serve three months in jail by Judge Weston in the Newton Court on Saturday when he was found guilty of keeping and exposing liquor for sale. He appealed. The liquor produced as evidence against Lavelley was seized in a raid at 277 Washington street, Newton, in a room occupied by the Ward Engineering Company. Clarence Ward of this company testified that the defendant had asked him for permission to store the liquor there. John Rogers, a police spotter, who obtained alleged evidence against Lavelley when the latter was charged with making an illegal sale of liquor last month, testified that the defendant had warned him to get out of Newton.

Patrolman Walker had five West Newton young men in court last Friday charged with loitering at the corner of Washington and Watertown streets. Three of the five were fined $5 each and the other two placed on probation.

Andrew Dorsey, 16, of 14 Cummings road, Newton Center, was arrested early last Saturday morning at Springfield and turned over to the Newton police charged with having stolen the automobile of John Montgomery of 11 Hobart road, Newton Centre. Young Dorsey escaped from the Shirley Industrial School on Sunday, September 27. He was arraigned in the Newton Court last Saturday and his case was continued until today. Dorsey, upon being questioned by the Newton police, admitted that he was the burglar who entered the home of Raymond Stuart, 39 Old Colony road, Chestnut Hill, several days ago and stole two diamond and platinum bracelets valued at $4400. The boy stated he had thrown these bracelets into a waste-paper receptacle at the South Station in Boston. Acting on this information, the police traced the disposition of the waste and found it had been dumped into a car loaded with waste which had been taken to the railroad yard at South Braintree. The contents of this car were searched and the bracelets found. The search was conducted by Inspector King, Special Officer Peasley and several employees of Mr. Stuart, working under floodlights Sunday night.

Joseph La Cava and Salvatore Tomase, formerly of Waltham, were arrested in New York City on Monday as they left a court house after having been arraigned on a narcotic charge. The New York police believed both men to be wanted by the Newton police in connection with the fatal explosion caused by a still at Frances Gorgone's building in West Newton on January 30, 1928, when 6 persons were killed. LaCava had served a term in prison for his part in this affair and is not wanted by the Newton police. After the explosion of an indictment was issued against Tomase but he disappeared and his whereabouts were not known until his arrest.

John Copeland of 11 Colburn crescent, Brookline, was fined $50 in the Newton Court last Friday for speeding. It was the third time within a year that Copeland had been convicted on such a charge.

Gustave Melanson of 45 Clark street, Waltham was fined $100 in the Newton court on Monday for driving an uninsured car and $10 for driving an unregistered car. Melanson had bought a car, which he was operating on plates issued for a car he formerly owned. In court the same day Hazen Edgar of Brookline was fined $10 for speeding and $25 for refusing to stop when ordered to do so by Motorcycle Officer Goddard.

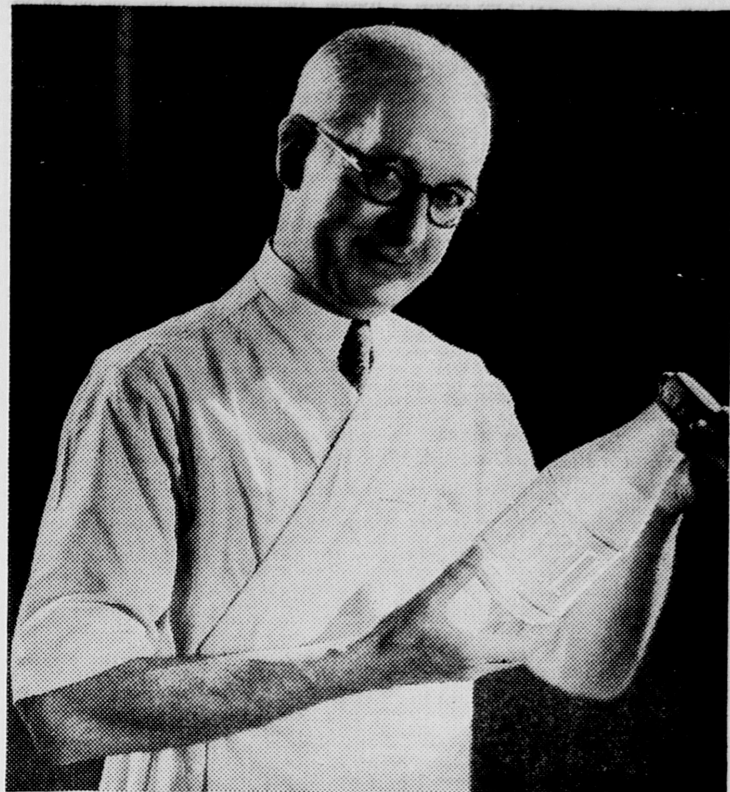

Anthony Lupo of Watertown street, Watertown was fined $50 in the Newton court on Monday for exposing liquor for sale and $5 for driving without proper lights. He appealed. Joseph Holfelder of Bakersfield, California, wasted no time in admitting that he was guilty of driving while under the influence of liquor. He paid $100. He was arrested early on the same morning he was tried when he made the costly error of driving the wrong direction on a one-way street at Newton Corner.

THERE MUST BE A REASON why more doctors use and recommend HOOD'S Grade A milk than any other kind

Of course there's a reason. The doctor knows fine milk and the care and scientific supervision required to produce it. He knows that Hood's Grade A Milk is uniformly pure, rich and fresh. He knows that the cows are tuberculin tested and that it is pasteurized in a way that keeps its marvelous flavor, makes it absolutely safe, and does this without affecting the vital vitamin content.

You take your doctor's advice about matters of health and diet. Follow his example in selecting your milk. More and more doctors every day are using and recommending

CENTRAL CHURCH WOMAN'S ASSOCIATION

The Woman's Association of Central Church held the first meeting of the season on Wednesday, Oct. 7th. During the morning the members engaged in sewing and the making of surgical dressings under the direction of Mrs. George W. Auryansen and Mrs. A. E. Vose. Over 140 attended the luncheon prepared by Mrs. F. C. Bassett and her committee and served by Mrs. E. L. Nichols and the serving committee. Mrs. Charles W. Stewart read some verses from the book of Joshua and Mrs. C. G. Edwards played during the singing of a hymn. The president, Mrs. R. E. Chambers, introduced Mr. and Mrs. Merrill who spoke friendly words of greeting. A letter from Miss Abbe Wallace was read by Mrs. A. H. Decatur and other letters, including one from Mrs. Bridgman of South Africa, were read by Mrs. D. Brewer Eddy.

Dr. W. J. Jamison of Ceylon, now on furlough at Auburndale, gave a very interesting address and answered questions. He explained why missionaries make less reference than formerly to conversions. He showed that often publicity was unwise, as the matter was a personal one and involved family relationships. A young person might be living the Christian life and hoping to influence her family to become Christians, and waiting for them before she took the stand publicly. The spontaneous type of conversion is not common. It is rather a process—the story not yet finished. He compared the attitude of the people with that of fifty years ago when Christians were persecuted and the term "foreign devil" frequently heard. Not so today. The Hindu temple worship is losing its hold and more and more their religion has come to mean relationship with God. Dr. Jamison felt that the educational work was partly responsible for the growing spirit of nationalism in India and that the country needs more than ever the enlightenment which will teach them how to use their independence when it comes. India will be a menace or a help in her relations with the nations of the world.

In regard to his own medical work Dr. Jamison told of the changes that had taken place during his nine years in Maneyap. From mud huts the equipment has advanced to a hospital building in which from four to five thousand patients have been treated, and a dispensary which reaches 20,000 people annually. He is assisted by a staff of 50 nurses. This work is locally supported, the government contributing, and the patients paying fees ranging from five cents to seventeen dollars. The need for medical work in India is stupendous as the tropical diseases are prevalent and there is but one doctor to 15,000 people. And as the doctors are more often killed than there are practically 100,000,000 without medical aid. Dr. Jamison had faith in the gospel of healing and education as expressing truly the spirit of Jesus.

Mrs. Robert Whitehill announced the date of the rummage sale as Nov. 6th and suggested, among other donations, gifts of furniture, pictures and books. Requests for the "Guest Book" were received by Miss Chute, and Mrs. Stewart Hill and Mrs. H. O. Williams received contributions towards the Christmas box to be sent to Miss Abbe Wallace and her pupils at Capron Hall.

PARAMOUNT, NEWTON

The first four days of the week at the Paramount, Newton, Will Rogers will be seen in "As Young as You Feel," supported by Eli Dorsay and a very capable cast. This is the first time in Mr. Rogers' picture career that he has taken the part of a well groomed gentleman. On the same program, "Fame-Atlantic" with Edna Lowe and Lois Moran depicts life aboard a de luxe ocean liner. The cast includes Jack Halliday, Jean Hersholt, Grete Nissen, and Myrna Loy.

For the last half of the week Ina Claire will be seen in "Rebound." The story is a smart sophisticated comedy-drama dealing with the mixed up love affairs of five people. On the same program will be seen "Waterloo Bridge," one of the biggest dramatic sensations since "All Quiet on the Western Front."

These are four pictures of above average merit. The program celebrates "Big 4 Week" with a continuous program on Columbus Day.

EGYPTIAN THEATRE, BRIGHTON

For the holiday week-end the Egyptian Theatre has secured two of the outstanding photoplays of the season, "Waterloo Bridge," featuring Mae Clark, and Kent Douglas, and "Travelling Husbands" with Evelyn Brent and Frank Albertson in a snappy portrayal of the affairs of travelling salesmen. "Waterloo Bridge" gives a London romance of unusual depth.

Starting Thursday, the program of "The Square Man" with Warner Baxter and Lupe Velez, which everyone knows is one of the most interesting bits of entertainment ever offered through the talking drama. On the same program will be "Tabu," featuring Reri the recent star of the Ziegfeld Follies.

The theatre provides parking space for its patrons and invites the public to call Sardinia 6800 for advice on its coming attractions.

CENTRAL SQUARE THEATRE, WALTHAM

The immortal "Huckleberry Finn" will be on the screen again next week at the Central Square Theatre, Waltham, with Jackie Coogan as Tom Sawyer and Junior Durkin as Huck Finn. In the dramatization of this great play, the picture is what you have hoped it would be, in many ways superior even to "Tom Sawyer" with slight difference in the spontaneity of humor, the briskness of its dialogue and the exciting quality of its fast paced adventure.

Jackie Searl will again be seen as the pesky tattle-tale, Sidney; Mitzi Green as the demure, golden-haired Becky Thatcher and the charming Clara Blendick again makes her own role. In addition to the characters which you enjoyed in "Tom Sawyer," you will see Eugene Pallette as "The King," Oscar Apfel as the "Duke" and Clarence Muse as the negro slave. If you found "Tom Sawyer" a rare and delightful entertainment treat, "Huckleberry Finn" is sure to exceed your fondest expectations.

Women's Club Activities

COMING EVENTS

Monday Club

There is to be a reception in honor of Mrs. George G. Phipps' ninetyeth birthday, in the Ladies' Parlor of the Newton Highland Congregational Church, October 19, from 3 to 5 o'clock. This reception is given by the Monday Club of Newton Highlands, organized by Mrs. Phipps in 1886.

All her friends are cordially invited.

Waban Woman's Club

Although the regular meetings of the Waban Woman's Club do not begin until November, there are special activities sponsored by the Club which occur during the present month.

For the benefit of the Philanthropic Fund of the Club, a Pivot Bridge will be held at the Neighborhood Club House, on Monday afternoon, October 19, at 2 o'clock. Mrs. A. Pollan and Mrs. L. W. Minchin are the chairmen in charge of the affair.

Following the usual custom the Waban Girl Scouts will sell candy. In previous years the Club has helped many of the local charities with the proceeds of this Bridge. This year the need of these charities promises to be even greater than ever, and the hearty support of every Club member is desired to make this year's funds equal to the greater demand.

The Club is to have again this year the pleasure of hearing Miss Eunice Avery talk on Current Events. A series of three lectures will be given: October 29, November 12, and December 19, in the Vestry of the Church of the Good Shepherd, at 10:15 o'clock in the morning. Mrs. E. W. Bartram is chairman of the Civics, Community and Volunteer Service committee which is sponsoring these lectures.

Auburndale Woman's Club

The first meeting of the Auburndale Woman's Club does not come until the last Tuesday of this month, but its committees have planned activities for the coming week. The Literature committee, under the chairmanship of Mrs. Arthur T. Freeman, is presenting a series of Book Talks to be given on Tuesday mornings in the Auburndale Branch Library. Miss Marjorie McKain, of Macmillan Company, will speak on "What's New in Books", on Tuesday morning, October 13, at 10:30 o'clock. This talk will be free to all members of the Club.

A Bridge, sponsored by the American Home committee, of which Mrs. Robert E. Holmes is the chairman, will be held on Friday, October 16, at 2 o'clock, at the home of Mrs. P. W. DeWitt of 376 Central street. Tickets, which will be limited in number, may be purchased at $1.00 each from any member of the American Home committee.

Newton Hospital Aid Association

One of the Associate Organizations of the Newton Federation of Women's Clubs is planning a delightful affair for Tuesday afternoon, the 13th, in a Fashion Revue and Bridge Party at the Brae Burn Country Club, at 1:45 o'clock. The Fashion Revue, shown by courtesy of the R. H. Stearns Company, of Boston, will start promptly at 2 o'clock. Tickets for the Bridge may be obtained from Mrs. Pitt F. Drew, Grove Hill, Newtonville.

Patronesses for this event include Mrs. Endicott P. Saltonstall, Mrs. John Lodge, Mrs. J. L. Richards, Mrs. Henry I. Harriman, Mrs. Brewer Eddy, Mrs. Frank Day, Mrs. Herbert Felton, Mrs. Leon B. Rogers, Mrs. Harry Stimpson, Mrs. Fred W. Rust, Mrs. Hubert Carter, Mrs. John F. Cronin, Mrs. George Walker, Mrs. Edward N. Wiswall, Mrs. Edward F. Stevens, Mrs. John Oldham, Mrs. John A. Moir, Mrs. Henry A. Wentworth, Mrs. William E. Jones, and Miss Mabel Eager.

Officers of the Hospital Aid Association are: President, Mrs. George Talbot; recording secretaries, Mrs. Frank Anderson and Mrs. Ernest Weaver; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Francis H. Williams; and treasurer, Miss Florence E. Tower.

Newton Centre Woman's Club

All those interested in joining the Club Choral Class of the Newton Centre Woman's Club should go to the first rehearsal on Wednesday, October 14, at 10:30 a.m. It is not necessary to be a member of the Club to be eligible to the Choral Class, but membership is limited to fifty singers. There is no charge, but each member pays for her own music and also pays a fine for lateness at rehearsals.

The Club is most fortunate in having Mrs. Apolline Blair conduct the Class again this year. Mrs. Blair is a leader of great ability and this is a remarkable opportunity to study under her. She has been connected with several famous national choruses and did unusual musical work during the World War.

The French Class will be in charge of Mrs. John Metz, whose instruction made the work very interesting last season. Application should be made promptly to Mrs. James E. Dooliver, Centre Newton 2341.

Mrs. Vincent P. Maloney is Chairman of the Rummage Sale to be held in the Clubhouse all day Friday and Saturday, October 16 and 17. In order to make this sale a success, members and interested friends are requested most urgently to send as many articles as possible. Parcels may be left in the basement of the Clubhouse at any time or donors may notify the chairman of the articles to be collected. This is a splendid chance to help the unemployed meet the winter's needs.

RECENT EVENTS

Newton Upper Falls Woman's Club

The Newton Upper Falls Woman's Club held its first meeting, which included a reception, Monday evening, October 5, at 7:30 o'clock, in the Emerson School Kindergarten.

The rooms had been decorated very appropriately with autumn leaves and flowers, under the direction of Mrs. Ross Folger, of the House committee, and of Miss Marion Bassett.

The Club president, Mrs. Thomas L. Aiken, was in charge of the evening's program. The reports of the local delegate, Mrs. Walter Evans, and of the State delegate, Mrs. Robert McLaughlin, were given after which Mrs. Aiken spoke of the work of the Club for the coming year. The matter of forming a Parent-Teacher Association, either in Upper Falls or in conjunction with Newton Highlands, was presented to the Club members for consideration.

The Club was indeed honored in having as guests, Mrs. Carl L. Schrader, President of the Massachusetts State Federation, and Mrs. Seldon E. James, Twelfth District director. Mrs. James gave her hearty greetings to the Club and spoke relative to the meetings and conferences to be held during the year. Mrs. Schrader also emphasized the importance of Club members attending these meetings and expressed the wish that it were possible for each local Club not only to know the work of its own community, but to know what other Clubs are doing and to know what the State Federation is doing. The Federation this year is to give special attention to Child Labor and to Unemployment. "Through knowledge to understanding," is Mrs. Schrader's slogan. "Club women," she said, "must have a working knowledge of affairs before a constructive understanding can be acquired." Mrs. Schrader reminded the Club that Woman's Clubs had long stood for service, but sincerity must be aligned with service to make it worthwhile.

The Forté Trio gave a generous musical program which was thoroughly enjoyed.

The Hospitality committee, under Mrs. Donald Flinchbaugh, served ice cream, cake and punch.

The Club has a varied and interesting program for the year 1931-1932, and it is hoped that all members will try to make it a wonderful Club year in every way possible.

Christian Era Study Club

On Monday, October 5, the Christian Era Study Club was fortunate in having Dr. Emily Bissell, an authority on India, as speaker for the first meeting of the year.

Dr. Bissell was born in India, and has lived there until quite recently, for a number of years teaching in a girls' school; and later, from 1913 to 1929, making an especial study of the folklore of that country.

Dr. Bissell came to the meeting dressed in the costume of a Hindu woman of high caste, and answered many questions concerning the religions, politics, and manners and customs of the people. She also graciously entertained by singing songs in the Hindu language.

The Club met at the home of the president, Miss Ella B. Smith.

Newton Highlands Woman's Club

Mrs. Harry P. Forte, president of the Newton Highlands Woman's Club, opened the first meeting on Tuesday, October 6, at 2 p. m. with greetings to the new members. Mrs. Forte announced that she will be at home to members of the Club on the first Monday afternoon of every month this year.

Mrs. Harry B. Bradford, corresponding secretary, read an invitation from the Monday Club to a reception October 19, from 3 to 5 p. m., at the Congregational Parish House, in honor of Mrs. George G. Phipps, on her ninetyeth birthday. Mrs. Phipps organized the Monday Club in 1886.

Mrs. Charles G. Wetherbee, chairman of the Newton Highlands Woman's Club group for the Grand Morrison Poole Bazaar, told of the purpose of the Bazaar and asked the different chairmen representing the Club to stand.

Mrs. Albert J. Mackintosh, the Club's State Federation Secretary, gave a very concise report of the meeting at Swampscott last May.

Mrs. Edward MacDowell then entertained the Club for an hour, describing the development of the MacDowell Colony in Peterboro, N. H. Mrs. MacDowell spoke of the friendship and assistance of the Women's Clubs, and of their part in the gift of $35,000 to pay off the mortgage. Several of her late husband's compositions were interpreted by Mrs. MacDowell, the first number being a Prelude from the First Suite, published by MacDowell when he was only eighteen years old.

The meeting was followed by a reception and tea, when all members and guests were given an opportunity to meet Mrs. MacDowell.

Auburndale Review Club

The Auburndale Review Club met on October 6 at the home of Mrs. Frank F. Davidson, 59 Woodland road, for the opening meeting of the year, with Mrs. Ernest F. Drew, the president, presiding.

Mrs. Frank Davidson brought to the Club interesting experiences of her trip to Alaska, and in her review of "Uncle Sam's Attic," by Mary Davis, called attention to the saying of Mrs. Davis that "if one only goes to Skagway that is not Alaska," but as Mrs. Davidson went to Bennett Lake just beyond Skagway she really went to Alaska. In "Uncle Sam's Attic," Mrs. Davis showed that Mrs. Davis tells of the Pioneer days in Alaska, comparing them to the same days in New England, the Pioneers doing a similar Mullen received the punt on his 35-yard line and ran it back five yards. Duane slid off-tackle for five yards but a Duane to Mullen criss-cross lost two and Huston kicked to Hopkins. The Cambridge quarterback gathered it in on his 18-yard line and sidestepped Bill Giles, Newton tackle, to run the ball back three yards. LaRonde crashed the line for two yards but it was offset when Blackler tossed Carchia for a similar loss. Hopkins kicked outside on the Newton 30-yard line. Duane was tossed for a slight loss at right end and on the next play an offside cost Newton five yards by penalty forcing Huston to kick. His kick bounded back ten yards to midfield where he himself downed the ball on the Newton 48-yard line. Levenson stopped a line buck for no gain and the Newton line held fullback Doucher on a smash at left tackle. Duane intercepted a Cambridge Latin pass and ran it back three yards almost to midfield to end the period.

Second Period

Duane made two three-yard gains behind his own right tackle but on the second play illegal use of hands by a Newton lineman brought a 15-yard penalty. Huston's pass to Duane was incomplete and Huston kicked to Hopkins on the Cantabs' 20-yard stripe. The opponents' safety man ran it back 16 yards. A line buck brought one yard and a tackle smash by Carchia two more. On the next play Vassalotti and Gullian nailed the Cambridge back for a five yard loss and Hopkins kicked. Mullen received and ran the ball back 10 yards to his 47-yard line. Newton made its initial first down of the game when Huston's pass to Blackler was good for a 28-yard gain to the Cambridge 25-yard stripe. A criss-cross to Huston was stopped for no gain and a penalty set Newton back five yards. Huston was hurried on a pass to Mullen, who had a clear field ahead but just failed to reach the ball. Another pass, Huston to Mullen, was good for five yards. A third pass, this time to Blackler, just failed of completion. Blackler getting his fingers on the ball but failing to hold it. He also had a clear field to the goal line. Newton was penalized five yards for two incomplete passes and it was the visitors' ball on downs on their own 30-yard line. LaRonde and Carchia gained three yards at the tackles and Hopkins kicked. Mullen gathered it on his 28-yard line and ran it back five yards. On two line bucks Duane gained six yards and on a double criss-cross Huston gained three. It was fourth down and a yard to go and Huston crossed up the opposition by a quick kick for 60 yards over the goal and Cambridge put in play on their 20-yard mark. Two plays gained but little and Hopkins kicked to Mullen who ran the ball back 10 yards to the Cambridge 40-yard stripe. Newton had gained 30 yards on the exchange and the stage was now set. At right tackle Mullen made three yards. A pass, Huston to Mullen, was incomplete but one from Huston to Blackler worked perfectly for a 26-yard gain and Newton had a first down on the 11-yard line. Duane bucked the line for four yards and Mullen hit right tackle for two more. Blackler went through center for two precious yards and Huston made it a first down, a yard from the goal. Duane went over for the first score of the season on the home field. Huston's try at goal was shy by inches but offside play gave him another opportunity which he made good for the extra point. Blackler kicked off and Doucher ran it back to his 28-yard line. A pass from Hopkins to Carchia, who had tried the old trick of lying down near the sideline, was short of completion, but another pass from Doucher to Hopkins was good for about nine yards for the final play of the half which ended with Cambridge in possession of the ball on their 37-yard line.

By actual road performance, week after week, month after month—the six-cylinder Chevrolet has proved its right to be called America's most economical truck. Owners have found that on a ton-mile basis Chevrolet costs less for gas and oil, less for upkeep and less for service than any other truck—regardless of the number of cylinders. And price-comparison will show that this big, sturdy Chevrolet Six is one of the lowest-priced trucks you can buy.

Today, any truck user can apply this economy to his own particular work. The current Chevrolet commercial car line covers practically every delivery and hauling need. Twenty-five different models. Half-ton and 1½-ton pay-load capacities. Three wheelbase lengths. A wide variety of Chevrolet-designed and Chevrolet-built bodies. Just name the type of truck you need—and you will very likely find it in Chevrolet's all-inclusive line.

Each Chevrolet truck has the speed, flexibility and pulling ability of a 50-horsepower six-cylinder engine—25% more powerful than any other engine in a truck priced so low. Maximum load-capacity is assured by unusually large bodies, supported by long rigid frames and long parallel-mounted springs. And Chevrolet has built every part of its chassis and bodies sturdily and well, using fine materials and following sound principles of design.

Now is the time to settle the question as to which truck to buy in the low-price field. Look over Chevrolet's complete line of 25 models and pick out the body-type that does your work best. Note the very low price at which it sells. Consider the point that hundreds of the nation's biggest businesses are turning to Chevrolet for lowest transportation cost. Then see your Chevrolet dealer for a demonstration and full information about this great American truck value.

Third Quarter

Newton opened the second half with its starting line-up except Perkins was at end for Marr. Cambridge kicked off and Mullen ran the ball back 15 yards to his 42-yard line. Two plays gained little and Huston kicked to the Cantab 21-yard line and Perkins and Giles smothered the safety man in his tracks. Carchia lost a yard and LaRonde, who was now playing quarterback for the Cantabs, punted and Mullen ran it back 15 yards to the 32-yard line. Mullen made eight yards at tackle and Newton was again threatening. Huston carried on the next play, broke through tackle, cut back and raced over the goal line for a pretty 24-yard run. His mates cleaned out perfectly for him and the visitors could not lay a hand on the Newton ace. His try for the point was perfect to set the score at 14 to 0. Blackler kicked off and a short runback by halfback McKeever put the ball on the Cantab 28-yard line. Two plays cost a net loss of two yards and LaRonde kicked. Huston received and ran the ball back 18 yards to the Cambridge 40-yard line. Mullen failed to gain at tackle. Huston gained 13 yards for a first down. Perkins tried the waiting end stunt but the pass from Duane was poor and incomplete. Duane carried outside. Another incomplete pass, Duane to Blackler, was incomplete and Newton was penalized five yards. A Huston pass to Perkins, who had a clear field, almost succeeded and it was the visitors' ball on their 35-yard line. Nichols, playing half-back for Cambridge, made five yards on two line plays and LaRonde kicked to Huston who was nailed on the Newton 40-yard mark. Newton began a march which Cambridge could not stop. A double criss-cross from Duane to Huston netted 17 yards for a first down on the Cambridge 43. Huston picked up six yards, Duane three and Blackler two on tackle smashes for a first down. Mullen took the ball on another criss-cross and dodged his way for eight yards. Duane hit right tackle for six yards and another first down on the Cantab 18-yard line. Newton drew a five yard penalty but Blackler got it right back through left tackle. Duane gained three yards at tackle and Huston one. On the latter play a low pass from centre probably cost a first down at the time. This play ended the period with it fourth down and a foot to go for a first down on the 8-yard line.

Fourth Period

Huston smashed through the right side for five yards and a first down on the four-yard line. Blackler carried to the one-yard line and on the next play crashed over for the third touchdown. Huston again kicked the point to make it Newton 21, Cambridge Latin 0. The Newton second string line went in as Blackler kicked off to the Cambridge 30-yard mark. An incomplete pass and no gain by LaRonde forced the Cantab leader to kick. Mullen caught the ball on his own 30-yard stripe and with his mates cleaning out for him dodged his way through the entire visiting eleven. Eluding the last man to slow up and as he was gathering speed again to race for the goal line, right tackle Dzendolet of the Cantabs nailed him from behind on the Latin 12-yard line. Duane gained two yards and on the next play was thrown for a loss of three-yards when he temporarily fumbled. Mullen made 6 yards to the five-yard line and two more on a line buck to give Cambridge the ball on downs on its four-yard line. Newton's threat was temporarily halted as LaRonde prepared to kick from behind his goal. The kick was short and Mullen received on the visitors' 25-yard line. In a twinkling he covered the distance to the goal line for the fourth touchdown of the game. Mullen's mate did some pretty taking out for him and half the visiting team were strewn about the field. Huston kicked his fourth extra point into the score to place it at 28 to 0. Newton second string backfield went into the game and later the third and fourth string substitutes were used.

NEWTON YOUTHS STARS OF RUSH

Two Newton boys were the heroes of the freshman-sophomore football game played at the Northeastern University annual sophomore-freshman rush clash at Huntington Field in Brookline this week. Henry Furdon, sophomore, and Harold Strombom, freshman, both former Newton High stars, were easily the outstanding players of the game. Furdon, playing at the fullback position for the sophomores, scored the only touchdown of the game, and was responsible for the final score of 6-0, in favor of the second-year men. William Quigley, another freshman from Newton, played a great game in the backfield for the freshmen.

The tug-of-war claimed Robert Claffee, sophomore, who was on the end of the rope as anchor for his team. This event went two heats, twenty-man teams, and was split even between the two battling classes, each class winning one heat for a score of 40 points.

In the obstacle-relay race, Ralph Allen, sophomore, and George Lamb, freshman, participated. Both men showed great stuff on the cinders, Lamb being of especial help to his classmates by cutting some 30 yards from the lead that the sophs had when he took the baton for the 200-yard sprint.

CANTABRIGIAN CANTATAS

Cambridge is in tears
Its worst Newton loss in years.

First period and no score
Newton knocked upon the door.

Newton turned on the gas
Duane picked off a Cantab pass.

Second period—half gone
Brains brawn to master brawn.

Huston to Blackler—26 yards
The ace of Newton's cards.

Newton backs shook their shackles
Duane scored thru the tackles.

Huston's educated toe
Added the point, you well know.

The second half was minutes old
Newton began to get quite bold.

24 yards went flying by "Husty's" feet, stepping high.

Over the goal—another score
And Huston's toe, one point more.

A long march of half the field
The visitors were forced to yield.

Three plays in the final session
Blackler scored—part of the lesson.

Wee Will Mullen's twinkling feet
A tattoo on the grass did beat.

A visiting giant from the rear
Set the Newton lad on his ear.

Still undaunted he did it again
For yards and yards, 3 times 10.

And in his wake as he did pass
Eleven Cantabs on the grass.

Four out of four for the other point
Was Huston's toe out of joint?

Ask me?

During the remainder of the game the play hovered near midfield except Cambridge back to the 10-yard line. On one occasion when Newton forced a kick was partially blocked and Lyons recovered for Newton on the Cambridge 38-yard line. The final play of the game Cambridge recovered another blocked kick at midfield.

Col. Sanford E. Thompson Delivers Address Before Cincinnati C. of C.

"Stepping Toward Prosperity" Is Subject Of Local Man And Well Known Engineer

At a meeting of the Cincinnati Chamber of Commerce on Tuesday of this week Sanford E. Thompson of Walnut street, Newton Highlands, delivered an address on "Stepping Toward Prosperity." Col. Thompson can speak with authority not only because of the long and wide experience as a professional engineer, president of The Thompson & Lichtner Co., Inc., which gives him contact with the foremost industrial executives all over the country, but also because of his relations to national activities and his foreign travels. He served as a member of the Hoover Committee on Elimination of Waste in Industry following the Great War and a member of the Economic Advisory Committee of President Harding's unemployment conference. More recently he supervised for his firm of engineers various researches in business economics including the development of a plan for the 20th Century Fund, Inc. He is a member at present of several of the Conferences studying the depression.

Col. Thompson starts off with the bold statement that the turning point in business has arrived provided recent far sighted actions of the president are supplemented by actions of the people leading in the same direction.

He states that the president has struck at the prime cause of the difficulties with a remedy that fits the disease. He says:

"The effect of these actions of the President is two-fold:

"First, they constitute the initiation of practical policies.

"Second, they exert a psychological optimism leading to individual and group action.

"Industry can be affected but slowly. We must maintain public confidence already created by constructive action on our part leading to the same end—a diversion of money into channels which will lead to purchases to be reflected in returning production and employment.

"It is being recognized gradually as the days are passing that while over-expansion in business was an important factor at the beginning of the depression—as it was a factor in the depression ten years ago—the real seat of the difficulty, as has been brought out so effectively by Mr. William T. Foster, has been one of money and finance and this has been the retarding influence in recovery.

"The President has taken the initiative in the formation of the super-banking corporation. He has taken the initiative in the treatment of the real estate and housing situation—a factor only second to the banking plan. He is preparing to tackle the international situation. He has done all of this with the unanimous approval of the business and political leaders of our nation.

"To appreciate the significance of these two statesman-like actions we must recognize the fact that the ultimate outcome of these achievements should lead to a diversion of the main-spring of business—money—into channels leading eventually to an increase in the buying power of the general public.

"But the President cannot produce results alone. The success of this movement must not only upon our banks, although they hold a master-key, but upon the practical acceptance of the principle involved, by our business men, by our men of wealth and, in fact, by every man and woman in the country. It is up to us all to see that surplus money is distributed, and promptly distributed, in a way that will make for increasing purchases, acceleration of production, and more and more employment; in a way, in other words, that will put our idle men to work."

Col. Thompson then proceeds to discuss the fundamental causes of the depression and the basic elements involved in the recovering. He refers to the absurdity, with the needs for goods so apparent and the same people who need them ready to make these goods, of laying the depression either to over-production or over-consumption.

Instead he would lay the chief blame for the continuance of the depression as does Mr. Williams T. Foster of Foster and Catchings to the stagnation and instability of money. At the same time he appreciates the vital importance of planning for business stability. He points out the fact that production is the only source of our wealth and that the reason why the United States is wealthier than the countries of Europe and Asia is its great productive capacity. He says:

"Now let us try to cut out the immaterial elements and see if we can trace the major factors affecting the situation down to a few basic principles.

"In the first place, is Production. The source of our wealth is work. And this is the only source. If Robinson Crusoe, on his island, and with all his natural resources, had not worked, he would have starved. The measure of his prosperity was due

Claims Against City Are Aired

At Hearings Held By Claims And Rules Committee

The Claims and Rules Committee of the Aldermen gave hearings on October 7th to a number of persons who have entered claims against the City of Newton. Nephthi Forte of 76 Webster park, West Newton, and Mrs. Vashti Waters of 111 Webster park ask damages for losses sustained when a valve in a fire hydrant went askew, causing said hydrant to do a hula-hula with the result that the agitation transmitted along the surrounding territory broke water pipes in Mr. Forte's and Mrs. Waters' residences. The hydrant had been opened for flushing purposes and during the temporary absence of the Water Department the valve went wrong and the hydrant did its stuff.

Archie Appleyard of Elgin street, Newton Centre, told the committee of damages to ceilings at his home when Water Department employees were blasting a ledge in the street near his home. Dr. James Lucat, aide of Kent street, Brookline, and Roy Chamberlain of Nobscot road, Newton Centre, asked damages for repairs to their automobiles which went into a depression on Hammond street on the afternoon of August 12. Some days before this date a trench dug by the Water Department had been filled and apparently had set. But, on August 12 a heavy rain caused this trench to sink several inches suddenly with the results that the tires on the two automobiles were spoiled.

Harriet Remick of Institution avenue, Newton Centre, asked damages for injuries received when she fell on a sidewalk on Union street. She was advised that the place on the sidewalk where she fell is not on city property, but is privately owned.

R. F. BABSON ADDRESSES STUDENT MINISTERS

"The time is coming when you as ministers will have to take a stand on the question of profit—that money can be used to build or to destroy."

Roger F. Babson of Babson Institute in Wellesley Hills told the student body of the Andover-Newton Theological School in chapel. "In my humble opinion, what has happened in Russia will happen all over the world and the stand you take will decide whether or not you will be thrown into the discard as the Russian priesthood has," Babson concluded.

He gave an interesting description of the work being done by the Congregational Commission on Church Attendance. To the prospective ministers and directors of religious education Mr. Babson gave his opinion as to four essentials for improving church attendance: 1. Ministers must preach in a language the people in the pews can understand; 2. Church members must prove to be better people in their business and social relations than those who have no connection with the churches; 3. Ministers must try to get back the Christian influence in the Christian home; 4. Make church perform greater social and economic service in the communities.

Mr. Babson was introduced by President Everett C. Herrick as a neighbor and friend of Andover-Newton.

Waban Residents At Wilde Road Hearing

City Asked To Improve Street Conditions There

Residents of Wilde, Alban and Varick roads in Waban came to City Hall on Wednesday evening to discuss the matter of grading and accepting those streets and building a drain to prevent the flooding of Wilde road. This latter street, for the past year or more has been turned into a small pond after every heavy rain and after snow has thawed in the winter months. Part of Wilde road forms a basin which receives the drainage from adjoining streets and land. A couple of years ago a vacant lot near the road, which formerly served as a receptacle for the drainage, was developed and since that time the street has frequently become so flooded that the Engine 1 of the Fire Department has been brought up from Newton Corner on several occasions to pump out the lower part of the road. Cellars have been flooded and last winter a small child broke through ice on the street, while coasting, and was nearly drowned.

The only way the street can be drained is by the construction of a drain which will go down Wilde road, thence along Alban and Varick roads to the Charles River. This drain must go underneath the old Sudbury aqueduct and at one point an excavation 22 feet deep will have to be made. It will be an unusually expensive project and the Aldermen have decided that the cost of the drain should be borne largely by the city as a public improvement. It has been estimated that the city should pay $23,627 as its share towards the cost of building this drain. In conjunction with the construction of this drain, it is proposed to grade, improve and accept, under the Betterment Law, the three roads.

All the residents on Wilde Road, including those who live at the high part of the street, and who have not been affected by the flooding of the road, favor the improvement. Residents on Alban road are opposed to the project. They contend that they should not be assessed to help pay for the draining of Wilde road, and they do not want their street improved. The Wilde road residents argued that much of the water which floods their street, comes from Alban road, and the property owners on that street should bear some share in relieving the intolerable situation there.

CITY EMPLOYEES RETIRED

John J. Murphy of 89 Crafts street, Newtonville, for 34 years employed at the Crafts street stable of the Street Department has been retired on a pension. He has reached the retirement age of 65. John H. Lane of 363 Walnut street, Newton Highlands has also had his application for retirement approved by Mayor Weeks. He is 57 years of age and had been employed at the Eliot street stables of the Street Department for 17 years. He was injured in the performance of duty several years ago and is retired because of disability.

NEWTON YOUTH HAS INFANTILE PARALYSIS

Kenneth P. Lane of West Newton, a student at Colby College, Waterville, Maine, was taken to the college infirmary on Saturday, October 10, ill with infantile paralysis. The youth, who is 19 years of age, had one leg affected, but the college physician stated that he believed the case to be a light one. Word from Waterville on Wednesday stated that Lane had considerably improved.

Confer On Traffic At Newton Corner

Aldermanic Committee Meets With Traffic Expert

On last Wednesday night Lewis E. Moore of Newtonville, who was retained by Mayor Weeks to make recommendations on traffic and parking conditions at Newton Corner, appeared before the Claims and Rules Committee of the Aldermen, by request, and explained his plans. The only new feature presented by Mr. Moore, other than the plans which have been given in detail in previous issues of the GRAPHIC, was the recommendation that Boston bound cars of the Boston Elevated stop to take on passengers on Centre street, about opposite 307, the Newton Corner Men's Shop, instead of in Nonantum Square, where the traffic island is located. Mr. Moore advocates this change because he thinks it would be better for the cars to take on passengers before entering the square. He believes that outbound Elevated cars should continue to stop at the same location as they now stop—in Nonantum Square.

Alderman Powers raised the objection that if the inbound cars stopped at the location proposed by Mr. Moore, Jefferson street would be blocked when 2 or 3 car trains are used, and as Centre street at this point narrows, traffic congestion would result. Ex-Alderman John Madden, who was present as chairman of the Newton Business Associates to study the Newton Corner parking situation, told the committee that the cars should stop in the same place where they now stop, and where they have stopped since the electric car service was started between Newton and Boston. In the wide part of Nonantum Square, Mr. Madden also stated that the Middlesex & Boston buses should continue to stop in front of the Stevens Building. Mr. Moore's recommendation is that these buses wait on Pearl street and make a temporary stop in front of the Stevens Building. Mr. Madden agreed that the buses might wait on Pearl street, but that they should have their regular terminal in front of the Stevens Building, as they now have.

Alderman Grebenstein, chairman of the Traffic Committee of the Aldermen stated that no action will be taken on the parking situation at Newton Corner this year, or on any of the proposed traffic changes.

MORE ALDERMEN ANNOUNCE CANDIDACIES

Benjamin J. Bowen, Alderman-at-Large from Ward 3, will be a candidate for re-election. So will Sydney Holden, Ward Alderman from Ward 6. Edward H. Powers, Ward Alderman from Ward 1, and Fred W. Woodcock, Ward Alderman from Ward 2, each of whom is serving his fourth year in the Board, will not be candidates for re-election.

Auburndale Residents Object To Change Of Land To Business Zone

Many Attend Hearing on Petition Regarding Land At Commonwealth Ave. and Washington St.

A large group of Auburndale residents appeared at City Hall on October 7th to attend the hearing held on the petition of Robert F. Anderson asking that land bounded by Commonwealth avenue, Washington street and Bonnar circle be changed from single residence to business zone. James P. Gallagher represented the petitioner and told the members of the Claims and Rules Committee of the Aldermen, before whom the hearing was held, the lot at the corner of Washington street and Commonwealth avenue is unfit for residential purposes because of the large amount of automobile traffic which passes this intersection day and night. He argued that to continue this lot in its present zoning amounts almost to confiscation. He stated that there seems to be some apprehension that a gasoline filling station is planned on the site in question, but his client had told him that a business block would be erected on the lot. Mr. Gallagher stated that the owners of a two-family house on Commonwealth avenue, located next to the lot which is owned by Anderson, favor the zoning change.

Alderman Smith of Auburndale asked Mr. Gallagher if the owners of this two-family house had not been assured that a filling station would be built on the Anderson lot if the zoning change were made, and had favored the change on the supposition that the corner would be kept open through the establishment of a filling station there. Gallagher replied by asking Smith if he was intimating that the signatures had been obtained through misrepresentation. The Ward 4 Alderman answered that he had been told by a friend of the party interested in having the zone changed that the persons owning the two-family house had been informed the intent is to build a filling station on the corner.

George N. Goddard of 132 Windemere rd. objected strongly to the proposed change. He said such a petition concerns every property owner in the city. The zoning ordinance had been adopted to assure people in Newton that the residential nature of neighborhoods shall not be changed by the intrusion of small blocks of stores and filling stations. The city must act in good faith and not allow this neighborhood to be impaired. Mr. Goddard stated that a number of attractive residences have been erected in this section the past few years and it would be unfair to change the character of the whole neighborhood to allow one person to make some private gain. He characterized the petition as an attempt to defeat the zoning ordinance and he asserted that if the ordinance is not worth anything it ought to be repealed. He said that everyone on Windemere and Woodland roads is opposed to the change and he called attention to the fact that one of the two stores in the business block on the opposite corner of Washington street and Commonwealth avenue is vacant. This is evidence there is no local demand for stores in the neighborhood. The change would lower property values in the neighborhood. Mr. Goddard argued that the statement made by the attorney for the petitioner that "the corner isn't a proper place for a residence" does not correctly represent fact, as there are attractive residences on both sides of Commonwealth avenue and Washington street, adjoining.

Guy Winslow agreed with the remarks made by Mr. Goddard. He said he did not appear to make a personal objection or to represent Lasell Seminary, but in behalf of persons whose properties would be affected adversely. Several other residents of the district voiced their objections and on a showing of hands over 30 persons manifested their protest against the proposed change. Bennett Rockman of Newton Centre, who is interested in the business development of the corner in question, was an interested spectator.

FATAL AUTOMOBILE ACCIDENT AT NEWTON HIGHLANDS

John J. Curley, 36, of 39 Cedar street, Framingham, was fatally injured early Sunday morning when the car he was driving crashed into a hydrant near Beacon and Walnut streets, Newton Highlands, and then struck a tree. The police were called and Curley was taken to the Newton Hospital. He died at 7:30 Tuesday night as a result of the injuries he received. Curley lost control of the car when he fell asleep at the wheel.

Privacy for Your Affairs

A woman read my advertisement which appeared last year in the Symphony Program suggesting the retention of part of her funds in the savings bank for emergency and the investment of part in a Life Annuity. This, at her age, would give her 50% more income and the CERTAINTY that her income would never fail.

She called at my office and stated her personal situation. She learned of the various kinds of Annuities. She did not give her name, nor was it asked for. Later, she telephoned for further details, then she telephoned for an appointment.

After considering the several kinds of Annuities, she selected the form best suited for her needs. It was all done HER way.

HOOD Trained Inspectors Instruct our Farmers on the care of Fine Cows and the Technique of Grade A Milk Production

From the selecting of farms, choice of cows, tuberculosis testing to assure their physical qualifications, direct personal supervision of feeding, care and housing, and the final laboratory tests, we know that Hood's Grade A herds represent the best in New England's Dairying industry. They are the equal of any in the world.

Our inspectors are up to the minute in every feature of modern sanitary dairying. They share the knowledge of America's leading scientific authority by whom they are instructed and guided... They keep the Hood standards higher than any law requires. They spread the gospel of clean, rich, fine quality milk with greater effectiveness than any other known agency.

Hood's is a New England Institution, founded by the same family that now operates it. In 85 years it has grown from a single wagon to the largest concern of its kind in New England, and it is still growing.

ROTARY CLUB

The Newton Rotary Club held a joint meeting with the Belmont Rotary Club on Wednesday of this week at the parish house of the All Saints Episcopal Church in Belmont. Columbus Day, coming on Monday, prevented the regular meeting of the local service club at the Woodland Golf Club on that day. Dana M. Wood of Belmont, a civil engineer connected with the Stone and Webster Corporation, was the guest speaker. His subject was "How to Make Water Power Pay." He dealt with what might well have been a highly technical subject in simple language, likening it to any commercial enterprise. Taking three questions into consideration, the market, the development and the running of the completed project, he touched briefly upon the various factors to be considered in each step.

Vice-president Walter L. McCammon in the absence of President Frank L. Richardson announced the election of William T. Halliday as honorary president of the Newton Rotary Club. Mr. Halliday recently resigned from the Newton organization upon transfer of his business to Hingham. He was the organizer and first president of the local club.

COLLEGE NOTES

Dr. and Mrs. Thompson of Newton Highlands, Mr. Lewis of Newtonville, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest A. Dearing, Mr. and Mrs. Everett A. Greene of Newton Centre, Mr. and Mrs. Harry W. Bauckman of Newton, Mr. and Mrs. William Arthur Wheeler of Waban were among the recent guests at Colby Junior College for Parents' Weekend, October 10-12. Miss Martha Thompson and Miss Dorothy Rising, former Colby students, were also visitors. Miss Edith Wheeler and Miss Catherine Thompson played in the hockey game held Monday morning, and Miss Doris Bauckman is also active in hockey.

A student recital was given in the Colby chapel on Sunday afternoon and included three selections from the Glee Club, led by Miss Marion Ruth McCormick. The chorus has been the study of the "Messiah" which is to be sung with Boston University at Colby, December 12th. All are urged to come, Newton friends, especially since there are so many Newton girls in the chorus. Miss Florence Greene gave two trumpet solos at the recital—"One Fleeting Hour," and "Gypsy Love Song." Miss Catherine Thompson played two violin duets with Miss Ruth Shields of St. Johnsbury. Miss Thompson and Miss Greene played in the Colby orchestra.

Miss Rasma Breikters, a graduate of Newton Seminary and now teaching at Clark University, Worcester, spoke at the chapel service last Wednesday. She gave an extremely interesting talk, dressed in her native costume of her country, Latvia.

AMERICAN WAR MOTHERS

Mrs. Corabelle G. Francis of Pembroke street, Newton, attended the 6th Biennial National Convention of "American War Mothers" at Long Beach, California, Sept. 27th to Oct. 2nd, where about 400 mother delegates assembled. Among the honors bestowed on Massachusetts was the election of Mrs. Francis as a member of The National Advisory Board, one of whose duties will be in connection with the newly purchased National Headquarters near Dupont Circle in Washington, D. C. The War Mothers are associated with the D. A. R. and American Legion Auxiliary in presiding at the National Defense Conference held in Washington, D. C., in January last year.

Mrs. Francis is remaining to visit relatives in Long Beach and Hollywood, returning with a stop at Grand Canyon and Taos, Arizona, and at Louisville, Kentucky, to visit her brother, Dr. Gable, expecting to reach home in time to preside at the annual meeting of the Boston Chapter, American War Mothers, to be held at Faneuil Hall Friday, October 30th, and at the quarterly conference of the Massachusetts State Chapter to be held Saturday, Oct. 31st, at the Food Craft Shop, 234 Boylston street, Boston.

GIRL SCOUTS

Troop Committee Chairmen, Leaders, and girls did their share of Community Service work this summer in contributing flowers to the Newton Hospital. These flowers were taken there twice a week from the last of June through September.

In some cases the Scouts were allowed to distribute the flowers in the various wards themselves, which pleased them very much. The Nonantum girls were taken on a tour of inspection through the hospital and they were most interested.

Each village was represented in the giving, and from the hospital's point of view as well as the Scouts', it was very successful.

Troop 11, of Newton Highlands, is having Registration Day the 19th of this month. This troop, which began in 1923, was the first troop in Newton Highlands. A review of the history of Girl Scouting in Newton Highlands will be given at this meeting.

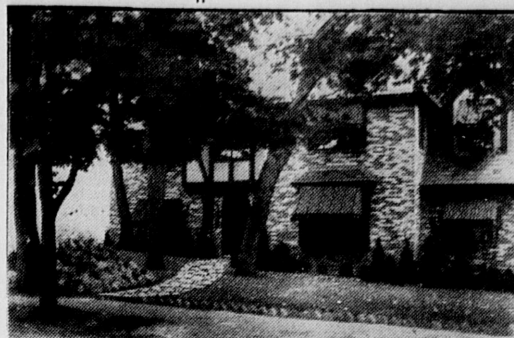

Troop 2 of Newton has divided into two troops—Troop 2 and Troop 32. Troop 2 is now made up of girls in the fifth and sixth grades of school. Girls in the seventh and eighth grades make up Troop 32.

ENTERTAINS AT TEA

Mrs. William Wrigley of Cabot street entertained at tea, last Friday afternoon, the Newton group of the women of the Rotary Club of Boston. Plans were made for the grab-bag, which is in charge of these ladies, at the bazaar and bridge given by the women of the Boston Rotary Club in the ball room of the Hotel Statler on the afternoon of Nov. 18th. Proceeds of the bazaar will be used for scholarships and other philanthropic work in greater Boston.

OPEN FOR INSPECTION

Directions: From Beacon Street, turn LEFT into Centre Street to Cushing Street, turn RIGHT to Allerton Road.

You have day-dreamed about a house like this and probably planned to have it... SOMETIME. We have saved you the bother of poring over architect's plans and worrying about details and have created a home that will charm the most discriminating and most critical home buyer. You see, it was planned by a woman, who made it a home-maker's Paradise omitting no detail for comfort, for beauty and for efficiency.

A flagstone walk winds its way thru a lovely rock garden to the stately iron-strapped oaken door of this lovely skintiled brick, stucco and hand-hewn timber home that in architectural beauty echoes Shakespeare's England. Hollywood chimes announce the arrival of a visitor.

The studio living room with its massive, log-burning fireplace, "steps down" from the spacious entrance foyer; opens into a library and out to an open flagstone porch. A wrought iron balcony overhangs the living room, creating architectural interest, both for the room it adorns and for the graceful, iron-railed spiral staircase, visible through an arcade. A well planned dining room, breakfast room with draw table and spindle chairs, a maid's room and bath and a tiled kitchen surrounded by convenient cupboards and complete even to a Telechron clock in a wall niche are other features of the 1st floor plan.

On the 2nd floor, the master suite... bedroom, boudoir with wall safe and Peach tiled bath with modernistic fixtures and stall shower, is completely isolated from the 3 other large bedrooms and a second tiled bath.

In the basement there is a Spanish room with a log-burning fieldstone fireplace; a well equipped laundry, cold closet for preserves and lavatory.

The house is insulated throughout with rock wool to conserve fuel in winter and keep it cool in summer. The walls on the 1st floor are paneled Craftex; on the 2nd floor, the best imported wallpapers. The floors are of the best quartered oak with black walnut parquet. A Silent Automatic Oil Burner and plenty of concealed radiation insure satisfactory heat. The roof is slate; the conductors copper, and there are Fenestry steel casement windows, copper screens, awnings and a variety of hardy evergreen shrubs. A 2-car garage conforms architecturally with the house.

BRODRICK-built homes are usually sold before they are completed, proving that home seekers appreciate intelligent planning; perfect construction; excellent location and a price that is reasonable instead of inflated.

We invite you to drive out and inspect this home at your leisure. Builder on the premises until 10 P. M.

At the annual meeting, which preceded the dinner, Hon. J. Weston Allen was elected president, Hon. Sinclair Weeks and J. Henry MacCammon vice presidents, Richard Cunningham secretary, and Hon. Edwin O. Childs treasurer. The association expressed its regret that F. G. L. Henderson resigned the office of treasurer on account of illness.

FASHION SHOW AND BRIDGE

A very successful affair was attended by a representative group of the Newtons and Wellesley on Tuesday afternoon, October 13th, at the Brae Burn Country Club by the Newton Hospital Aid Association. Through the courtesy of R. H. Stearns, a fashion show displaying the latest fall and winter models in sport, afternoon, and evening clothes was staged by twelve attractive young women from the R. H. Stearns Company. Mrs. Alice Kimball of Newton Centre was accompanist for the fashion show. Bridge followed and was participated in by those attending the fashion show. Table souvenirs were donated by Mathew Ruane, florist. Candy was sold with Mrs. Frank A. Day, Jr., as chairman, assisted by a score of young ladies. Flowers from William Holbrook, florist, were also sold. The affair was in charge of Mrs. George H. Talbot, assisted by Mrs. Pitt F. Drew.

ZONTA CLUB

The first regular meeting of the Newton Zonta Club was held on Monday, October 5, at the Noetzel Studio, 825 Beacon street, Newton Centre. The President, Miss Marion Fuller, presided. Before the business meeting, a most tempting dinner was served by the Program Committee. The reports of the various committees showed well organized plans for the winter's activities and a very worthwhile program. After the business meeting each member told interesting incidents which came within her experience since the June meeting. A lively auctioning of a mystery box added $250 to the treasury for the Service Fund. The mystery proved to be a big loaf of Angel Cake.

The President, Miss Fuller, was the Newton delegate to the Regional Conference held at Springfield on October 10 and 11, when about 200 Zontians met in stimulating gatherings. The next dinner meeting of the club will be held on October 20, at the Piped Piper in Newton. Dr. Frederick M. Lowe is to talk to the members.

WOMEN'S CLUB ACTIVITIES

Monday Club

The Monday Club of Newton Highlands is tendering a reception in honor of Mrs. George G. Phipps on her ninetieth birthday, in the Ladies' Parlor of the Newton Highlands Congregational Church, on October 19, from 3 to 5 o'clock. The Monday Club was organized by Mrs. Phipps in 1886. All of Mrs. Phipps' friends are cordially invited to this reception.

Waban Woman's Club

On Monday, October 19, at 2 o'clock, the Pivot Bridge for the benefit of the Philanthropic Fund of the Waban Woman's Club will be held at the Neighborhood Club House, Mrs. A. A. Pollan and Mrs. L. W. Minchin, chairmen in charge of the arrangements for this affair, plan a delightful social afternoon for all.

The Club considers itself fortunate in securing again Miss Eunice Avery for a series of Current Event lectures, the first of which will be given at 10:15 o'clock, on Thursday morning, October 29, in the Vestry of the Church of the Good Shepherd.

The first regular meeting of the Club will be held at the Club House on Monday, November 2, at 2:30 p. m.

A new and interesting feature which the Waban Woman's Club is sponsoring this year for the first time is the series of Junior Entertainments to be given at the Albert Angier School at 10:15 o'clock on four Saturday mornings during the winter. On November 21, under the chairmanship of Mrs. Edward H. Woods, Mr. J. Warren Keane, a wonder-worker magician and entertainer, will interest all ages with many new tricks. Dec. 12, Mrs. Harry J. Klotz, chairman, presents a program attractively entitled "Gypsy Josephine," at which Josephine Perkins, who is "Anne Bradford" over the radio, will reveal the wonders of Fairyland through original stories and fantastical pictures in the mystic new "Black Light." On January 16, Mrs. Richmond K. Fletcher, chairman, will present Dr. John B. May, Massachusetts State Ornithologist and widely-known naturalist, who will give a beautifully illustrated talk on "Wild Life in our Western Parks," and on February 13, Mrs. George M. Sneath, chairman, will present Mr. Norman Vaughn, an explorer, mariner and much-sought-after lecturer and who had charge of the dogs on the Byrd Expedition, who will tell of many thrilling adventures on his trip to the South Pole with Richard Byrd.

The Community Service Club of West Newton opens an interesting season for 1931-1932 on Wednesday afternoon, October 21, in the Unitarian Parish House at 2:30 p. m. The speaker, Mrs. Grafton Abbott, has for her subject, "Understanding Ourselves." Mrs. Abbott has done interesting work at the Judge Baker Foundation and is educational secretary of the Florence Crittenton League. She is considered a forceful speaker and the Club is assured of an interesting afternoon.

The Community Service Club takes great pleasure in announcing that it will sponsor an "Evening of Monologues," by Cornelia Otis Skinner, on October 30 at 8:15 p. m., at the Newton High School Auditorium, for the benefit of the Philanthropic work of the Club. The Club members feel that it is a privilege to have Miss Skinner for an evening in Newton. A generous response will make it possible to give liberally this winter to needy causes in Newton. Mrs. A. Shirley Ladd and Mrs. Leslie P. Phinney, of Berkeley street, have charge of the tickets.

Mrs. Thomas Weston is beginning her second year as president of the Community Service Club.

Monday night, October 19, is the date on which the Newton Upper Falls Woman's Club will hold its second meeting of the year. Madame I. C. Tounanoff will speak on "My Experiences in Russia."

Madame Tounanoff has spoken in Upper Falls before and the Club is anticipating a most entertaining, as well as instructive, evening.

Mrs. Ross Folger will be the chairman in charge of the evening.

Another forthcoming event of interest is the Silver Tea, for which Mrs. Walter J. Billings will be hostess, on October 29, at 2 o'clock, at her home, 19 Indiana terrace. Miss Marion Bassett, of the Emerson School, will speak on "My Trip Abroad." A silver collection will be taken. All interested friends as well as Club members are invited to attend.

Auburndale Review Club

On October 20 the Auburndale Review Club will meet at the home of Mrs. Charles S. Crozier of 38 Vista avenue. Miss Larimer will give a talk on "The One-thousandth Anniversary of the Convening of Iceland's Parliament." "The Ring of the Lowen-shields," by Selma Lagerlof, and Icelandic Poetry are the books to be reviewed for the day.

Newtonville Woman's Club

The Annual Reception of the Newtonville Woman's Club which each year formally opens the activities for the current Club season, will take place this year on the afternoon of Tuesday, October 20, from 2 until 5 o'clock, at the home of Mrs. Mervin S. Giles of 243 Waltham street.

A program of music, including selections on the xylophone by Robert Mulliken, accompanied by Mrs. Mulliken, has been arranged by the Music committee, of which Mrs. William H. Fish is chairman. Mrs. Albert D. Auryanssen and Mrs. James B. Bennett will preside at the tea table. Mrs. A. William Krause and the members of the Social committee have supervised the arrangements for the tea.

Receiving with Mrs. Herbert Blair, president, and Mrs. Mervin S. Giles, will be Mrs. Robert Kelley and Mrs. Royal T. Lapham.

The first Glee Club rehearsal will be held at Miss Dorothy Curtis' studio, 297 Walnut street, on Wednesday morning, October 21, at 9:45 o'clock. All singers are cordially welcome. Being a trained singer is not a requisite for membership in the Glee Club; it is for anyone who enjoys and is interested in singing. Mrs. Clinton W. Kyle, whose telephone is W. N. 2755, will gladly give any further information concerning details.

One of the most worthy projects in which the Club is privileged to participate each year is aiding financially a girl graduate of the Newton High School who desires to continue her education in higher institutions of learning. This gift of the Club is known as the Scholarship Fund, and for several years girls have been able because of this assistance to enter college, Normal School or to continue their studies in their chosen profession.

This Fund must be added to continually, and it has been the especial endeavor of the Education committee, which has this project in charge, to offer (occasionally) opportunities to Club members and to their friends to assist in maintaining this Fund and to help such a worthwhile cause.

This year the Education committee plans to give a Bridge Party, the proceeds of which will be added to the Scholarship Fund. No efforts are being spared to make this a successful event and the members of the committee urge the co-operation of every Club member in buying tickets and in attending, so that the Bridge Party may be a success financially and socially.

The party is to be held on Friday, October 23, at 2 p. m. at Masonic Hall. Mrs. Roger Wheeler, the chairman in charge of arrangements, will be pleased to supply anyone with tickets, if she is called at N. N. 1337-J, the price of the tickets being $1.00.

Newton Highlands Woman's Club

October 20, at 8 p. m., in the Congregational Parish House members and guests of the Newton Highlands Woman's Club will welcome with pleasure Miss Eunice Harriet Avery. "From the Pyrenees to the Home of the Barbary Pirates" will be Miss Avery's outline of her eleven spring trip.

A musical program will be given by Mrs. Kenneth J. Waite, soloist.

On October 23, at 2:30 p. m., in the Club Workshop the Dramatics committee has its first meeting and tea, to which all members of the Club are invited.

Community Service Club of West Newton

The Community Service Club of West Newton opens an interesting season for 1931-1932 on Wednesday afternoon, October 21, in the Unitarian Parish House at 2:30 p. m. The speaker, Mrs. Grafton Abbott, has for her subject, "Understanding Ourselves." Mrs. Abbott has done interesting work at the Judge Baker Foundation and is educational secretary of the Florence Crittenton League. She is considered a forceful speaker and the Club is assured of an interesting afternoon.

The Community Service Club takes great pleasure in announcing that it will sponsor an "Evening of Monologues," by Cornelia Otis Skinner, on October 30 at 8:15 p. m., at the Newton High School Auditorium, for the benefit of the Philanthropic work of the Club. The Club members feel that it is a privilege to have Miss Skinner for an evening in Newton. A generous response will make it possible to give liberally this winter to needy causes in Newton. Mrs. A. Shirley Ladd and Mrs. Leslie P. Phinney, of Berkeley street, have charge of the tickets.

Mrs. Thomas Weston is beginning her second year as president of the Community Service Club.

Newton Community Club

The second meeting of the Newton Community Club will be held on Thursday, October 22, at 2:30 o'clock, in the Underwood School Hall.

The speaker of the afternoon will be Mr. Walter Pritchard Eaton, who will give a talk on "A Yankee's Adventures in New England." Mr. Eaton is a member of the faculty of the Cambridge School of Drama, and an author of note. His writings include "The Actor's Heritage," "The Drama in English," "In Berkshire Fields," "New England Vista," and a number of books for Boy Scouts. He was formerly dramatic critic on the New York Sun, and instructor in the School of Journalism at Columbia University. He is a member of the National Institute of Arts and Letters and is a much-sought lecturer.

There will be a musical program arranged by the Music chairman Mrs. Peter Turchon, and also an art exhibit, presented by the Art chairman, Mrs. Albert W. Walker, when Mrs. Edward Payson Drew will display some beautiful Chinese linen. These linens will be for sale and the proceeds will go to the Chinese flood sufferers.

Newton Centre Woman's Club

Mrs. John F. Capron, the new president of the Newton Centre Woman's Club, will preside at the first meeting on Friday, October 23. This meeting will begin promptly at 2 p. m. In order that the necessary business may be transacted before the program begins at 3 p. m., this will be the only meeting of the year when members who have Newton Centre friends, interested in the Club, may bring them as guests. Guest tickets will be fifty cents. Members should take full advantage of this unusual opportunity which only comes once a year.

A delightful musical program has been arranged by Mrs. M. H. Gulesian, chairman of the Music committee. Miss Josephine Sabino, coloratura Soprano, one of the assisting artists, has studied abroad extensively and made her operatic debut in Italy as Gilda in "Rigoletto." Mrs. Anna Golden, a member of the Club, who will also appear on the program, is a well known violinist in Boston. Mrs. Golden is the viola player in the Dur-enth String Quartette and the Seventeenth Century Ensemble, which have given many concerts and achieved great success. Mrs. Gulesian herself, will play, and she needs no introduction to Newton Centre or to Boston audiences, as her work as a composer-pianist is well known. ### RECENT EVENTS

Shakespeare Club

Mrs. Mary C. Blakemore, an experienced president of the Shakespeare Club, entertained the members socially on Friday evening, October 2, at the home of Mrs. Daniel MacFarlane, of 21 Aberdeen street.

A very delightful evening was passed, the ladies relating how and where their vacations were spent, and Mrs. Blakemore read in her usual scholarly manner a very interesting article, "A Great Shakespeare Discovery," by Leslie Hatson, which was appreciated and enjoyed by all.

Delicious refreshments were served by Mrs. Blakemore, assisted by Mrs. MacFarlane and Mrs. Mitchell. All agreed that this "Get-together Meeting" before the regular study of the Club was a very happy thought of the hostess and proved most successful.

Newton Community Club

The first meeting of the Newton Community Club was held on Thursday, October 8, in Underwood School Hall. Mrs. Daniel M. Goodridge, the new president, was in the chair. Members and guests were asked to stand for the salute to the flag.

This will give the members a new book to read every week for approximately twenty weeks. Any one wishing to join should advise the chairman, Mrs. Ralph Bischoff, Newton North 0488. All applications with remittance must be received before November 4.

The English Folk Dance Society, of Boston, wishes to announce the opening of a class in Newton soon. Those who are interested are asked to call Mrs. Margaret W. Tyler, Newton North 7215, for further particulars.

Due to a cablegram from Arthur Fiedler, on Monday, the musical program which had been planned for the day was somewhat altered. At almost the last moment, Mrs. Peter Turchon, chairman of the Music committee, was fortunate in securing the assistance of Jesus Maria Sanroma, Pianist, of the Boston Symphony Orchestra. The afternoon's program was most enjoyable. Mr. Sanroma was assisted by R. Gunderson, Violinist, J. Langendon, Cellist, and Leo Litwin, accompanist.

A beautiful exhibit of tooled leather work was shown by Miss Harriet Murray. Miss Murray is in hopes of having a class started about the middle of October.

At the close of the musical program, Mrs. Goodhue invited all members and their guests to gather about the tea table.

Newton Centre Junior Woman's Club

At the Executive Committee meeting of the Junior Woman's Club, held on October 8, Miss Kathleen Fuller's resignation as president was accepted with regret, and Miss Dorothy Gould was elected to fill her place, with Miss Phoebe Coombs as vice-president. The first regular meeting of the year was held at 3 P. M. in the Clubhouse, on Wednesday, October 14. Miss Marjorie Gould and her committee had charge of refreshments. Mrs. Florence Wood Russell was present and helped to organize a chorus for the Junior Club. They are planning to give two evening musical performances later in the year. Miss Marjorie McKain, of Macmillan Company, took for her subject "What's New in Books?" and spoke of several which are of particular interest at the present time, among them "Companions of the Trail," "Mexico," by Stuart Chase, and "Gandhi at Work." She also spoke of the importance of good reading for children, and mentioned among others "The Farmer in the Dell," "Calico Bush," and "The Cat which went to Heaven."

NEWTON ARCHERS IN HOLIDAY SHOOT

A new record as to attendance was established as seventy-two archers met on the archery field of the Newton Archers in Newton Centre on the holiday Monday. Stretched along the range were twenty targets and had it not been for the cold wind the scores might have been a lot more interesting.

Dr. Paul W. Crouch of Newton Centre retained for the sixth time the championship by setting up a handsome lead over the forty-three men archers in the York round in the morning's shoot to gather the largest score for first place honors for the day. Mrs. H. A. Hooker of Springfield was easily the outstanding woman archer, securing first place both in the national and amateur rounds. However, the championship cup went to a member of the local club, who took second place, Miss Stella M. Ives of Roslindale.

The Cummings' Handicap Cup for the seniors went to P. T. Kelley of Quincy, and for the juniors to C. Winthrop Andrews of Waltham. The Hodgdon Cup for the best season's American round score was awarded to W. Chester Shedd of Waltham with 555. The junior was won by Blaine Eaton of Springfield over Eugene C. Heilbocker of Bristol, R. I., this year's EAA junior champion.

Bankart At Dartmouth

The name of Bankart is a famous one in Dartmouth football history. Now the Green team has another Bankart numbered among its students in "Reggie" Bankart, son of "Reggie" Bankart, one of the trio of brothers that were prominent athletically a generation ago. The younger Bankart was a member of the Newton high varsity team two years ago and this season is an end on the freshman team. He should be a welcome addition to varsity athletics during the next few years. The Green yearlings whipped Tilton school last Saturday 35 to 0.

Side By Side For Tufts

Two former Newton high athletes are playing side by side in the Tufts line. Romaine Cole, ex-Newton captain, started the game with Colby last Saturday at right end. Gordon Linberg went in as first reserve right tackle. In practice this week Linberg was in the first string line-up and has probably clinched the position. Cole played well in the 21 to 6 victory over Colby to hold his grip as a regular wing.

Country Day Loses

Country Day School lost to Thayer Academy last week Friday at Cabot Field in the opening tilt for the victors. It was the local private school's first defeat in three games. The visitors scored in the second and final periods and Country Day in the third session to make the final score 12 to 7. Intercepting a Country Day lateral brought Thayer its first score on a 40-yard romp by Walker. The Newton eleven tied it up in the next period with forward passes putting the ball in position for Jenkins to plunge over. A Waldinger to Jenkins pass scored the point and put the home team one point up. Thayer took to the air in the final session to reach the four yard line and Cushing crashed over for the winning points.

A horse drawing a wagon owned by the H. P. Hood Milk Company became frightened on Watertown street, Newtonville, yesterday morning and ran along the street, avoiding a group of children when it turned onto the lawn of John J. ## SCHEINFELDS FOUND NOT GUILTY

Alfred Scheinfeld, 33, and Everett Scheinfeld, 20, of 41 Washington St., Newton, were found not guilty yesterday in the Superior Court at East Cambridge on the charge of being accessories before the fact in the burning of a building. On the night of June 23rd fire was discovered in the Scheinfeld residence by a passer-by and an alarm given. When the firemen arrived they found two fires burning in different parts of the building. Alfred Scheinfeld was in New York on the night of the fire and Everett Scheinfeld was in Boston with a man employed at the house. The State Fire Marshal's office started to investigate the fire and a couple of weeks ago indictments were issued against the Scheinfeld brothers on the charge above stated. In the Superior Court yesterday Judge Gibbs ordered the jury to return verdicts of "not guilty" because of lack of evidence against the defendants.

WOMEN'S CLUBS

State Federation

RADIO. "What is the Matter with Mother?" is the amusing, not to say amazing, title of the broadcast by Mrs. Carl W. Illig, State chairman of Public Health, for the State Federation half-hour on Saturday, October 17, at 11:30 A.M. From Station WJZ, Miss of Literature, will speak on "Developing a Taste for Good Reading." An interlude will be contributed by Eileen Grogan, Irish contralto, accompanied by Elizabeth Loomis.

For the radio program of Saturday, the 24th, at the same hour and from the same station, Miss Marian C. Nichols, chairman of the Division of Citizenship Training and Civil Service, will speak most opportunely on "Registration and Voting, Reasons For." Mrs. Ray C. Baker, chairman of the State Division of Art, will also broadcast, having for her subject, "Art and the Community." Raymond Coon will give piano numbers.

MOTHERCRAFT. It is a cause for congratulation to Mrs. Kimball to learn that permanent recognition of the part that Mothercraft is playing in present-day education has come to its founder (Mrs. May Dickinson Kimball) in the acceptance of a Mothercraft exhibit by the Deutsches Hygiene Museum of Dresden, Germany. This museum, opened in May, 1930, together with the International Hygiene Exhibit, is world-renowned, having been visited already by five million people.

Dr. Vogel, representing the Museum, joyfully accepts the gift exhibit by the Division of Mothercraft of the Massachusetts Federation of Women's Clubs, of which Mrs. Kimball is chairman. The Museum contains a special "Mother School", pertaining to the care of children, and here it is expected that the Mothercraft exhibit will find permanent place.

The presentation has been arranged through the courtesy of Carl L. Schrader, Director of Hygiene of the State Department of Public Health, who personally visited Dr. Vogel in Dresden a few years ago.

"The gift of Mrs. Kimball is the more welcome," writes Dr. Vogel, "since the present economic situation is pressing upon us heavily. Our labor, carried on with so much love and enthusiasm, is threatened to break down under the existing conditions of things. The more we are anxious to lift into view the idealistic side of our endeavor, which has gone far beyond the boundaries of our own country."

General Federation

INTERNATIONAL RELATIONS. Newton Clubwomen will soon learn of the great work undertaken by the Department of International Relations of the General Federation of Women's Clubs, in the matters of Disarmament and of the World Court. Petitions are being circulated for the Twelfth District, which includes Newton, under the direction of Mrs. Charles E. Valentine, 362 Wolcott street, Auburndale, who is a member of the State Department of International Relations.

This is by far the most important and far-reaching project yet sponsored by the General Federation, which is working strenuously to secure one million signatures for these world-wide safeguards. The Massachusetts quota is from 25,000 to 30,000, and the plea is for the more thickly settled localities to get as many signatures as possible regardless of geographical location to help the Clubs in more thinly-populated sections.

At the Biennial Convention of the General Federation last May two resolutions were unanimously adopted which make possible this project that should stand as a living testimony for all time for the ideals, courage and strength of women as peace-makers of the world. Mrs. Ben Hooper, National chairman of the International Relations Department, has issued a statement, with these two petitions, that adequately and sincerely explains and appeals. Neither the question of Disarmament nor that of the World Court is a partisan one. Each affects the whole country and the whole world. The only hope for the success of the coming Disarmament Conference to be held in Geneva in 1932, is through an informed and expressed public opinion. Realizing this, the National committee on the Cause and Cure of War has undertaken to secure active expression of public opinion by two petitions—one to the International Disarmament Conference to be held at Geneva, and one to the Members of the United States Senate asking favorable action upon the protocols submitted to the Senate by the President on December 10, 1930. The General Federation of Women's Clubs is one of the largest organizations claiming membership with this National Committee. Copies of these petitions for signature among Newton Clubs may be obtained from Mrs. Valentine. They must be returned to the General Federation at Washington, D. C. before December 1, 1931.

The Petition to the International Disarmament Conference at Seattle, at Geneva, 1932) From the Women of the United States of America, reads as follows:

"We, the undersigned women of the United States, hereby petition the International Disarmament Conference to gratify the expectations and hopes of the world by putting into immediate and unhesitating effect the pledges already made for the reduction of national armaments. The Allies and Associates pledged world disarmament to their adversaries; the Covenant of the League of Nations promised it; great nations have solemnly agreed that international disputes shall be settled by peaceful methods without resort to war; and, lastly, through the Briand-Kellogg Pact, war has been renounced.

"Clearly, the next step is the bold reduction of every variety of armament. To do less would violate treaty obligations, awaken suspicion and incite fresh war talk. The assurances of peace will become invincible when the reduction of armament to which we plead has been secured. Wars will cease when governments so resolve."

The Petition to the Members of the United States Senate for the women of the United States of America in regard to the World Court, reads:

"We, the undersigned citizens of the United States, believing that our Government should join the World Court at the earliest practicable time, do hereby petition the Senate Committee on Foreign Relations to take favorable action promptly on the three World Court protocols submitted to the President on December 10, 1930; and we further petition the Senate of the United States to approve the said Protocols as soon as presented to them."

After reading the splendid statements of President Hoover and of Mrs. Hooper on these questions, it will be a matter of not only civic but moral pride for the women of Newton to subscribe to these petitions. There is only a short time for this work and Clubs should obtain, through their chairmen of committees, copies of these petitions for circulation at once.

Mrs. Hooper says: "This is our great opportunity to rally to the support of our country in its great efforts to secure permanent peace. If you are interested in your children and children's children, you will leave nothing undone to secure the ratification of our entrance into the World Court and for the success of the Disarmament Conference. Such an opportunity may never come to us again."

"If we are good citizens we will give an enthusiastic support to our Government in its efforts to prevent war as we did in the efforts made to win the last war."

"We are on trial before the world. If we succeed the world will know we are a strong, virile organization, with power and willingness to undertake and carry out any piece of work, no matter how difficult, if it will be for the benefit of humanity."

President Hoover stated before the International Chamber of Commerce: "The surest and quickest way to restore prosperity to a financially stricken world would be to lighten the burden of national defense which is now costing the nations more than five billions of dollars a year. Of all proposals for the economic rehabilitation of the world I know of none which compares in necessity or importance with the successful results of the Disarmament Conference."

Lord Cecil says: "If there is another war can civilization survive? I doubt it. There are the alternatives, peace or war; misery or prosperity; chaos or civilization; it is for us to choose."

PRIZE CONTESTS. There are various intriguing contests, with prizes, offered in the fields of art and literature by the General Federation for the season 1931-1932. The Department of Fine Arts, under direction of Mrs. W. N. Harder, chairman, announces a contest in "Community Festivals" or other Fine Arts project, offering a first prize of $50 and a second prize of $25. In addition the Art Division, through Mrs. Howard Green, chairman, offers a framed etching of an Arizona scene by George Elbert Burr, for the best contribution in Art, by any State entering the contest.

The Literature Division, Mrs. H. C. McCahan chairman, offers a prize of $25 for the best work representing Literature.

The Music Division, Mrs. H. S. Godfrey, chairman, offers a prize of $25 for the best contribution in Music. Contests are open to every State and are to be conducted through the Fine Arts Chairman of the State, each Club or Federation submitting its report to the State chairman, who will select the winning report for her State and forward it to Mrs. Harder, with an entry fee of one dollar accompanying each such State report. Activities to be considered for the prize must take place between June 1, 1931, and May 1, 1932.

In the Community Festival contest reports are to be limited to 1,000 words, clearly written (typing preferred) on one side of paper. With each report—in a separate envelope which shall not be opened until after the awards have been made—must be filed the name of the Club and name of State. Every effort toward enriching community life through the Fine Arts may be considered, such as establishing libraries; gifts of pictures, statuary or books to schools and libraries; music memory and picture memory contests for children; community chorus work; landscape beautifying of school grounds, parks, etc., and contests in handicraft and art.

It is the purpose of the contest to encourage latent talent, always remembering the contributions of our foreign born citizens. The Judges are Mrs. Grace Morrison Poole, first vice-president of the General Federation; Mrs. Edward MacDowell of the MacDowell Colony at Peterborough, N. H.; and Mrs. L. A. Miller, Poet Laureate of Colorado. The prize winning reports will be read at the National Convention at Seattle, Washington, in June, 1932, and prizes awarded to the successful States. These reports will also be carried in the pages of the official magazine.

against Unemployment The man or woman with a telephone has the best chance of getting work. When a job is open, the chances are that it will be offered to someone who can be reached instantly—by telephone.

against Loneliness No need to be lonely with a telephone. If you have a wife or husband, son or daughter who sits at home alone—perhaps missing good times, you owe them a telephone. Order one today, and let them keep in touch with their friends.

"The Clubwoman," of the General Federation.

Two offers of the General Federation Department of Fine Arts have been taken up by Mrs. Roy C. Baker, State Federation Art chairman, and full details may be obtained by addressing her at 248 Chestnut street, Clinton, Mass. She states that Massachusetts will present prizes to the Club doing outstanding work for "Art and the Community," and to the Club accomplishing the most in "Art as a Club." The prizes for these topics are to be the work of Massachusetts artists, and are to be financed by the Penny Art Fund, by which a penny a member is raised by collection or donation.

In line, too, with the effectual work of the Department of International Relations in regard to securing world peace, as explained above, Mrs. Hooper of the General Federation, is urging the Art Departments of all Clubs to offer prizes to school children for lettering by hand the Pact of Paris and painting around it an artistic border; these works to be framed by the Art department and presented to the schools, with the thought that this be a permanent piece of work by the departments of the Clubs throughout the country until every school is supplied with a copy of the Pact.

Another contest of patriotic intent—and one which is recommended to the many talented "Juniors" of Newton as a decidedly delightful opportunity—is the following: Under the direction of the Art Department of the General Federation, at the Biennial at Seattle, a Junior prize will be given for a design for a medal that will best typify the ideals and accomplishments with which Washington's name is associated. This to be a circle, three inches, with design in pen and ink or wash drawing. Also a prize will be given to the Junior chairman who does the most constructive art work in Home, School and Community.

And lastly, the Division of Community Service of the Department of Public Welfare, of which Mrs. W. E. Miner of Oakland, Nebraska, is chairman, announces two new projects—a Clean-Up Campaign to begin at once and continue for a year, closing April 1, 1932; and an Essay Contest on the subject "Community Planning and Woman's Part in It" open to State, district, county and local chairmen of Community Service, to close April 1, 1932. There are four essay prizes, namely, $50, $25, $15 and $10. Essays are limited to 2,000 words. In the Clean-Up Campaign, local prizes of silver trophy cups are under consideration, while at the Biennial in 1932 the General Federation will present to the Junior Club whose assistance has been most outstanding $25 for the Club, and a Federation Junior Ring to the Junior Club president, which is another splendid opportunity for Newton Juniors.

NATHAN FULLER CHAPTER

The October meeting of the Nathan Fuller Chapter, D. R., was held on the thirteenth at the home of Mrs. Herbert Johnson, 59 Manning St., Needham. In connection with the Americanization work of the chapter Mrs. Leonard Abbott was appointed to serve with Mrs. John L. Stearns, chairman of correct use of the flag in looking into the purchase of flags to be presented to the Americanization classes of Newton upon their graduation. Members of the chapter were asked to volunteer the use of their cars to take members of the Americanization classes for a sightseeing trip around the Newtons. Miss Barbara Estabrook, Mrs. Ross Furman, Mrs. Herbert Johnson, Mrs. Raymond Lehrer, and Mrs. Edgar Wilson were among those offering to drive. It was noted with interest that one of the chapter members had assisted an alien in getting her naturalization papers this summer.

As part of the war veteran work members were asked to bring neckties to be given to the veterans as well as cigarettes.

A rising vote of thanks was given to Mrs. John Merrill for her hospitality on the tenth of June when the chapter members were her guests at her summer home in Allerton.

A notice was read by the regent regarding the ringing of church bells on Feb. 22 and July 4. The city had thought to discontinue to finance this very old custom but decided in favor of ringing them at 9:30 A. M. on the two holidays.

According to the constitution a nominating committee was appointed at the first full meeting. The members are Mrs. Philip Horne, appointed by the regent, Mrs. Henry Cross appointed by the board, and Mrs. F. A. Gilroy, Mrs. Walter MacAdam and Mrs. Herbert Johnson elected by the chapter.

It was proposed to amend the constitution so as to provide for two councillors to be elected by the members instead of appointed by the regent as heretofore.

With regret the chapter heard of the resignation of Mrs. Howard Jenness who has moved to Holbrook.

Plans for the benefit bridge party given by the chapter to be held at the West Newton Neighborhood Club, November 18, at 8 P. M. are well under way. Mrs. Richard Lee, chairman of ways and means has on her committee, Mrs. Richard Brown, Mrs. Henry Cross, Miss Barbara Estabrook, Mrs. Ross Furman, Mrs. Donald Gibbs and Mrs. Edgar Wilson.

Mrs. Robert D. Chellis read an anonymous article entitled "Stars and Stripes."

NO ACTION TAKEN ON WATER

A conference was held at City Hall on Wednesday night between Water Commissioner Ellis, Aldermen Bail, Gallagher and Jamieson of the special committee on water; City Solicitor Bartlett, City Engineer Morse and a representative of the firm of Weston & Sampson, consulting engineers on water. The matter of lowering the rates on Newton water, to afford relief from the exorbitant costs which many citizens have had to pay was discussed, but no definite action was taken. Improvements at the pumping station are contemplated, some small mains are to be replaced and dead ends on certain streets removed in an effort to prevent impure water. So, the conference decided to postpone recommendations for any reduction in rates until it is learned how much the projects mentioned will cost.

The quality of Newton's water was also discussed and remedies for correcting this situation talked over. Many householders in the city get water which is not only unfit for drinking, but also for washing clothes, unless one wants the clothes tinted.

BOY PUTS LETTERS IN FIRE BOX

A 10-year-old boy residing in Anburdale was given 3 letters to mail on Wednesday morning. That was at 7:51 and a minute later the first "mailmen" arrived on Hose 5, followed by several other pieces of fire apparatus.

Newton May Lose Its Biggest Industry If Saco-Lowell Shops Move

Upper Falls Factory May Consolidate With Large Home Plant At Saco, Me.

The Saco-Lowell shops at Newton Upper Falls, the largest and perhaps the oldest industry in this city may be discontinued its plant here. A study is being made to determine whether, or not, it will be for the best interests of the Saco-Lowell Company to consolidate all its manufacturing activities at its plant in Biddeford, Me. The Saco-Lowell Company is the successor of the Pettie Machine Shops established in 1831 by Otis Pettie for the manufacture of cotton machinery. During the past century, cards, pickers and other cotton machinery manufactured at the Upper Falls shops have been shipped to cotton factories in many parts of the world. The company pays taxes to this city on $275,000 worth of machinery and $1,380,200 valuation on real estate. At the present time about 500 persons are employed at its Upper Falls plant. During the boom years as many as 1100 were employed there.

The big shops at Newton Upper Falls are the outgrowth of one of the first industries in this community. In 1636 the General Court granted to the proprietors of Dedham the land on the west side of the Charles River including what is now Needham, Natick and part of Sherborn. The same year the land on the other side of the Charles, comprising what is now Brighton and Newton was granted to the proprietors of New Towne (Cambridge). The first mill on the banks of the Charles in what is now the City of Newton was erected in 1688 by John Clark at the Upper Falls where the river fell 20 feet perpendicularly and then had a descent of 35 feet within the next half-mile. This mill, in a thickly wooded section was a sawmill. Clark bought an elm-wood, located just above the falls from Chief Maugus of the Ponkapog Indians for 3 pounds, lawful money. In 1708 Clark took some partners in his enterprise at the Upper Falls and grist mill and fulling mill were added to the saw mill. In 1768 Thomas Parker, the then owner of the mills at the Upper Falls, sold them to Simon Elliott of Boston, a tobaccoist. Elliott added a snuff mill to the already established enterprises.

When Thomas Parker sold his property to Elliott he reserved 4 acres below the falls to which he added in 1781 a parcel of land on the Needham side of the river which he later sold to Jonathan Bixby, his son-in-law. In 1799 Bixby sold this property to the Newton Iron Works Company and a rolling mill was built. Rufus Ellis being the agent in charge. In 1809 a factory was built at the Upper Falls to manufacture cut-nails. This same year the Boston & Worcester Turnpike was constructed, passing through the Upper Falls directly by the mill factory and rolling mill. In 1813 a cotton mill was built across the river on the Needham side. This mill contained 3000 spindles and was destroyed by fire in 1850.

The Elliott Company had razed the small, old mills, constructed a new dam, and in 1821, under the supervision of Otis Pettie, their mechanical superintendent, erected a large cotton factory with 6000 spindles for the manufacture of sheeting. In 1824 this company built another large mill for the manufacture of thread, and 5 years later this newer mill was converted into a sheeting factory; the two mills then containing 10,000 spindles. In 1825 the first textile machinery to be made in Upper Falls was built in one of the shops of the Elliott Manufacturing Company under the supervision of Mr. Pettie.

In 1831 Mr. Pettie left the employ of the Elliott Company and started a small shop for the building of cotton textile machinery. In 1837 he erected a foundry in connection with his plant. In 1839 his shops and foundry were destroyed by fire and he rebuilt the plant the following two years. The Elliott Manufacturing Company had not been prospering and in 1840 sold its properties to Mr. Pettie. The latter's business continued to increase and at the time of his death in 1853 at the comparatively early age of 58, he had become one of the leading factors in the industrial and financial activities of this section. The Pettie shops continued to prosper and in 1882 were incorporated as the Pettie Machine Works. In 1897 the Pettie Company was amalgamated with the Saco Waterpower Company of Biddeford, Maine, under the name of the Saco-Pettie Machine Shops. The Biddeford company also manufactured cotton textile machinery. In 1912 the Saco-Pettie company was amalgamated with the Lowell Machine Shops under the name of the Saco-Lowell Company. In 1927 the shops of this company at Lowell were closed. Part of their activities were transferred to Newton Upper Falls and part to Biddeford. Many of the employees of the Lowell shops were given work at Newton Upper Falls. They made the long trip each work day from Lowell to the Upper Falls and return in buses or automobiles. At present about 50 men from Lowell are working at the Upper Falls plant.

The impelling reason for the contemplated removal of Saco-Lowell Shops to Biddeford is an offer made by the Maine city to abate taxes for 5 years. Mayor Weeks has been in touch with the executives of the Saco-Lowell Company and will have a conference with the President of that corporation on Monday in an effort to retain this industry in Newton Upper Falls. "While the law will not permit the city to give the company any abatement of taxes, a revaluation of the properties owned by the Saco-Lowell Company in this city could be made as an inducement to save this means of livelihood for hundreds of residents of this city and its vicinity.

AMERICAN LEGION TO AID UNEMPLOYED

Newton Post, American Legion, will take a leading part in the campaign to provide relief for unemployed and their dependents in Newton this Autumn and Winter. A large committee comprised of members of the Post will canvass the entire city in an effort to find work of various kinds for those who need it. Recently a conference was held between Leon Rogers, who has been in charge of the relief work in this city the past year, and the executive committee of Newton Post. At this conference plans were discussed for carrying on the relief work.

MAYOR WEEKS TO SPEAK

His Honor, Mayor Sinclair Weeks and Mr. Maynard Hutchinson will be the principal speakers at the opening meeting of the Girl Scout drive which will be held at the Second Church of Newton in West Newton (opposite the West Newton Railroad Station) on Monday, October 26, at 8 P. M.

Ordinance Passed Bars Noisy Radios

Loud Radios Between Midnight and Dawn Prohibited

The Newton Board of Aldermen at its meeting on Monday night passed an ordinance which should result in fewer residents of this city having their sleep disturbed between the witching hour of midnight and 7 o'clock mornings. The ordinance is based on one recently passed by the City Council of Boston and approved by Mayor Curley, but it is less strict than the Boston ordinance in that it applies only to the hours between midnight and 7 a. m., whereas the Boston ordinance restrains the annoying use of radios, phonographs and the like for all 24 hours of the day.

The ordinance follows—
ORDINANCE NO. 53
ORDERED: The Revised Ordinances of 1929 are hereby amended by adding a new Chapter to be numbered XXXIII to read as follows:

CHAPTER XXXIII
An Ordinance prohibiting certain unnecessary noises

Section 253A. No person owning or having the care, custody or possession of any musical instrument, radio set, phonograph, victrola or other machine or device for producing or reproducing sound shall operate or use or permit to be operated or used, such machine or device between the hours of 12 o'clock midnight and 7 o'clock A. M. in such a manner as to disturb the peace and comfort of the neighboring inhabitants. The operation of any such machine or device between said hours in such a manner as to be plainly audible at a distance of one hundred feet from the building or structure in which it is located, shall be prima facie evidence of a violation of this ordinance. Nothing herein contained shall be construed to prohibit playing by a band or orchestra in a hall, building, or in the open air, but this exception does not apply to the reproduction of such playing of any machine or device.

Section 253B. Any person, firm or corporation violating the provisions of this ordinance shall be subject to a penalty not exceeding twenty dollars for each offense.

This ordinance was passed as a result of a motion made at a recent meeting of the Board by Alderman Powers of Ward 1. This motion was referred to the Claims & Rules Committee which approved it after an agreement had been reached to have the restrictions apply only to the hours between midnight and 7 a. m. The vote of the Board in passing this ordinance was unanimous.

Alderman Grebenstein, chairman of the Claims & Rules Committee, suggested that Alderman Powers explain his reasons for proposing this ordinance. The Ward 1 alderman said that while Newton residents who live on large estates are not bothered by radios operated by others, persons who reside in apartment buildings, or in thickly settled neighborhoods have become more and more affected by unreasonable operation of radio sets by individuals who have little or no regard for the rights of others. Complaints have been received from different parts of the city about radios which are operated loudly until 1 and 2 o'clock mornings and radios which are turned on fortissimo before 7 a. m.

In some instances where complaints have been made and police sent to caution the offending parties, the latter have been quite defiant. As a rule, the disturbed neighbors, even though deprived of sleep, refused to ask that the inconsiderate persons be brought into court on the charge of disturbing the peace. Now, with the passage of the new ordinance, the police will possess the authority to summons into court anyone who keeps neighbors awake by operating radios, phonographs and the like too loudly during the "wee sma' hours."

REWARDED FOR FINDING JEWELRY

Walter Kett of Somerset road, Waban, and Walter Murphy of Pearl street, Newton, employees of T. Stuart & Son Company, are to receive awards of $50 each from an insurance company for finding costly diamond and platinum bracelets which were stolen from the residence of Raymond Stuart at Chestnut Hill by a Newton Centre youth. The latter confessed he threw the jewelry into a wastepaper receptacle at the South Station in Boston. This waste was taken in a railroad car to South Braintree and the contents of this car and another car were searched by Newton police and employees of the Stuart Company. Kett and Murphy by persistent searching found the bracelets.

Mrs. Hoover Voices Ideas On Welfare

At Girl Scout Convention In Buffalo Last Week

Mrs. Herbert Hoover, First Lady of the Land and Honorary President of the National Council of Girl Scouts Incorporated, attended the 17th Annual Convention held last week at Buffalo, New York. In her address to the delegates at the opening session she said in part:

"This is the year for us to take stock in the serious side of Girl Scouting, its much encouraged 'Service.' We love to call it a game. In Scouting we play many games, but Scouting itself is the biggest game of them all, embracing them all.

"It is the game for girls, or boys, to play the way of the grown-ups.

"The Girl Scout will better meet her duties to her fellow men and women by having as a Girl Scout tried to be useful and to help other people at all times."

"She has been training herself to be able to see more clearly the responsibilities that are about her and to be ready to meet them practically and courageously. Self-reliance we try to learn in Girl Scouting and the joy of service to others."

"For years now we have seen our theories verified as the maturing Girl Scouts meet their growing responsibilities of citizenship and home-making. This year gives us an excellent opportunity to prove that they will also meet their responsibilities of service."

"In this year of trial and depression we may see what part in alleviation the Girl Scouts will take, individually and collectively."

A definite Community Service program for the Newton Local Council is being outlined by a special committee composed of a Girl Scout representative from each village. The program outlined gives the privilege to each Girl Scout to help very materially in the welfare work of the city and will serve to open the eyes of the younger people to civic needs. It should make them more valuable as future citizens.

Fourteen years ago, the first Girl Scout Troop of Newton was started and the Organization has grown from that time in a steady, healthy way until, today, more than 900 girls are registered in 26 Troops of this city.

Newton citizens have been asked each year to support the Organization and they have done so most generously. The Newton Local Council Girl Scouts appreciate very much their past generosity and are asking for their continued interest and support at this time when the activities of the so-called character building agencies for whose services there has probably never been a greater need, if the morale of the young people and adults is to be maintained.

Girl Scout Week—October 26 to 31. The week when Newton Citizens will have the opportunity of individually showing their loyalty to and belief in this Organization which is doing its best to meet the needs of the growing girl and to stimulate her interests and growth through three channels: High Ideals, Healthy Living, and Community Service.

RELIEF COMMITTEE APPEALS FOR FUNDS

The emergency still existing, the Mayor's Relief Committee again will appeal for funds with which to relieve suffering and distress among the unfortunate of our city. The committee hopes that the response will be as generous as was that of last year.

Mr. Maynard Hutchinson of West Newton is the chairman of the Finance Committee, which is to be assisted by a committee from each village. The various village chairmen are as follows: Newton, William M. Ferris; Newtonville, William B. Phelps; West Newton, Robert A. Whittemore; Woburn, Walter R. Amesbury; Waban, Robert W. Moore, Jr.; Newton Highlands, Donald D. McKay; Newton Centre, Dr. Edward A. Andrews; Chestnut Hill, Henry M. Bliss.

WAR MEMORIAL CORNER-STONE TO BE LAID NOVEMBER 11

Armistice Day will be observed in Newton this year by the laying of the corner-stone of the War Memorial on the triangle site at Commonwealth avenue and Walnut street, Newton Centre. The laying of the corner-stone by Mayor Weeks will be preceded by a parade by Newton Post, American Legion, Spanish War Veterans, G. A. R., and other patriotic organizations, headed by the Legion Band.

Petition For Bowling Alley Heard Again

Other Business Transacted At Aldermanic Meeting

Charges were made and indignantly refuted at the meeting of the Newton Board of Aldermen on Monday night when the Licenses Committee reported favorably on the petition of W. Mark Noble, Jr., for a permit to conduct 10 bowling alleys in the basement of the garage building at 23 Bacon street, Newton. Within the past couple of years several petitions have been made for bowling alley permits at this locus, and all these petitions have been refused following strong opposition from persons residing in the vicinity. Heretofore the report of the Licenses Committee has been adverse.

When the Licenses Committee, through its chairman, Alderman Hawkins, reported favorably on this matter Monday night, Alderman Gallagher of Ward 1 protested. He asserted that the committee was trying to slip something over, and that as owner of the adjoining parcel of property he objected. He recalled that when previous petitions had been made, almost every person in the neighborhood was opposed, and he could not imagine that all of these had gone to sleep. He argued that if the petition is granted, all the section between Pearl and Washington streets, as far west as Thornton street, must be changed to business zone.

Alderman Hawkins resented Gallagher's contention that "something was being slipped over." Hawkins never has tried to slip anything over. He stated that persons residing in the neighborhood of the proposed bowling alleys had been notified of a public hearing and that in addition a number of members of the Board of Aldermen had been invited to come to the locus to listen to demonstrations at three different times to prove that the operation of the alleys will not cause noise which will bother neighbors. Alderman Jameson said he had been present on the three occasions and could not hear the slightest noise outside the building.

Alderman Gallagher said the people residing in the neighborhood had become tired of opposing the recurring petitions and he averred that the proposed alleys would be just as noisy as any other such alleys. Alderman Hawkins opposed Gallagher's request that the matter be referred back to the committee. He said that it has been given careful consideration for the past 7 weeks and he asserted that although there was similar opposition to the granting of the garage license on Bacon street, because of alleged noise nuisance, all those who opposed the garage permit now admit that it is not objectionable. Alderman Powers said he took issue with this last statement of Hawkins', as he has found that the people residing nearby still claim that the garage is a nuisance, not only because of noise, but also because of the parking congestion which has resulted. The matter of referring the petition back to the Licenses Committee was put to a vote, resulting in 8 of the Aldermen voting in the affirmative and 8 in the negative. President Collins then voted in the affirmative, and the tie was broken, sending the petition back for further consideration.

Several hearings were announced on petitions of the Edison and Telephone companies for pole locations on Rangleet, Dana, Bonwood and Withington roads and Grant street and no opposition developed. Then Daniel Needham of 14 Whittier road, Newtonville took the floor as attorney for the Atlantic Refining Company which seeks a filling station permit at 325 Boylston street, Newton Centre, in the Thompsonville section on the line of the new Boston & Worcester traffic artery. Mr. Needham stated that the lot on which it is proposed to build the filling station is unsightly now and filled with stones. He said that his clients are willing to deed a strip of land 10 feet wide to the city if it is decided to widen Boylston street, and that the station would improve the corner of Boylston and John streets. He told the aldermen that Mr. Whalin, representative of Edward W. Webster who owns adjoining property, had told him that he would recommend the establishment of a filling station on the site.

Mr. Needham introduced Calvin Favorite of 183 Chilton road, Brookline as an executive of the Atlantic Refining Company. Mr. Favorite explained that his company would build the type of station it usually erects, made of brick with stucco trim and costing about $7500; a station that will not be objectionable to anyone in the neighborhood. He said that Newton men would be employed at the station.

Young Republican Voters To Form Local Organization

Nearly Fifty Attend Meeting To Hear Prominent Party Workers Urge Need of Group Effort

At a meeting of nearly fifty of the younger Republicans of this city at the home of Mayor Sinclair Weeks in West Newton last evening initial steps were taken towards the forming of an organization to aid in the state-wide program of bringing back a Republican majority in Massachusetts at the national election last fall. The meeting was called upon invitation of Miss Margaret McGill, a former teacher in the Newton High School, and at present Middlesex County Chairman of the Women's Republican Club of Massachusetts. Nearly all those present were former pupils of Miss McGill when in high school.

Following a formal program of speakers which included Mayor Weeks, Miss Katherine Parker, president of the Women's Republican Club of Massachusetts, ex-Mayor Charles E. Hatfield, and Speaker of the House Leverett Saltonstall's discussion on the need and advisability of forming a local organization was held. A motion in favor of such a step was carried and an organization committee comprised of Mrs. Ashley Day, Harold Billings and Miss Marian Gordon, Mrs. E. P. Saltonstall, a member of the State Committee, mentioned a similar organization doing effective work in Worcester. Mrs. Saltonstall will act as advisor to the organizing committee. It was further voted to hold a second meeting within four weeks and a program committee comprised of Philip N. Horne, chairman, Albert Everts, Albert Spear, Albert H. Stafford, Donald M. Hill, and Warren K. Brimblecom, with Mrs. Ellis Spear as advisor was named.

Miss McGill opened the meeting with a brief explanation of the purpose of the affair and the opportunity offered the grown-ups in interesting themselves and others in the Republican party. She introduced Mayor Weeks who stressed the need of banding together to be ready for an organized effort when the necessity arises. He recalled a similar larger organization which he was a member of following his graduation from college but was disbanded at the time of war. Since that time there has been no effort towards organization of the younger voters. He stressed the importance of having new blood and new ideas, in producing better results in town, ward, city and state committees. He protested against the introduction of new parties into the two-party idea which has prevailed in the United States for the past century. "A good Democrat is better than a half-way Republican," he said, if you are a Republican he is a Republican although on some matters you do not agree with the party viewpoint. By and large the Republican party is the agent through which the people of this country will get the best results. Able men have held office as Republicans, and laws enacted by Republicans have been of most benefit to the country. In this latter connection he cited the protective tariff which Republicans have advocated for 85 years as against the free trade sought by the Democratic party although the latter have now practically conceded the point by swinging their balance of votes to tariff protection. The Federal Reserve Act was passed under a Democratic administration but initiated by Republicans.

Ex-Mayor Hatfield spoke of the high type of office-holders elected by the people of Newton not one of whom he felt sought office for personal aggrandizement but from a sense of duty.

Miss Katherine Parker spoke on "Why I Am A Republican." Although being brought up in a Republican family and living in a Republican atmosphere did not mean that she had not thought about the subject. She expressed the thought that the tendencies of thought was higher in her party and that the Republicans did not take advantage of emergency situations to put over a measure they wanted. She also stressed the importance of interesting the foreign-born eligible voters in Republican views and of the tremendous opportunity in this field.

Mr. Saltonstall spoke of the legislative branch of state politics and of the increase in Democratic power in various cities. He spoke of the proposed return to the pre-primary convention and of his belief that some change was needed although he felt the old system would not work. He urged an organized effort to keep the Republicans in control of the legislature and to aid in sending Republicans to Congress. He advocated the preaching of the doctrine of faith in leaders of the party and administration.

Pres. Hoover has been through more trying times than any recent chief executive and whether or not we may feel that in some decisions he may possibly have been wrong we should support him now as Republicans and good citizens.

150TH ANNIVERSARY

The Second Church in Newton, West Newton, was founded on October 21, 1781. The Church is, therefore, this year celebrating the 150th Anniversary of her founding. Next Sunday evening, October 25th, at 7:30 o'clock, a Memorial Service will be held in the Church. At this service, which is to be the only formal service of celebration, the Chancel Choir of the Church will sing and there will be distinguished guests and speakers.

Dr. John Edgar Park, President of Wheaton College and for nineteen years minister of the Second Church, will speak on the past of the Church; Professor Charles Swain Thomas, of Harvard University, a member of the Church, will speak on the duties of the present; and Dr. Merrill, Minister, will prophesy as to her future. Rev. Dwight Bradley, Minister of the First Church in Newton, the Mother Church of the Second Church, will offer the memorial prayer. The children of the former ministers have been invited to attend as special guests.

Invitations have also been sent to the churches, ten in number, which might be called Daughter Churches, as the Second Church gave members to them at the time of their founding. The public is cordially invited to attend this service.

WEEKS SCHOOL OPEN TO PUBLIC

The John W. Weeks Junior High School will be open for inspection on Friday evening, October 30th. Parents in this district and the public is urged to take this opportunity to inspect Newton's newest school building.

The faculty will be present to explain to visitors the different features of the building. Refreshments may be secured in the cafeteria.

After inspection, visitors are invited to gather in the auditorium for the consideration of certain questions of interest to teachers and parents.

THE WEEK IN NEWTON SPORTS

WILL TAKE LEAD IN LEAGUE RACE

Tomorrow afternoon Dilboy Field, Somerville, will be the scene of a scholastic football battle that may have a direct bearing on the final disposition of the Suburban league title. On the season's play thus far the Newton and Somerville eleven seem to have a decided edge on the other league teams, Rindge, Brookline and Cambridge Latin. With Newton and Somerville providing the entertainment on the Somerville gridiron in tomorrow's conflict there is considerable interest in the outcome. Each has won its single league contest this year over Cambridge Latin with the orange and black running up a 28 to 0 count and Somerville taking to the air to win 16 to 0. Rindge topped the Cantabs 8 and 5 in a top tie with Newton and Somerville. Brookline opens its league schedule tomorrow entertaining Rindge. The outcome of this game will also be awaited with interest. Should Rindge get the verdict a tie for the lead will exist between Rindge and the Newton-Somerville winner. Should Brookline win it will take second place and Rindge will be deadlocked for third place with the loser in the game at Somerville.

Disregarding league competition Newton has slightly the better record in its four games to date although Somerville has made stiffer competition for the most part. Newton has lost to Everett but has won from Arlington, Cambridge Latin and Quincy to run up a score of 81 points to its opponents' 14. Somerville has lost by one touchdown to both Waltham and Medford and has defeated Keith Academy and Cambridge Latin. The Dickerman outfit has tallied 34 points against 13 for its opponents. With greater scoring power than for several years Newton would seem to have the ability to score at least once and possibly twice against Somerville. Whether or not the Dilboy field product has offensive strength sufficient to overcome the Newton defense looks to be the deciding factor of the game.

With most of its regulars playing but half a game last Saturday the Newton outfit should be in condition to stand the rigors of a hard fought game. For a time last Saturday it began to look as though the Newton outfit would be in bad shape this week. Perkins, Patterson and Huston coming out of the Quincy game nursing injuries. Perkins will be the only one of the trio not in shape to play against Somerville. A ligament in his ankle here the brunt of a twist and will require a few more days rest. Patterson also hurt an ankle but was on hand for light work the first of the week and is now ready to go. Huston was little the worse for his collision with Lyons which knocked the Newton star out for a few minutes. The week-end rest put Huston in shape again and if he is at his best tomorrow Somerville will have a hard man to stop.

For the first time in years not a single player on the varsity squad became ineligible for scholastic competition at the end of the first marking period. Marks were issued last week and went into effect on Monday of this week.

With Newton at full strength with the exception of Perkins, whose place will be ably taken care of by Donald Marr the defending Suburban league champions will have their hands full. Somerville annexed last year's bunting by holding Rindge to a scoreless tie on Thanksgiving Day after a colorless season. None of last year's league members were outstanding, each of the leaders losing a game.

The machine which Coach Dickerman is putting on the field this year has several veterans in its line-up. Foremost is Captain Joe Regan, left tackle, whose play last fall brought him all-scholastic mention. Other veterans are Plummer, centre, last year but shifted to end this season, and Danny Lynch, Nick Androski, Billy Chesterfield and Falzo, backs. Both Lynch and Androski throw forward passes while Chesterfield is the best receiver. Chesterfield snared two passes from his mates last Saturday to score the two touchdowns to beat Cambridge Latin. Androski kicked one goal and Falzo rushed for the final period brought the remaining points.

Probable line-ups for tomorrow's game are:

Newton	Somerville
Marr, lg	re, Plummer
Kevorkian, lt	re, Murphy
Vassalotti, lg	rg, Luciano
Patterson, c	c, Bertocci
DeMaio, rg	lg, Trianello
Gulian, rt	lt, (C) Regan
Levenson, re	le, Hayes
Mullen, qb	qb, Donoghue
Blackler, lb	rb, Chesterfield
Duane, (C), rbb	lb, Lynch
Huston, fb	fb, Falzo

SPORT NOTES

Chalmers Places
Douglas Chalmers, former Newton High track athlete, now a freshman at M. I. T., placed 11th in the quadrangular freshman cross-country run last Friday with New Hampshire, Harvard, Dartmouth, and M. I. T., finishing in that order. Chalmers was the second Tech runner to finish.

MID CLEATS AND PADS

By trimming Quincy last Saturday, 20 to 7, Newton climbed back into a tie for second place in the standing of its opponents. The Everett clan took the lead by topping Lawrence, 7 to 6, and Quincy by a pass intercepted by Schwartz of Everett kicked Lawrence running 80 yards for the touchdown and Gagliardi's point after won the game after Lawrence took a 6 to 0 lead. The Leary coached eleven from Waltham dropped back in a tie with Newton. The Watch City fought hard but could not turn back the up-Staters who won 13 to 0. Incidentally Fitchburg remains the only undefeated, unscathed upon, untied team in eastern Massachusetts. Arlington nosed out Weymouth 15 to 13, putting the Ostergren coached team in a tie with Newton and Waltham but for a tie game with Winchester previously. Woburn scored a safety against Keith Academy to win, 2 to 0. The orange and black's opponents of a week from tomorrow have scored but 16 points in five games. Somerville won its first Suburban league game of the season over Cambridge Latin 16 to 0. The Dickerman team has a fifty-fifty rating in four games. It was the Cantabs fifth straight defeat of the season and its third in the league race. Rindge was idle last Saturday but will swing into action in a league game tomorrow at Brookline the latter will be in its first game in an attempt to replace Rindge in a tie for the lead.

The "Realty" Towers are next to low in standing with Newton's opponents, having won but one game in four starts. Last Saturday Revere conquered Coach Fitzgerald's outfit, 12 to 7. Tomorrow's games will provide some excellent attractions. Newton and Somerville will strive to knock each other out of the league lead at Dilboy field, Somerville. Arlington plays at Woburn and should give local fans some line on what to expect on Oct. 31 when Woburn comes to Newton. Waltham entertains Lynn English and hopes to regain its winning stride. Lynn English, after being undefeated for more than two full seasons, has now dropped two in a row, losing to Lawrence two weeks ago and Malden last Saturday.

Curiously enough it was Waltham's 1928 eleven which won from Lynn English just before the latter started its winning streak. The Cantabs are due for another licking at Brockton. Revere should give Everett a hard battle on the latter's field but we look for Everett to win by a small score. Quincy plays at Watertown and should win. Look for the following scores: Newton 7, Somerville 0; Arlington 0, Woburn 0; Rindge 12, Brookline 7; Lynn Eng. 0, Waltham 0; Brockton 28, Camb. Lat. 0; Everett 7, Revere 6; Quincy 14, Watertown 0.

SPORT NOTES

Newton Youth in College Games
Most of the former Newton youths on the various college football squads got into last Saturday's games. Romaine Cole and Gordon Linberg started at right end and right tackle for Tufts against Brown. Dick Haggood and L. C. Brown, the latter a resident of Newton the past year, played tackle and guard for Brown part of the game. Langdon Powers relieved Wild Bill McCall at right half for Dartmouth in Columbia's upset of the Green. Dan Harrington kept clean his record of starting every game at guard for B. U. in the Geneva contest. Creighton Gatchell played the entire game with Wesleyan at right half for Bowdoin while Carl Pescosolido of Harvard and Bob Bennett of Dartmouth were about the only local youths who did not see action.

On Soccer Team

J. W. Albree, son of Mrs. Ralph Albree of Shaw street, West Newton, is a member on the varsity soccer squad at Blair Academy, New Jersey.

Cole Out For Two Weeks

Romaine Cole, Tufts end, will be out of the game for a couple of weeks from an elbow injury he received in the game with Brown last week. The former Newton football captain and track athlete was first thought to have received a sprain but on Monday it was found to be a badly chipped and bruised elbow.

Fox Wins—Hall Places

Two local youths, Joe Fox of Harvard and Charlie Hall, of M. I. T., placed in the quadrangular cross-country race between Harvard, New Hampshire, M. I. T., and Dartmouth last Friday. Joe Fox of Nonantum captured first place in the varsity 4.12 mile race over his teammate Capt. Hollowell. The Crimson swept all but third in the first six places to pile up an insurmountable lead. New Hampshire was second, M. I. T. third and Dartmouth fourth. Charlie Hall, freshman star at Tech last year, was the fourth of his team to finish, taking 20th place.

NEWTON TRAMPLES QUINCY, 20 TO 7 USING RESERVES

With second and third string material playing more than half the game, Newton High trampled over Quincy High at the Dickinson Stadium field last Saturday afternoon, 20 to 7. The Newton second string eleven chalked up a 6 to 0 early lead in the first period. In the second session the third string players kept Quincy on the defensive throughout the session and although threatening to tally failed to produce. Coach Sanborn gave his first string players a workout after the intermission and they produced two touchdowns. Halfway through the final period a number of local substitutes were sent in to the game. Staging a last minute aerial attack the visiting blue and white eleven marched down the field for a touchdown and point after to save a shutout.

Newton's first opportunity to score was thwarted when Goodbar fumbled with Quincy recovering one foot from their goal. Pressing its advantage the Newton line partially blocked the ensuing kick and Goodbar gathered it in on the Quincy 7 yard line. In three plays Buell crashed over but was stopped dead on the plunge for the point. A 55-yard end run for an apparent touchdown by Fullback Harry Hatchell was nullified when Newton was offside on the play. At the end of the period Newton had Quincy in the hole again when a fumbled kick was recovered by the Quincy safety man on his 5-yard line. The third play in the second period saw Quincy kicking safely out of danger. Later another Newton threat was stopped with Quincy taking the ball on downs on their 30-yard stripe.

With the regulars on the field the victory was soon clinched. Receiving the kickoff Quincy could not gain and kicked. Mullen received the ball at midfield and romped fifty yards down the sideline for a touchdown and Huston kicked the point. Midway of the period Newton reached Quincy's 17 yard line but an incomplete pass on fourth down gave the visitors the ball. On Quincy's next kick Mullen got away again for 35 yards but was brought down on the 13 yard line. A few plays later and Huston stepped through right tackle for the third Newton touchdown. Huston kicked the 20th Newton point into the score. Swartz ran back Blackler's kickoff to the Newton 35-yard line and for the first time in the game Quincy had the ball in Newton's territory. The visitors picked up a first down in three line play but Newton held and took the ball on downs. A penalty put Newton further back and Huston kicked. Swartz returned the ball to the Newton 45-yard stripe where Lyons and Huston crashed head in making the tackle. Huston was almost knocked out and Hatchell relieved him. A Quincy pass shook Dahlquist, the halfback, free for a score but he stumbled and fell to be pinned down on Newton's 25-yard line. Line plays gave Newton the ball on downs again. A penalty set Newton back to their 2-yard line and Blackler kicked out. Two snappy passes with the second one being gathered in by fullback Riley on Newton's 15-yard run to get free and cross the goal brought Quincy's score. Swartz kicked the point.

The game, played by play:

First Period
Lyons' kickoff was short and bounced off the shoulder of Wickham, Quincy's left end. Molloy, Kevorkian and Goodbar were on the ball to recover for Newton. With Buell and Goodbar smashing the tackles first down was made on the Quincy 19-yard line. Goodbar, Hatchell and Buell, the latter twice made it another first down on the 8-yard stripe. Buell fumbled but recovered on his last plunge. Goodbar fumbled and Quincy recovered on the 1-foot line. The Newton line was through to block the kick and Goodbar recovered the oval on Quincy's 7-yard line. Buell hit the line for nearly a yard. Hatchell smashed right tackle for four yards and Buell got still another at left tackle. Both sides were offside on an incomplete pass to give Buell another chance and he crashed through the line for the touchdown. He carried on the try for the point by rush but was stopped.

Quincy kicked out of danger after two line plays on one of which the visitors were offside and penalized to their 1-yard line. With the ball on Quincy's 30-yard line Newton tried three line plays, Goodbar making a yard, Hatchell losing six on an end run, and Fitzpatrick making five through the line. An incomplete pass gave Quincy the ball on downs on its 45-yard stripe. Swartz took the ball on a spinner play and made 14 yards for Quincy's initial first down. Newton's third string players were being sent into the game. Carvellie stopped an end run for no gain and Hendricks broke up another for a 6-yard loss. Geraci recovered a blocked Quincy kick on the visitors' 35-yard line. Carvellie hit right tackle for 6 yards but on the next play Fitzpatrick was in motion before the ball was snapped and Newton drew a 5-yard penalty. Dahlquist intercepted Fitzpatrick's pass and ran it back ten yards to the Quincy 35. Three plays gained but five yards and Quincy kicked. Newton's line blocked the punt. Noyes recovering to save a run, but it was Newton's ball on the Quincy 37. Fitzpatrick made 3 yards at right tackle but on the next play Newton was penalized for having a back in motion. A fumble recovered by Fitzpatrick for a loss of 5 yards and two incomplete passes, bringing another 5-yard penalty, gave Quincy the ball on downs at midfield. Swartz intercepted a Quincy pass to give Newton the ball again at midfield. Cahill and Carvelli made 8 yards in two rushes but a 5-yard penalty almost offset the gain to end the half. Newton 6, Quincy 0.

Third Period
Newton's regulars took the field and immediately got going. Blackler's kickoff sailed over the goal line for a touchback. Quincy putting the ball in play on their 20-yard stripe. Two plays failed to gain and Noyes kicked to Mullen at midfield. The Newton quarterback with his mates cleaning out nicely for him legged it down the sidelines 50-yards for a touchdown. Huston kicked the point. Mullen ran back Quincy's second kickoff, the first going outside, to midfield. Huston hit left tackle for 5 yards and threw a pass to Perkins for 3 more. Huston's kick went over the goal line. Dahlquist made 3 yards at right tackle but Perkins nailed the next play for a 6-yard loss. Mullen ran back Noyes' kick 15 yards to the Quincy 37. Perkins twisted his ankle on the play and was relieved by Marr. Three line plays by Huston, Duane and Blackler made 14 yards for a first down. Mullen, Duane and Huston picked up five more in those attempts but Huston's pass to Blackler was incomplete. It was Quincy's ball on downs on their 17-yard line. Failing to gain Noyes kicked to Mullen who almost got away again, running the ball back 35 yards to the Quincy 13-yard line. Huston carried outside but Newton was offside and penalized. On the next play a Quincy substitute communicated and Quincy drew a 5-yard penalty. Huston ran around left end for 11 yards and a first down on the 2-yard line. Duane cut the distance in two and then Huston found a big hole at right tackle for the score. He again kicked the point. Mullen ran back Quincy's kickoff to his 35 yard mark to end the period. Newton 20, Quincy 0.

Fourth Period
Duane made 6 yards and Huston 2

but on the Newton play Quincy recovered. Huston's fumble on Newton's 45-yard mark. Blackler stopped a tackle thrust at 2 yards but a left tackle smash and a line plunge brought Quincy its second first down. Marr threw the Quincy runner for 5 yards loss. Lyons replaced Patterson who came out with a lame ankle. Blackler came up fast to nail an end run for 4 yards loss and Vassalotti got through to set Quincy back 2 yards more. An incomplete pass gave Newton the ball on downs on their own 35-yard line. Mullen and Huston gained 9 yards but a 15-yard penalty on the second play set them back to their 25-yard line and Huston kicked. Swartz sidestepped Giles to run the kick back 10 yards to the Newton 45. Lyons and Huston, in making the tackle, crashed head on and Huston was knocked out for a minute or two. Hatchell replaced the Newton ace. Swartz gathered in a pass from Riley, who had replaced Noyes, and was almost free as his mates cleaned out for him. With a clear field ahead he stumbled and fell giving the Newton players a chance to nail him on their 25-yard stripe. Four plays brought but 7 yards and Newton took the ball on downs. Blackler kicked and Kevorkian nailed Swartz in his tracks but Newton was holding the line. The play was called back and Newton penalized to their 2-yard line. Blackler again kicked with Lyons getting Swartz after a short run-back on the Newton 33 yard line. Two line plays and a short 7-yard pass brought the ball to the 25-yard line. Swartz then tossed a flat 10-yard pass to Riley who got into clear field for a 15-yard romp for a touchdown. Swartz kicked the point. On the second play after the kickoff Hatchell was stopped on a one-yard gain and the game was over. Newton 20, Quincy 7.

A Million Healthy

of Hood's Milk

Every farm has a clean, white milk house. Barns are white-washed, clean, airy. Walls and ceilings tight to exclude dust. Floors kept sweet with slaked lime . . . Three tons of ice per cow are stored (or the equivalent in electric refrigeration) for immediate cooling after milking. Farmers are paid Grade A premiums for this premium milk, and the results accurately determined by rigid laboratory tests . . . These are some of the reasons why Hood's Grade A is always uniformly pure, rich, fine flavored. It is filled with the elements that make children grow strong, healthy and happy.

Swimming Pool Popular

The Y. M. C. A. Swimming Pool is the scene of much activity since the re-opening on Monday. The filtering system which has always functioned so satisfactorily and has helped to keep the water in the pool so sparkling, clean and inviting, has just been completely overhauled. This will assure the members of continued enjoyment in this very attractive pool.

Swimming Teams

A good many boys and men realize what a splendid health and body builder swimming is and are taking advantage of the swimming instruction given Monday and Wednesday evenings during the swimming team practice at the "Y." The "Y" hopes for a strong team this season as all of last year's swimmers are back and many new members are trying out for the team.

Water Polo will be taught the swimmers by Mr. Williams, former Yale Polo player, and many "duckings" are promised.

Intermediate Basketball

Twenty boys responded to the first call for a Basketball Team, which is limited to boys under eighteen years of age. This group includes much promising material for another Championship Team, and two practice periods a week will be held until further notice.

Football and Soccer

The regular Boys' Classes are meeting on the Y. M. C. A. field three times a week and during each period the fundamentals of football and soccer are taught. These fundamentals are put to use during the games played. Leagues have been formed and some great games are played.

In the Cadet League, the "Rinky-dinks" took the lead over the "Gas House Gang" by winning the football game last Wednesday 6-0. The Junior A League is deadlocked with both the "Eagles" and the "Bulldogs" tied for first place honors. In the Junior B League the "Sparrows" led the "Pansies" by winning a one-sided football game last Thursday—31 to 7.

Classes will continue to meet on the field until Thanksgiving Day and then they will continue in the gymnasium.

CRYSTAL LAKE WATER PURE

At the request of Supt. Hermann of the Newton Playground Department The Public Health Department of Massachusetts made an examination of the lake and an analysis of water taken from it. A copy of the letter sent to Mr. Hermann by Dr. Bigelow, Commissioner of Public Health follows:—

"The Department has received your application for advice relative to the removal of certain microscopical organisms from the water of Crystal Lake, Newton, in the vicinity of your bathing beach, and in response to your request has caused the lake to be examined by one of its engineers and samples of water to be analyzed.

"At the time of the examination no marked microscopical growths were present in any of the samples. Furthermore the results of the analyses show that the water was remarkably free from bacteria and, in the opinion of the Department, with improvements effected by the construction of suitable bath-house facilities, the water of this lake is of suitable quality for public bathing so long as conditions remain as found at the time of the recent examination."

On Wednesday afternoon, October 28th, the first meeting of the season of Sarah Hull Chapter, Daughters of the Revolution will be held, with Mrs. Adelbert Fernald, first vice-president general of the National Society, opening her home, 63 Elmhurst road, Newton, for the occasion. The business session, beginning at 2.30 o'clock, will include many important matters of patriotic interest for members to consider. Mrs. John F. Dunton, the new regent will preside.

The speaker of the afternoon, Rev. William M. Macnair, will have as his subject, "The Making, Unmaking and Remaking of New England." Besides this presentation of what is sure to be a most interesting and informative viewpoint of New England in its development from the ideals of its founders, there is to be a musical program of special interest to Newton members. Mr. Clair Leonard, an accomplished musician, of Newton, and Miss Josephine Bates, Violinist, will give a Sonata for violin and pianoforte composed by Mr. Leonard.

Following the program there will be a reception and tea, with the hostesses Mrs. William F. Bacon, Miss Emma F. Barker, Mrs. Sheridan Bisbee, Mrs. James A. Curtin, Mrs. Everett W. Crawford, and Mrs. George G. Webster, in the receiving line.

EXHIBITION OF WATER COLORS

Hawaii will be represented in an exhibition of unusual water colors which will be shown for two weeks at Grace Horne's Gallery beginning Monday, October 19. These were painted by Miss Dorothy H. George of Boston during a recent visit to Honolulu. Although Miss George has been to the Islands a number of times, her first exhibition was held this summer at the Niumalu Hotel just before she returned to the States.

Mr. Gesler, Art Editor of the Honolulu Star Bulletin, writes: "Miss George paints in a broad, sweeping, modern manner, recording successfully the brilliant color and varied aspects of the Islands with pleasing freshness and spontaneity."

ZONTA CLUB

The Newton Zonta Club held a dinner meeting at the Pied Piper Tea Room last Monday evening. Dr. Fred Lowe spoke to the members about his trip to Vienna, Austria, this summer as delegate to the Rotarian International Convention. His talk was made doubly interesting by photographs which he showed of various buildings and of the vast assemblage of delegates which attended the convention. Dr. Lowe stressed the fact that Rotary International is standing firmly for international peace and a more sympathetic understanding between peoples of different countries.

The recent rummage sale conducted by Newton Zontians was reported as having been very successful and thanks were expressed to Mr. Orr for his generosity in allowing the use of a vacant store for this purpose.

The local organization has outlined an attractive program for the present season and several projects for community service are in prospect.

The next meeting will be held Monday evening, November 2nd at a place to be announced later.

LEISURE TIME ACTIVITIES AT THE COMMUNITY CENTRE

The Fall and Winter Program of the West Newton Community Centre includes activities for all ages, from the smallest member of the family to the oldest.

Children's club groups are meeting every afternoon at the Portable Club House, Eden Avenue Playground. Here a child has an opportunity to create. The article may be one of any number of things, but when finished, it is his own, the work of his hands. In addition to the club groups, sewing and cooking classes are held for those interested. Story telling, folk dancing and active game groups will open the first week in November.

A new Saturday morning group for children of kindergarten and first grade age opens October 24, with a student from Leslie Kindergarten School in charge.

The work of the Centre is not entirely for children. The two women's club groups already organized are busily engaged in their fall program. In addition to them, four new groups are expected to open the first week in November. These classes are: Red Cross Nursing Class, Mondays, 8:00-10:00 P. M. (First and third weeks); Dressmaking, Tuesdays, 8:00-10:00 P. M.; Craft Class, Wednesdays, 8:00-10:00 P. M.; Tap Dancing Class, Thursdays, 7:15-8:15 P. M.

YOUR OPPORTUNITY

An unusual educational opportunity to hear about the Geneva February Disarmament Conference will be given to you on Thursday evening, October 29th, at 8 o'clock at the Newton Centre Women's Club House.

Prof. Kirtly Mather of Harvard University is to be the presiding officer; Mr. Devere Allen and Mr. Samuel Guy Inman, both noted lecturers and speakers upon international affairs, of New York City, will give the evening addresses. Everyone interested in working towards world peace should attend this meeting with enthusiasm.

WOMEN'S CLUB ACTIVITIES

Newton Federation

The first Executive Board Meeting of the Newton Federation of Women's Clubs will be held on Monday, October 26th, at 2.45 p. m., in the Library of the Newton Technical High School. Club members are reminded that at a meeting of the Executive Board last spring, it was voted to change the day of meeting from Tuesday to Monday, and the hour from 2.30 to 2.45 p. m. The later hour, it was felt, would prove more convenient.

State Federation

AUTUMN MEETING. By invitation of the Marlborough Woman's Club the Autumn Meeting of the Massachusetts State Federation of Women's Clubs will be held at Lyndhurst, a large, airy pavilion, near the centre of the city of Marlborough, situated in a field overlooking a small lake. A feature of this meeting place is that there are many attractive spots on the lake shore where, weather permitting, those carrying luncheons may enjoy an informal get-together under the brilliant foliage. Another pleasing feature is the ample parking space near the pavilion. Those going by motor should follow Route 20. Worcester busses leave Boston hourly. A special train will be used if a sufficient number apply, leaving Boston at 9 o'clock, and returning at 4.30 p. m. The meeting will open at 10 o'clock, with the president, Mrs. Carl L. Schrader, presiding. Aside from many of the usual opening formalities there will be Greetings from Hon. A. A. Martel, Mayor of Marlborough, and an Address of Welcome by Mrs. Albert B. Sampson, president of the Hostess Club. To this Mrs. Schrader will respond.

A report on "Impressions of the New England Conference held at Rangeley Lakes in September should bring many informative facts of this Convention to Clubwomen. On the topic "Our City Federations, of which there are but four—Newton, Quincy, Springfield, and Boston—Mrs. Samuel N. Braham, president for Newton, will speak, an item of interest in this city. "South America—1931" is Mrs. Grace Morrison Poole's subject in the high-light address of the morning.

Luncheon will be served at Williams Tavern and at the Baptist, Congregational, and Universalist churches. Tickets for this should be reserved not later than October 27th, by sending check for one dollar and a self-addressed and stamped envelope to Mrs. William H. Wetherbee, 43 Franklin street, Marlborough.

The afternoon session will open at 2 o'clock, with a musical program arranged by the Hostess Club. There will be various messages and greetings from the Eleventh District, from the Contact Councilor, Mrs. Thomas Walker, and from the First District Presidents' Club; and from Affiliated Organizations of the State Federation, such as the Women's Educational and Industrial Union, Woman's Auxiliary to Morgan Memorial, Women's Relief Corps, Auxiliary to G. A. R., Florence Crittenton League, Young Women's Christian Association, and National Civic Federation (Massachusetts section) by their presidents.

The address of the afternoon will be given by Mrs. Percy V. Pennybacker, formerly president of the General Federation, whose subject will be "Geneva, 1931."

ART CONFERENCE. What promises to be a delightful affair in informality and sociability, as well as in opportunity for appreciation of justly famous art treasures is the Musicale and Art Conference arranged by the State Art committee, under the chairmanship of Mrs. Roy C. Baker, for next Wednesday, the 28th, in a visit to the Gardner Museum, Boston. At 1.30 o'clock, Mr. Morris Carter, director of the Museum, will conduct the guests through the Museum, explaining its collection. Tea and a musicale will follow the "Musical Hour." All chairmen and members of Art committees, and any other interested Club women, are invited to attend. Reservations are in charge of Mrs. Morris M. Roud, 85 Corey road, Brookline.

RADIO. Miss Marian C. Nichols, chairman of the Division of Citizenship Training and Civil Service, will present a speaker on "The Reasons for Registration and Voting" at the weekly Saturday morning broadcast of the State Federation, on the 24th, from 11.30 until 12 o'clock from WBZ. "Art and the Community" will be the topic of Mrs. Roy C. Baker, State chairman of Art. Raymond Coon will give piano numbers.

For the program of Saturday, the 31st, Mrs. Arthur Devens Potter, General Federation director, will speak on "Impressions of Europe," gained in her travels this past summer. Mrs. Thomas J. Walker, second vice-president of the State Federation, and chairman of the popular Club Institute, will speak on "How is Your Club?" There will also be a musical interlude.

BAZAAR. Of special interest to Newton Clubwomen is the Bazaar, to be held by the "Grace Morrison Poole for President of the General Federation, 1932" Campaign Committee, at the Hotel Statler on November 4th, because of the large number of Newton women giving assistance. The following are serving at the Pop concert in various capacities: Chairman, Mrs. John F. Capron of Newton Centre; vice-chairman, Mrs. M. H. Gulesian of Chestnut Hill; secretary, Mrs. Walter Hartstone of Newton Centre; chairman of Junior Girls, Mrs. Charles Willson of Auburndale; cashier, Mrs. Sidney Thomas of West Newton; candy, Mrs. Roger E. Hall, of Newton; and Mrs. J. Earl Parker of Waban; and among the ushers Mrs. Samuel N. Braham of Newton; and Mrs. Earle Manning of Newton Highlands.

Announcement of a generous donation by the Ladies' Library Association of Randolph; 50 dressed dolls, holds attraction.

The Brookline Woman's Club, also, has voted to donate $100 for the use of their president, Mrs. J. Arthur Came, of Brookline, chairman of the luncheons, toward the purchase of food to help supply the luncheons. Those who have not yet made luncheon reservations should do so as soon as possible. It will help the chairman to know for how many to prepare.

An interesting collection of antiques will be put on sale by the Division of Mothercraft, Mrs. May Dickinson Kimball, chairman of the Mothercraft Division, doing this for the campaign fund.

Clubwomen who are desirous of having their names in the souvenir program should get them to Mrs. W. J. McDonald, Hotel Statler, as soon as possible as the program goes to press in a short time.

Shakespeare Club

Mrs. H. E. Durgin, the president, will entertain the Shakespeare Club of Newton Highlands with a Luncheon at 12.30 o'clock, at her home in Norwell, Saturday, October 24th. Through the hospitality of some of the members, all the ladies will have the opportunity of motoring down, thereby enjoying the gorgeous beauty of an autumn day.

The work for the afternoon will be Acts I and II of Hamlet, in charge of Miss Virginia Drew.

C. L. S. C. of Newton Highlands

The next meetings of the C. L. S. C. of Newton Highlands will be October 26th. The hostess for this meeting is Mrs. N. F. Van Hosen of 53 Marshall street, Newton Centre. Miss Adelaide Webster is to conduct the program.

Auburndale Woman's Club

The Executive Board of the Auburndale Woman's Club will be hostess at a Buffet Luncheon, to be given to all Club members, at the Auburndale Club House on Tuesday, October 27th, at one o'clock. This luncheon will officially open the Club year, with the new president, Mrs. Walter Van Patten Steiger, presiding. The chairman for the day will be Mrs. Charles Weden who will present as speaker for the afternoon, Prof. Robert E. Rogers of the Institute of Technology, who is too well known to Newton audiences to need any introduction. His subject will be "Modern Books."

Although this luncheon is free to all Club members, reservations must be made by October 23rd, with the chairman of the Hospitality committee, Mrs. George W. St. Amant, whose telephone is W. N. 0505. Tickets for guests may be secured from her at fifty cents each.

Newtonville Woman's Club

Activities for the enjoyment and interest of members of the Newtonville Woman's Club are many and varied for the coming week.

The Literary Class, which is in charge of Mrs. George Auryansen and Mrs. Charles Richardson, members of the Education committee, will hold the first of a series of "Afternoons with Books," at the home of Mrs. Wallace C. Boyden, of 64 Oakwood road, on the afternoon of Tuesday, October 27th, at 2.30 o'clock. Mrs. Alice Dixon Bond, the speaker of the afternoon, will discuss "Some Interesting and Pleasant New Books." Mrs. Bond, a lecturer and interpreter of modern literature, is well-known in the Woman's Club, of which she is a member, and the fascinating manner with which she presents her interpretations always charms and delights her audiences.

Mrs. Alexis Mahan, chairman of the Education committee, is very desirous that as many as possible of the Club members attend these meetings and avail themselves of the splendid opportunity when they will hear and discuss the new and interesting novels of the season.

The Glee Club will hold its second rehearsal of the month on Wednesday, October 28th, at 9.45 a. m., in Miss Curtis' studio, at 297 Walnut street.

The Hospital committee will hold the first meeting of the season, on the 29th, at the home of the chairman, Mrs. Henry J. Barringer of 123 Lowell avenue. The committee plans to hold at least one meeting a month at the Hospital when they will sew and make surgical dressings.

The chairman suggests that now while jellies and jams are being made for home consumption, a few extra jars be set aside to be donated later, together with the old cotton and linen which is given each year to the Newton Hospital.

A number of classes are being instituted this year for the benefit of Club members who are interested in studying French or German. These classes will form immediately, if a sufficient number respond. There will be groups for beginners or for the more advanced students of the language. If any who may be interested wish further information, they will receive the same by telephoning Mrs. James D. Elliott, W. N. 2663.

Classes in Contract Bridge will also be organized if enough members are desirous of taking the course, which is being offered by Mrs. F. Spencer Arend. The series comprises six lessons for $5.00. For reservations telephone Mrs. Arend, N. N. 1312R.

Newton Centre Woman's Club

The American Home committee, of which Mrs. Perley E. Whelden is chairman, announces an interesting lecture for Wednesday, October 28th, at 10.30 a. m. Miss Sarah Harding Hunter will speak on "The Evolution of the Home in New England." Her talk will be illustrated with stereopticon slides, and she will also speak on the use of electrical appliances in the modern home. There will be no charge.

Waban Woman's Club

Seats in the balcony at fifty cents are being featured, as an opportunity for students, young people and others to hear this talented artist at a very moderate price.

Tickets are in charge of Mrs. A. Shirley Ladd of Berkeley street, West Newton.

Newton Hospital Aid Association

The yearly social events of the Newton Hospital Aid Association have invariably been outstanding successes, but the Fashion Revue and Bridge held at Brae Burn Country Club on Tuesday, the 13th, brought most enthusiastic praise from all who were present. The Fashion Revue which was shown by courtesy of R. H. Stearns Company was unusual in its excellence and in the quality of the models presented.

Beautiful potted plants donated by local florists for souvenirs, the attractive "debs" and "sub-debs" who offered their trays of sweets, and the attractive candy table, presided over by Mrs. F. A. Day, Jr., and Mrs. Walter McGill, made an attractive setting.

Mrs. George Talbot was assisted in plans for the party by Mrs. Pitt Drew, Mrs. Cecil Clark and Mrs. Francis Williams. For many years Mrs. Talbot has been president of the Hospital Aid and under her leadership many significant additions have been made to the Newton Hospital which it could not otherwise have had. Largely through the earnings of the Hospital Aid's Benefit Shop earnings, the sum of $25,000 was paid to equip the entire dining wing of the new Hospital. Last winter a $3,000 fracture table was purchased and a much needed oxygen tent by the Hospital Aid. It would take columns to list the items of things for which the Association has paid. The work goes quietly and steadily on, and only when a social event brings the organization before the public, is Newton reminded of the force for which the work stands.

Newton Centre Woman's Club

Mrs. Vincent P. Maloney, chairman of the Rummage Sale held recently for the Newton Centre Woman's Club, reports a very successful sale in spite of the rather poor weather on one of the two days during which the sale was held. This was the first activity of the Ways and Means committee, which plays such an important part in the Club life.

Auburndale Review Club

Mrs. Charles S. Grover, a member of the Program committee of the Auburndale Review Club for this year, was hostess for the meeting on Tuesday morning, at her home on Vista avenue. During the business meeting conducted by the president, Mrs. Ernest Drew, Miss Alice M. Dike was voted into active membership by acclamation, and Mrs. Arthur Freeman unanimously elected by ballot to the Waiting List.

Mrs. George F. Howland told the stories contained in the three books by Selma Lagerlof "The Ring of the Lowenselds," after which Mrs. Charles Grover read four Icelandic poems, contrasting the style of early writing with that of the present.

Mrs. Grover then introduced Miss Julia Larimer who had recently visited Iceland, and was present at the convening of the one thousandth anniversary of that country's Parliament, without doubt the oldest Parliament in the world. She described the trip there with a group of Danish-American women from this country, and showed pictures of the island, and of the centre Reykjavik where they remained for several days; a city of 26,000 inhabitants who travel about in hydroplanes, as the railroad has never entered there. Miss Larimer told of the events connected with the anniversary, such as the presentation of gifts from every country, and spoke of the statue of Lief Erikson which was America's offering. The meeting less than a six can give you built-in smoothness

The whole question was settled long ago—as to how many cylinders it takes in a motor car engine to give satisfactory smoothness. Science definitely established the fact that at least six are necessary. Engineers confirmed this by repeated test and experiment. Manufacturers soon took the cylinder question so completely for granted that, one after another, they changed over to the building of sixes and other multi-cylinder cars exclusively.

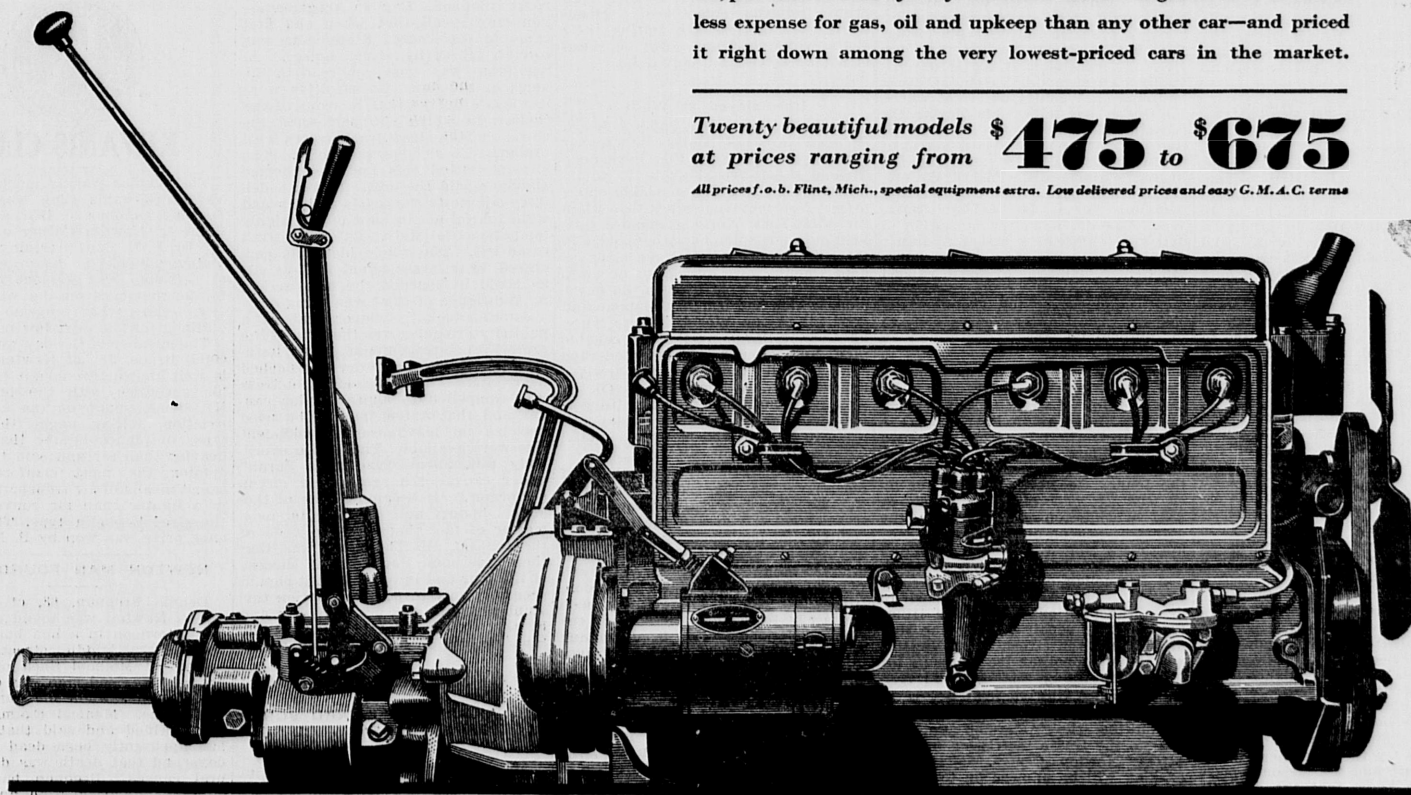

So today, the public accepts the multi-cylinder engine in the same way that it accepts 4-wheel brakes, parallel-mounted springs and every other principle of proved and acknowledged superiority. Of course, nothing less than a six can give built-in smoothness.

This general acceptance of the multi-cylinder idea has had a great deal to do with the fact that the Chevrolet, month after month, during 1931, has been the largest selling automobile. For Chevrolet is a six. Hence, objectionable vibration never gets a chance to start in a Chevrolet—much less to annoy driver and passengers, and shorten the life of the car! Chevrolet smoothness is built-in!

Today, this six-cylinder smoothness and dependability are within reach of every new car buyer. For Chevrolet has produced a quality six, powered it with a firmly-mounted motor—engineered it to run at less expense for gas, oil and upkeep than any other car—and priced it right down among the very lowest-priced cars in the market.

The statute under which the state is laying a large water main through this city, contains a clause to the effect that the "mayor and aldermen" may make reasonable regulations regarding the manner in which the work shall be done. Our city fathers have been certainly delinquent in not requiring the contractors to do the work with some regard for the persons who are obliged to use the streets where these water mains are being laid. It would certainly be a "reasonable regulation" to require these enormous pipes to be kept in storage instead of cumbering streets and sidewalks for weeks and even months before being put to actual use.

The first step in keeping Newton the "banner Republican city of the Commonwealth" was taken last night at a meeting which nearly fifty young Republicans of this city attended. Plans were formulated for a group organization which will do its part toward a state-wide movement for a Republican majority in the national election next fall. With the rapid growth of Newton the past few years and little organized effort to interest many in becoming registered voters, as well as to vote, there is a large field and a great opportunity for such an organization.

We do not recall any fall in which the foliage has been so beautiful as the present autumn. In recent years those who desired to see the beauty of foliage have been obliged to make a trip to our neighboring states to the north. This fall, however, that trip has not been necessary, for we have had the most gorgeous coloring right here in Newton.

The invitation to attend an inspection of the new John W. Weeks Junior High school next week should be accepted by every friend of education. Newton has an enviable record for education and this new Junior High School will be an inspiration to continue that record.

Newton Highlands must have something in the way of longevity that other sections of the city lack. We note the fact that Miss Fogg is 100 years old, Miss Phipps is 90 years old and Hon. and Mrs. Seward W. Jones have just celebrated their golden wedding.

ABOUT TOWN

By Edw. H. Powers

The closing of Washington street, between Hall and Channing streets at Newton Corner, to traffic, and the closing at the same time of Pearl street from Centre street westerly to traffic, has resulted in traffic jams every evening between 4:45 and 6, both at Newton Corner square, at the intersection of Centre street and Centre avenue and at the Newton railroad station. The closing of these two streets simultaneously displayed very poor planning. There is no reason why Pearl street should not have been kept free from the big pipes and kept open for two-way traffic until the job of laying the pipes at the corner of Washington and Peabody streets had been completed and the main street opened for traffic.

A ledge of rock has been encountered on Peabody street, near Pearl street, in the excavating for the water main. According to plans at the City Engineer's office, this ledge extends along Pearl street nearly to Bacon street, which means that it will be slow work excavating the big trench at this location.

The Boston Elevated Railway has laid 140 feet of new tracks at Park and Tremont streets, Newton, and 300 feet on Tremont street have been partly repaired and replaced. The Boston Elevated thinks this amount of work, plus the grinding of rails on Tremont street, to remove corrugations, will stop the noise nuisance which has bothered people residing on Tremont, Park and nearby streets. When the work is completed, within the next couple of weeks, we can tell whether, or not, there has been any appreciable diminution of noise. One thing is certain, while the rattle-boxes of cars now in use are kept on this division, there will be plenty of noise. Also—the Boston Elevated could well use some grease on the curves at the Boylston and Park street subway stations to stop the ear-splitting screeching which people have to endure when cars round these curves.

ROTARY CLUB

On Monday, October 19, Mr. Harry W. Bascom, secretary of the Newton Y. M. C. A., and chairman of the Community Service and Boys' Work Committee of the Newton Rotary Club told the interesting story of the loan and scholarship fund work of the Rotary Club at the weekly luncheon meeting, at the Woodland Golf Club. The loan fund of the Club was established in 1924 soon after the founding of the organization. Its purpose is to assist boys and young men in preparing for their life work in a business-like and non-gratuitous manner. The first year the club members contributed $425 and after that $500 each year up to and including 1931, making a total with interest to date of $3633.34. Of that amount $3092.50 has been loaned to 13 individuals. One exception was made in 1927 by giving help to a worthy young woman, though the fund was established primarily for boys. The first four individuals to receive loans have paid back $737.50 which leaves $2355 outstanding and $1278.34 cash on hand for future loans.

Even with the help of these loans some of the young men have had a good deal of a struggle continuing in the institutions of higher education to which they have gone, family circumstances often adding greatly to their hardships. Mr. Bascom related a number of touching human interest stories which have come to light through these loans. He enumerated the careers of each individual since the club became interested in him which showed that in nearly every case the confidence of the club had not been misplaced.

The Newton Rotary club has also given a scholarship of $300 to a graduate of a Newton High School since 1924. The basis on which these scholarships have been determined is character, scholarship, participation in school activities and need. The following in the order named have been the recipients: Lawrence Peakes, Michael Altieri, Harold Carver and Herbert Holmstrand (sharing jointly in 1926-7), Norman Payne, William Bang, Edwin E. McLaughlin, Blakelee Wright, and Thomas Mariner. The club has reason to be proud of the record of these scholarship holders. Principal Irving O. Palmer of the Newton High School, has kept close watch over the careers in college and later in active life of several who have graduated from college. Mr. Bascom read a short sketch of each one as prepared by Mr. Palmer.

Different members of the club have acted as advisers to these boys, especially to those who have received money from the loan fund. The present advisers are Horace Orr, Irving Palmer, Thomas Goodwin, Fred Bond, Dr. Edward Mellus, Lysecom Bruce, Wilbur Thompson, Dr. Fred Lowe, and Mr. Bascom himself. The members of the Community Service and Boys' Work Committee of the club are besides Mr. Bascom, the chairman, Messrs. Orr and Palmer, Dr. Charles D. Ansley and A. Norman Needy.

PAY TRIBUTE TO EDISON

Newton's "Back to Boyhood" Scout Training course meeting in the John Wingate Weeks Junior High School took part in the national one minute "lights out" tribute to Edison at 10 o'clock Wednesday night by giving "a parting salute to the man who brought the world to light from the dimness of a candle." Boy Scouts from Ellis Memorial Troop of Boston assisted the prominent Newton men who are taking the course.

Edison's life as an incentive to boys was stressed by John M. Bierer, Scout Master of Norumbega Council of Newton, as a preliminary to the impressive service. Then sharply at 10 o'clock the gathering arose and lights were extinguished. Instantly through a door at the side of the room into the darkness moved two small Boy Scouts slowly bearing a table. Two lighted candles on the table disclosed a silver-framed portrait of Edison, resting on a black satin scarf, flanked on one side by an American flag and on the other by a vase of red roses.

The hundred men came to salute and stood at attention while from a distant room on the other side a bugler sounded Taps. So impressive was this service that tear-filled eyes were noticeable when lights again were turned on.

"The Scout's oath," said Mr. Bierer, "pledges our boys to strive to attain the ideals for which Scoutdom stands. We try to make these ideals live by deeds and not become mere words. We know that the example of a life with purpose will influence a boy far beyond the power of words and from time to time we cite instances of men whose deeds illustrate our ideals. Mr. Edison was one of these men and his life may well serve as an incentive to any boy."

"We are proud," he said, "that Mr. Edison, in his search for boys worthy of training as the scientists of tomorrow, found his selections in the Scout ranks. We share the sorrow of the world in the loss of one of the great minds of all time but we find consolation in the thought that the life of this man will encourage boys for centuries to come."

"Tonight, a sorrowing nation mourns the passing of a great benefactor of humanity. We pause as a tribute to a man who won honor from the world as a great scientist yet retained a kind and helpful spirit toward his fellowmen, Thomas Alva Edison."

"Tonight the lights of a nation glow in a parting salute to the man who brought the world to light from the dimness of the candle."

More games were played and longer lessons assigned to the mature scouting students at this second session. Instruction, in general, was directed by O. A. Kitterman, Scout owner of property abutting the proposed locus of the filling station objected to the granting of the permit. He said it would not be healthy to have a filling station and the value of his $15,000 home would be lowered.

ALDERMEN MEET

No person appeared to object to the petition of the City of Newton for a permit to install a 5000 gallon tank for the storage of fuel oil at the rear of the new police headquarters at West Newton. There was also no opposition to the petition of Alderman Richard Hart for a permit to install a 500 gallon gasoline tank on his premises at 32 Suffolk road, Chestnut Hill. So, permits were granted for both these tanks.

On the hearing for the laying out and acceptance of Bernard and Christina streets in the Charlestown section near Newton Upper Falls, W. C. Brown told the aldermen that all the residents on Bernard street want this improvement as the street is impassable in the winter months. A resident living at 12 Charles River terrace invited the aldermen to visit Bernard street and become convinced of the need for its improvement. He said the ruts on it are from 14 to 16 inches deep in the winter time and it is a common occurrence to see cars stuck on the street. He told the Board of Aldermen that the approach from the pumping station on land owned by the city is very dangerous and he has fallen several times while walking on this stretch of road, one time breaking one of his ribs. Joseph Romaszewicz of 15 Bernard street said that he has frequently fallen in ruts on the street with children obtained from the pumping station and that it would be difficult for fire apparatus to travel over the street if a fire should occur on the street. L. W. Bailey of 10 Charles River terrace said the condition of Bernard street is deplorable and if the aldermen resided on it it would soon be improved.

J. B. Hollis of 117 Hammond street favored the improving of Hammonds road from Hammond street to Monadnock road, stating that conditions on the road are very bad in the winter months. No one appeared to oppose the petitions for improving and accepting Jackson terrace, widening the curve on Charlesbank road north of Orchard street, taking of land bounded by Waltham street and Cheese Cake Brook for an addition to police headquarters grounds.

Citizens whose names were drawn and who must therefore serve as jurors at the criminal session of the Superior Court in Cambridge next month are—Eugene Drennan, 287 Homer street; Newton Coan, 78 Washington street; Ernest Young, 108 Derby street; Frank S. Tower, 56 Somerset road.

On the recommendation of the Claims & Rules Committee the Board voted adversely on the claims of Harriet Remick of Newton Centre for injuries received when she fell on a sidewalk on Union street, and of Mrs. Frank Gooley of Highland avenue, Newtonville, for injuries received by her son when he fell off a bicycle on Washington street, Newtonville. The sidewalk on Union street is on privately owned land. No defect could be found on Washington street where the Gooley boy fell off his bicycle. On recommendation of the Claims & Rules Committee the Board voted to appropriate $255.22 to settle the following claims: Justin H. Waters, 111 Webster park, West Newton, and Nathaniel Forte, 76 Webster park, West Newton, damages caused by a defective value in a street hydrant; Archie Appleyard, Elgin street, Newton Centre, damages to house caused by a blast set off by Water Department employees; Roy Chamberlain, 203 Webster street, Newton Centre, damage to automobile from depression on Hammond street.

On recommendation of the Licenses Committee the Board granted a license to John Lawlor to sell second-hand furniture at 10 Pearl court, a permit to Herbert Boudrot to use two pocket billiard tables at 301 Water-town street, Nonantum; permits to the Jenney Gasoline Company for in-creased storage at its stations at 2222 Washington street and at the corner of Beacon and Walnut streets; 3rd class liquor licenses to Ralph Keyes at 349 Auburn street and Melcon Samuelian at 11 Commonwealth avenue. The Aldermen refused to grant the petitions of Edward Hines for a garage repair shop at the rear of 63 Lexington street, West Newton, and of the Jenney Gasoline Company for a gasoline filling station at 63 Norwood avenue, Newton Centre.

On recommendation of the Traffic Committee the Aldermen voted to change the traffic restriction on Rice street, Newton Centre, so that no parking will be allowed on the south side of the street between 8 a. m. and 6 p. m. Instead of on the north side of this street. It was also voted to prohibit parking on the west side of Jewett street, Newton, between Pearl and Washington streets.

Appropriations made by the Aldermen included—Grading and accepting Byfield road, $2190; Otis place, $2223; Arden road, $3611; drain on Beacon street near Monadnock road, $2749; drain on Ward street, $570; pensions for retired city employees, $208.76 and $188.97. The recommended appropriation of $40,300 for building a drain to relieve the "ditch" conditions at Wilde road, Waban, and to improve that road together with Varick and Alban roads, was held up. This matter is having more ramifications than the League of Nations.

Petitions received included Giuseppe Cavallo for 3 pool tables at 1397 Washington street; Dutchland Farms, common victualer license at 811 Washington street; Isaac Turgon, additional gasoline tank at 238 Walnut street.

Executive of Boston. The weekly "pep" talk was delivered by Dr. Franklin P. Hawkes, headmaster of the Arlington Junior High School. West, who is also a member of the Scout Council Ex. Board in Arlington,

What the Theatregoers Like

Whether they are a theatre patron or not you must have read some of the many references to the slump in the theatrical business. Walls from important producers, lamentations by actors and actresses and explanations by critics have filled more pages of daily newspapers, monthly magazines and other periodicals than you could shake your fist at, proving they left you in the mood they did me.

It has been a rule of prosperous times that poor shows succeed and fail and that good shows undergo the same experience. So, without taking up that side or attempting to analyze the mass mind of theatre patrons (with money) I turn to the shows themselves. In so doing I am merely gratifying my curiosity as to the type of entertainment (a good old fashioned word) that draws the crowd.

I find that four weeks of Gilbert and Sullivan opera did a splendid business in Boston. These were revivals of old-time favorites which have been classics and will always have friends. The person who deplores the cheap vulgarity that has crept into stage productions may take heart from this record of patronage. Wholesome theatrical fare is still devoured.

Next I am informed that the performances by colored men and women unexcelled as dancers, singers and funmakers, have actually turned away patrons. The fact that capacity audiences have found this dizzy but meritorious show appealing is far from disheartening.

The third example of playgoers' preference is the fair or "not so hot" patronage given a drama that condemns the alleged methods of tabloid journalism. Residents of New York, who are acknowledged home world-wise than the rest of us, flocked in thousands to see this somewhat morbid though well written and capably acted play. Boston has been a trifle offish as far as the box office is concerned.

Shakespeare for two weeks has drawn many teachers and students. The houses, they tell me, have been somewhat "top heavy," which means that the galleries and balconies have been filled while the lower floor could have held more. The plays presented were those not commonly included in the repertory of Shakesperian companies. That fact probably brought out more serious admirers of the great dramatist. The presentation of the more familiar Shakesperian plays might have drawn even larger audiences, I am advised.

Musical comedies, I am told, are doing fairly well. A famous star draws crowds—sometimes. Meanwhile the "talkies" are getting their share which in times such as these is not as large as it might be.

Unemployed at Work

Assuming that you haven't heard or read of what jobless newspaper workers in New York City have done to help themselves I shall try to interest you in this commendable enterprise. You may remember that when the New York World suspended publication a large number of employees in the editorial, mechanical and business departments were forced out of work. Some of them went over to the newspaper which had bought the name and goodwill of the World. There were, however, a large number of capable men and women, experienced and skilled in all branches of the newspaper business, with nothing to do. It was a serious problem—and still is—for there were families to support, rents to be paid and many other obligations to meet.

A group of them organized the staff necessary for the publication of a weekly newspaper called "Newsdom." If you read it you will see that it is "edited and published by unemployed newspaper workers." Not all the staff of "Newsdom" are former World employees. Par from it. They come from other papers where it has been necessary to reduce the size of the staff. "Newsdom" has been running 12 weeks now and is growing. It gives the gossip of the trade—news of the various New York newspaper offices—and interesting bits about the work of newspaper people. Cartoonists and columnists who still have jobs contribute special features. In fact, the paper is supported largely by those in the newspaper field who are regularly employed and can lend a helping hand. The revenue is not much but it enables, by a fair distribution of the profits, members of the staff to approximate by about one-half the income they formerly enjoyed. No attempt is made to appeal to the public for support or advertising. The subscribers are newspaper workers throughout the country who admire the energy and enterprise of their New York brethren.

I was reading the latest copy—I became a subscriber at the start—and was much amused by a story of Harry Acton, a celebrated ship news reporter. He makes the amazing assertion that returning Americans from abroad are declining to be interviewed upon their arrival at New York. Acton explains, "I don't know. They're afraid their friends will want to obtain loans of money. The protests to the reporters, on the gangplank are quoted thusly: 'Say, boys, have a heart with me this time, will you? I've always been nice to you before, but—gosh. Look at that market this morning. What's it all coming to? If my friends hear that I've returned to town they'll be lining up at the office for loans. They're all broke. So give me a break and let me slip quietly into town unannounced.'"

Publicity Stunts

The ingenuity of publicity promoters is always interesting. You would be surprised to learn the "inside information" of things that are done to attract public attention to an individual who otherwise might be ignored by the rest of the world. There are methods that are so open as to be plainly apparent. Some of these are successful while more fail because the purpose is so obvious. It is really artful manipulation of a "stunt" of this kind that counts in the long run. Anything done so clumsily that the public is aware of something "fishy" about it is "bad business." On the other hand the skill of thoroughly imposing on the credulity of the press and its readers is conceded to be "good business."

You read not long of a scholarly person who condemned as morons all who whistle. I am not prepared to make oath to the report that has come to me that this gentleman is about to have a book released by his publishers, but I wouldn't be shocked if the news proved true.

If you are of the generation of the theatregoers who remember Mrs. Patrick Campbell, English tragedienne, you may recall that when she first came to the United States she was terribly upset by street noises. At least that was what you read in the news of the day. So sensitive were the lady's nerves that in front of the theatre in which she performed the surface of the street was covered with tar to deaden the noise. The city permitted this and the theatre manager paid the cost. It was a delicate tribute to the lady's artistry and a thoughtful act in view of her highly temperamental state. Later the truth came out. The whole idea was conceived by a press agent and as far as could be learned the actress had no knowledge of what was going on.

Another equally clever bit of a publicity promoter was the tour of the great French tragedienne, Sarah Bernhardt, in Texas. The story was flashed everywhere that this great actress was compelled to appear under canvas and that a tent had to be used because no playhouses of sufficient size were available. That made everybody talk about "the great Sarah" under canvas the same as a circus performer. It became a part of the actress's history and still is. But as a matter of fact there was no need of the tent at all. The truth was that there was some doubt of the success of the tour and in order that it should receive plenty of public attention this stunt of a tent was brought forth and by the same mind that invented the unmark idea for Mrs. Patrick Campbell.

SCHOOL NOTES

LEVI F. WARREN JUNIOR HIGH

This year the enrollment of the Levi F. Warren Jr. High School is 788 pupils, and 32 teachers including our principal.

The outside patrol, which consists of several Boy Scouts, is now functioning. Also the inside patrol, which is made up of only eighth and ninth grade pupils, is working well under the supervision of Mr. Surblian, who is director of the Safety Patrol.

On October 7th the school had a Fire Prevention Assembly which was led by Raymond Finnegan. It was combined with Columbus Day exercises and articles on both subjects were given by some of the pupils. Also the candidates for School Community officers were presented by Mr. Scarborough, and the qualifications of each were read.

The banking takes place on Tuesdays this year. A better record than ever before is the aim.

The school will have two bands this year. The experienced players will make up the first band and the inexperienced players will be in the second band, which will march in parades and play in the Annual Music Festival.

The girls are divided into four color teams and leaders are chosen for each team. They are Rejane Harvey for the Greens; Phoebe Norton for the Yellows; Doris Conington for the Blues; and Claudia Goodrich for the Reds. The Reds played the yellows in soccer, and the score was 2-0 in favor of the Yellows. The Greens played the Blues and the score was also 2-0 in favor of the Greens.

About thirty of the seventy-five candidates were chosen for the boys' soccer squad. The first game, played at John W. Weeks' school, resulted in a 2 to 1 victory for the latter. The wearers of the red and gold showed signs of much power, which means a good season for Warren.

FRANK A. DAY JUNIOR HIGH SCHOOL

Principal Burkard has inaugurated a series of pupil radio broadcasts under the direct supervision of Mr. Tanner, head of the Social Studies Department of the school. The broadcasts are made every Friday morning, and are available over the hook-up to every class room in the school.

Mr. Burkard explains that the purpose of these broadcasts are to arouse an interest in the minds of the pupils regarding world-wide problems and their solution. "The League of Nations," "The Sino-Japanese Controversy," "The Economic Situation in England," "The Visit of Premier Laval," and the responsibility of the United States in the solution of the present world situation are among the questions up for discussion.

Robert Perry acted as the announcer on the first broadcasts, October 9th and 16th. The pupil submitting the best answer to the question under discussion each week will be allowed to give his or her answer before the microphone.

The first question discussed was "If you were President Hoover, how would you go about strengthening international good will?" The answer judged to be the best was made by Jane Thayer, which was, "If I were President Hoover, I would try to increase international good will by the interchange of students between different countries. This would help because after people have been in a country, they understand the inhabitants better." Catherine Hayes submitted the answer which received the second highest rating and Richard Burkard the third.

The SERVANT that Brings JOY into the Home

EVEN after cooking a full-course dinner, at the end of the day, the Modern Housewife remains unflustered and unweary. Youthful, light-hearted, she presides at an attractive table.

The children have been bathed and dressed in neatly laundered clothes... the delightful meal is perfectly cooked. A delicious salad is served ice cold, as it should be... and there is a frozen dessert that makes Dad and the kids exclaim, "That's GREAT, Mother!"

How does she do it? How does she accomplish so much—and so easily?

GAS, the Modern Servant, has brought her this leisure, this freedom from labor. A Gas Refrigerator made possible that fine salad and that frozen dessert... Gas cooked that appetizing dinner... Gas kept piping hot water available for dishes, baths and laundry.

Through the whole day Gas adds, immeasurably, to the leisure and joy of living.

Visit our conveniently located neighborhood Showroom and see the latest in Gas Appliances that make both for comfort and convenience.

There are other intensely practical uses for Gas, of course... in every nook and corner of the house. And where you see housewives unweary, happy, doing difficult work EASILY... GAS, the unrivaled servant, has been the problem-solver.

WOMEN'S CLUBS

Newton Upper Falls Woman's Club

At the meeting of the Newton Upper Falls Woman's Club, held Monday, October 19th, in the Emerson School Kindergarten, Mrs. Ross Folger was the chairman of the evening. Madame I. C. Toumanoff gave a most interesting talk on "My Experiences in Russia." Madame Toumanoff was in Russia at the time of the Revolution and gave the Club members a very clear picture of conditions as she met them.

There was a very good attendance and everyone was much interested in the evening's program.

Monday Club

On October 19th the Monday Club of Newton Highlands gave a reception to its founder, Mrs. George G. Phipps, in honor of her ninetieth birthday. This reception was held in the Ladies' Parlor of the Congregational Church, which was decorated with autumn leaves and flowers, making a lovely setting for the event.

Mrs. Frederick S. Fairchild, president of the Club, Mrs. Seward W. Jones, and Mrs. Henry B. Hopkins, received with Mrs. Phipps, who, bright and cheerful as always, played her part serenely, while she looked many years younger than her age. She was the recipient of many flowers and gifts.

Light refreshments were served by Club daughters, and Mrs. Phipps cut a birthday cake, which was also served. Mr. George M. Loud, organist of St. Paul's Church, and nephew of Mrs. Phipps, played on the organ and later on the piano, while the reception was in progress.

There were many guests and all were enthusiastic over the guest of honor and the happy and friendly social occasion. Mrs. James P. Kingman, chairman of the Hospitality Committee of the Club, was in charge of the arrangements, assisted by Club members.

Newton Highlands Woman's Club

Tuesday evening at 8 p. m., in the Congregational Parish House members and guests of the Woman's Club of Newton Highlands welcomed with much enthusiasm Miss Eunice Harriet Avery. Miss Avery has spent eleven vacations abroad studying the domestic and political situation in the British Isles, Germany and Asia, but this last vacation she visited Spain, France and Italy, and the Northern Countries of Africa, bringing back a wealth of information. Her vivid pictures of the life of Old Spain and that of today, together with her keen sense of humor as she told a few of her personal experiences, were greeted with warm applause.

The Club was favored in having Mrs. Kenneth J. Waite, Soloist, give a group of three songs, and then "The House by the Side of the Road." Mrs. Waite was accompanied by Mrs. Maurice A. Reidy at the piano. Mrs. Fred W. Downer, chairman of the Dramatics committee, extended an invitation to all members of the Club to the Readings and Teas in the Workshop two Friday afternoons a month this Fall.

Newtonville Woman's Club

The forty-seventh season of the Newtonville Woman's Club was formally opened on Tuesday, October 20th, when a reception was held at the home of Mrs. Mervin S. Giles, 243 Waltham street, one of the vice-presidents.

Nearly two hundred members enjoyed the social afternoon and the splendid program of music furnished by Robert Mulliken who gave several delightful xylophone solos, his playing being quite remarkable, not only because of his youth. He is a young man fifteen years old. His skill is decidedly unusual in his use of two and four hammers. Mrs. Mulliken, his mother, accompanied him on the piano.

Among the selections played were: "Hungarian Rhapsody No. 2," by Liszt; "Caprice Viennois," by Kreisler; "Hungarian Dance No. 5," by Brahms; "Tales," by Krumpholtz; "Tambourin Chinois," by Kreisler; "Air de Ballet," by Chaminade; and "Mighty Lak a Rose," by Nevin.

Receiving with Mrs. Herbert Blair, president, and Mrs. Mervin S. Giles, were the other vice-presidents, Mrs. Robert C. Kelley and Mrs. Royal T. Lapham. At the tea table, Mrs. Albert D. Auryansen and Mrs. James D. Bennett, past president and vice-president, respectively, presided.

The Bible course was, as usual, one of the largest in the school. Religious education professional workers are sometimes accused of using the Bible less than formerly, but this class shows the major interest continues to be in the Bible and its adaptation to right living in all ages. Prof. Clyde E. Wildman of Boston University School of Theology teaches this class.

MASONIC NIGHT AT LINCOLN PARK

The third annual Masonic Service for the Newtons will be held at the Lincoln Park Baptist Church this Sunday evening at 7:30 o'clock. The Rev. John Shade Franklin, Chaplain of Dalhousie Lodge, will preach on the subject, "Two Hiram's." This will be the third in a series of sermons on Old Testament Characters.

The poems submitted will form a nucleus for the publication of a book in 1932 representative of the Federated Clubwomen of the United States, and will also be considered for the Poetry Anthology as well as for the prize awards. Poems may be in any poetic form or vers libre. Only unpublished poems may be submitted and no more than two poems by a contestant. Each poem must be signed with three notations: name and address of contestant; name of her Club; and name of the Federation to which the Club belongs. Medium length or short poems are preferred.

In patriotic lines, is the prize contest in a poem upon George Washington, in celebration of his Bicentennial. This prize is offered by the National Life Conservation Society of New York City, of which Mrs. Charles Cyrus Marshall is president. The contest is open to anyone residing in the United States who wishes to manifest admiration and loyalty for George Washington through the medium of poetry. All poems must be original; only one may be entered by one writer; no poems will be returned; poems must not exceed twenty lines; and the contest closes February 22, 1932. The first prize is fifty dollars and there are five prizes of ten dollars each. Poems must be sent to Mrs. Marshall, 2229 Tiebout avenue, New York City. While this contest is not strictly one sponsored by the General Federation it is listed here because of the keen interest the Federation is taking in all Bicentennial methods of awakening appreciation of "the Father of our Country."

DISARMAMENT PETITION. At a Fourth of July banquet given to a party of Americans visiting England last summer, Lloyd-George stressed the fact that people who think there is now no danger of war are living in a fool's paradise. He said that all countries of Europe except Germany and England have more men under arms and are spending more money for arms and preparations than they were before the World War, and that the only hope of permanent peace lies in the united efforts of men and women of good will in every nation to create a sentiment against war.

To that end the women of the Twelfth District are working vigorously to secure a great number of signers to the petition of the General Federation to be presented to the Disarmament Conference at Geneva in 1932. A million names are wanted. EVERY CLUBWOMAN SHOULD BE ONE OF THAT MILLION! The quota for Massachusetts is twenty-five thousand (25,000) and it will help to get them by talking the matter with all and sundry. Publicity is potent. One may sign the petition at one's Club meeting or apply to the Legislative chairman, and it would help her in the work to take a petition to one's neighbors, then pass it on to someone else who will do the same. Any woman voter may sign, whether a Club member or not.

A complete description of this petition and its purposes as sponsored by the General Federation was given last week in this Column.

PARAMOUNT, NEWTON

"An American Tragedy," based on the novel by Theodore Dreiser which interested the country twenty or more years ago, will be shown at the Paramount, Newton, for four days starting Sunday. "An American Tragedy" is a bitter scathing, compassionate study of human life, which has been considered by some to be the outstanding novel of the twentieth century.

As a motion picture, "An American Tragedy" lives up to the promise of the original book. In spite of its massive material and vast detail, it is well suited to imaginative screen treatment. The leading roles are portrayed by Phillips Holmes, Sylvia Sydney, Irving Pichel, Frances Dee, Lucille LaVerne and Emmet Corrigan.

Enthusiasm reached a high pitch at the regular weekly noon-day luncheon-meeting of the Newton Board of the Boston Real Estate Exchange held at the Vernon Court Hotel.

Dr. Macnair Gives Inspiring Talk Before Sarah Hull Chapter, D.R.

"Morning Watch" Radio Speaker Takes New England For Subject of Address

Dr. William M. Macnair, of Cambridge, known to many for his "Morning Watch" programs over the radio, gave a most thoughtful and inspiring address on the subject "The Making, Unmaking and Remaking of New England," for members and guests of Sarah Hull Chapter, Daughters of the Revolution, on Wednesday afternoon. Briefly but with painstaking clearness, Dr. Macnair built his foundation of the making of New England through the fine ideals and high courage of the Pilgrims and Puritans; carried forward his arguments showing the unmaking wrought by immigration, due to difference in customs, ideas, and background, with this telling witty and illustrative stories that made his point one of sympathetic interest; and finally aroused new hope in showing opportunities for the remaking by descendants of early stock who have the courage to repeat the process of three hundred years ago in spreading in intelligent manner the ideals of those foundations.

The program was supplemented by the musical program, presented by the Clair Leonard, of Newton, author of the Sonata which he played as pianist, with Miss Josephine Bates, violinist. Members of Sarah Hull Chapter welcomed Mr. Leonard as an old friend, and one in whom they will always be interested, due to the membership of his mother in the Chapter.

A large number attended the first meeting of the season, for which Mrs. Adelbert Fernald, of Elmhurst road, opened her home. Mrs. John F. Dunton, regent, presided over the business meeting which opened with the salute to the flag. She then announced with regret the loss of Mrs. Jas. G. Barnes as recording secretary, as Mrs. Barnes has gone to New York to reside; and introduced the new recording secretary, Miss Emma D. Coolidge, of Newton. She also announced the regret of the Chapter in the loss of Mrs. A. Durant as corresponding secretary, since Mrs. Durant is visiting in New York for the winter; and presented the new corresponding secretary, Mrs. Robert J. Estabrook, of Beecheroff road, Newton. Minutes of the April meeting of the Chapter were read and approved; and the corresponding secretary read interesting letters in regard to plans for the erecting of the pulpit at the Memorial Church at Valley Forge, the gift of the Daughters of the Revolution; plans of the State Society for the winter, in addition to their funds for patriotic purposes, from the State regent, Mrs. Clarence

W. Mansur, of Malden; an announcement of the change in Headquarters of the State Society to the Hotel Abbotford, at 186 Commonwealth avenue, Boston.

The regent announced the very satisfactory results of the Rummage Sale held in the spring, and other business matters. She called attention to the opportunity to learn of the Disarmament Conference plans at a meeting at the Newton Centre Woman's Club House on the evening of November 10th. The bridge party to be held in Hunnewell Club Parlors on Thursday afternoon, November 19th, tickets for which may be obtained from Mrs. Estabrook, gives promise of being a delightful social occasion, as the next activity of the Chapter. Mrs. Adelbert Fernald called attention to changes that will take place in personnel at the Newton High School next year, due to retirements, and mentioned candidates for School Committee which becomes a question of increasing importance thereby.

Five recommendations were presented to the Chapter from the Executive Board and unanimously adopted; these including patriotic work for War Veterans in hospitals; Christmas boxes of delicacies; prizes for the best patriotic essays written by boys and girls in the eighth grades and Junior High Schools of Newton; a prize for the girl in senior class at High School having the best rating in American History; and a new feature of great importance, the appointment of a Membership Committee, in accordance with the policy of the State Society, in a huge Membership Drive, to arouse descendants of the patriots of the American Revolution of 1775 to take up their patriotic work of today in safeguarding the ideals and foundations of their country.

To this end any patriotic women of Newton, claiming such descent, who would like to become affiliated with the Sarah Hull Chapter in their decidedly worthwhile service for their State and country, would be welcomed to their midst, if they will apply to any officer of the Executive Board for information.

The regent introduced Mrs. Ellen P. Harris, of Newton, who has been appointed chairman of Work for War Veterans, and she related briefly the work undertaken, and read letters from hospitals expressing appreciation for gifts of knitted caps and socks, for which there is a great need, especially at this time of year. ## Community Uses Of Buildings Approved

Transportation Discussed At School Committee Meeting

At its meeting on Monday evening the School Committee approved a large number of requests for the use of school buildings for community purposes, but when it comes to the question of transportation of pupils it consistently refused to involve the city in any more expense for this purpose unless shown to be legally necessary, or advisable because of additional information.

Permission was granted the Boy Scouts for the use of school rooms as follows: The Angier School for the first aid course on Wednesday afternoons and the High School Drill Hall to Troop No. One on Tuesday evenings. The following requests were also granted: the use of the Cabot School assembly room on Tuesday afternoons; the use of the assembly room of the Horace Mann School on Tuesday afternoons; the use of the F. A. Day Jr. High School on Tuesday afternoons; and the use of the kindergarten rooms of the Emerson School on Tuesday evenings.

Permission was granted the Newton Community Club to take care of children at the Underwood School while the mothers attend meetings. Permission was also granted for the use of the Davis School for indoor athletics, folk dancing and a cooking class. Various other similar requests were granted.

The Transportation Committee reported a petition from fifty parents of the Upper Falls section requesting the city to furnish transportation for their children to the Newton Junior High School or to allow them again to attend the Emerson local school. The Committee stated that the average distance of the petitioners from the Weeks school was a mile and a half, and that it could readily understand the feelings of the parents who had previously had their children in school at their doors. However, the committee made no recommendation.

The following resolution placing the Committee behind the state law was finally adopted: "It is the sense of this committee that the city should not pay the transportation of any junior high school pupil living within a two mile radius of his school."

The Committee also refused to take action assuming obligation to pay tuition to Brookline for a pupil living much more convenient to the Brookline school than to a Newton school, and involving transportation difficulties on the ground that it would be establishing a serious precedent. However, Chairman Lockett said he would see to it personally that the family understands its rights to compel the city to provide transportation for its child the entire distance to a Newton school or to pay its tuition in the more convenient school.

The Committee approved the September expenditures for current expenses of $146,785.77. It also approved plans for a storage room for bicycles at the Weeks Junior High School at an estimated cost of around $5,000, having rescinded its previous action approving other plans for this purpose because of excessive cost.

SCHOOL COMMITTEE CANDIDATES

Joseph F. Lockett of 70 Hancock avenue, Newton Centre, for the past 6 years a member of the School Committee, has consented to be a candidate for another term 3 years and his nomination papers are being circulated. Mr. Lockett is Chairman of the School Committee and has been one of its most energetic and competent members.

Mrs. Maynard Hutchinson of Temple street, West Newton, for the past 9 years a faithful member of the committee from Ward 3, has announced that she will not be a candidate for re-election. To succeed her, citizens of West Newton have obtained the consent of George H. Fernald, Jr., of 61 Winthrop street, to run as a candidate. Mr. Fernald is general counsel for the Boston & Albany Railroad. He graduated from Harvard in 1903 and from Harvard Law School in 1905. He has six children, five of whom are now pupils in the Newton public schools.

Count Von Luckner Thrills Audience

At Lecture For Boy Scout Benefit At High School

"I had the courage to sink a ship, but I did not have the courage to take a human life because I loved my mother," was the climatic statement of Count Felix Von Luckner at the end of the recount of certain episodes in his life, a lecture given under the auspices of Norumbega Council Troop One, Boy Scouts of America, last Friday evening in the High School Hall. Speaking on his subject, "My Buccaneers Career," the Count told the interesting story of his globe trotting boyhood, how he finally attained a command in the German Navy, and how he ran the British blockade with an old sailing vessel.

The main floor of the auditorium was well filled with an audience which showed its appreciation of the Count's dramatic recital of his thrilling adventures by roundly cheering for the speaker to continue when his time was up.

As master of ceremonies, Doctor Cecil Clark took the opportunity to announce that the Boy Scouts of Newton, with their twenty troops and 700 members, are now rated among the first ten cities of the country on excellence of work. In introducing the speaker, Doctor Clark said, "There is but one Count Von Luckner," and this statement was fully justified by the lecture which followed.

Starting when he was a boy of thirteen, Count Von Luckner related how, because of failure in his studies, his teacher told him that he would grow up to be a bum. This discouraged him so that he left school in spite of a promise he had made his father that he would study to become a lieutenant. At this critical time in his life he happened to read the life of Buffalo Bill and decided to become a "self made man." He further decided that he wanted to meet Buffalo Bill. He earned a hundred and fifty dollars and ran away from home. He stole aboard a vessel which he supposed was bound for America, but which turned out to be a Norwegian trader bound for Australia. Not daunted, he worked his passage to America, and walked the ties from San Francisco to Denver, only to find when he knocked at Buffalo Bill's door that his hero was in Germany with his Wild West Show. This, he said, was the greatest disappointment of his life.

Still determined to become a self made man, he hiked on to New York. While there he sustained life by washing dishes and shining door knobs in the Majestic Hotel, where he saw Roosevelt, Edison and other self made men pass in and out. He finally adopted the calling of the sea, entered the German Naval training school under an assumed name, and finally by happy chance received his papers as lieutenant from his own uncle, an admiral, who discovered his identity.

The story of how he ran the British blockade with a sailing vessel in search of nitrates for powder manufacture was especially thrilling. Having secured a ship built in 1878, he had her rigged with every yard of canvas she could carry and disguised her as a Norwegian merchantman. The detail of his plans with Norwegian sailing orders and a Norwegian speaking crew, duplicating in every possible respect an actual existent Scandinavian outfit, shows him to have been a master strategist.

On a terrible, stormy night just before Christmas he weighed anchor and gave his ship full sail before the hurricane. He passed out to high seas without sighting a single blockade sentry only to be halted by a British cruiser the next morning after the storm had cleared. He says he "was in a tight place." His camouflage of lumber cargo was so well done and his crew was so carefully trained to play its part that the British officers were completely fooled, and, after a brief period of painful suspense, he received the signals, "Proceed on your journey." "We wish you a successful voyage," and "We wish you a Merry Christmas."

150th Anniversary Exercises Held By The Second Cong. Church

Addresses On Past, Present and Future Delivered At Evening Service Last Sunday

At the exercises held by the Second Church in West Newton last Sunday evening in commemoration of its one hundred and fiftieth anniversary, Doctor John Edgar Park, President of Wheaton College, and for nineteen years pastor of the church, spoke on "Lessons of the Past," and Doctor Boynton Merrill, the present pastor of the church, spoke on "The Hopes of the Future." Rev. Dwight Bradley, pastor of the First Church in Newton Centre, the mother church, offered the prayer, and Charles Edgar Swain, a professor in Harvard University, and a member of the church, spoke on "The Duties of the Present." Special music was rendered under the leadership of William Lester Bates, the church organist.

Among the guests at the service were the children of former ministers of the church and their families, the minister and members of the First Church in Newton, the minister and members of St. Mary's Episcopal Church, Newton Lower Falls; The First Congregational Church, Waltham; The First Unitarian Society, West Newton; the Congregational Church, Auburndale; the Methodist Episcopal Church, Newtonville; the Centenary M. E. Church, Auburndale; the Lincoln Park Baptist Church, West Newton; the Central Church, Newtonville; the Church of the Messiah, Auburndale; Saint John's Episcopal Church, Newtonville.

The anniversary celebration recalls to the community the circumstances attending the founding of the society in October, 1781, the day after Cornwallis surrendered at Yorktown, and before the news could possibly have reached the Massachusetts colony. After prolonged discussion and argument, the petition of the Congregationalists living in the western part of the town was granted by the mother church in Newton. The boundary between the two parishes was established running from the Watertown bridge to Echo bridge, giving the West Newton parish Nonantum, most of Newtonville, West Newton, Auburndale, Lower Falls and Waban.

In spite of its extent of territory, the membership of the parish was not large. One writer affirms that there were but four houses in West Newton at the time and but fifteen dwellings within an area two miles square. South and west were wooded hills and rocky pastures and to the north and east were tilled farms reaching to the river.

It is also of interest at this time to recall that the First Congregational Church in Newton Centre had been organized in 1664, one hundred and seventeen years earlier. The First Church was mothered by the Congregational Church in Cambridge, which originally embraced all the territory hereabouts.

The present Second Congregational Church in West Newton with its beautiful building, its strong organization and its contribution to the spiritual and cultural life of the community, certainly justifies the vision of its founders one hundred and fifty years ago.

STREET COMMISSIONER STUART RE-APPOINTED

George E. Stuart was honored by Mayor Weeks in the Aldermanic Chamber at City Hall on Wednesday morning when he was handed his re-appointment as Street Commissioner for another year. In the presence of other department heads and city officials the Mayor commended Mr. Stuart for the service he has rendered the city and for the courtesy he has shown citizens of Newton. Mr. Stuart, who celebrated his 75th birthday last week has been Street Commissioner for 15 years and in the employ of the city in the Street Department for 52 years.

RESIGNS FROM RELIEF COMMITTEE

Curtin had served as chairman of the executive committee and resigned because of ill health. At a meeting of the Relief Committee held Wednesday night, Rev. Robert M. Mantle, assistant pastor of the Church of Our Lady, Newton, was chosen to fill the vacancy.

THE WEEK IN NEWTON SPORTS

NEWTON COACH EXPECTS HARD GAME TOMORROW

Coach Ralph Sanborn of the Newton High School football team is expecting a stubborn battle tomorrow afternoon when he sends his charges against the Woburn High outfit on the Dickinson Stadium field. The reason for the Newton mentor's attitude is partially due to the let down shown by the Newton squad in its past two games. Following the Everett game it seems to be a yearly occurrence for the orange and black outfit to let down for a couple of games before starting the drive down the home stretch. This year has been no exception. The regulars went into the game with Quincy at the beginning of the second half and although scoring twice, did not look as good as the second team did in the first half. Last Saturday at Somerville the Newton first string with but few exceptions did not tackle or block as effectively as in their early season games. Unless the regulars show a reversal of form this week the reserves will probably see plenty of action.

Another reason compelling a belief in a hard fought game is the fact that there are more injuries among the Newton players at present than at any time previous this season. Fred Perkins' ankle, which kept him out of the Somerville game, is rounding into shape very slowly and it is possible that he may not get into tomorrow's game. His forward pass catching ability was sorely missed last week. Al Carvill, second string quarterback, is out for two weeks or more through a hip injury in practice on Monday. Several others are nursing minor bruises and their starting status is in question.

On Monday the squad went through a light signal practice session and work-out but were given a layoff on Tuesday because of a faculty meeting. A stiff scrimmage session was held on Wednesday despite the showery weather and another yesterday afternoon in the mud and rain. Although Woburn High provides more or less of a breathing space in the local schedule prior to the drive down the home stretch towards the final three games with Rindge, Waltham and Brookline and although Newton is the favorite tomorrow the game will not be one-sided by any means. Woburn has not been a set-up for any of its opponents this season. In fact it has lost but two of six games. It scored victories over Peabody, 2 to 0, Lexington 12 to 0, Keith Academy 2 to 0, and Arlington 13 to 0. Reverse defeated Woburn 6 to 0 and Wakefield earned a 14 to 0 verdict.

Using comparative scores as a basis Newton is a 6 to 0 or a 14 to 0 choice. Everett defeated both Newton and Revere by a 7 to 6 score and Reverse defeated Woburn by 6 to 0. This comparison makes Newton a 6 to 0 favorite against Woburn. On the other hand Woburn defeated Arlington last Saturday by a 13 to 0 score and Newton opened its season against Arlington with a 27 to 0 margin which makes Newton a 14 to 0 favorite over Woburn. A third comparison takes in Somerville. Woburn defeated Keith Academy, 2 to 0 and the latter was beaten 18 to 0 by Somerville, making Somerville 16 points better than Woburn. Somerville topped Newton by 7 points last Saturday making Newton 9 points better than Woburn. With these three games as a basis Newton should win by one or two touchdowns.

In its games to date the Woburn team has shown a strong defense while its offensive power, latent in the early games, has begun to manifest itself. Newton also has a fairly strong defensive team and while it may be pressed on occasions it is difficult to see where the visitors can score.

SOMERVILLE SONNETS

Thru the first session Newton forced the fight
To Somerville on their side of the field
But gave a chance to score came to light
And the ball was lost—a fumble revealed.

The second period saw much punting
With little advantage to either side
The half closed with Newton a score hunting
Although Husky's passes went far and wide.

Then came a hard blow to the Newton team
As for seventy yards Chesterfield tore
But stumbled and fell as the fans did scream
Only a short fifteen yards from a score.

Eight plays later like a bolt from the blue
He grabbed a pass to score—adieu—adieu.

Outside of Chesterfield's pretty dashes
There were but few other thrills to relate
Two marches past midfield were Newton flashes
Which ended abruptly 'tis sad to state.

The first one reached the Somerville twenty
Before the home team the attack could stall
Huston tried forward passes a plenty
But two incomplete ones gave them the ball.

The second march had just barely started

MID CLEATS AND PADS

Last Saturday's games shook up the standing of Newton and its opponents considerably. The Everett clan stayed on top through its third consecutive 7 to 6 victory. The previously undefeated Revere team were the victims. Tomorrow's visitors to Newton, Woburn jumped up three notches into undisputed possession of second place. Intercepting two passes led to two touchdowns and a 79 to 0 win over Arlington. A triple tie exists for third place between Newton, Waltham and Somerville. The victory of the defending Suburban league champions over Newton boosted them three places. The Watch City outfit from Waltham joined Newton and Somerville by losing to Lynn English in a 6 to 0 game. It was the Leary eleven's second straight defeat. Losing to Woburn pushed Arlington back two rungs on the ladder to sixth position. The Wealthy Towners from Brookline opened their league season with a 13 to 0 win from Rindge. The victory enabled Brookline to climb up to a seventh place tie with Rindge. Losing a 7 to 6 decision to Watertown dropped Quincy back into the position above the cellar. The Cambridge Latin lads outdid themselves in holding Brookline to a 7 to 0 score. It was the Cantabs sixth straight defeat. Tomorrow the University City team is due to close its league season at Brookline. Its seventh loss is in sight. The victory for Brookline will put them in a tie with Somerville for the lead. The Rindge outfit goes to Revere and does not seem strong enough to hold the latter. The Waltham lads journey to Haverhill where Eddie Banosky holds forth. If the Watch City team can stop him it looks like a scoreless game. Arlington plays at Watertown and should get back on the winning path. The Osterger team has lost but to Woburn and Newton and has played a tie with Winchester. Lynn Classical is the visitor at Quincy and should go home with the bacon. Somerville will have its hands full with the Boston College High outfit at Dilboy field. The Gildea outfit entertains New Hampshire visitors from Manchester to provide the outstanding attraction of the day. The Newton team entertains Woburn and should have little difficulty winning its fourth game in six. Look for scores something like the following: Brookline 14, Camb. Latin 0; Revere 14, Rindge 0; Waltham 0, Haverhill 0; Arlington 13, Watertown 7; Lynn Classical 12, Quincy 7; Manchester 7, Everett 6; Somerville 7, B. C. High 0; Newton 14, Woburn 0.

On B. U. Yearling Squad

Three local youths are members of the Boston University freshman football squad this fall. John Shaughnessy is a tackle, Robert Harrington a centre and Russell Taylor a guard. The Terrier yearlings have two more games on their schedule, Rhode Island State freshmen and the Essex County Agricultural school.

Hyslop in Final Round

Newton E. Hyslop equalled par at the Alhambra Golf Club last Sunday with a 70 move a step nearer a successful defense of his club title. His 70 eliminated Dr. H. L. Esterberg, 4 and 3, in the semi-final round. Hyslop and Leo Mawn will oppose each other in the final matches tomorrow.

Bel Finishes Seventh

Alfred W. Bell, Jr., of Newton Highlands finished in seventh place in the New England A. A. U. 7-mile walk championship conducted by the West End House at Franklin Field on Sunday. The event was won by Alden Burroughs of the B. A. A. The B. A. A. took the team honors through the efforts of Burroughs, Ellery H. Clark, Jr., who finished third and Bell.

To Play Against Virginia

Harvard is expected to have little trouble in keeping its 1931 slate clean in tomorrow's game with the University of Virginia. Many of the reserves are expected to get a real tryout among them Carl Pescosolido, former Newton high and Deerfield academy athlete. Pesky did not get into the Texas game last week.

NEWTON LOSES TO DEFENDING CHAMPS IN LEAGUE GAME

Failing to stop the speedy Billy Chesterfield, Somerville ace, in the annual Newton-Somerville Suburban league game at Dilboy Field, Somerville, last Saturday cost the orange and black its first league defeat of the season and its second in five games. It was Somerville's second league victory. Throughout the first half Newton forced the issue to keep the ball in Somerville territory. Although the Dickerman coached eleven outtruded the Newton team all of its ball-carrying was done on its own side of the 50-yard line. At the beginning of the second half the 1930 champions almost tucked the game away when Chesterfield ran back the kick-off 71 yards only to stumble and fall on the Newton 14-yard line. Before he could regain his feet to score, Kevorkian, Newton tackle, had pinned him to the ground. Newton kicked out of danger to stave off a touchdown but Somerville immediately responded with a short pass from quarterback Donoghue to Chesterfield. The pass traveled but about five yards but perfect interference allowed Chesterfield to race thirty-five yards for the only touchdown of the game. Donoghue place-kicked the point to set the final score at 7 to 0.

Newton's best opportunity came at the close of the first session when a march to the Somerville 30-yard line was abruptly ended by a fumble which Plummer, Somerville centre, recovered. Early in the final period a series of first downs put Newton on Somerville's 25-yard stripe but Somerville held to take possession of the ball.

In the first half Somerville chalked up three first downs to Newton's two but in the second half the stake holders moved along five times for Newton against none for Somerville. But before Newton got rolling the damage had been done and Somerville put most of their efforts towards defending their goal. Somerville drew more than the usual number of minor penalties for having to take time out too many times or for longer than the two minutes allowed. The Somerville players were plenty used up when the game was over in contrast to the condition of the Newton players who played hard all the time.

First Period

Androski kicked off to Buell who was playing in Blackie's place in the Newton backfield and who reached the Newton 40 before being dropped. Huston made 8 yards in two tackle plays and then kicked to Somerville's 25-yard stripe where the ball was downed. Two plays by Androski netted 7 yards and Donoghue kicked to Mullen who ran the ball back 5 yards to midfield. Buell fumbled and recovered and Huston kicked to Donoghue on Somerville's 35-yard line. Allen, playing in Perkins' place at end, got the tackle on the 40-yard mark. Chesterfield was tossed for a 5-yard loss and Lynch failed to gain. Donoghue kicked to Mullen who was brought down on Newton's 32-yard line. Mullen and Huston made 14 yards in two plays for a first down but two more plays gained but two yards and Huston kicked. Gullian dropped Donoghue in his tracks on the Somerville 19-yard line. Vassalotti tossed Chesterfield for a 3-yard loss and on third down Donoghue kicked. Mullen ran the ball back 5 yards to Somerville's 45-yard stripe. An offside penalty against Somerville made it five yards to go and still first down. Huston gained three yards and another Somerville penalty made it first down on the 35-yard line. Captain Regan of Somerville stopped Huston on a three yard gain. Duane fumbled and Plummer recovered on Somerville's 30-yard line to end the period.

Second Period

Newton was penalized 5 yards for offside on Lynch's rush and a 6 yard gain by Androski brought a Somerville first down. Chesterfield gained 8 yards in two plays and a line plunge by Donoghue made it first down just beyond midfield. Two plays and an incomplete pass brought 8 yards and Donoghue kicked. Mullen fumbled the ball but recovered deep in his own territory and Huston immediately kicked out to midfield. A Chesterfield fumble and a penalty against Somerville cost them 10 yards and after two rushes, gaining about six yards, Donoghue again kicked. Huston ran the ball back to the 30-yard line and failing to gain kicked on third down to Somerville's 20-yard stripe where Marr, who had replaced Allen at end, downed Donoghue after the latter had juggled the ball for a moment. Lynch and Androski picked up a first down in three rushes but again Donoghue was forced to kick to midfield. With time growing short Newton took to the air. Four tosses by Huston failed of completion as the half ended.

Third Period

Blackie, taking over his usual position, kicked off to open the second half and Lynch was downed on his 30-yard mark. Newton had been off back on the kick and it was called back. Blackie again kicked off, this time from his 35-yard line because of the penalty and Chesterfield gathered it in on his 15-yard line. Racing towards the sideline the Somerville spread boy eluded the Newton linemen. Past midfield he cut in towards the centre of the field and outran the Newton secondary. With a clear field to the goal ahead he stumbled and fell with Kevorkian coming up fast to prevent him from getting to his feet again. It was a 71-yard run to the Newton 14-yard line. Newton promptly took the ball on downs with Blackie knocking a pass out of Ches-

The local team hopes to arrange a game for either this afternoon or Monday in preparation for the major game of the year next week Friday at Brookline with the Brookline seconds.

SPORT NOTES

Creighton Gatchell, former Newton high athlete, scored the only touchdown for Bowdoin in the 22 to 6 defeat administered by Colby last Saturday. Gatchell, a centre at Newton high and in his first two years at Bowdoin, was moved to quarterback early this season and in the last two games has played at right half-back. Against Colby he was on the receiving end of a 23 yard pass and raced 12 yards for the score.

WOMEN'S CLUB ACTIVITIES

Waban Woman's Club

The Waban Woman's Club will observe another of its delightful "Presidents' Days" on the afternoon of November 2. The guests of honor will be Mrs. Carl L. Schrader, president of the Massachusetts State Federation; Mrs. Thomas J. Walker, second vice-president of the same organization; and chairman of Club Institutes; Mrs. Selden E. James, director of the Twelfth District; and Mrs. Samuel N. Braman, president of the Newton Federation; all of whom will bring brief messages to the Club. Invitations have been extended, also, to the presidents and officers of the Clubs belonging to the Twelfth District, and to the new members of the Waban Club, to be guests for the afternoon.

The entertainment this year will be a lecture-recital by Mrs. Edward A. MacDowell, who, since the death of her husband, has been the guiding spirit and active manager of the MacDowell Colony. Mrs. MacDowell will tell of the hopes and accomplishments of this Colony, and will play some of the compositions of her noted husband.

During the social hour refreshments will be served by the Social committee, of which Mrs. Wallace Egerton and Mrs. James R. Chandler are the hostesses for the afternoon.

Newton Upper Falls Woman's Club

On Monday evening, the 2nd of November, the Newton Upper Falls Woman's Club will be entertained by Miss Mildred F. Beardsley, of Auburndale, with a program of readings and music. Mrs. Harold T. Sprague will be the chairman of the evening.

Club members are reminded again of the Grace Morrison Poole Bazaar to be held November 4 at the Copley Plaza Hotel. It is hoped that a large number from the Club will attend.

Newtonville Woman's Club

The first regular meeting of the Newtonville Woman's Club will be observed on Tuesday, November 3, at 2:30 p. m., in the Central Congregational Church. A business meeting will precede the program for the afternoon.

The entertainment will be furnished by the Haydn Duo, consisting of solos by Gladys Crook, Cundance and a lecture on the "Evolution of the Harp," by Kenneth D. Cundance. Both Mr. and Mrs. Cundance have established reputations in musical circles for their ability, and a rare treat is in store for those who plan to attend.

At this meeting members contribute their jellies, old linen, and cotton, which are annually donated to the Newton Hospital. The Hospital committee urge a generous donation this year.

Clothes are needed by the Welfare Bureau for distribution among the needy families of Newton, and in order to co-operate with the Bureau the Civics committee of the Club will collect articles from members of the Club. Mrs. Edmund L. Becker, chairman of the Civics committee, will be glad to call for such donations if she is notified by telephone N. N. 6566.

Articles to be sold at the Bridge Table at the Grace Morrison Poole Bazaar, on November 4, are to be donated by the Newtonville Woman's Club. These articles may be anything pertaining to Bridge or that may be given as Bridge prizes. Mrs. Charles E. Beatty has charge of assembling these articles, and in order to simplify their collection she would like to have them brought to the Club meeting on the 3rd. It is hoped that the Club members will make generous donations so that the Newtonville Club Table will be well supplied at the Bazaar.

Newton Centre Woman's Club

Mrs. John R. Perry is planning one of the most delightful events for the season for the Newton Centre Woman's Club in the Card Party scheduled for Friday, November 6, at 2 o'clock. It will take place in the newly-decorated Auditorium of the Club and there will be many attractive features. Mrs. John E. Fontaine, noted contract instructor, will give a ten-minute talk on contract bridge, and will discuss the "2 bid" system according to Culbertson and the New Official System. She will also visit individual tables and discuss puzzling hands. There will be attractive prizes for each table, and a delicious tea will be served by Mrs. Charles Bailey and her able assistants. Mrs. Frederic D. Robinson will be in charge of the Flower table, and Mrs. William C. Anderson will preside over the table of Home-cooked Foods. This is an unusual opportunity to entertain friends. Individual tickets may be bought if one cannot fill a whole table, by applying to Mrs. G. E. Squier, C. N. 3618.

That the Club year is getting well under way, is evident from the many attractive Classes and "Talks" which are to take place early in November. First among these, beginning Monday, November 2, at 10 a. m., will be the Class in Parliamentary Law, to be given by Mrs. George E. Hutchins. The Class is limited to twenty members, and as ten have already enrolled, it would be well to join early, by applying to Mrs. Harry E. Moore, C. N. 3774.

The Art committee, of which Mrs. S. Hardy Mitchell is chairman, is offering a most original and interesting series of five morning lectures. The first will be held on November 5, at 10 a. m., when Mr. E. G. Morris will speak on "Art: Its Application to the Home." This subject should appeal to every Clubwoman and will be particularly helpful in the way it is presented, as Mr. Morris will endeavor to show how to use art in the home and to give an understanding of its fundamental values.

The Club also announces a fifteen-week course in Dramatics, to be given by two professional Boston women, exponents of the Leland Powers School. The Course is planned especially to fill the needs of the average Clubwoman or the amateur actor who needs training, and includes the production of a play by the class members. The Class opens Tuesday, November 10th.

Auburndale Woman's Club

An auto trip to the Wayside Inn at Sudbury has been planned for Club members on Tuesday afternoon, November 3, by the Art committee of the Auburndale Woman's Club, Mrs. John Hebeck chairman. All who are interested are requested to be at the Auburndale Club House at 2 o'clock, and it is hoped that all who have cars will fill them. After a personally conducted trip about this famous old place, afternoon tea will be served. For the information of members, admission will be twenty-five cents and tea seventy-five cents.

Newton Highlands Woman's Club

The regular meeting of the Newton Highlands Woman's Club will be held November 3, at 2:30 p. m., in the Congregational Parish House. Mr. Randall L. Jones will give his illustrated lecture on Zion National Park and Kautz National Forest. Rehearsals for the Club Chorus start November 6, at 10 a. m., in the Workshop.

Auburndale Review Club

The next meeting of the Auburndale Review Club will be held at the home of Mrs. Charles Valentine of 362 Walcott street, on the 3rd of November at 10 a. m.

"Puritan's Progress," by Arthur Train; "The Quick and the Dead," by Camille Bradford; and "Colonial Women of Affairs," by Elizabeth Dexter, are the books to be reviewed at this meeting.

Social Science Club

The Social Science Club will meet this year in the Parlors of Channing Church. Owing to a bazaar which is being held in the Parlors on November 4, the Club will meet on that date with Mrs. Everett Kent, the president, of 42 Waterson road, at 10 a. m. Mrs. Annie Russell Marble will speak on "Books and Book Notices."

Community Service Club of West Newton

Among important activities of the Community Service Club of West Newton just announced the Club will, as usual, sponsor a course of ten Current Events lectures, by Mrs. Claude U. Gilson, who needs no introduction to a West Newton audience. Mrs. Gilson travels extensively each year and has many contacts abroad which make her especially fitted to speak interestingly and with authority on current events and on affairs of moment. The first of these lectures will be held in the Unitarian Parish House on Friday, November 6, at 10:30 a. m.

The Community Service Club expects to renew its classes in Elementary and Advanced French and to inaugurate a Club Chorus, and also a series of Book Talks, by Mrs. Alice Dixon Bond.

The Club has also established a candy committee under the able chairmanship and management of Mrs. Elmore I. MacPhie, who will make and have for sale delicious home-made "Community-Service Candy" for the benefit of the Club.

Shakespeare Club

Miss Edith M. McCann of 231 Upland avenue, will be the hostess of the Newton Highlands Shakespeare Club at its next meeting November 7. The study of Shakespeare's tragedy, "Hamlet," will be continued under the directorship of Mrs. H. E. Durgin.

State Federation

BAZAAR. The all-absorbing event of the week in Federation is the Grace Morrison Poole Bazaar, for Wednesday, the 4th of November. All day, from 10 a. m. until midnight, this delightful fete will attract Clubwomen and their friends, especially friend husband for the Pops Concert in the evening at 8 o'clock, at the Copley Plaza Hotel, Boston. The Ball Room will be gala for the setting of the concert by the Will Dodge Orchestra, and other talented musicians and singers. All the rooms for the tables will have the artistic background created by the Art committee, under the chairmanship of Mrs. Roy C. Baker. Rooms for luncheon parties—one for the special gathering of those who do honor to Mrs. Poole, for whose campaign funds for the presidency of the General Federation the Bazaar is being held—will add to sociability. Opportunity to purchase Christmas gifts, unusual and staple, will be welcome. Prominent Clubwomen will be in charge of tables, act as ushers, and otherwise give willing assistance, and among these Newton is especially well represented.

It is safe to say that Wednesday, the 4th, will see a gathering at the Copley Plaza that will assure financial and social success and be a most interesting, even brilliant, event in the annals of State Federation history.

CLUB INSTITUTES. The first Thursday of the month arrives again, and on this day, (November 5), as looked forward to by many Clubwomen, Mrs. Thomas J. Walker presents Club Institutes, at the Boston Y. M. C. A. Auditorium, corner of Stuart and Clarendon streets, from 10:30 a. m. to 12:15 p. m. "The Club Woman's Advantages and Responsibilities" is the general topic of the day, and presidents and officers of Clubs who have been invited to speak upon it will present the program.

RADIO. Clubwomen are reminded to "listen in" to State Federation broadcasts on Saturday mornings, at 11:30 o'clock, over WBZ. The program for October 31st was given in full in this Column last week. November 7th is the date for the following broadcast. At that time, Mrs. Frank P. Bennett, Jr., first vice-president of the State Federation, will be the featured speaker. She has chosen for her topic, "The Responsibility of Leadership." Mrs. Joseph J. Leonard, of the Boston Home Information Center, will speak on "Stretching the Budget." Mrs. Charles L. Fuller, in charge of the program. Timothy E. Phillips, Baritone, for the music period.

DRAMA. Channing Pollock, playwright and author of the current success, "The House Beautiful," will speak informally before a group at the Young Women's Christian Association, on Saturday, October 31, at 2:30 o'clock. His topic will be "Does Modern Drama Represent Life?" The lecture is sponsored by the Massachusetts State Federation of Women's Clubs, with Mrs. Carl L. Schrader of Belmont, president, and Miss Phoebe Lee Hosmer of Orange, State chairman of Literature and Drama, serving as hostesses.

RECENT EVENTS

Community Service Club of West Newton

On Wednesday afternoon, October 21, the Community Service Club of West Newton opened its Club Year in the Unitarian Parish House. The president, Mrs. Thomas Weston, greeted the Club members and graciously brought a message of friendship, promoting a most pleasing Club relationship.

The president also brought to the notice of the Club members several activities, some of them new, which the Community Service Club anticipates for this year. Among these was the Cornelia Otis Skinner recital for October 30th, in Newton High School Auditorium at 8:15 p. m., in which the Club feels that it is presenting a real privilege to the community in giving them the opportunity to hear so well-known and talented an artist, at a moderate price, as well as to help those in the community, who will sadly need help this winter, since the proceeds of this recital are to be devoted to Newton charities through the Philanthropic fund of the Club. Miss Skinner's program includes some of her best-known and most enjoyable numbers.

The speaker for the meeting was Mrs. Grafton Abbott who gave an interesting and enlightening talk on "Understanding Ourselves." Mrs. Abbott has done interesting work with the Judge Baker Foundation and is educational secretary of the Florence Crittenton League.

To quote Mrs. Abbott: "In understanding ourselves three things are to be considered: First, know yourself; then accept your limitations, and third be yourself. Self-knowledge helps us to understand others as well as ourselves. We should learn what our tendencies are and then to value them for what they are, to see ourselves objectively. So few of us have time, or take time, to analyze ourselves and our aims." Mrs. Abbott thinks it would be wise if all could take a day each week as the Hindus do, for thought and introspection.

The great schools of psychology are doing much, and the Judge Baker Foundation helps children to unburden themselves, and by talking things over, assist them in understanding themselves. Mrs. Abbott stated. She further, gave instances of experiences which she meets in her work, and interesting sidelights on child psychology. She recommended several books as helpful and pertinent to this subject of "Understanding Ourselves"—and others, as well.

A delightful tea, under the direction of Mrs. Kenneth C. Tiffin, followed the afternoon program, when Mrs. George H. Fernald, Jr., and Mrs. C. H. Lutton presided at the tea table, made beautiful with fall chrysanthemums.

Newton Community Club

The Thursday afternoon meeting of the Newton Community Club proved very entertaining, the speaker of the afternoon being Mr. Walter Pritchard Eaton, who spoke on "A Yankee's Adventure in New England." He told of his own experience in climbing Mt. Washington, and many out-of-the-way places were described. The talk was most informal and full of Yankee humor, as the clever title gave promise it would be.

Several numbers were played by Miss Lena York, Violinist, accompanied by Miss Dora Adler.

All Club members are urged to make use of the Quest and Question box. This box is placed at the entrance of the hall under the Bulletin Board so as to be easily reached.

An informal expression of opinion was asked for as to the wish of members in the method to be employed to raise money for the Philanthropic Fund, and, according to a rising vote, it seemed to be the desire that each member be asked to contribute $1.00 to this Fund.

The title of "Young" Republicans which has been assumed by a loud voiced group of members of that party, is a misnomer and they should have been designated as "Wet." For that is the present status of the leaders of that group. We presume it will be acknowledged by most of the men and women in political life that Massachusetts is a Democratic state, made so by a combination of a majority of the Democratic party with a minimum of the Republican party. Any move by such Republicans plays right into the hands of the Democratic party and will continue to do so until these wet Republicans come to their senses and, as Bob Washburn remarks, vote according to common sense and not from spleen. We have observed political life in this state for over forty years and have yet to witness the ultimate failure of any proposition endorsed by the churches or by a majority of the women. Just so long as alleged Republicans vote with the Democrats on the issue of prohibition, just so long will Massachusetts be a Democratic state.

The city in general and the Public Library in particular loses a splendid citizen in the passing away of Mr. Frank Howes. In addition to service on the Newton school committee, Mr. Howes was deeply interested in the library and served for many years as president of the board of trustees.

It is a great privilege to congratulate the Second Church on completion of a century and a half of Christian usefulness. Its lessons of the past have been well learned and taught. Its duties of the present are well defined. Its hopes for the future are all that one could ask.

KIWANIS CLUB

The regular weekly meeting of the Newton Kiwanis Club was held on Tuesday, October 27, 1931, at the Elks Home in Newton Corner. The speaker of the day was Charles J. A. Wilson of Ship 13, Committee of Newton Sea Scouts.

Mr. Wilson took with him about 1,000 feet of moving pictures that were taken while the scouts were in training this past summer. These pictures gave the club (for the first time) an insight into the training and work of the Scouts of the sea, depicting the life that the boys lead while training, and showing how hard it is necessary for them to work while aboard ship. The pictures were interesting and very helpful to the members of the club who heretofore did not realize that Newton had a contingent of scouts who two weeks each year take their training aboard one of the ships of the coast guard and do the actual work of sailors.

At the next meeting the annual election of the club will be held and a large attendance is expected.

AUTO ACCIDENTS

Wednesday night at 7:45 a car owned by the Jurad Motor Company of West Newton and driven by Harold Snow of Brown street, Waltham, collided opposite 102 Waltham street, West Newton, with a car driven by William Goode of that address. The impact drove Goode's car into the car of Joseph Hayden of High street, Waltham, which was coming along Waltham street in the opposite direction. Hayden's car was driven into a tree and badly damaged. He was thrown to the street and severely injured. He was taken to the Newton Hospital by a passing autoist where it was found that he had received an injury to his spine, a broken rib, concussion and scalp injury. Snow told the police that the accident was caused by the accelerator on his car becoming stuck.

Wednesday evening at 5:30 a car driven by Mary Supino of 109 Freeman street, Auburndale, hit Robert Owens, 7, of 197 Grove street, opposite the B. & A. subway on Auburn street. According to the testimony of a witness, the boy ran off the north sidewalk and in front of the car. He was taken to his home and later removed to the Newton Hospital where it was found he had a fracture of the right femur.

Saturday morning at 10:05 a call was received at police headquarters for the police ambulance to go to the scene of an automobile accident at 264 Boylston street, Newton Centre. Serg. Cullen with Patrolmen Cody and Hartford went with the ambulance to that location and found a car owned by James H. Hayward of 19 Waldorf road, Newton Highlands, up against a tree. The car was badly damaged. The police went to Hayward's home and were informed that he had been injured, that he was being treated by Dr. Coleman of Broad street, Boston, and that their assistance was not required. Hayward was later treated at the Newton Hospital for injuries to the face and mouth.

ROTARY CLUB

District Governor "Jerry" Wood was the guest speaker at the regular meeting of the Newton Rotary Club at the Woodland Golf Club on Monday. His subject was "Rotary—World Wide and Its Future." He pictured the rapid growth of Rotary throughout the world from 35 countries to 68 countries in the past few years which is remarkable under the present world wide economic conditions. A few years ago James W. Davidson of the Calgary Club was chosen as an international commissioner. Constantinople was his first objective and after spending some time there was forced to give up his efforts to organize a club in that city when unable to convince the Prime Minister that Rotary International had nothing to do with the Nationalist movement of Russia. In Athens he was successful despite party differences which threatened for a time to cause trouble. From Greece he went to Egypt, Jerusalem, Persia, Arabia and Southeastern Asia. Clubs were established in Cairo and Alexandria but he found the people of Persia and Arabia of such a nomadic type that successful clubs could not be founded. Mr. Davidson spent two years in southeastern Asia where he was highly successful as well as in the Orient. He later went to Australia and New Zealand prior to returning to America in a broken down condition due to his strenuous efforts and the handicaps of fever, auto accidents and the like. Among the difficulties encountered were excessive heat, racial differences, lack of suitable luncheon and meeting places, and classifications. Often members were classed by races instead of businesses. In Peking there were three hardware dealers as members of the club, an American, a Chinaman and a Jap. Neither was a competitor of the other in that each traded with those of his race.

Governor Wood referred to the Vienna convention and of the probable adoption of English as the universal language. He told of various ways in which Rotary has aided in clearing up international differences and of the great future in store for Rotary in promoting world understanding.

ABOUT TOWN

By Edw. H. Powers

Traffic conditions at Newton Corner, which had been in bad shape for a couple of weeks due to the closing of Washington street at Peabody street and the closing of Pearl St. to west bound traffic, were considerably improved last Saturday when two temporary bridges over the big trench in Washington street were completed and that street again opened to traffic. The bridges were built following a conference on the preceding Tuesday between city officials and Engineer Foss of the Metropolitan Water Commission.

Had the business men of West Newton, Newtonville and Newton Corner anticipated the length of time the work on the big water-main would have seriously interfered with their business activities, it is safe to assume that measures would have been taken to greatly lessen this handicap. When the interference with business and traffic at West Newton became serious, complaint was made by an official of this city to one of the engineers of the job and the latter evinced the upish attitude of the Metropolitan Water Commission had assumed control over Washington street, could close the street completely to vehicular traffic if it so desired, and that was that. The editor of the GRAPHIC, doubting that the State, through the Metropolitan Water Commission, could assume such a high-handed attitude, did a little investigating and found in Chapter 375 of the Revised Acts of 1926, a section which reads that the Metropolitan Water Commission cannot unnecessarily interfere with traffic in the laying of pipes and must conform to reasonable regulations passed by cities and towns. At the meeting of the Newton Board of Aldermen on October 19 this section of the Revised Acts was referred to by the writer and the City Solicitor asked if it does not affect the condition which has been in effect in this city. An affirmative answer was received.

The attitude displayed by the State employee who didn't show a disposition to help business men and citizens of Newton, is typical of some persons holding public positions. They forget they are employed by the people and paid by the people. We don't expect them to be regarded as public servants, but they should not consider themselves little Czars. The business men of the Newtons, in common with business men everywhere, are having a tough time these days and need all the co-operation they can receive. Had things been better planned the business sections at West Newton, Newtonville and Newton Corner would not have been blocked for weeks by big pipes. These pipes should have been stored elsewhere until needed, even if such storage cost the contractors money. The Metropolitan Water Commission had considered laying the big main along Waverly street. One reason why Washington street was selected was because the State would not be put to the expense of paying for the resurfacing of the street when the pipes were laid along the line of the abandoned tracks of the Middlesex & Boston Street Railway. Just because the Metropolitan Water Commission wanted to save money, is no reason why business men in this city should be made to lose money; especially in such times as these.

Thomas J. McCue, the contractor who laid the big water main between Newtonville and Newton, has practically completed the relaying of the big trench along Washington street. But, the C. & R. Company which has been doing the work on the water main between West Newton and Newtonville still has a long stretch of open trench along Washington street, Newtonville, despite the fact that this company started work some time before Mr. McCue commenced. Newtonville people are wondering if the trench will remain unfilled until snow comes; to add to the undesirable traffic condition on Washington street.

One of the present Board of Aldermen who is a candidate for re-election is John Temperley of Newton Upper Falls, who has represented Ward 5 as one of its Aldermen-at-Large for the past four years. It has been the privilege of the writer to have served as a member of the Board of Aldermen during these years with Mr. Temperley, and without disparaging the other members of the Board, we state without reservation, that in our humble opinion, he is the most independent, conscientious member of that Board. It will be decided by the voters of the City of Newton, its citizens and taxpayers to re-elect Mr. Temperley for another two years. He is needed on the Board.

There has been considerable talk about a determined attempt which will be made to defeat Mr. Temperley. This talk has emanated from persons who have persistently sought special privileges—and who will continue to seek such privileges. Mr. Temperley has not always voted the way these persons desired. He can be depended upon to vote against exploitation of this city by those who would lower the bars on zoning, or who seek permits and licenses of various kinds. He has always worked for the interest of the city as a whole and not for that of individuals.

John Buchanan, 16, of 1191 Washington street, West Newton, was given a suspended sentence to Shirley Industrial School and Robert Morrissey, 19, of 31 Dunstan street, West Newton, was given a suspended jail sentence of 2 months when the pair were found guilty in the Newton court last Friday in connection with a burglary at the Waverley Hardware Company, 991 Watertown street, West Newton. About $100 was stolen from the store and $58 was found in the pair's possession when they were apprehended. Buchanan, who went into the store, was ordered to make $12 restitution. Morrissey, with whom he divided the loot, was ordered to make $30 restitution.

John Perkins, 22, of Lincoln place, Brighton, and Joseph Carmody, 18, of Crescent square, Newton, were held for the Grand Jury in $5000 bonds each by Judge Bacon in the Newton court last Friday on charges of having burglarized the Newton Tire Company at Newton Corner. The judge also put in effect on Carmody a suspended sentence of 30 days in the House of Correction for having used an automobile without authority.

Archibald Parquette of Wollaston, who operates a filling station at Auburndale and a chair renting business at Watertown was fined $10 in the Newton court last Friday for speeding. The complainant was Motorcycle Officer Cornelius Dwyer. Parquette told Judge Bacon that Dwyer had been following him around since, Judge Bacon was not impressed with the implied vindictiveness and imposed the fine.

Aristide Valarani, 41, of 21 Clifford street, Wellesley, was arrested Sunday night by Serg. Leech and Patrolman Walsh charged with driving while under the influence of liquor and with going away from the scene of an accident without revealing his identity. A car alleged to have been driven by Valarani collided at Wales and Washington streets, Lower Falls, with a car driven by Joseph Antorelli of Wellesley. Witnesses took the registration number of the car which sped away and it was found to be registered in Valarani's name.

Francis McMullin of Silver Hill road, Milford, was in the Newton court on Monday to answer charges for several offences. He pleaded guilty to driving without a license in his possession; failing to stop at a through way, and driving without a registration in his possession and giving a false name to a policeman. When apprehended by the police for the first three offences, McMullin gave his brother's name and the latter was hailed into the Newton court. Judge Bacon fined the Milford youth $40 and then suspended the fines.

Serg. Bannon was the complainant against four autoists in the Newton court on Monday. Emilio Tanagerino of Wellesley Hills was fined $10 for not slowing down at a street intersection; Hugh McCue of Watertown was fined the same amount for a like offence; W. L. Desmond of Weston escaped with a $5 penalty for a similar offence; Gerardo Bellefante of Natick was fined $5 for not STOPPING before entering a through street.

A telephone coin-box was stolen Monday night from the office of the Texaco filling station at 1974 Washington street, Lower Falls. The burglar entered the office by forcing a rear window and tore the coin-box from its fastenings.

Joseph H. Squires of 31 Lincoln street, Newton Highlands, was found not guilty of driving while under the influence of liquor by Judge Bacon in the Newton court yesterday. He was also found not guilty of a street offence on the night of October 19 the police were called to the home of Frank McDaniels, 26 Mechanic street, Upper Falls. The latter was arrested for drunkenness. Squires was driving away from the house in his car and was arrested also. Patrolmen Carley and Scott testified that Squires was on him and that he had assisted into police headquarters. Lt. Veducchio, on duty at headquarters the night of the arrest, corroborated the testimony of the arresting officers. Squires testified that he does not drink, that a bottle containing alcohol found on his person had been taken by him from McDaniels. The latter and his wife testified for Squires and stated that he had never acted as a peacemaker in a quarrel between the McDaniels couple.

ONE THING AND ANOTHER

By L. D. G. Bentley

Hallowe'en celebrations need have no age limit. However, when grown-ups feel a desire to step-on-it they should make sure it is not a step in the wrong direction.

Radio and Repose

From physicians who write syndicated articles for daily newspapers and from other deep wells of medical knowledge I have learned that slumber obtained before midnight is of far greater value than sleep enjoyed at other times. I do not desire to dispute the fact—if such it be—and as far as personal experience is concerned sleep at such hours as I can get it is desirable and welcome. But if it is true that we should tumble in as much before midnight as possible in order to get the best brand of sleep on the market, what about this new radio ordinance for Newton?

How come those people who think highly of their before-midnight hours of repose to have been slighted? As I read it, and I am not very accomplished at interpreting legal phraseology, one must sit up until midnight in order to get the benefit of this latest local law. People who follow the advice of journalistic health counselors appear to be out of luck. If they haven't done it as yet they might send marked copies of articles by their favorite physician-authors to members of the Board of Aldermen.

It seems too bad that the radio should have come to be classed as a potential nuisance. It's all very well to grumble and even cuss about the incessant operation of a loud-speaker, but when it gets to a stage that justifies the presence of the police music loses its charm and the savage beast leaves with indignation. I suppose Newton's effort to restrain radio addicts or at least compel them to be considerate of their neighbors will have the desired results. It would be a pity to have a dancing party in Los Angeles interrupted at 2 a. m. by a Newton policeman. The great stretch of country between would make no difference as the officer would become a sort of long-distance cop.

We have not yet reached that Utopian state wherein city ordinance has only to be promulgated to have its provisions immediately obeyed. There will probably be some violations. The police, however, will no doubt serve warning before taking drastic steps. If, however, there are radio owners who have become so confirmed in their habits that they must have air programs all night long, the law must not falter on its course. I do not believe the punishment imposed will be as cruel as the circumstances of the offence, for we have in Newton merciful judges who will always consider a plea of insanity.

Something's Wrong Here

The weight of this column has always been thrown insofar as it has gone in for weight-throwing—on the side of fair play for the motorist. So many "drives" and reform campaigns engineered by self-appointed protectors of the public safety have held the offending motorist up to scorn or so near it as to expose him to a scorching, that it seemed he needed a friend. I am now ready to go on record, providing there is room, as believing that the motorist may well improve his manners.

With the earlier arrival of the shades of night—due to absence of daylight saving time, the period of the year, etc.—I find myself making for home about the time the last of the rush-hour crowd has left the city. This, if you are a stickler for details, is somewhat after 6 p. m. The hour is important as the traffic policemen on many posts call it a day then and there is no human guard at the crossing. What has disturbed me is the fact that automobile drivers, or a number of them, feel privileged after the policeman leaves to ignore all traffic signals. These offenders pay not the slightest heed to the lights but shoot ahead. A group of us had a narrow escape from getting bumped when we accepted the red and yellow glow as a K for pedestrians and found that several motorists thought otherwise. We leaped for the curb and got there just before the cars shot across.

However, this was not an isolated case. More than once, late in the evening, I have seen drivers pay not the slightest attention to traffic signals. Officials to whom I told my story said, "That's nothing, there are drivers who wouldn't observe a single rule of traffic if the cops weren't there."

It may be that this man was a trifle severe and yet I am disposed to think that he is just and I am too easy-going. If the figures at the State Registry of Motor Vehicles, which set forth numerous offences of motorists, mean anything they are not so creditable to drivers. Apparently there are hundreds and hundreds who take week try to get away with all sorts of minor infractions of the statutes. For every one of these apprehended there are probably a half-dozen at least who elude the clutches of the law. All of which makes my job of presiding justice a difficult one.

Shall We Celebrate?

How are you on birthday celebrations? Are you one of those who never forget such anniversaries among the members of your families and friends? Or do you belong with the larger number of self-centered folks who remember only their own birthday and who seem to have a grievance against the Government because it isn't a National holiday?

If you happen to enjoy making other people happy and take pleasure in getting up dinners or luncheons or other kinds of surprises you will be glad of any suggestions along these lines. Of course I cannot tell you how to

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

"Probation after Death" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, October 25. The Golden Text is: "Verily, verily, I say unto you, The hour is coming, and now is, when the dead shall hear the voice of the Son of God; and they that hear shall live" (John 5:25). Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "But let every man prove his own work, and then shall he have rejoicing in himself alone, and not in another. For every man shall bear his own burden" (Galatians 6:4, 5).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "The God-inspired walk calmly on though it be with bleeding footprints, and in the hereafter they will reap what they now sow. The pampered hypocrite may have a flowery pathway here, but he cannot forever break the Golden Rule and escape the penalty due" (p. 41).

celebrate but possibly the originator of the idea could help. He is a Pennsylvania Congressman who believes that there should be a nation-wide observance of July 26, 1932, as "Postal Day" in commemoration of the creation of the Federal Postal Service by the Continental Congress on July 26, 1775, with Benjamin Franklin as Postmaster General.

The George Washington Bicentennial Commission is in receipt of a letter from Congressman Kelly of Edgewood, Pa., who says, "Let me make a suggestion. July 26 is the birthday of the United States Postal Service, since on that day in 1775 the Continental Congress ordered its establishment with Benjamin Franklin as Postmaster General. The commemoration of that day in 1932 would bring the entire postal service into the celebration and meetings would be held in many cities, with the postoffice in charge.

"George Washington named the first Postmaster General under the constitution and was intensely interested in its development. His connection with the postal service in the Revolutionary period and during his administration makes a fascinating part of the National records."

There, I have given you the benefit of something that has come to me from Washington—the city, I mean. You may be one of those who look ahead and if you are there is a chance that you have booked your time for July 26 of next year. In that case you may be compelled to rearrange your plans. But if you haven't anything on for that day I'd be glad to meet you at the postoffice sometime before then and talk it over.

INSPIRING TALK BEFORE SARAH HULL CHAPTER, D. R.

The regent next presented Mrs. Walter C. Whitney, vice-regent, who gave a report of the National Convention held last spring at Asbury Park, N. J. She made her points very dextrously, though briefly, of the patriotic appeal for universal tree-planting in honor of the George Washington Bicentennial, and proved how valuable the History of the National Society and its allied Chapters throughout the country has become, since a supplement of this volume printed in 1930 is already in progress.

Mrs. Morris Pilling, State District vice-regent, as guest of honor, brought a few words of greeting.

The chapter voted to send letters of cheer and flowers to several members who are ill.

DAUGHTERS OF VETERANS HONOR MISS FLOOD

Mrs. A. E. Cunningham Tent 2, D. of V., held their regular meeting Tuesday evening, Oct. 27 in G. A. R. Hall, Newtonville. After the meeting was over Miss Katherine Flood, the president, was escorted to the ante room to the head of a prettily decorated table and all the ladies sat down to refreshments. Afterwards Miss Nellie Osborne, the secretary, presented Miss Flood in behalf of Tent 2 a very handsome silk umbrella. Miss Flood accepted the gift in a pleasing manner. Miss Flood starts Saturday for Philadelphia to take up her duties as private secretary to the Commander in Chief of the G. A. R.

Speaks on "Real Estate Law"

An address of great interest to real estate brokers by Julius I. Berns, Esq., of Boston, featured the regular weekly noonday luncheon-meeting of the Newton Board of the Boston Real Estate Exchange held at the Vernon Court Hotel.

"Real Estate Law" was the subject of Atty. Berns' address who by his apt illustrations and ready answers to questions shot at him by the brokers' present, showed himself to be the master of his subject.

LET US CONSIDER PEAS—

Fresh peas are selling in the market today for from 23c to 30c per pound. Thus two pounds will cost from 45c to 60c. These fresh peas have a percentage of waste that is more than 50%. In addition to that the question of the quality of the vegetable, and also the important element of time in the shelling, washing and cooking.

On the other hand, Birdseye Frosted Peas cost 33c for a package that contains the equivalent of two pounds of fresh peas.
These peas are of uniform quality, size and excellence. It is never necessary personally to see the peas, to attempt to judge their quality, and then, after all, to wonder what they will be like when they are cooked. Most important of all, it is absolutely impossible to buy peas that can be compared to Fancy BIRDSEYE Peas, for they are ready to be cooked, simply by dropping them in boiling water for seven minutes.

Ask our neighbor about them, and then save time and money by using BIRDSEYE FROSTED PEAS.

BIRDSEYE Fillets of Finnan Haddie are the finest and most flavorful that can be bought. They are unlike any-

MRS. GEORGE T. COPPINS

Mrs. Phebe Ann Coppins, widow of George T. Coppins, died on Friday, October 23rd, in her 85th year. She was born October 30, 1846, in New York City and had resided in Newton for 50 years. Her funeral service was held last Sunday at the residence of her daughter, Mrs. Walter H. Barker, 62 Hyde avenue, Newton, where Mrs. Coppins had made her home for the past 12 years. Rev. Ray Eusden officiated. Cremation was at Mount Auburn and interment in the Newton Cemetery.

Mrs. Coppins is survived by two daughters, Mrs. Walter H. Barker and Mrs. John T. Alden; one son, Raymond G. Coppins, all of Newton. She is also survived by four grandchildren—Arnold C. Barker, Robert L. Coppins, Phebe and John C. Alden; and two great-grandchildren, the sons of Arnold C. Barker.

Four score and five years made the life span of Mrs. George T. Coppins, a life lived so gently, so quietly, making no great stir in a bustling bustling world, a life lived so sweetly, so thoughtfully, so cheerfully that it permeated and illuminated all other lives that touched it, those of children, grandchildren, great grandchildren, all the friends that came in contact with it in all those four score and five years.

"She openeth her mouth with wisdom and in her tongue is the law of kindness."

The weight of years, the infirmities of the flesh, the burden of sorrows served only to intensify the beauty and serenity of her spirit. She revealed by gracious example the value of age since she possessed that dignity and mellowness which only long years of experience bring to a loving heart.

"Give her of the fruit of her hands and let her own works praise her in the gates."

West Newton Women's Educational Club

Mrs. D. Earle Brackett, president of the West Newton Women's Educational Club, opened her home at 420 Waltham street, last Friday afternoon, the 23rd, to the members of the Club.

The guests of honor were Mrs. Carl L. Schrader, president of the Massachusetts State Federation; Mrs. Samuel N. Braman, president of the Newton Federation; and Mrs. George C. Phipps, founder of the Newton Federation and a charter member of the West Newton Women's Educational Club, who recently celebrated her ninetieth birthday. Each, in turn, addressed the Club and later took her place with the hostess in the receiving line.

Master Joseph McDonald, six-year-old rhythmic marvel, entertained the guests with drum selections and accompanied Miss Fortie's Orchestra.

The house was attractively decorated with chrysanthemums, autumn foliage, and evergreens.

A collation was served in the candle-lit dining room by the Hospitality committee, under the direction of the chairman, Mrs. George D. Thomas.

Newton Highlands Woman's Club

The first of a series of Friday afternoon Drama Classes of the Newton Highlands Woman's Club was held in the Workshop on the 23rd. "Toasts that we all can Drink," by Stokes McCune, was read by a group of ladies from the Emerson College Club. "Grandfather's Chair," by Walter Pritchard Eaton, was read by a group of ladies from the Club. The Workshop was filled with an audience very appreciative of the fine work done. Tea and a social hour followed.

The Drama committee, Mrs. Fred W. Downer, chairman, has invited the Club to be its guests at similar Readings and Teas the first and third Fridays in each month, the next one to be at 2 p. m. on the 6th.

Shakespeare Club

The Shakespeare Club had a particularly enjoyable and interesting Saturday, on the 24th motoring by way of the Shore Drive to Norwell to the home of the president, Mrs. H. E. Durgin, who served to the members on their arrival a most delicious luncheon on attractively decorated tables. She was assisted by her daughter, Miss Dorothy Durgin.

The work for the afternoon, Acts I and II of "Hamlet," was in charge of Miss Virginia Drew, who brought out many interesting facts and points. She stated among other things that more has been written about Hamlet, probably, than about any other of Shakespeare's plays. In England, France, and particularly in Germany, scholars have toiled to interpret the meaning of the play. They differ about the actual events. Where was "Hamlet" when the murder of his father took place? Was Hamlet mad or was he feigning madness? Was he really in love with Ophelia? Is the play an allegory of life filled with Shakespeare's theories of good and evil?

The customs and society of the time were described; and, at this period of Shakespeare's writings, he ceased to be satisfied to express his thoughts and ideas about life in comedies and in historical plays and turned to something with deeper dramatic significance. Hamlet deals with the idealist thrust into the world of action.

The presentation was much enjoyed and gave food for thought.

Newton Federation

The first Executive Board Meeting of the year for the Newton Federation of Women's Clubs was held on last Monday, the 26th, in the Library of the Technical High School, with the president, Mrs. Samuel N. Braman, presiding. Mrs. Braman opened the meeting by welcoming the Board graciously to another year of friendly service.

Mrs. Arthur W. Lane, chairman of the Civics (Community Service) committee, made an earnest appeal for winter clothing to be sent to 1351 Washington street, West Newton, to be distributed among the needy of the city, under the auspices of the Mayor's Relief Committee and of the Newton Welfare Bureau.

Anticipating the need will be even greater than last year, the committee asks for all kinds of warm clothing, but especially for children's clothing.

Donors are asked please, to mark sizes of garments and to tie pairs of shoes together, as this will greatly facilitate the work of distribution.

The Finance committee, of which Mrs. Gorham W. Harris is chairman, presented an estimated budget for the ensuing year, to be voted upon at a later date.

Upon the occasion of the ninetieth birthday of the Founder and first president, Mrs. George G. Phipps, the Board voted that a note of congratulation be sent to Mrs. Phipps.

The speaker of the afternoon, Mr. Leighton Rollins, of the Copley Theatre, gave an interesting account of the future plans for the Copley Theatre under its new management, and read a list of plays to be presented this winter.

Auburndale Woman's Club

Tuesday afternoon, October 27th, marked the formal opening of the seventeenth year of the Auburndale Woman's Club, at which time the Executive Board was hostess to about 300 Club members and guests at a Buffet Luncheon. Mrs. George W. St. Amant and her Hospitality committee assisted in the serving. A social half hour followed, during which time the two petitions sponsored by the General Federation, one for the advancement of the United States to the World Court, and the other for universal Disarmament, were circulated by Mrs. Charles Valentine and members of her Legislative committee.

At the business session, Mrs. Walter Van Patten Steiger, the newly-elected president, welcomed her Club family both old and new, and urged that each one give such support to the Mayor's Relief Committee as possible, reminding them that it is through service that one gets the most out of life. There were notices from nearly every committee. Mrs. John Carter for the Public Health Committee, stated that Classes in Swimming and Tap-dancing would be formed when enough were enrolled, and also asked that all wishing the Morning Walks to be resumed let her know. Classes in French will also be held if a sufficient number desire them, and application should be made to the Education committee, Mrs. Frederick G. Goode, chairman. A plea for the coming Girl Scout Drive was made by Mrs. Stephen E. Wright, State chairman of Social Service.

The speaker for the afternoon was Professor Robert E. Rogers, and he was introduced by the chairman of the day, Mrs. Charles F. Weden. Prof. Rogers' topic was "Modern Books," and among his suggestions for winter reading were Susan Glaspell's "Allison's House," Willa Cather's "Shadows on the Rock," Dorothy Canfield's "Story of the Basques," and Robert Grant's "The Dark Horse."

A 6:30 o'clock supper will open the November 19 meeting, to be followed by a group of three conferences and an interesting program with prominent speakers bringing an appealing message on "Stewardship." Rev. John Shade Franklin of the Lincoln Park Church will lead a conference on "Expert Endeavor," continuing a series of talks under his direction; Robert Churchill will discuss "Citizenship" with a second group; and a third conference will be devoted to Publicity, Miss Edith C. Caughey directing.

The Union will hold a Halloween social Friday evening, October 30, in the Lakeview Union Evangelical Church, Lake street and Seminole avenue, Waltham. Fun, food, fellowship. Prizes for games and costumes. A Lakeview bus leaving Lexington and Main streets, opposite Waltham City Hall, at 7 o'clock will take you directly to the church door. A watch delegation will be waiting to receive a bus-load.

COMMONWEALTH COUNTRY CLUB

Mrs. Robert E. Green and Mrs. Charles E. Murnan are directing the matinee bridge party out at the Commonwealth Country Club on Monday next, November 2. This affair is in behalf of the families of disabled veterans.

Mrs. Green and Mrs. Murnan will be assisted by Mesdames Willard B. Freeman, O. Glenn Hopper, John A. Horner, Harry E. Moore, Terrell M. Regan and Estelle E. Workman.

On Saturday evening, October 31, the customary Halloween Dinner Dance will be held. This is one of Commonwealth's most popular dances among its members.

CURRENT EVENTS LECTURES

Keen interest has been aroused in the forthcoming series of seven lectures on current events on successive Tuesday mornings starting November 3rd, 11 o'clock, Longwood Cricket Club, Hammond street, under the auspices of the Chestnut Hill Branch of the National Civic Federation. The committee in charge consists of Mrs. George Bramwell Baker, Mrs. Clement S. Houghton, Mrs. Harold Murdock, Mrs. John P. Ramsay, Mrs. Leeland Powers, Mrs. Horace S. Frazer, Mrs. George H. Waterman, Mrs. Alexander Henderson, and Mrs. D. N. Hartt.

RECEIVED BY MRS. HOOVER

Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Spilman, of 145 Gibbs street, Newton Centre, have returned from a week's visit in Washington, D. C. Mrs. Spilman was invited to the White House last Friday afternoon by Mrs. Hoover, and with several other ladies was informally received by her hostess in the Blue Room.

GIRL SCOUTS

Miss Betty Stephens of Waban gave the report for the Newton Girl Scouts at the In-gathering of the Needlework Guild which was held at the Newton Centre Woman's Club House on Thursday of last week. The following articles have been made by the girls in the different troops and donated to the Newton Hospital, Welfare Committee and other charitable organizations, through the Needlework Guild: 28 rompers, 9 babies' jackets, 13 pairs of booties, one gertrude, 20 dusters, 4 dish towels, 30 hospital slips, 1 dress, and 9 babies' wrappers.

In her report, Scout Stephens brought out that the girls not only felt the joy of service in making these articles, but that the sewing helped in meeting the requirements for the Needlewoman and the Dressmaker Merit Badges. Quite a large delegation of girls attended the meeting as representatives from the troops and will undoubtedly spread interest among the girls so that the Girl Scout report will be fuller next year.

A large and enthusiastic group of women attended the meeting which opened the Newton Girl Scout Campaign on Monday evening of this week. His Honor, Mayor Weeks was the principal speaker. He said that at this time the work of the character building organizations, such as the Girl Scouts and the Boy Scouts, is most important and stressed that during this time of unemployment and consequent unrest that the leisure time program is quite essential.

He said in closing, "Now is the time when work of this nature should be carried on by you people harder and more earnestly than ever. I hope you have all kinds of success."

The committee was fortunate also in securing Mr. Maynard Hutchinson, President of the Norumbega Council Boy Scouts to speak. Mr. Hutchinson emphasized the necessity of keeping up the morale of the community and said that there was no better way of doing it than by keeping up the morale of the young people.

He said, "Character building is the basic service in the welfare program and we must keep our character building program right up to normal."

Miss Freeman, the Local Director, spoke briefly of her visit to the National Girl Scout Convention which was held recently in Buffalo. She also spoke of the very definite community service program which will be carried out by the Girl Scouts this winter. She told of the fine war record which the Newton Girl Scouts made and said that this year would prove that their emergency relief record would be just as fine.

Two training courses for the Girl Scout Leaders and those interested in the work of the organization are being held at Girl Scout Headquarters, 297 Walnut street, Newtonville. A general course is being given on Wednesday mornings from 10:00 to 11:30 for those who have had little or no experience in Girl Scout work. There is a more advanced course on Wednesday evenings from 7:30 to 9:00 for those who have had some Scouting and wish to add to their knowledge. Both of these courses are open to women who are interested to learn more about the work.

UNION CHURCH TO HOLD INSTITUTE

The Union Church of Waban will hold the third series of its biennial educational courses this coming November. The series, which is called "The Search for Truth Institute," presents an unusually interesting list of topics for discussion by well known speakers. The schedule covering the four Sunday evenings in November is as follows:

November 1, 7:05—"Today in China." Dr. George W. Van Gorder; 8:00, "The Quest for Truth in Science." Professor Kirtley F. Mather.

November 8—7:05, "Today in England." Professor William A. Frayer; 8:00, "The Quest for Truth in Education." Dr. Eugene Randolph Smith.

November 15—7:05, "Today in France." Prof. Frayer; 8:00, "The Quest for Truth in Medicine." Dr. William H. Robey.

November 22—7:05, "Today in Central Europe." Prof. Frayer; 8:00, "The Quest for Truth in Religion." Rev. Dwight Bradley.

Each evening the conference will be preceded by a light lunch served at 6:30. Following the lecture there will be opportunity for questions and discussion. The public is cordially invited.

LYDIA PARTRIDGE WHITING CHAPTER, D. A. R.

The first Fall meeting of the Lydia Partridge Whiting Chapter, D. A. R., was held at the home of Miss Madeline Foster, Walnut st., Newton Highlands, on Oct. 27. There was a large attendance and the occasion was most enjoyable.

After the regular business was over a group of three solos was sung by Mrs. Haines with Mrs. Wells at the piano. The solos were artistically rendered and aided by the accompanist, added much to the program.

Mr. Joe Mitchell Chapple world renowned author, writer and lecturer, was then introduced by the Regent, Mrs. Albion Brown. He spoke in his own impressive manner.

After Mrs. Hayden had sung again refreshments were served in the dining room.

The Chapter is looking forward to a most pleasant and profitable year. Already, plans have been made for a whist to be held November 19 at the Work Shop, Newton Highlands, and on Nov. 19 a rummage sale.

NORUMBEGA DISTRICT COUNCIL OF RELIGIOUS EDUCATION

The Board of Education of the Norumbega District Council will meet next Wednesday evening, at the home of Mr. Wm. H. Timbie, who is chairman of the Training School Committee. Plans for the second term of the school will be one of the important items of business.

The Young People's Conference committees will hold a joint meeting on Thursday, Nov. 5, to make definite plans for publicity and registration. The Conference comes November 27 and 28, Friday afternoon and evening, Saturday afternoon and evening, after Thanksgiving Day.

The District Secretary, Miss Barber, was the speaker last Monday evening at a Junior Teachers' Conference in Everett. She also took some young people from the District that same evening to the Youth Banquet of the Allied Forces for Prohibition, held in Tremont Temple, Boston.

Members of the Training School will be glad to know that Miss Bessie Stratton is improving and it is hoped that she will soon return on Monday evenings. Last Monday, during her absence, Mr. Frank Grebe took her class, showing lantern slides to illustrate his topic on the use of pictures in religious education.

AUTOMOBILE ACCIDENTS

SCHOOL NOTES

LEVI F. WARREN JUNIOR HIGH

This week, at Warren, has been devoted to school and Class elections. Wednesday during the Assembly period the School Community candidates and their managers gave speeches.

Faye Smillie gave a talk on the value of the Junior Red Cross and announced that the drive will open October 26.

The remainder of the period was taken up by musical selections given by members of the High School Band, under the direction of Mr. Spaulding.

Officers of the Warren School Community, President, Caleb Roehrig; Girls' Vice-President, Rejane Harvey; Boys' Vice-President, Frederic Tower; Secretary, Beatrice Romagnoli. Officers of the Ninth Grade: President, Harry Gardner; Vice-President, Margaret Matthews; Secretary, Cora May Farrier; Treasurer, James Grover.

Officers of the Eighth Grade: President, Roy Stephens; Vice-President, Nancy Durbin; Secretary-Treasurer, Hildreth Shaw.

WEEKS JUNIOR HIGH SCHOOL

Mayor Sinclair Weeks spoke before the assembly on Wednesday morning. He talked to the boys and girls about his father and about the duties of citizenship resting upon each pupil.

The new school has already established an interesting line of student activities. The Junior Red Cross campaign started on Tuesday with the objective of 100 per cent enrollment in each room. A committee of the Student Council has visited the Day Junior High and as a result has recommended more quiet in the lunch room. The Ninth Grade is electing officers.

Athletic activities are also developing. A girls' tennis tournament has been organized with 42 entrants. A soccer game was played with the Bigelow School which ended in a scoreless tie.

The playground is nearly finished and is unusually good looking and very attractive to the scores of prospective athletes who attend the school.

STEARNS SCHOOL

On Tuesday, Oct. 27th, the 4th, 5th, and 6th Grades of the Stearns School observed the 73rd anniversary of the birth of Theodore Roosevelt with an Assembly Program.

Miss Calista Roy, Assistant Supt. of Schools and ex-Mayor Edwin O. Childs were present as guests of honor. After the singing of America, Mr. Roosevelt's favorite verse from the Bible (Micah 6:8) was read by Joseph Allen, 6th Grade.

Girls of the chorus: Eleanor Bergen, Mary MacMahon, Angie Valenzano, Clara Bianchi, Olympia Morrocco, Lucy Barisano, Emma Cioffi, Lucy Visco, Mary Polselli, Marguerite Champagne and Dorothy Sennett. A chorus of 6th Grade girls under the direction of Mrs. Provost sang the hymn, "How Firm a Foundation."

Also one of Mr. Roosevelt's favorites. Next a Roosevelt Acrostic was presented by the following 6th Grade boys: Christy Ruff, Joseph Allen, Joseph Benoit, Roy Butler, Peter Cutler, Jackie DeLuca, Leon Duprez, Francis Griffin, Jerry Leone, Louis Gentile, Michael Lochiato, Nicholas Costa, John Martin, Gerald Quirk, Joseph Palmieri, John Pescosolido, and Wilfred Delaunier. John held a card with a letter which as a group spelled Mary MacMahon.

Each letter was held up by the boy received a sentence from some of Mr. Roosevelt's speeches or writings.

FRANK A. DAY JUNIOR HIGH

What happens in the mind during an accident was strikingly illustrated by Mr. Lewis E. Macbrayne, general manager of the New England Safety Council, who spoke at the regular weekly assembly, Wednesday, Oct. 21. Mr. Macbrayne's talk was extremely interesting, and a great deal of favorable comment was heard by both students and teachers.

The meeting was opened with the usual opening exercises by the students. Marjorie Gilbert, Doris Houchnis, and Barbara Kimball, of the ninth grade, were in charge.

Newspaper Organized

A miniature newspaper, the "Room Fifteen Tribune" has been started by the homeroom students of Miss Spelman. The paper, which is made up of clippings, is published by a student board of editors headed by Aldridge Hunt.

Students Honored

Three students were given the honor of waiting on table last week by Mr. Burkhardt at a guest luncheon given by him in the cooking room.

The girls were Florence Ames, Alice Drury, and Muriel Masse, of the 8th Grade. Superintendent of Schools Ulysses Wheeler, Principal Frank W. Chase of the Bigelow Junior High School, and Paul G. Scarborough of the Levi Warren Junior High School were guests.

LASELL SEMINARY

The annual Halloween party will take place Saturday evening. It will be a spooky evening and all are required to have the trail to and from the hall in which the party is to be held. In addition to dancing, games, doughnut races, etc., will be enjoyed and for a climax, the party is to be conducted to the swimming pool where they are to be furnished with fish poles to bob for apples floating in the pool and partially suspended by balloons. This old fashioned game on such a magnificent scale should bring forth a great deal of merriment. Prizes for the best costume and for various stunts will be awarded. The party is under the direction of the Physical Training Department of the Seminary.
